

A

Year

to...

Cynosure '88

Chante,
for you said it's so quick
And so good watch right BYE natural ~~your~~ Year

Chante,
hey boo!
I have had a good year with you, at the time we met you, you are so nice, naturally I like you. Don't forget me I am pg 136. keep in touch..

see you next year

P.S I would also like it if U
to do the NASTY with U.

Chante
it has been sweet knowing you
You'll have a great summer.
New York

10... tonya sweet stay Cheerful give you a very good summer

Chante:
You should have given me a chance this year but that's ok. I've enjoyed every moment with you in 6th period.

You better call me this summer for me.

Cheerful

for me

cheerful

191 ①

191 ①

191 ①

191 ①

191 ①

191 ①

191 ①

LIVE IT UP

RECOGNIZE

Classes

CONTRIBUTE

Students

Lending a helping hand. In a booth set up by the USSAA, Pat Abbott and James Jones help Miss Lydia Moore at the annual Hanes Fall Festival, which provided food and games for Hanes employees.

Charlotte, most adorable, you you're the most person I have seen in my life & you're so sweet, will until I change my mind, you're a charme sweet and I saw myself stay sweet it's been real,
R.S.
T.L.
T.T.
A.P.C.
Chris C. Thompson
Clinton H. Neck

EXCEL 232 sports

SUPPORT 280 Community

IDENTIFY 310 Index

SUM IT UP 314 closing

Charlotte Spain Sweet at the young full at the good full a car. in your

To Aly Clarke
In Sons we did but other other that life

Chris Howard Wooten

X

You are a ago who I don't know about what seems to be good know but what seems to be good stay sweet

may the light that shines before you keep shining

Love ya Tiffany Graham

Chante,
I have never this have come or go for years been very close. You though
"Mrs. Niqui"

I am the (I am
the) privilege I had you this year. I hope and friendship since I didn't forget me.

T.Y.T.
9/24/2022

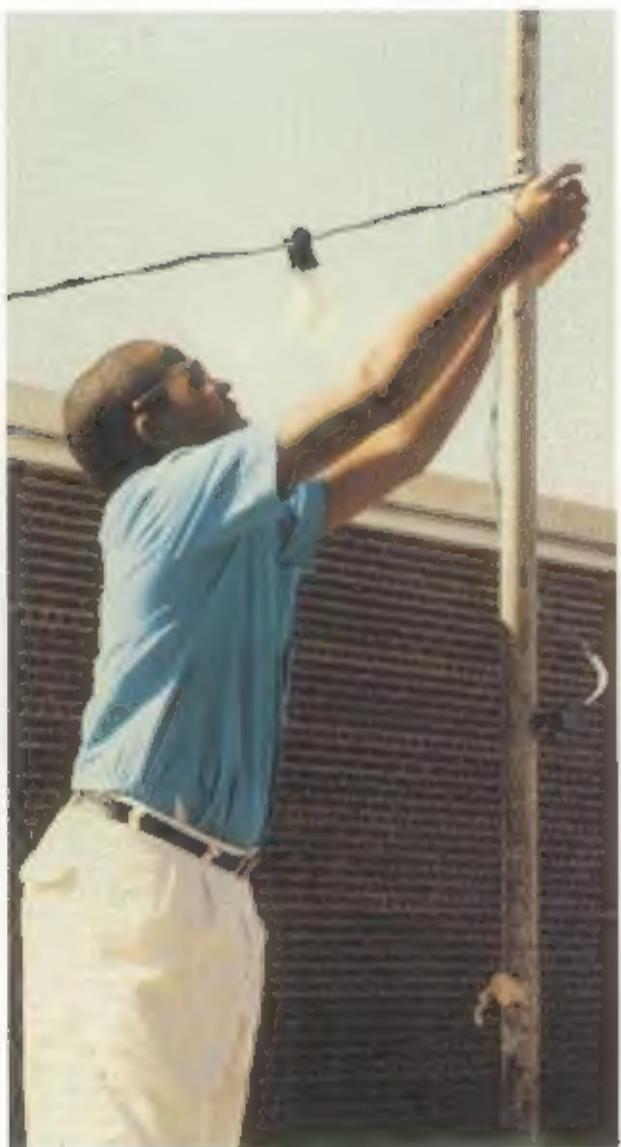

CYNOSURE 1988

Sneakin' a drink? Kelly Allen revives himself with a cold drink of water after a grueling first half of an early non-conference game.

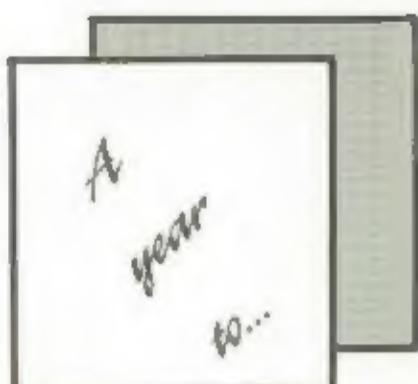

25th Anniversary Edition

North Forsyth High School
5705 Shattalon Drive
Winston-Salem, NC 27105
Volume 25

Almost got it. Vincent Puryear finishes some last minute preparations to beautify the grounds for the alumni dinner before the Homecoming game.

Chats, It's been my know you this year. I think that you are a very sweet person. I wish the best of luck to you in the future. Mrs. Cowden Keep in touch
922-3900

Change

Everything constantly experiences change, and this year proved to be no exception. When students arrived at school for the 1987-1988 school year, they found some familiar faces as well as some unfamiliar ones. They were introduced to 11 new faculty members and a brand new class of freshmen ready for an exciting first year of high school. It was known from the beginning that this was to be a year of change for the school and those involved with it, and it certainly held true to form.

With the arrival of a new assistant principal, Mrs. Judy Cowden, definite changes were evident. The parking lot was patrolled like never before, which hindered many students who were forced to find an alternative to parking illegally. In addition, the pep rallies were organized and run with a stringent sense of authority and at a very different pace for the students participating.

Along with the rest of the school, the Cynosure has also made changes in order to create a more interesting record of the year. The Student Life, Clubs and Sports sections have taken innovative approaches to make this account of the year as interesting as possible. A new yearbook advisor, Mrs. Gloria Miller, added a lot of her own original ideas and creativity to the staff.

For the first time in years, all students were faced with the dilemma of taking mid-term exams. For many, the task was one they had not been prepared to tackle. It required the ability to be able to recall every single thing they had learned during the first semester of school. It meant intense studying, and that was quite a change from the everyday routine.

For many, the 1987-'88 school year brought change into their lives in various ways. These changes were what made the year memorable, and, through these changes, we all grew.

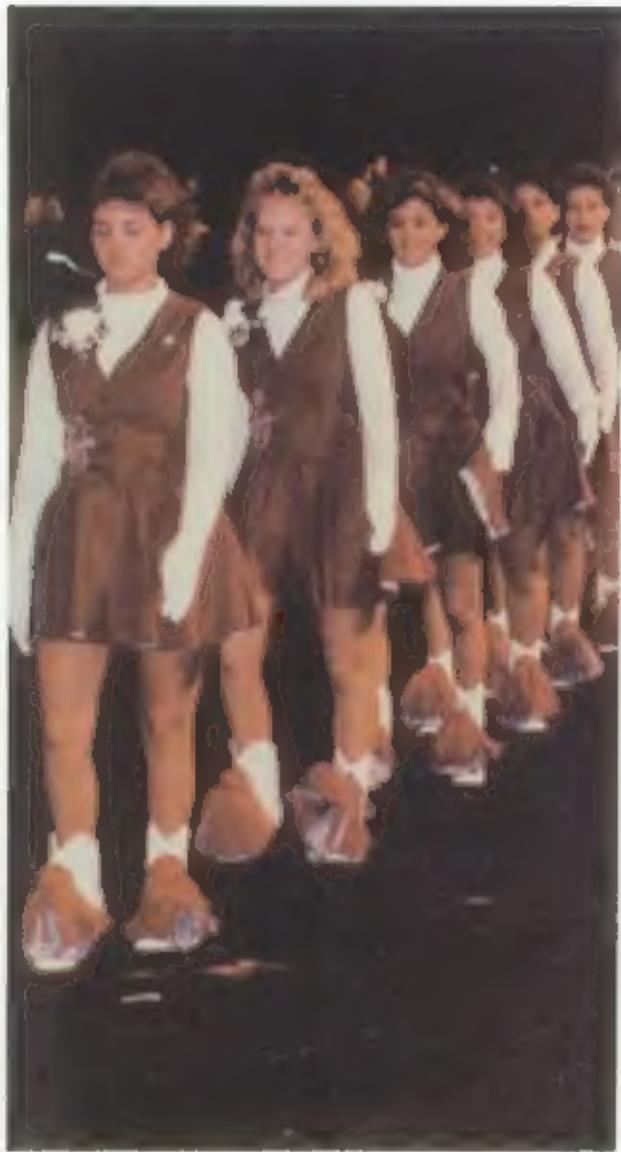

Did you do your homework? Patrick Patterson, Chip Carter, Mike Sapp, Jim Smith, and Bobby Reid stand around in the halls between morning classes and catch up on the latest events of the day.

Keeping in step, Carmen Joyce and Dawn Montague show off some of their latest dance moves during a talent exhibition for the majority of the student body at the 1987 Springfest.

Chantel Girl I want you for veeng + nice and pretty and I know that we didn't get along last year but we are great sister this year. We will make a next year

Change Bull
Love Jamaica Cocodans
3
924-0832

Marching into step, Valkyries, Tracy Holland, Stephanie Soulsby, and Debbie Smith, march out to perform their Homecoming routine for the spectators during the halftime of the football game.

Chants, You're another one of those rare students who quietly does her work, never complains, and makes all A's.
I've loved having you all year!
Good luck next year - I know you'll do well

Always Miss Foothills

Experience

For all the persons involved, this year was a year to experience all the joys and heartaches that arose. It was up to the individual student to create the best experience for himself. Everyone was offered ample opportunities to engage in an array of activities, both in school and in the community. The experiences were unique for each student and would not soon be forgotten.

Everyone endured the six, fifty minute classes 180 days out of the year. From major math tests, reports, and sleeping in study hall, everyone had an experience that would be remembered for quite a while. However, all the work was not done without a reward — that "A" or that diploma in June made all the effort worthwhile.

There were often nice breaks in the hectic schedule of each day. The pep rallies and guest speakers deterred from the routine and added spice to the year. Also, students got to participate in spirit weeks sponsored by the Student Council and humored themselves by watching club initiations.

After the bell at two o'clock, the halls were full of students taking advantage of the many activities offered at school. Most worked diligently practicing to perfect their athletic abilities, while others involved themselves in both service and academic clubs.

Life at school was nice, but the weekend often provided a pleasant break from the weekly chaos. There were many opportunities offered in the community, from enjoying sporting events, going to the movies at one of the many local theaters, or heading out to Stratford to cruise. No matter what students chose to do with their free time, everyone learned to appreciate their valuable weekends.

Somehow, everyone had a year to experience, and the experience was exactly what each individual made it.

Look at the birdie! Varsity cheerleaders take time out from their hectic schedule on a Friday night to pose as a group for the camera and show their excitement toward the upcoming game.

Captains of the Viking ship, Mr. Benjamin Warren, principal and Mr. Julian Gibson, former principal of the school, begin the Homecoming festivities by throwing out the first ball.

Chante
It has been a real joy going to school & having you homecoming with us
this year keep cool!
Touch & keep cool!
Tracy B

A year
w..

Live It Up

Although it was often difficult to believe, there was a life outside the routine of day-to-day activities during the course of the year. Everyone was forced to participate in order to make sure the year was as enjoyable as possible. The activities students participated in were both in school and out in the community. The range of activities was diverse among the student body.

Many students ventured out into the community to find amusement. Some students went swimming while others enjoyed recreational sports in their neighborhood. When the weekends rolled around there were a variety of activities available. For example, one could go dancing, to a sporting event, out with friends, or out on a date.

There are some things during the year that come along just once. For example, the Dixie Classic Fair, an annual event, was a big hit with many. Also, holidays such as Halloween and Christmas were big events during the year. These planned events helped add to the excitement of the year.

Intangible objects also could contribute to the making of a good or bad day for students. Things such as frustration and communication could make the difference between a good day and a bad one. These intangibles could also effect the entire atmosphere within the school and a great many involved.

Although school was not the only part of life, it played a major role. Things like homework and lunch time were routine parts of life yet they could be enjoyable and beneficial. School somehow played a critical role in all students life and it went only as smoothly as one made it.

Time to go. Tata Jenkins and Derek Duggins have a short conversation before going home.
▲ Derek Ragland and Patricia Wood work on getting into the car to start their journey home

Take the long way home. Lisa Gentle and Crystal Cole discuss the day's happenings while making the journey from the school building to the many awaiting school buses.

He said what? Wendy Neeley and Katrina Bishop use the time they have at lunch to relax, catch their breath, and discuss the new gossip for the day as well as their plans for the future.

Cuttin' Heed. W. X made it to the 1st floor of the 7 story building. serious. 1000 feet is the next step on the dare devils.

A few summers ago Chez Andre, an adult night club, experimented with opening its doors to teenagers one night a week. The response was so great that it spurred the opening of other teen dance clubs in the area.

The recent uprising of teen dance clubs has brought about a welcome change from the all too common scene of cruising Stratford Road and hanging out at Hanes Mall. As Debbie Cassidy puts it, "I love to dance, and Chez Andre is somewhere new and different for teenagers to go."

Along with Chez's, the Party Zone has provided a place for teens to go and dance the night away with all their friends. It is not very expensive, and it's a great way to have a lot of fun.

The main reasons most teens frequent these clubs are to dance or just socialize with their friends outside of school. Burke Bovender likes to go to the Party Zone, because "my friends go, and it's a nice relaxing place where I can dance and have fun."

Some people also enjoy going to teen dance clubs because they are places for teenagers ONLY! Without parent's or other grown up's supervision around, teens feel like they have more freedom to enjoy doing the things teenagers do. Laura Theile likes Chez Andre, because "I can enjoy being around my friends without having to worry about parents."

Amy Shouse adds, "I enjoy going to Mother Fletcher's since there are no parents, and I can meet new people." Mother Fletcher's, along with Magic Attic, are two teen dance clubs in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina that are popular with teens from this area. Debbie Smith's favorite club is Magic Attic because "I can meet people there and have fun dancing."

Regardless of the reason teens enjoy attending dance clubs, no one can deny the fact that their popularity is fast becoming evident. So, if the money's short and the energy's high, teen dance clubs are a unique way to have a fun time doing something other than the ordinary!

Dance the night away. Spinning to the beat of the music, Anne Sahadi makes the most of the time she spends dancing.

Taking a breather, Tonya Atkins catches her breath after a few times around the dance floor at Chez Andre, a summer hotspot.

"I'm a girl watcher!" Shawn Stommean with Randa and Rick Hornsby participate in most guys favorite pastime — girl watching.

"I'm not laughing," Angie & Ronda seem offended and backs away as Steve Stommean and Bear Warts enjoy a private joke as they rest from dancing.

Never let them see you sweat. Tom Muse concentrates as he spends a summer night at Chez Andre amidst the heat and fun.

Hold on tight! Tracy Willard gets ready to take a refreshing dip into the pool during a scorching summer day at the North Forsyth Swim Club

To get the summer rolling, some teenagers took off for the beach, while others, left behind, scouted their immediate area for a way to enjoy the sun and relaxation. Relief was found in the many community pools which served as common ground for sunning, swimming, or just getting together with friends. These pools offered day-long entertainment which required little or no financing from the teenagers who visited them.

Not only for the recreational aspects, swimming was also one important source of summer exercise. As Tina Holler pointed out, "Swimming is a good way to stay in shape." Without school and sports practices, finding alternate methods to keep in shape became especially important.

Almost as important as the swimming itself, the social scene supplied at community pools allowed teens the chance to meet new people and spend time with old friends. Popular with many teens, a quest for the opposite sex proved most important on summer days. Tracy Settle, in agreement with many friends, summed up her motives for pool attendance with the statement,

"The guys!" Also, on this same line of thought, Hubie Henson declared, "The best thing about the pool is all the girls in small bathing suits!"

From a slightly different angle, Brian Potter added, "Swimming's cool because you don't have to take a bath; just jump in the pool." This perspective represents the attraction of the pool as a relaxed, lazy atmosphere. However, Ashley Merrill simply explained, "I like getting aquatic; it's cool."

Although the pool scene is ideal for many teens, not all share in this opinion. When asked where he goes to cool off in the summer, Brent Zieverink replied, "I go up to the mountains, get on a raft, and float down a river all day!" Whatever the reason, community pools have supplied many teens with a place to go on the long, lazy, hazy days of summer.

Soaking up the rays. Kelly Holland uses the lounge chair near the pool and a nice cool drink to relieve the heat of a summer day in Rural Hall.

Look who's here! Anticipating the arrival of one of their friends, Kristi Saalweachler and Ashley Long look forward to spending a day at the pool.

Keeping a watchful eye. Making sure that there are no rule breakers Cecilia James uses her authority as a lifeguard to keep the water safe

Staying afloat. Chris Pinn & Sondra Watts and Bod. Teta use the raft to get a tan yet still remain cool and enjoy the water Hard at work. Jennifer Best spends her summer working on her tan and taving down the aw at her ob as a leguard at Bethania Poo

Home Sweet Home

Memories In The Making

Eleven football games were played during the '87 season, but October 9th's Homecoming game stood out among the rest. The homecoming court dressed in their formal attire, as well as the anticipation of seeing old friends, added to the excitement of the night.

One major change was evident during the festivities. On account of the new track, the court had to walk into the stadium, yet they still managed to dazzle the crowd with their entrance. Paula Imes stated, "I thought that the court was beautiful even without the sports cars." Eric Turner agreed and said, "I've been here four years, and this homecoming was the best as far as the court is concerned."

Other festivities helped celebrate the homecoming spectacular. During the school day, the homecoming court was announced at the pep rally. Jason Wilhams commented on the pep rally, "I thought that the entire student body had a lot of spirit. Everyone seemed to have a good time." Jennifer Rosenbaum, a Valkyrie, added, "I loved the homecoming routine, and I thought it went over well with the student body."

Overall, the homecoming celebration proved to be a grand event. It was a memorable night for many of the people involved. The sensational half-time show, the dance, and all of the other activities made Homecoming 1987 at North Forsyth go over smoothly and successfully, a feat deserving much appreciation from the students.

Hey Hey Baby! Tim Horton and Titan Smith act out the lyrics of a popular beach music song during the band's show.

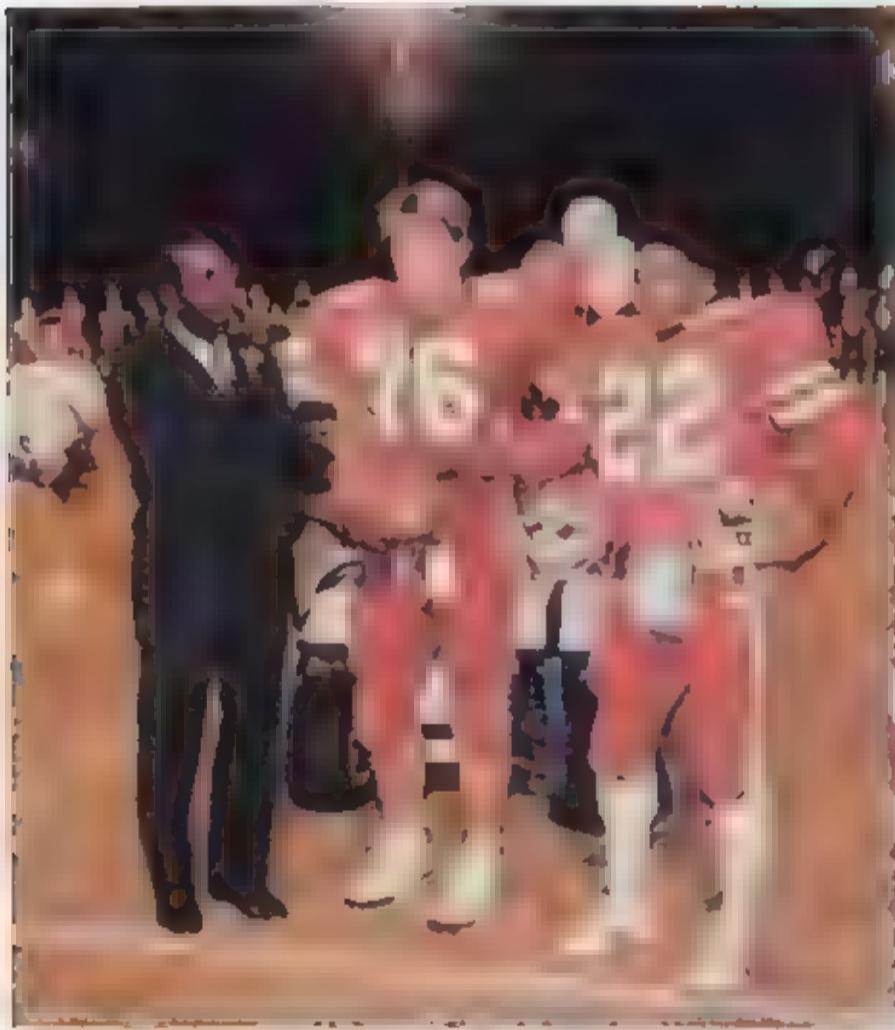

Band horns up! Drum majors Steven Davis and Rova Qualls direct the band members to start the beat of the first song in order to get the crowd revved up for the upcoming game.

Homecoming Court. Front left to right: Marc Ingwersen, Angela Rovai, Eddie McDaniels, Marcus Williamson, Tracy Willard, Joe Kuhl, Dana Steelman, Mike Peeler Back left to right: Chad Lynch, Angie Vernon, Marcus Wilson, Valerie Crowe, Gina Absher, Alan Starr, Katie Sharde, Joe Bowman, Jean Louis Beeren, Tonya Atkins, David Barger, Evan Christensen, Kim Staples, Chris Poe, Nikki Spates, Jeff Caldwell

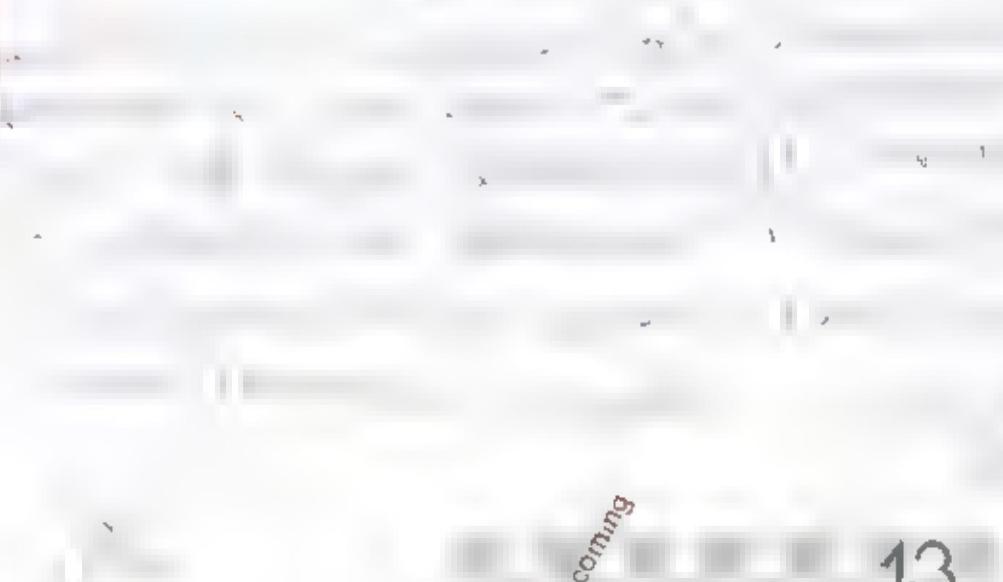

Share the blanket As the temperature at the football games drops Catherine Long, Jami Rieker, Parr Reece and Jennifer Best struggle to keep warm the best way possible by gathering beneath a blanket

In the spotlight Making their way down the field, Valerie Crowe and escort Marcus Wilson strode before a capacity crowd during the half time ceremony

The gang's all here Viking games bring together Rochele Gist, Angie White, Tonya Jones, Daphne Jones and Mr. Bovst representing both present and past Vikings a common occurrence at all home games

Hand it over! Billy Oakes and Kevin Adams prepare to receive the game ball from Mr. Benjamin Warren at the homecoming pre-game ceremony

Romancing over lunch. Deve Napper and General Jackson talk about their plans for the weekend over a box of chicken from Kentucky Fried Chicken

A lover's stro. Walking to the bus, Jason Goforth and Tim Henderson enjoy each other's company after the long day at school before the bus ride home

Trivial Pursuit

The Girls Against The Guys

How many times have you asked or been asked the question, "Would you like to go out with me?" Guys can remember how hard it was to walk up to that girl for the first time with wobbly knees and sweaty palms, so terribly afraid of being rejected. Girls can recall the awful feeling they felt after turning down a date with someone and wondering if she had hurt his feelings.

Many girls and guys heard "the question" several times as the weekends approached. Their answers depended upon many things: the person who was doing the asking, where they planned to go, and if they were simply in the mood to go on a date or not.

Opinions about dating varied from person to person. Many students liked going out with several different people at a time. "You only live once, and I don't think you should tie yourself down," commented Nikki Spates.

On the other hand, some students felt comfortable going out with only one person and prefferred that to "dating around." "I liked having a sense of security, and I felt that it was better for me to go out with just one girl so I didn't have to worry about trying to find a date for Saturday night," stated Chris Pinnix.

Even still, there were those who relied completely on their feelings when making a dating decision. "Sometimes I just feel like being by myself and not doing much of anything," explained Amy Norman.

Sometimes the dating scene reached a point where doing anything together was acceptable. "I liked to have my boyfriend just come over to my house, and we would watch movies or something," stated Sondra Watts.

Numerous things were taken into consideration before the actual date ever took place. There was the planning, deciding who to ask out, and, yes, eventually the moment of truth when the big question was asked. Even though a lot of work and worry went into a date, the end result was, in most cases, better than anticipated.

Working together Chad Lynch and Angie Vernon work together by selling drinks in a booth sponsored by the USAA at the 1987 Hanes Fall Festival

Just you and I Amanda Leak and James McCordle take a break from Prom dancing in order to spend some time together away from the crowd

A look to kill. Annie Tucker gives Billy Oakes an impatient look because he doesn't seem to understand the point she is trying to make

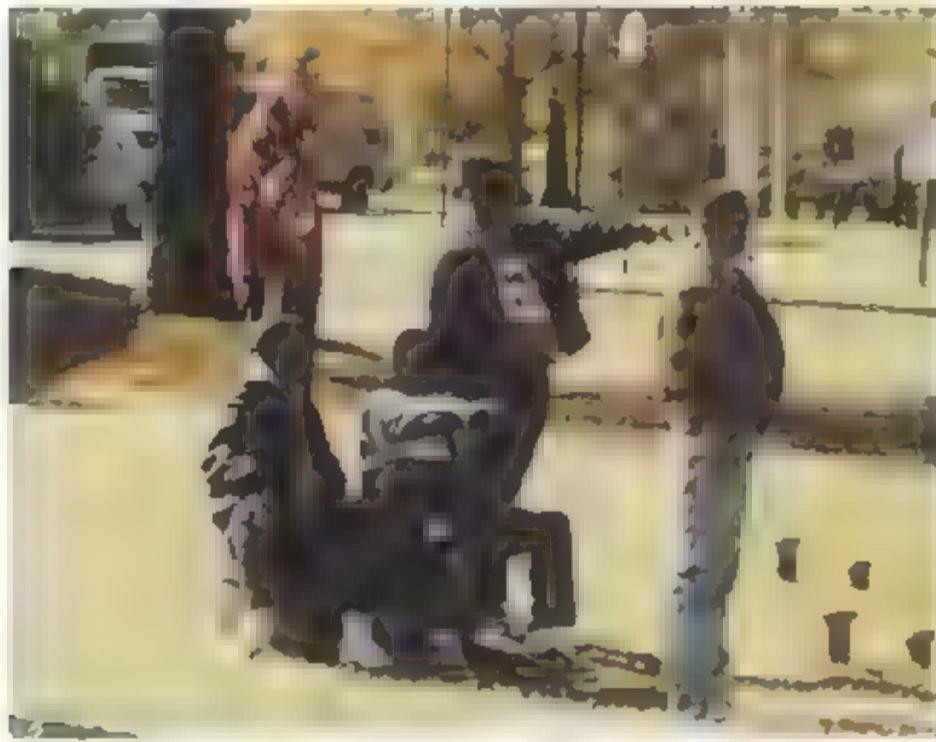

Smile if you love me Chris Arnold and Kim Kiger use the time between classes to spend a few quick minutes together before the bell rings

Can I take your order? While at McDonald's, Angela Martin, Tawanna Hester, and Traci Hatley decide on what to have for lunch.

On the look out, Jerrod Scott, Lamont Lentz, Sam Sheff, Mike McFadden and Damon Bell look on as upperclassmen leave for lunch.

On at Micky D's. Anticipating a Big Mac attack, Mereon Neve, Brian Wilson, Patrick Ceaser and Donald Brown look forward to satisfying their hearty appetites with something hot and fast.

A La Carte . . .

Or A La Car?

You hear your stomach growl. You shift restlessly in your seat. You are not really listening to what your teacher is saying. Instead, you watch the clock and count down the seconds until — the bell finally rings! It's lunchtime. Now begins the daily controversy of whether to eat off campus or "dine" in the cafeteria. The battle begins as Fast Food vs. Cafeteria Food.

Students expressed their opinions concerning the issues. Chad Simpkins stated, "When I have to eat here it's alright, but I don't like the food." Monica Mumford, on the other hand would rather brave the traffic and indigestion which accompany eating off campus because "the prices are ridiculous for what you get and the lines are too long." Melinda Bell had an easy time making her decision "If I have to eat in the cafeteria, I just won't eat."

Because seniors and juniors had the privilege of choosing, their reasons for eating off campus were direct. Robin Rutledge simply stated, "The food is so much better!" Classmate Mike Winters added, "Eating off campus gives me a sense of superiority, but I feel sorry for the sophomores and freshmen who can't."

Monte McBride had the solution for the debate surrounding lunch. "If I have to eat in the cafeteria, I will, and pretend I'm at McDonald's!"

Roughin' it: Upperclassmen Warren Smith, Lester Speas, Chuck Speas, and Chris Jones spend a day eating in the cafeteria and avoid the out-to-lunch rush

First come, first served. While waiting in line, Heather Brophy steals a glance at the rest of the cafeteria which she will soon have to face

Dish it out but don't take it. Brian Hickerson enjoys a lunch in the cafeteria, as a trapped underclassman, and boosts his energy level

Home?work

A Change Of Place

Designed as an out of school study time, one must sometimes wonder if the concept of homework has somehow been misconstrued. Were there, in fact, students who did their homework at home? Through observation, it is obvious that the majority of out-of-class education took place anywhere but the family fortress.

There were several reasons that students found themselves in awkward study atmospheres. One such reason was that they were so pushed for time that homework on the run seemed the only answer. James Jones commented, "I once had to do my homework in the lobby of Hanes Mall." Many times, locations such as this were made applicable rather than just not doing homework at all.

Study halls and other classes provided many students with what they considered their quality study time. As Chris Woodcock claimed, "The only time to do homework is the period before it's due — or right before the teacher takes it up!" On the negative side, however, students choosing this method of learning found they occasionally came up shorthanded.

Another reason students chose strange places was to achieve the seclusion necessary for concentration. With this reasoning, Tonya Styers stated, "I do my homework locked in the bathroom with the radio playing." Also enjoying solitude, Rebecca Ashby said that she sometimes did her homework "in a lighthouse by the beach." However, Rebecca added she was sometimes distracted by "several ships crashing on the rocks."

Regardless of the reasoning, the fact still remains that homework just isn't homework any more. All things considered, students fared remarkably well in the limited time that each allocated towards overnight study habits.

Pre-game warmup Greg Hunter and Tom Muse take care of the evening's homework on their homecourt before their basketball contest.

Homework Taking advantage of some free time, Sandy Young sits by her locker to complete homework she avoided bringing another book home.

Gentle persuasion. Mrs. Trotter exhibits her patience and devotion to students as she helps Scott Melauskas concentrate on his homework assignments.

A time to learn. Shannon Taylor and Beth Kilby utilize their time before athletic practices and quickly complete some assignments in the hall.

Balancing her assignments. Cassie Bowen takes time out on a deserted Senior Hall, and studies while patiently awaiting the dismissal bell.

Digesting knowledge. Teresa Tyner, Frankie Kye, and Lori Horn adjust to the lunchroom and prepare for their next class.

Frustrations: Pains Of Living

Heavy traffic Caught in the afterschool rush, Pat Abbott awaits his opportunity to leave homeward after a grueling day of learning and hard work.

Check out Angela Martin. Angela Martin waits until the end of the lengthy process of checking out of school early, not letting herself get frustrated.

What happens when over 1600 students are trying to go in many different directions at one time? The answer to this question was apparent every time someone got in your way anger and frustration.

When freshmen first arrived at school, they found a different setting and found it hard to get from class to class. Upperclassmen were always looking for a way to honor themselves and would give freshmen the wrong directions. Lewis Kiger stated, "It made me mad when I was trying to get class on time and I didn't know how to get there, and a senior would give me directions leading me all over school." How many times did a freshman ask you how to get to the elevator?

Traffic jams made it hard to get from place to place often causing tempers to flare. It was hard to be nice when someone gave you a push in the back. Traci Johnson said, "It bothers me when people stand in the middle of the hall. If you ask them to move, they just look at you, so the only thing to do is push your way through."

Making that quick stop by your locker didn't always turn out as quick as it could have. When six people tried to get into a three foot space, harsh words were often exchanged. Brian Ragland stated, "If you stop at your locker too long, you'll be late. I hate it when I get there at the same time as everyone else and have to wait on them to finish."

Problems with the overcrowded hallways often caused many tempers to flare. Students had to learn to cope with their frustrations to get along with each other.

The wrong combination. Demonstrating the intelligence of locker assignments
David Russell crouches below Sinclair Lewis to collect his books for class

Is this test for real? With a look of utter amazement, Tony Whillock turns to his teacher hoping that she will say something, anything, to ease the burden

A lost cause. Losing her patience, Missy Cockerham looks through the negatives again, hoping that the missing negative will miraculously appear

A bitter pill to swallow. Chowing down lunch in the school cafeteria, Brian Potter and friend Ethan Pounds discuss an apparently disastrous subject

Chalk it up. In a slow moment during her Chemistry class, Stephanie Souisby uses the convenient method of the chalkboard for some freestyle art of her own

Cheer them on. During an afterschool pep rally, Monica Mumford, Monte Jackson, Shannon Bell, and Lisa Hickman leave the pressures of class behind

Stripping the ball? Occupying an afternoon gym class, Alberto Olias challenges his fellow class members to a hectic basketball game

Doing make-up work. As a break in learning, Inga Helms uses extra class time to create a new look for the rest of her day, quickly passing the rest of science

Beyond The Basics Fundamental Follies

Oh, no! Not another boring class lecture on something that you will never need to use, or want to use, again in your life. If this feeling ever came over you while you were sitting in class, what could you have done to overcome it and pass the time away until the freedom bell rang?

When boredom overtook Bobby Eikins, he stated, "I like to goof off and make funny remarks to make people laugh." People like this added spice and laughter to the seemingly boring classes during the day.

Others, like Erica Enscore and Christie Schuller, wanted to rid the boring air in a different way. "We like to watch cute guys, talk across the room, and pass notes behind the teacher's back." This may seem risky, but in order to stay awake, it often had to be done.

On the other hand, there are people like David Harton who didn't care if the teacher saw them or not. David said, "I just make fun of the teachers." It was the risk that ended the boredom for them.

Germaine Lane took a new and unique approach to break the boredom and to provide entertainment for everyone in the class. He remarked, "I like to show off my great singing voice in class." This was definitely a new way to liven up the class.

Of course, if all else failed, one could resort to the old reliable pastime — sleeping. As Richard Ray stated, "I just sit back and go to sleep." Many of us have at one time or another, resorted to this, the most enjoyable of all classroom entertainments.

Sitting in a boring class for six periods made the minds of many students wander, and instead of falling asleep, they had to rely on their trusty imaginations to keep them occupied. Without these periodic pastimes, the days would drag on forever and provoke a seemingly never-ending year.

Slaving away Jamie Poole cleans the boards in her captor Mr. Ken Sloop's room as a punishment for her accumulation of tardies

This class is a joke. While sitting in their science class, Michelle Royall and Kim Pike share a laugh and amuse one another until the end of class.

Take your shoes off and stay awhile. Wendy Guthrie relaxes in her class with legs propped up, while studying some notes to pass the time.

What are you staring at? Barbara Siva, Lee Hudspeth, Won Yu, Kyung Yu, Melout Miller, and Amy Simpson standby, waiting to be announced

The Dirty Dozen - in an afternoon pep rally, the Pine Grove cheerleaders let it all hang out and attempt to entertain the crowd with their antics.

Fee the heat! Getting the crowd involved, Nick Spates strikes a familiar pose during the school fight song which was enjoyed by all.

Approaching the mic Student Body President Keoni Teta prepares to offer encouragement to students attending the game that evening

Shortened in time, held less frequently, and labelled "sports assemblies," the spirit of pep rallies would appear just a memory of the past, however, like most obstacles, students overcame the strict limitations placed on sports' celebrations and made the best of that which was allowed. As Billy Oakes explained, "The students had less time to actually become involved in the pep rallies, but the shortened time kept them from becoming monotonous."

Held on occasions such as Homecoming, there were special guest appearances periodically by groups such as the Homecoming Court nominees and the Piney Grove Cheerleaders. These special events during pep rallies were important traditions as far as the students were concerned. For example, Paige Baggett stated, "The Homecoming Pep Rally was really nice because everyone got to see who

Stand up and clap your hands. Pam White, Michelle Miller, and Melissa Marks demonstrate their excitement at a pep rally in the afternoon sun

You make me want to shout. Packed into the gymnasium to show some school spirit David LeGrant and Eric Drake answer to the cheers of the crowd

Pep Rallies A Time to Cheer

Bowing in the breeze Dr. Beth Lucas comes forward singing the W.F.D. during the 14th pep rally to introduce the Valkyries just circling a name." The Piney Grove Cheerleaders were revived by popular demand, and twelve of North's finest young men responded to their call to duty, donning wigs and mini skirts.

As tradition dictated, pep rallies were led by the cheerleaders and, although their performances were somewhat limited, the Valkyries managed to contribute their usual finesse to the student body. Used mainly as a means to introduce the teams to the student body, pep rallies gave recognition to those students who gave their time to afterschool events.

Although certain changes in the school threw some negative aspects on the pep rally scene, most students still appreciated the recognition that pep rallies afford to athletes, and given a choice in the matter, would like to see them continued.

Now when up and step up good Mr. Lumer Brock lets his students know who they are dealing with so that they will be on their best behavior

Hot-wiring? Starting at an early age, Shevonne Martin attempts to sneak away in the family car but is apprehended before the car complete her plan to escape.

Showing time Pauly Baggott and brother Jerem Baggott enjoy an afternoon of parole as they sit out in the backyard to avoid the watchful eye of mom.

Welcome to Fantasy Island! On good behavior, Keoni Teta and distraught sister Jodi Teta spend some relief time in Hawaii and display their native tan.

Juvenile Delinquents Where It All Began

Remember those times during your childhood years when you did something wrong and your parents would punish you with a smack on the backside or sit you in the corner until you proved that you could be good? Well, those times have long since past, but sometimes certain actions are still required in order to maintain discipline and a smooth running household.

Parents knew how to discipline their children when they were young and would do so by taking the things away from them that they liked and played with most. This same idea is still used; however, the things that they take away from their children have changed. Josh Weaver stated, "When I do something wrong, my parents won't let me go out." Jeff Miller added, "They hit me where it hurts most by taking away the things that I want to use and need the most."

As children get older and larger in size, parents stop spanking basically because it does no good to hit their kids anymore. Wendy Aaron said, "I don't get beaten anymore. Now, I just get grounded." LaDonna Wilson came up with the obvious solution in dealing with disciplinary problems when she remarked, "A spanking doesn't work now, so parents might as well talk to you to solve the problem."

Whatever the solution was to the problems caused by the differences in opinions between growing teens and their parents, solutions had to be made in order to maintain a calm atmosphere in the household. Furthermore, since the parents possessed most of the powers in the family and what they said was final, they usually had the final say in all problems.

Posting a problem? After the hassle of transport was over, Alyson Royall and big sister Angela Royall settle down for one of the few angelic portraits one takes in childhood years

Just Whistle When Words Just Can't Say It

President: Mrs. D. T. Miller
Vice President: Art Clegg
Secretary: Linda and Jennifer Lucas
Treasurer: La combat

Your best friend was far across the classroom and you desperately needed to talk to him. You could not shout because the teacher was in the middle of explaining an important lesson. The information burned your tongue, but you did not risk getting in trouble. What did you do?

Jay Root had the simple solution to the problem. He stated, "I'll mouth the words and use secret gestures. If it's more complicated, I'll write a note," Jean Stevens added, "I'll give them a "Jean" smile and lip sync." Tracy Williard also commented, "Body language, definitely."

However, there were times when drastic measures were not necessary. Communication had no major obstacles and students took full advantage of the situation. For instance, Andy Honeycutt stated, "I talk all the time before, during, and after class." Melody Miller added, "I communicate whenever I get the chance and that is almost always." Jean Krull summed up the law for successful communication and commented, "Directness is the key."

Students possessed the abilities to communicate with each other and used them to the fullest. Because it occurred on the phone, in the halls, and even during classes, talking helped us understand each other better. Therefore, we were brought closer together like a family as well as friends which helped the year run smoothly.

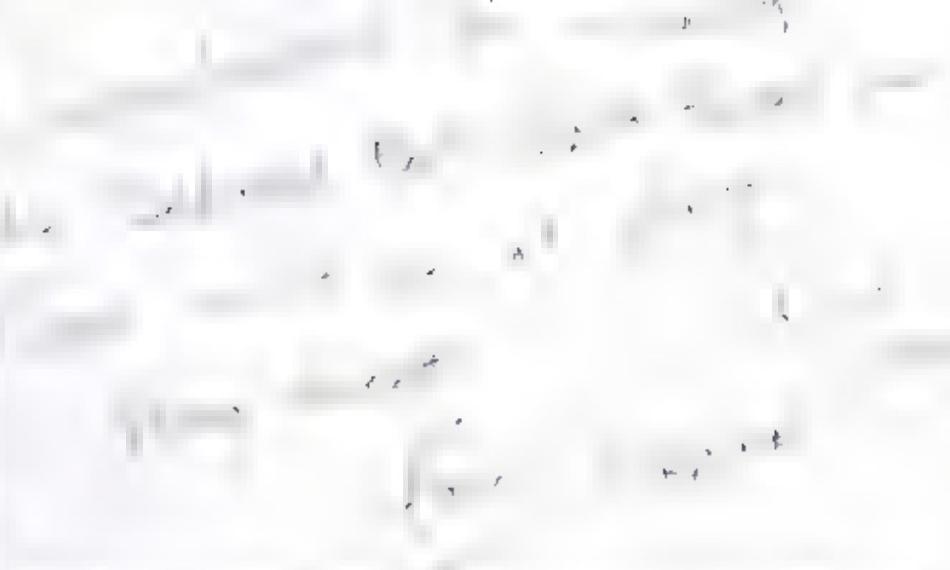

All smiles. While waiting for a ride to work, Danielle Brown laughs at a friend who entertains her for a moment out on the sidewalk.

In deep concentration. Taking time off from their studies, Derek Long and Terry Crews share the headphones to listen to the ACC tournament.

Taking notes. Concealing it from the teacher, Jeremy Sizemore and Tammy Snow safely transfer their message.

Kiss them "goodbye," Gabriele Aiba blows a kiss to say farewell before an afternoon of tennis practice and demonstrates his knowledge of the language

During the scene where Thacker and Michael Graham heckle him, Eric goes a long way at embarrassing during the bus change.

Pumped up, Eric Turner, showing his admiration, plants a friendly kiss on the cheek of Monica Miller in the hours after school.

Beating the sense in Tammie Moore and Sherman Brax, Eric turns to Lulu Miller gets her point across to Mrs. Johnson out by the bases.

First & Robin Assisting with the lunches on Valentine's Day.
Robin & her mom were across the concession stand to see the first

Valentine's Day was sporting a bouquet of roses caught Clark roses at the Robin Mills in the concession stand to celebrate

Amidst the rubble, Youth Pastor Bill Balance delivers an inspiring sermon to the student body while surrounded by Thanksgiving boxes donated by clubs

O Christmas Tree O Christmas Tree, we're reading the student messages on the Student Center Christmas Tree. Matt Jackson stops to read the greetings

Holly-Days

Keeping The Spirit

From New Year's Day to Easter, holidays were a vital part of the school year to teachers and students alike. Providing extended vacations and special celebrations, they proved important in club activities, home activities, and also school events. With the many different types of holidays, each one was unique in the school.

Varying from student to student, holiday favorites which had been established since early childhood were relished with new appreciation. On Christmas, a typical favorite, Gina Absher commented, "I like Christmas the best because you get a lot of presents!" On the other hand, David McConville claimed, "New Year's is the best because well, let's just say Father Time is always good to me!"

Within the school hours, the spirit of the holidays was certainly not lost. Assemblies were held to commemorate Thanksgiving as well as Christmas, and the student body contributed in many ways to both. During the classes, students used every type of entertainment to try and keep holiday cheer alive. Donning Santa hats and scary masks, some of the spirited succeeded in this task. Also, with the office frequently transformed into a flower shop, plenty of bouquets provided a means of joy during slow school hours.

Not only school life, but family life as well made holidays exciting. Traditions continued as in previous years and time out of school was spent with the family. Best put by Jodi Teta, she stated, "My favorite holidays? Any that get me out of school!"

Gathering up Dr. Beth Lucas prepares her belongings to make a graceful exit befitting a woman of class, and excuse herself from a Christmas faculty meeting.

Hanging in there. Using their class time to decorate, Mike Graham and Dolie Zigliar put up an ornament for the Home Economics class.

Capture the moment. Giggling with Judy McSwain at a snapshot of herself, Samantha Merritt relishes her roses in Mrs. Elizabeth Whitehouse's class.

Left to right: Mr. Moretz, Shawn Wootten, and John Scardina offer a common view which most teenagers find a segment of an atmosphere.

Left to right: Gina Galloway talks with some of her friends while Lori Horn seemingly in a hurry rushes to her bus.

A Way To Go

Anything On Wheels

Whether it was cars zooming into the parking lot or the big yellow limousine slowing traffic, everyone eventually got to school by one of these modes of transportation. Since most freshmen and sophomores rode the bus, they could only envy the juniors and seniors who had the distinct privilege of driving to school.

Traveling by bus had many positive aspects. Freshmen and sophomores did not have to worry about being late for school, because if the bus was late, they would be excused from getting a tardy. The bus also provided a chance for students to socialize with their friends. As Scott Melisauskas explained, "I could get a ride to school any time I wanted, but I rode the bus so I could talk to my friends."

Riding the bus to school also got to be a hassle for some students. A few freshmen and sophomores were late risers, so they occasionally ran into some trouble. "I sometimes got a late start in the mornings and ended up running to the bus stop," stated Rhonda Sudderth, "but it was usually for no reason because the bus had already left!"

On the other hand, driving a car to school posed a totally different set of problems. In the mornings juniors and seniors rolled into the parking lot, often times late, and neglected to cut their lights off. Although the office desperately attempted to inform students of their absent mindedness, some students' cars were overlooked and their cars ended up on the receiving end of a jump start. "Jump starts because you left your lights on were a big hassle, not to mention embarrassing," Ernie Shouse stated from obvious experience.

It is plain to see that transportation was a necessity in each student's life. Even though there can be some setbacks, every student had his personal preference and would not settle for anything else. Seniors cruised into school in cars and freshmen lived for the day they could.

Ready and waiting: Derek Hauser, Brian Patterson, and Donald Pettigrew await the departure of the ride home, which will carry them to freedom.

Oh no not again. Andre Gore examines his sore sneakers in an attempt to repair them before marching band practice, while his friend, Matt Bender looks on displaying an expression of sympathy for his troubled friend

The long trek. Making their way down to the buses, Chaundra Simmons and Kenka Lockhart succumb to laughter after an extremely length day at school and share a quick jog to their bus.

Take me away. Jean Louis Beeren enjoysably depends on Eric Chadwick to transport him to and from a pre-game dinner prior to a most important varsity soccer game in which he would start.

Reflect

Then And Now

To celebrate the 25th edition of the Cynosure, we have added a mini-magazine designed to reflect back onto the past while comparing and contrasting our school then and now.

Many things the students enjoyed then are also things we enjoy now. Much of the music they listened to is the same things we are hearing today. Even some of the clothes they wore and the way they wore their hair resembles the trends back then.

Although the music and hairstyles of that era are very similar to ours, the slang we use is somewhat different. For example, our slang term "def," meaning good, compares with the sixties slang term "groovie."

Also, "hippie," meaning long haired unconventionally dressed young person, is parallel in meaning to today's slang term "head."

Some movies from the sixties are still well-known, even though they are not very similar to today's popular movies. Movies such as My Fair Lady and Mary Poppins are still viewed by many people today.

This comparison is designed to show how even though times change, many things remain the same while others change with the time. Most importantly, it shows the Vikings now and then and depicts how we are all classes of individuals yet all a part of a unified whole.

Get into the groove. The Junior Varsity cheerleaders, Eden Eudy, Lee Anne Parrish, and Shannon Hutcherson, carefully perform their new and exciting dance routine combining forces with an already lively crowd to attempt to propel the Junior Varsity football team to another victory during a Thursday night game.

Movies Then

PT 109

The Pink Panther
A Hard Days Night

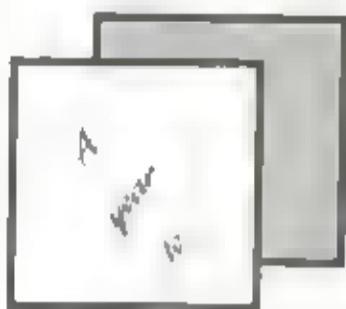

Mary Poppins
My Fair Lady

Way up there. The 1964 head varsity cheerleader Judy Shelton climbs to the crossbar of the goalpost in order to hang a banner for the football players to run through, and these spirit raising banners are still being used today by cheerleaders and spectators of all kinds of sports.

Homecoming break. The Viking offense breaks from the huddle during the 1964 homecoming game by quarterback David Russell and wide receiver Mike Sauer as they back to the line of scrimmage to do battle with the Cedar Yellow Jackets while being rooted on by many faithful fans.

Reflect

Music

Music in the early years at North Forsyth played an important role in every student's life as it does now for the students of today. As a student, many of us listen to music to relax or to associate our feelings with. The music we listen to now is much like the music listened to when the school first opened its doors. Moreover, some of the popular songs today are the same as those then, both in the form of a remake or by the original artist.

Along with the love of music, we have the love of music that first came out in the earlier era. Songs such as Twist and Shout and Louie Louie still frequent our radios and are enjoyed by those who listen.

Many of today's popular songs are remakes of songs of the earlier sixties. For example, the songs Heat Wave and Pretty Woman were popular songs during that time and performers of our era have taken them and recreated a big hit.

As students, music is a definite part of our lives. The music plays a distinct role as a link to the Vikings of today to the Vikings in the beginning.

Is it Mozart? At the 1987 Springfest, John Hunter, a talented keyboardist, but, certainly no Mozart, experiments with some of the newest state of the art equipment on some sample material were set up for the students.

Music Then

Louie Louie

Surfin' USA

Twist and Shout

Pink Panther Theme

Do Wah Diddy Diddy

Memphis

Heat Wave

Can't Buy Me Love

Come See About Me

Under the Boardwalk

Pick n' and grinnin'. To entertain students during a school function, The Village Minstrels Steve Lineback, David Bert Lynn Lineback and David Severt, puts on a show by strumming a few tunes which back then was a real treat for the students as well as the faculty.

Catch a rising star Applause + s the air as Kenneth Mickey put his unique persona to singing and playing guitar to a very good use besides, managing to entertain a group of students who made their way out to the fun-filled activities of the 1987 Springfest.

Reflect

Slang

It seems that regardless of what time frame one attended high school in, there was some out of the ordinary means of expressing oneself. Slang terms are the dominant expressions used in conversation with peers in high school. Although our slang terms differ from those heard in the halls when the school first opened, the slang is important and is a way we uniquely express ourselves.

The most frequently used slang term of the first Vikings was "cool." If something was good, then often you would hear a student refer to it as "cool." Another favorite term for the word good was "groovie." The slang term used today is "def." In addition, the word "smooth" is a synonym for the everyday word good.

Furthermore, the slang term for dancing from the sixties is "boppin'." Presently, the term "jammin'" is often used when referring to dancing. It is obvious that as the dancing styles change so do the slang terms.

Many things from the sixties are similar to those of today, but our slang is very different. The expressions each generation uses sets them apart and makes them individuals.

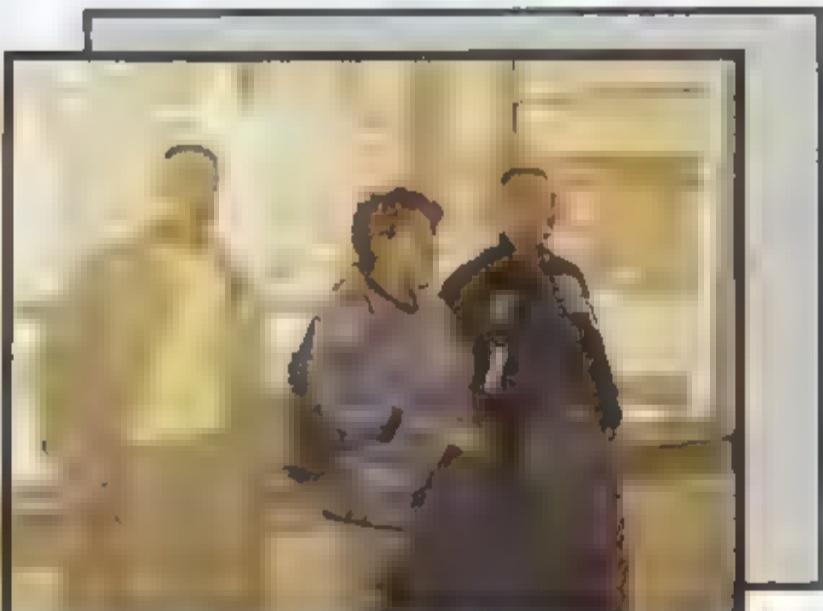

Just chaton'. Since the Friday night football games are places for friends to get together after a long week of school and homework, Melissa Pinnix, Chip Carter, Christy Allen and Michael Fulk gather to cheer their team on to victory while they socialize.

Slang Then Groovie (Good)
Cool (Good)
Boppin' (Dancing)
Drag (With A Date)
Stag (Alone)
Hip (Cool)

Hi... you heard the news? After a long day at school Carmen one of our 1964 foreign exchange students along with her American sister Judy Lewison stop o talk with Mrs Clifford about the days events just like many of us stop to chat with friends and counseurs after school.

Time out After another grueling day of hard classes and assignments assignments from teachers and crowded halls Kim less p. Pa a mes and Carmen W. & S. take a break while hanging out near the snack machines to catch up on what happens to pass by and discuss the day's full of events

Reflect

Trends

It is said that history repeats itself and this is definitely evident when it comes to comparing the trends of yesterday with those of today. Many of the fads from the early years at our school are almost identical to those of today.

Fashion makes a statement about a person and some of the fashion of today is a spin-off from the early sixties attire. The ever popular miniskirt of that era has now returned to be a big hit. The only difference is that there are several more varieties made today. Tie dye shirts, which are a fad today, are also a spinoff from past fashions. Furthermore, penny loafers, which were popular back then for both boys and girls, are presently one of the 'in' things.

A hairstyle that was fashionable during the sixties was the crew cut for the gentlemen. This style has now become a fad for our generation.

Although the fads of now are quite unique, many of the trends are play-offs from the earlier generation. Our fads make us individuals, yet they also link our time to the earlier era of Vikings.

American Top 40 One weekend night out, Tony Marshall, Chris Poe and Jeff Johnson are dressed to impress as they casually stroll through the Record Bar located in Hanes Mall checking out all the hottest new releases and the latest bargains the store offers.

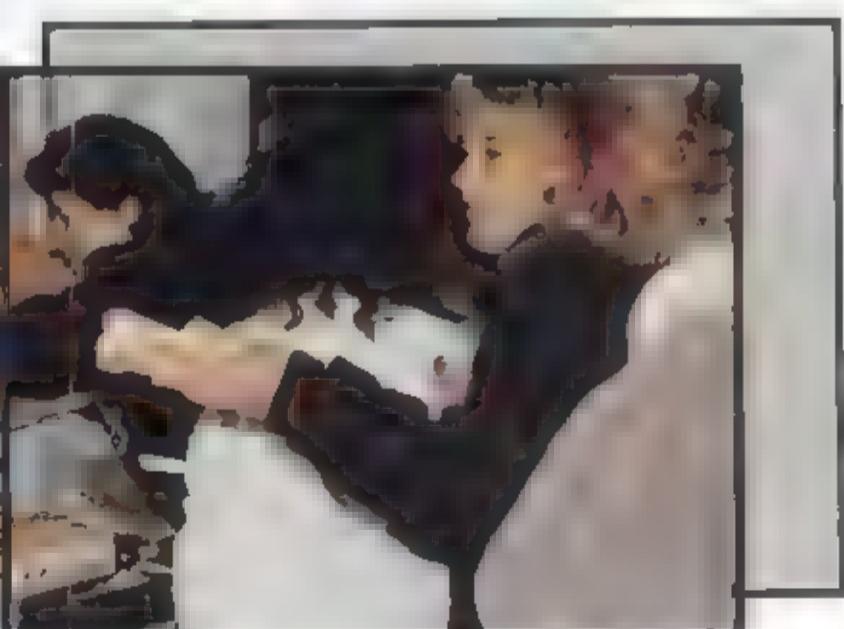

Fashion Then

Penny Loafers
Mini Skirts Saddle Oxfords Knee Socks
Button-up Sweaters

Check it out! The crew cuts and thick rimmed glasses worn by Mauricio Trujos and Bob Brostier's during the early 1960's show the unique smarries and yet dis per visible differences between the ever changing fashions of today and those from the distance years of long long ago.

Man up yo! During the half time period of the football game Jean Stevens and Mike Moore add sport their letterman's jackets which takes the place of the popular sweater of the sixties in order to keep the cool awa, or the cool October night in the stadium.

BEST OF THE FAIR - Left, pastel by student Sue Cline Wolff and a Gondola ride in the Plaza at night.

STICK FIGURE MUSEUM - Students at the Midway take a break from the bustle and bust of the Midway to enjoy a snack.

A HUMAN SKELETON - Shannon Inman, Debbie Saldana, Kristen Fazio and this human skeleton pose to prove to the students that the skeleton games of the Midway proved.

Fair Is Fair

A Walk On The Midway

Thousands of people from all around came to be a part of the energy and life of the Dixie Classic Fair. For eight days, the fair provided a color filled night life full of excitement. The music, thrilling rides and prizes excited the crowds each and every night. A ticket vendor estimated that over 144,000 individual tickets were used just for the rides.

More than sixty rides, spinning circles and rising high into the air, provided hair-raising experiences for many. Only the daring tried the Double-Ferris wheel or the Pirate. As Tony Moretz said, "The best rides were the ones that ripped your stomach and made it seem as if your heart had stopped!"

The rides which made a fair goer feel exhausted forced him to keep up a high level of energy by consuming large quantities of delicious fair food. Fair-goers munched on candied apples, elephant ears, Polish sausages and many other types of food. "The best thing about the fair was the greasy food," exclaimed Annie Tucker. An example of some really greasy food would be what Paris France ate on her trip to the fair. "I had pizza, which was pretty tasty, and I also had a delicious Polish sausage smothered in fried onions," she said.

After sampling the various foods, many attempted the different games of skill and chance. The challenge of winning humongous stuffed animals or a poster of a favorite rock star greatly stimulated the participants. However, Shannon Via expressed the idea that some vendors were not to be trusted.

The guys who ran the games were cons, because they talked you into trying a game and the next thing you knew, you'd lost all of your money."

Amidst the excitement of the fair scene, keeping track of money spent became almost impossible. Without warning, dollars spent on rides, games, and food added up to an enormous amount. "Spending money became really easy when I got caught up in the excitement of winning a prize," stated Joel Kilby.

Even though the fair became somewhat expensive for some, there were many attractions that still drew enormous crowds. Because of the excitement and energy the fair generated, many students took advantage of this once a year opportunity. Students from all over the county enjoyed the excitement of fair life.

All smiles! Ho Dickson and Catherine Long get caught up in the massive crowd at the fair.

'Fair' weather friends John Scardina, David Barger, Mark Parks and Tony Moretz uphold an annual student tradition of spending an evening on the midway with their friends.

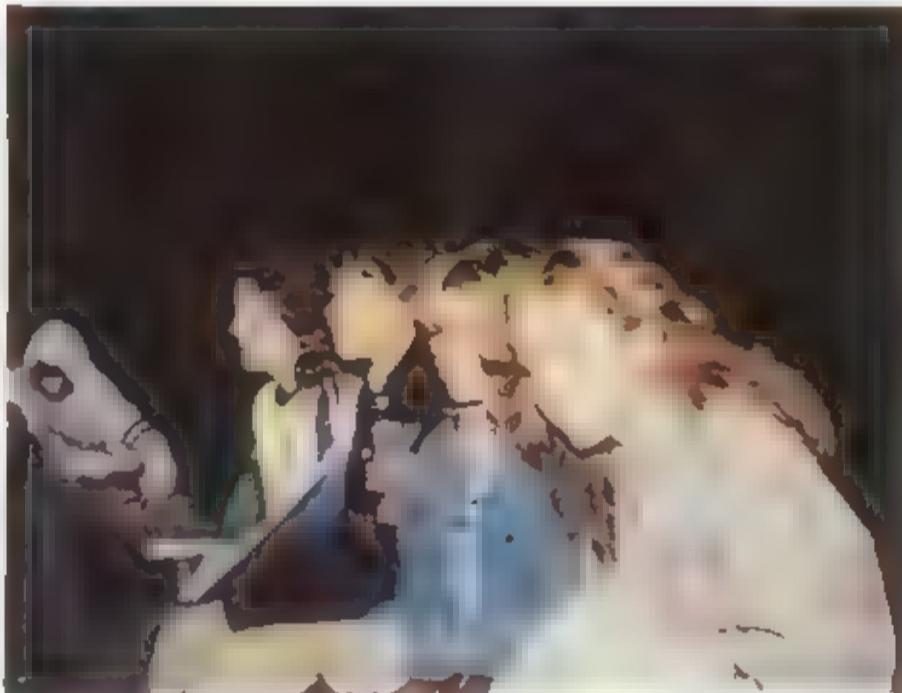

A taste of America. Jean Louis Bereen, a foreign exchange student, enjoys the midway with his new friends Shirley Palmer.

You can. Oregon Cougars are Mark West's son - so it's fitting that he's been a constant fixture at exciting moments for the Cougars and of course, plays at the烽火狼烟 varsity football game.

Winnipegger Doug Linn, A senior Human Services major, an Eastwood McColl student, was excitedly awaiting the concession stand at a football game.

Dr. Patterson, Butch Lawson, Lisa McAusland, Nancy Scarborough and Lynn Souter give the JV Soccer team much needed fan support.

On Oct. 10, Faculty spectators Sharette Akins and Troy Galloway braved the ugly weather of October to support the Cougars on the field.

Where Bo is now? Clint Calaway, Bruce Revels, Terri Owen, Jamie Rieker, Joel Sapp, Aaron Amett, and Alan Starr watch the JV football team

Go North! A fired-up Jeffrey Griffen ends a hand to the cheerleaders in their effort to get the crowd into the Friday night football game

Name that tune Kevin Ray and Jason Holder join the rest of the pep band in assisting the JV football game by adding up-tempo music to the already spirited atmosphere

Standing By Support For The Teams

Great sports and great fans go hand in hand in the land of the Vikings. This was true at every athletic event on campus. The fan support at each sporting activity was outstanding. Even though all fans were unique, there was a game for everyone to enjoy.

Exciting action on the field was one element present that drew fans and kept them coming back. For example, Curtis Blakemore stated, "if the game is boring, I feel cheated." Another student, Dana Steelman, commented, "I only understand the game somewhat, but I like the excitement of football." The sporting events gave students a chance to watch fellow schoolmates perform in situations out of the classroom.

Another reason Viking fans support was so strong was the intense rivalries. Even though each game meant a lot, some just seemed to be more important. Erica Joe remarked, "I would go to any type of game to see us beat RJR." Reynolds and Page have always been considered top contenders in all areas of the sports program.

An ulterior motive for some Vikings to attend sporting events was to socialize. Students made use of valuable opportunities to spend time with many friends at once. Steven Goldsmith stated, "Watching the game is fun, but sometimes I have to get up and talk." Furthermore, Roger Dalton suggested that socializing was what made the games fun.

A final reason for abundant fan support at Viking sports was the fact that Viking pride was present in everyone associated with North. This included students, parents, and faculty. Angel White felt that her support gave the team confidence. Anthony Lee said, "I don't care who is around, I always show my Viking pride."

The spectators at Viking events attempt to give all they have got. Spectators add life and vigor to football, basketball, soccer, and all games. Needless to say, Viking fan support was the most important ingredient for winning, any game at home or away!

Bug's Best Groceries' Brian Ross is shown at Food Fair in the highway 52 Plaza, where he spends his weekends earning extra spending money to support his weekly financing.

Caught in the act. Preparing for his long awaited senior beach trip, Greg Hunter selects a new beach towel on one of his weekend shopping ventures.

Swatch me! Kim Boyd and a friend stop for watches at Thalheimers while touring the stores of Hanes Mall.

TGIF The Pleasure Principles

It was 1:58 on a Friday, and the announcements were beginning. Students started to realize that the weekend was finally here. It was the time of the week when students did all their planned activities, such as going to Burger King, the Mall, Stratford Road or the movies, and without being under the watchful eye of their teachers. Weekends gave students time to socialize and take a break from the other five, long, demanding days of the week.

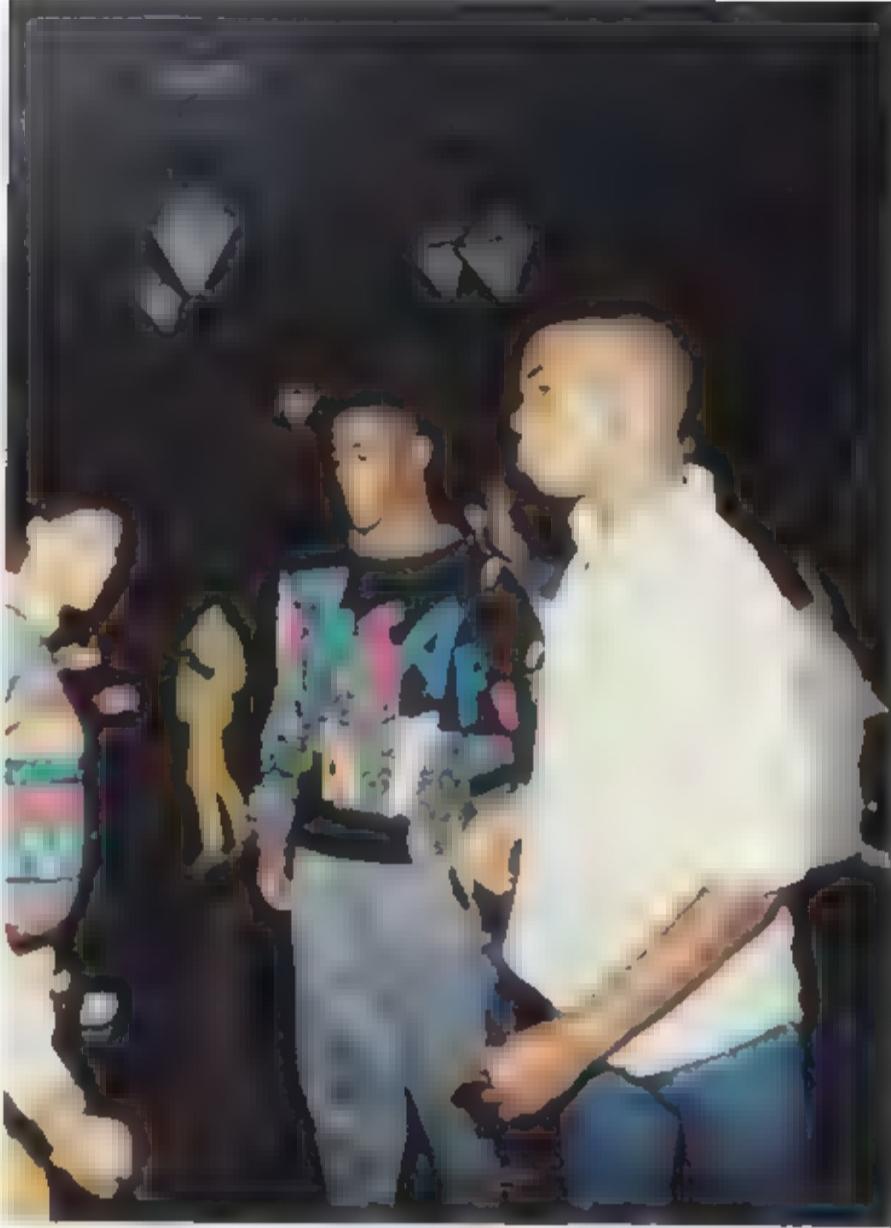

Most students began their weekends at school, either participating in or viewing football and basketball games. Here students not only demonstrated their school support, but also caught up with their friends long enough to socialize. Afterwards, evenings were concluded with late night meals at Pizza Hut, McDonalds, or Darryl's.

Where else do students go on the weekends? "I like to party and chill at Skate Odyssey," said Patrick Caesar. "I work mostly and stay with my sister, Andrea, at UNC-G," added Rebecca Ashby. Others look at weekends from a different perspective. "It's a time to relax from school activities," stated James Jones. Furthermore, as Jodi Valencic explained, "You can get away from the day to day pressures at school."

There were a number of activities that students could participate in on the weekends. Regardless of what they did, students always seemed to have enough fun to make them dread returning to school the following Monday morning.

H What's our name? At a party at Sister ~~lives~~ ^{lives} in Harston spends her time on the weekend ~~singing~~ ~~meeting~~ new friends and enjoying her freedom.

A night on the town—Wenster prefers an R&B Rat, spend one of those exciting Saturday nights
the fish, regard & loving he Haze, M. 11:00PM

When you care enough to send the letter to Santa you can make it right with Mrs. John Hauser, Request the State Auditor and Finance Commissioner, a card for the specia lty of your choice.

"Showing off" During the Senior class picture day, Katie Sharpe chose to wear a new fashionable acid-washed dress in order to display the stylish, up-to-date look of an upperclassmen

A fashion statement. Wearing her new denim skirt, Contilus Archie shows her penchant for the new acid-washed style as her friends admire her choice of clothing during their break

Mini skirts, long skirts, acid washed, or just plain — never before had fashion consisted of such an overwhelming variety of styles. This broadness in selection, although encompassing all areas, brought in several especially popular fads

As most outstanding amongst these fads, acid-wash material dominated our school in the form of skirts, jackets, pants and many accompanying accessories. When asked about his opinion on acid-washed apparel, Tim Horton replied, "I like them a lot, although they're too expensive, but they're in style." Along the same line, Many students claimed that comfort was the most ideal quality of acid washed clothing

Another major fad, carried over from the previous year, was mini skirts which were popular not only with those wearing them, but also those viewing them. Kenny Sprinkle, one of those "viewers" stated, "I like mini skirts because they make girls look attractive, if they've got the legs for it." On the other hand, Samantha Merritt explained, "I personally do not like mini skirts because they make someone five-feet tall, like me, look even shorter!"

In the ways of shoes, high-top sneakers, khaki colored lace-ups, and the ever popular pumps were the way to go. Valerie Coats clarified her opinion by stating, "I do not like any shoes that are not leather, especially bright colored ones!"

Other major fads included overcoats, which were donned by over half of the football team, and tight calf-length skirts, reminiscent of some earlier sixties styles

Although many felt the fashions of the year were the best ever, Jean-Louis Beeren, an exchange student, "America is a few years behind Holland as far as fashion is concerned." With that thought in mind, one must realize that today's fashions are tomorrow's history

To the beat of a different drum Rachelle Wash and Michael Bratz make their own fashion statement as they take in the after hours of the school day.

Foot loose Two well-known students display just one of the many styles which were in demand for the entire school year

Stylin' and profilin' Ceceia James proudly poses during a class change to show a formal approach which added to the everyday routine

On the prowl for knowledge Chrys Cuthrell examines the shelves in the school library hoping to find the book which she's searching for intently.

Opposites Attract

A Mixing Of The Sexes

Ears for tears. Linell Johnson stops in the hallway to counsel a friend, Kenya Holder, offering the small support which makes all friendships important.

With the many problems and frustrations which accompany dating, many students found that friendships were an important way to stay in contact with the opposite sex. Although less common, these special ties were often more successful than relationships exceeding the bounds of friendship. Even with the problems that existed, these arrangements proved a stable and reliable way to have fun.

Without hassles of fighting and jealousy, there were many benefits to friendships with the opposite sex. Expressing one such benefit, Gerald Wright commented, "It's nice, when you don't have a date, if you can go out with some girls that are friends and still look good." Friends often provided reliability which was absent in romantic relationships. Offering another point of view, Tonya Styers stated, "My best friend also happens to be a math wiz which helps me a lot; also, we can go out to have fun without any worries."

On the other hand, these types of relationships did cause some problems involving misunderstandings and jealousy. Patrick Caesar explained, "A lot of people get the wrong impression when you date as friends; they start rumors that aren't true." Larry Griffith, also experiencing these problems, said, "Girls I am dating always get jealous of girls that are my friends." Summing up, Greg Hunter expressed his views on friendship dating when he claimed, "It's like the saying

'Water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink' because you can't really be with the girl you date."

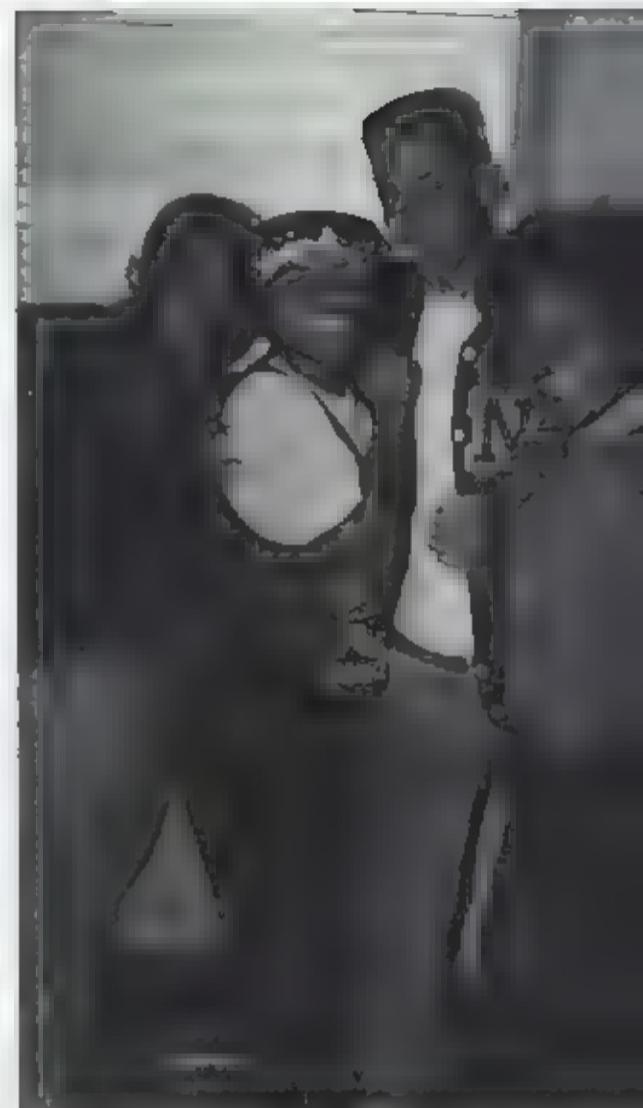

Depending upon those involved, dating as friends was either a blessing or another hassle. Much of the success of boy-girl friendships relied upon the maturity of those experiencing them. Providing some insight to these relationships, Coach Dinkenor declared, "On a high school level, if boys date girls as friends they usually end up marrying them." Regardless of their reasons, many students found boy-girl friendships profitable, developing special bonds which would last forever. Outlasting many friendships, these teens moved on to special features, possibly even with each other.

Someone to watch over me. Outside the library, Beth King supervises the behavior of John Gladman to contain his trouble-making talents.

A shoulder to lean on. Hwan Yu and Lucy Johnston headed for different after school activities pause for a short breather on their way in from the parking lot.

It only takes one big hug. Monty Cager, Angel White, Eric Turner, and Tonva Jones take time out to be together and share some laughter after a long day of school.

Fiddle fiddle. Natalie McCarrel placing her violin playing high on her list of priorities, pauses to practice in the bandroom after school.

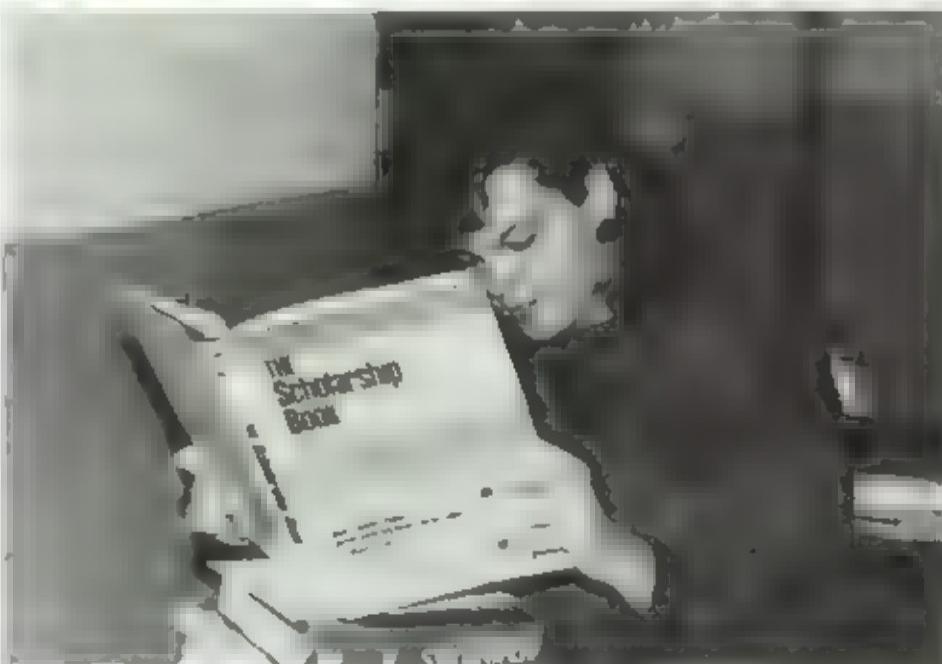

Where's the party? Scott Napier, Tony Hess, Kevin Everbee and Richie Ray, enjoy an evening of freedom, a priority important to most students.

Making an impression. As a weightlifter flexes his muscles for the camera, Coach Cowden explains why weightlifting is an important part of sports training.

Looking to the future. Chee Chamberlain visits the Guidance Office to study the requirements which are necessary in applying for scholarships.

Charity,

It's me!! I hope you have a great summer. I will miss you next year. Don't forget about me 244-0138. Oh, I almost forgot here is another number you might want to call 722-0111 just kidding!!

1966 1966

Love,

Nat SF

B.K.A.
Authority

Priorities First Things First

If you find yourself constantly wanting something and will let nothing stand in your way, then that thing probably has the highest ranking on your priority list. These priorities depend on many things, such as personal views and maturity level

For example, underclassmen had simple priorities such as getting a driver's license. As Gerald Manning stated, he simply "wants to make it to the tenth grade."

As a Junior, thoughts of college and careers became evident, and priorities began to change. Mike Smith said, "I am looking forward to going to college and becoming successful."

Seniors had established the level of maturity making them ready to enter college and the working world, and they began to think of others as well as themselves. Tonya Styers remarked, "Basically, my most important priority is the people I care about most."

Priorities are the goals of life for those who have set them and strive to excel everyday at everything that they do

Biting off more than he can chew
David Berger is force fed by Elif Erginer with whom he shares a happily stormy friendship and provides the Yearbook Staff a laugh on deadline day.

Till death do we part Eying her engagement ring, Dana Connally claims graduation as her first priority as completion of school means marriage

Crank it up. Escaping from the pressures of routines at home, Chris Wong kicks back to relax and tunes up his guitar for a night of practice.

Up in the air, David Harton lifts Brian Doubt to vent his frustrations after a tiring afternoon of playing basketball at Old Richmond Elementary School.

The Great Escape

Getting Away From It All

In the high-pressured, frenzied life of the modern teen, there are certain times when survival relies on a chance to escape the routine. During the school year, these fugitives of society can be classified into three major groups on their chosen form of escape.

The first group are those who found relief from group outings and spending time with others. For example, Jennifer Shropshire stated, "When I want to relax, I go out and have fun with my friends." With a slightly different approach, Jeffrey Griffin commented, "My friends and I go out to play Putt-Putt and sing dumb songs."

On the other hand, some teenagers equate a successful escape with solitude. One such example is Beau Childress, who "sits and stares at the stars to relax." Another person who enjoys solitude, Jodi Harrison, said her way of escaping "is to sit and fantasize." Other common isolation events include: watching T.V., sleeping, and as John Cockerham enjoys, hunting.

Finally, a last group involves those teens who make self-indulgence the center of their relaxation. Trish Norman, one of this grouping, said, "I take long bubble baths," when asked how she spent her hours of recuperation. With a contradictory approach, Eric Scarlett claimed, "I turn up the radio as loud as it will go and party to relax!"

No matter what route of escape chosen, each goal was to relieve some of the common strains which can become unbearable in a young teen's life.

Air High Although it takes time and patience, Ryan Stauffer escapes from the everyday hassles of life by building model airplanes in his home.

It's a good time. Adrian Martin and Jeff Caldwell escape school for a forty-five minute break and inhale a quick lunch at McDonald's to celebrate freedom.

Where's the party? Members of the yearbook staff, Tim Sudderth, Lorrie Pate and Elf Erginer take time out from their busy schedule to eat dinner.

Red In The Face

Unforgettable Moments

She's got him cornered Being punished for misbehavior, Dwayne Childress tries to make the best of the situation by working despite his embarrassment

Lady in distress Experiencing the trauma of a flat tire, Lorrie Pate and Philip Lawton avoid their usual quarrelling in an attempt to get the car running

Has something embarrassing ever happened to you that made you simply want to find a corner somewhere out of the sight of everyone else? Well, you weren't the only person to experience this feeling. Everyone did at one time or the other because of some kind of small misfortune.

There were many causes of these miscellaneous mishaps, but none more apparent than the early morning arrival at 7:30 in the morning caused many of us to do things that wouldn't ordinarily happen. How many times did you hear someone being called over the loud speaker to turn off their lights or move their car out of an illegal parking space. During the mornings, the body and mind wasn't working as sharp as it could have been working. You just seem to remember things a second or two after it is too late such as locking the keys in your car. Tim Suderth stated, "You seem to remember just as the door closes that your keys are in the car, but then it's too late." This posed a problem for many students during the year.

The overcrowded hallways produced many similar problems as students rushed to their classes during the five minute class change. These problems also caused many of us to be tardy to class. Christy Gamble said, "I was embarrassed when I fell down the stairs on my way to class."

Lunch also proved to be the perfect time for more of those little daily disasters. Trish Norman replied, "After waiting in the long line, I dropped my lunch tray, and everyone laughed."

These and many other fatalities ruined what could have been a good day. People found all of these things funny as long as they happened to someone else, but when the shoe was on their own foot, their attitudes seemed to change. Remember, the next time something like this happens to you that you are only human, and mistakes like this happen to everyone.

Drop everything and run! Surprised by someone on her way from her locker, Rosemary McCarthy loses control of the books she is carrying home.

Caught off guard, Bobby Attaway surprises his wrestler, Tres Ewel, with a new move in the hallway during a practice break, placing him in a somewhat compromising position.

It's all business. Hiding away in the girls' bathroom, Judy McSwain receives an embarrassing gift as a joke from some friends.

Obsessions

Does It Pay To Dream?

A piece of cake. Angel White makes this stunt seem simple to perform, proving her exceptional skill in the handling of the basketball.

Living some's fantasies. Dong Troyer shows off his Mazda RX7 in the school parking lot a car most students can only dream of owning.

What is an obsession? It is an object or idea which rules the mind; something that controls people, often in ways which they cannot explain. Obsessions come in many forms: cars, money, or other people; however, the attraction which accompanies these things are the same.

Though there are many types of obsessions, the easiest to identify are those involving material objects. Mike Speas commented, "I am obsessed with wheels, because everything I do involves them." Stacie Hauber, also describing an all-encompassing obsession, said it all when she simply stated, "Chocolate!" On the other hand, Trish Wood kept her obsessions on a general note when she listed them as "power and wealth." With a frame of mind all his own, Keoni Teta professed an extreme obsession with noses.

In contrast to these many material obsessions, several students had totally abstract things in mind when submitting to obsessions. Amy Simpson claimed, "I have always been obsessed with losing weight, I feel fat all the time!" Some obsessions were built upon daily activities such as Tonya Atkin's which she explained, "I am obsessed with saying 'Valkyries SHUT UP!'" Billy Wilson, with the ideal abstract obsession, claimed, "I am obsessed with perfection, because I have a perfect example which I try to follow."

Whether it was material or abstract, the obsessions that people experienced were unique and included just about anything. Although some students have identified their obsessions, and learned to deal with them, there are many students who simply do not have them, or have yet their particular obsession.

From the hip, Jamall Carrethers displays a fistful of money as he heads for the door to his class on his way to an off campus lunch.

An apple a day. While walking through the grocery store Eddie McDane is drawn to a section of the store which contains the fruit of his obsessions Horsing around. Liston Moser points out his favorite choice when dressing to impress as he displays his name brand Polo clothing

Viking Bonds

All in the Family

We've got spirit, yes we do, we've got spirit, how 'bout you?!" This popular chant was often heard at the pep rallies and games as the students showed off their school spirit and pride to be a part of the Viking family. There were many positive aspects that contributed to the closeness of the students but they also had to hurdle many obstacles.

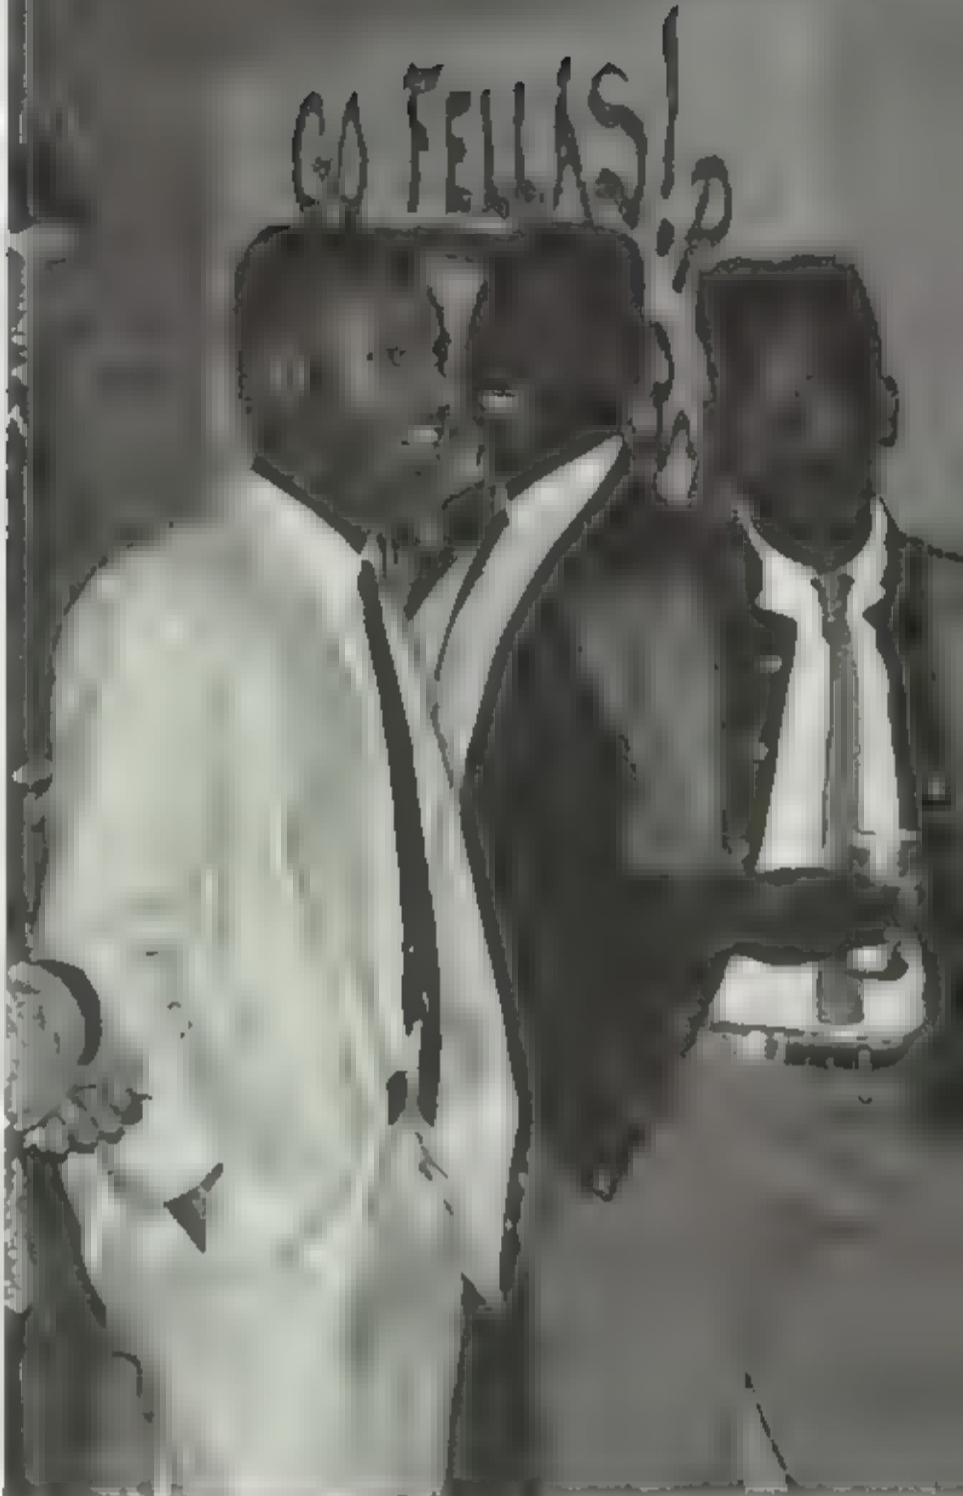

Pep rallies suffered many changes, mainly because of the thirty minute time limit that was imposed. Although the athletes were not introduced individually and the Valkynes were not always allowed to perform, the students still showed their support for the teams. Susan Brystow, a senior, commented, "For the first year the freshmen actually had as much spirit as the seniors."

The students were given several other opportunities to show their Viking pride. Gina Absher commented, "Face painting is a fun way to raise money and promote school spirit." Cherri Kiger, a member of the FBLA, stated, "Our shirt sales were successful because people want to show that they are Vikings."

Besides showing school spirit, students also participated in extracurricular activities that enabled them to feel like a member of a big family. The dramatists pulled together to perform "Fiddler on the Roof." Alan Tindle explained, "When you spend as much time in rehearsal as we do, you grow close to each other. Even when we're not on stage we spend time in fellowship together." Also, club members worked together to beautify the school and help members of the community. Keoni Teta stated, "The clubs' participation in the food drive was like one big family reaching out to help another.

All in all, the students' spirit soared over all obstacles to show the students' pride to be a part of the success in our Viking family.

Out to lunch. On their way from an off campus lunch Tina Georgeff and Lisa Hektor pause on their way to class for a quick photo.

Stud-hal? While packing up for the next class, Monica Jackson coaches Anthony Lee on an assignment while Ron Jordan awaits their departure.

Decked out, Marcus Wilson, Connie Brown, Adriar Martin, and Patrick Cesar waste some extra time after school while waiting to attend their pre-game meal.

A true Viking with spirit and pride. A regular attendee of Viking sporting events and a part of the Viking family, Homer Crawford enthusiastically cheers.

Capture the moment. Waiting to be photographed for the senior group shot, Lisa Engelskens is there to witness the mass confusion beforehand.

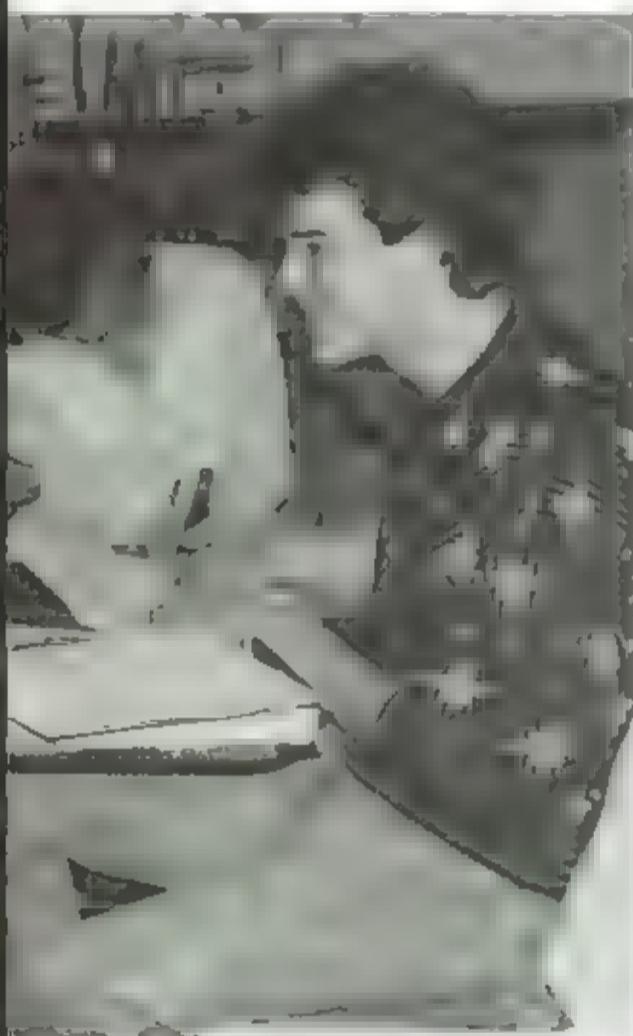

Floating on air. Celebrating her sixteenth birthday within the confines of the school, Cami Harper has a discussion with Christy Allen during classes.

Now be sure to smile. Tiffany Vickers, Pam Reese, and Bobby Register strut their stuff for the crowd attending the last musical. Anything Goes.

The press eqed few. A rare sight, the work machines gave Ron Brown and Doris Marer with a task saving Mr.
Warren a walk to fulfill his duties as a recreation manager.

Homer is asleep during physics class. Ron Brown shocks his classmates and teacher by remaining awake for the duration of the class period.

Fancy That? Can You Imagine . . .

Amy Simpson actually failing a test in a subject.

Jodi Valencic in CDC.

Mrs. Cowden not patrolling the parking lot.

Homer missing a game.

Chris Puryear without his brief case.

Donald Brown slamdunking in basketball.

Mrs. Trotter not smiling!

Dinkenor complimenting the football team.

Doug Troyer driving a Pinto.

Bryant Wilson without his hand over his mouth.

Green Acres? Vandy Coats, dressed for the occasion, tests her tractor driving ability and heads out to the fields after a hard day at work

Growth spurt? Philip Lawton, accepting a challenge to reach the ceiling with his head, proves height is no obstacle to his jumping skills

Smash! Cheese! Mr. Dennis Moser nosens his mighty emperor v and demonstrates the improper way to take a photo as he poses outside the building is not the Postbot. In a night of action soccer, rough Muay Thai, races for fun have got him in shape for an upcoming season of the sport.

Dr. T. T. Performance, Sr., prepares himself a jump shot as he practices at Beck's Baptist Church in the evening hours.

Spare Time

The Active Approach

To gain that competitive edge, sport enthusiasts resorted to recreational sports in their spare time on weekends and after school. Taking to the court allowed each person to prove their abilities to themselves and others by doing their own thing.

There were many reasons why people took the time to participate in recreational sports. For some, it was the fitness aspect of sports that compelled them to involve themselves. As Grayson Horn commented, "It is a good way to stay in shape if you have the time."

Others like the freedom that they gained during their time off. Chris Cooke stated, "It's a good way to take your mind off of things." These free time activities provided a good way to recuperate from a long day at school.

Terry Palmer agreed with both sides when he stated, "A game provides a good way to relax, keeping the body mentally and physically in shape."

On the other hand, some like to participate for reasons other than to become physically fit. As James Overstreet expressed, "I love the challenge of a good game." Angel White added, "It's a good way to test your abilities against other competitors."

Still others looked at recreational sports in a different way. Instead of playing basketball or football, they turned to racing for relaxation. Tim Kimmel stated, "I like to work on my car and take it to Stratford Road to show them whose boss."

No matter how people spent their time in sports, they constantly competed to show that they were better than the competition.

A 'spare' moment. During a family outing, Marcia Christensen struts her stuff in the lane hoping for a strike at Major League Lanes one Friday.

Pumping iron. In the weight room after school, Shane Allen improves his form and builds up his strength for next year's football season.

Spike it! Kelly Allen goes up above his teammates to smash the ball over the net to his opponents during the volleyball tournament of Springfest 1987.

Searching the files Glancing over students' schedules while serving as a guidance page, Wendy Collins enjoys a free period, an option only upperclassmen are provided

Get off my back! Fed up with his freshman counterpart, Kevin Strickland, Senior Donald Marler demonstrates the upperclassman advantage in the hallway afterschool

Sibling rivalry Amy Thompson and brother Brian Thompson share friendly conversation in the hallway afterschool, demonstrating cordiality between the classes

Senior Vs. Freshman Clash Of The Classes

When two worlds collided, the seniors and the freshmen, the results were often staggering. Embarking on the experiences as a high school student, freshmen often found little in common with their senior counterparts. This year, which marked the graduation of the first freshman class whose roots had begun at North four years earlier, seniors and freshmen all responded with a variety of opinions concerning one another. For instance, Hwan Yu stated, "When I see a freshman, it makes me wonder if I was like that in the ninth grade." While with a more optimistic view, Amy Thompson declared, "Many of my friends are seniors, and all the ones I met during the year were really nice!"

One burden which contributed to the division of the classes were the major differences attributed to each of them. Offering his opinion, Mike Peeler declared, "Class — that's the difference. Seniors have it and freshmen don't." Meanwhile, stumbling out to the parking lot, Will Ray commented on freshmen, "They're always worried about getting places on time — but they'll learn." However, his younger brother Wally Ray added, "Most of the seniors I know are Will's friends and all they do is hit me."

Another factor which further segregated the two groups were the school rules themselves. One such rule, open campus, was one of several times in the day where seniors and juniors took off for a freedom-filled lunch while the underclassmen were left behind at school. Furthermore, classes for both groups were usually scheduled on opposite sides of the school, heavily limiting the interaction of the two groups.

Despite the stereotyped differences, and the few times each class actually corresponded with the other, eventually the two groups became closer. With this goal accomplished, the only regrets were that the seniors must now head for their new destinies, while leaving the freshman class only to advance to the rank of sophomore.

Bearing the load Freshman Lynn Sowter gathers the many materials from her locker that she needs for the next class in her busy schedule

One on one Warming up before the game, Senior Michelle Moorefield and Freshman Beth Kirby indulge in small competition between the classes

Just one sip? Marty Hickman referees as Senior Chuck Speas and Freshman Delisa Robertson struggle for control of their long-awaited afternoon drink vs.

Senior
Freshman

*A Year
to . . .*

Recognize

Individuals, unique individuals, constituted the students and faculty, and they made the school year everything it could be. Each class of students and each class member continually proved themselves to be a pertinent part of the school's existence.

The freshmen were the new faces in the building, and a pleasant addition to the student body. High school was a challenge for them because it was a new environment and all were out to be accepted by the others. They were forced to adapt to the new ideas and new faces, and as they did, they became an important, contributing part of the school.

Sophomores were still underclassmen, but they were certainly no longer freshmen. With being sophomores, doors to opportunities were opened which were closed the previous year, and they stood on a stronger foundation which they had built.

The upperclass with all its privileges and responsibilities, took on their title well. Driving to school and going out to lunch was enjoyed by the majority of juniors, and they took on the role of being upperclassmen with their own style.

The long awaited final year had arrived — the seniors had their day. The privileges were immense, although the fact lingered that there would be a great amount of adult responsibility laid upon their shoulders at the year's end.

Regardless which class one was a part of, all were a contributing unit of the student body. Both students and faculty were important to the success of the School and every person's role was of equal importance, making it a year to recognize everyone.

A druing experience Diligently working on his project for woodworking class, sophomore Ricky Brown displays his expertise and ability to work with electrical tools in Mr Ward's class

Reach out and touch someone. Before heading home at the end of the day, senior Warren Smith takes some time out to chat with a friend, using the unpredictable phone system of the school

An extra study hall. During the five minute time allotted for class change, junior Heather Bowen takes a minute to study a little English in the upstairs hallway before rushing off to class

Class Day

College!

Class Of '88

Prom

Myrtle Beach
Or Bust!

Graduation

Seniors Rule!

Awards Day

Upperclassmen
Caps And Gowns

No More High School!

Tassles Turned

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

What Is Your Favorite Sport?

This year, random polls were conducted to appear in the classes section. The results are shown throughout the senior section, as well as in the junior, sophomore, and freshman sections

Basketball

Soccer

Baseball

Football

Volleyball

Tennis

Pat Abbott

Gina Absher

Kenny Adams

Kevin Adams

Heather Alexander

Darrick Allen

Kelly Allen

Melissa Allen

Unofficial Senior Awards

| | |
|---|--------------|
| Most Reckless Driver (in legacy of brother) | Hwan Yu |
| Smart-Alec-of-the-Year | Billy Wilson |
| Best Classroom Entertainment | Chris Pinnix |
| Best Classroom Sleeper | Richie Ray |
| Most Vocal In Class | Dawn Glancy |
| Most Frequent Hall Walker (during class) | Tony Moretz |
| Best Shoes | Bryce Revels |
| Best Sit-Down Comic | Angel White |
| Most Frequently Absent on Math Test Days | Keoni Teta |
| Biggest Flirt | Warren Smith |

Cynosure

BEST CONSUMER OF FRIED CHICKEN/DUNCAN DOUGHNUTS LORRIE PATE

BEST ROLLERSKATER
SAMUEL RICHARDSON III

BEST DEADLINE-SIGN MAKER
ELIF ERGINER

BEST CHRISTMAS TREE DECORATOR
TIM SUDDERTH

MOST ADEPT STEALER OF BATHROOM PASSES BRYANT WILSON

BEST OVERALL KNOWLEDGE OF TYPEWRITER
MARCIA WILLIAMSON

Staff Awards

BEST REFEREE-
KATHY WRAY

BEST ADJUSTMENT TO DARKNESS
ELLEN CHRISTENSEN

CHOCOLATE RING-A-DING QUEEN
VALERIE COATS

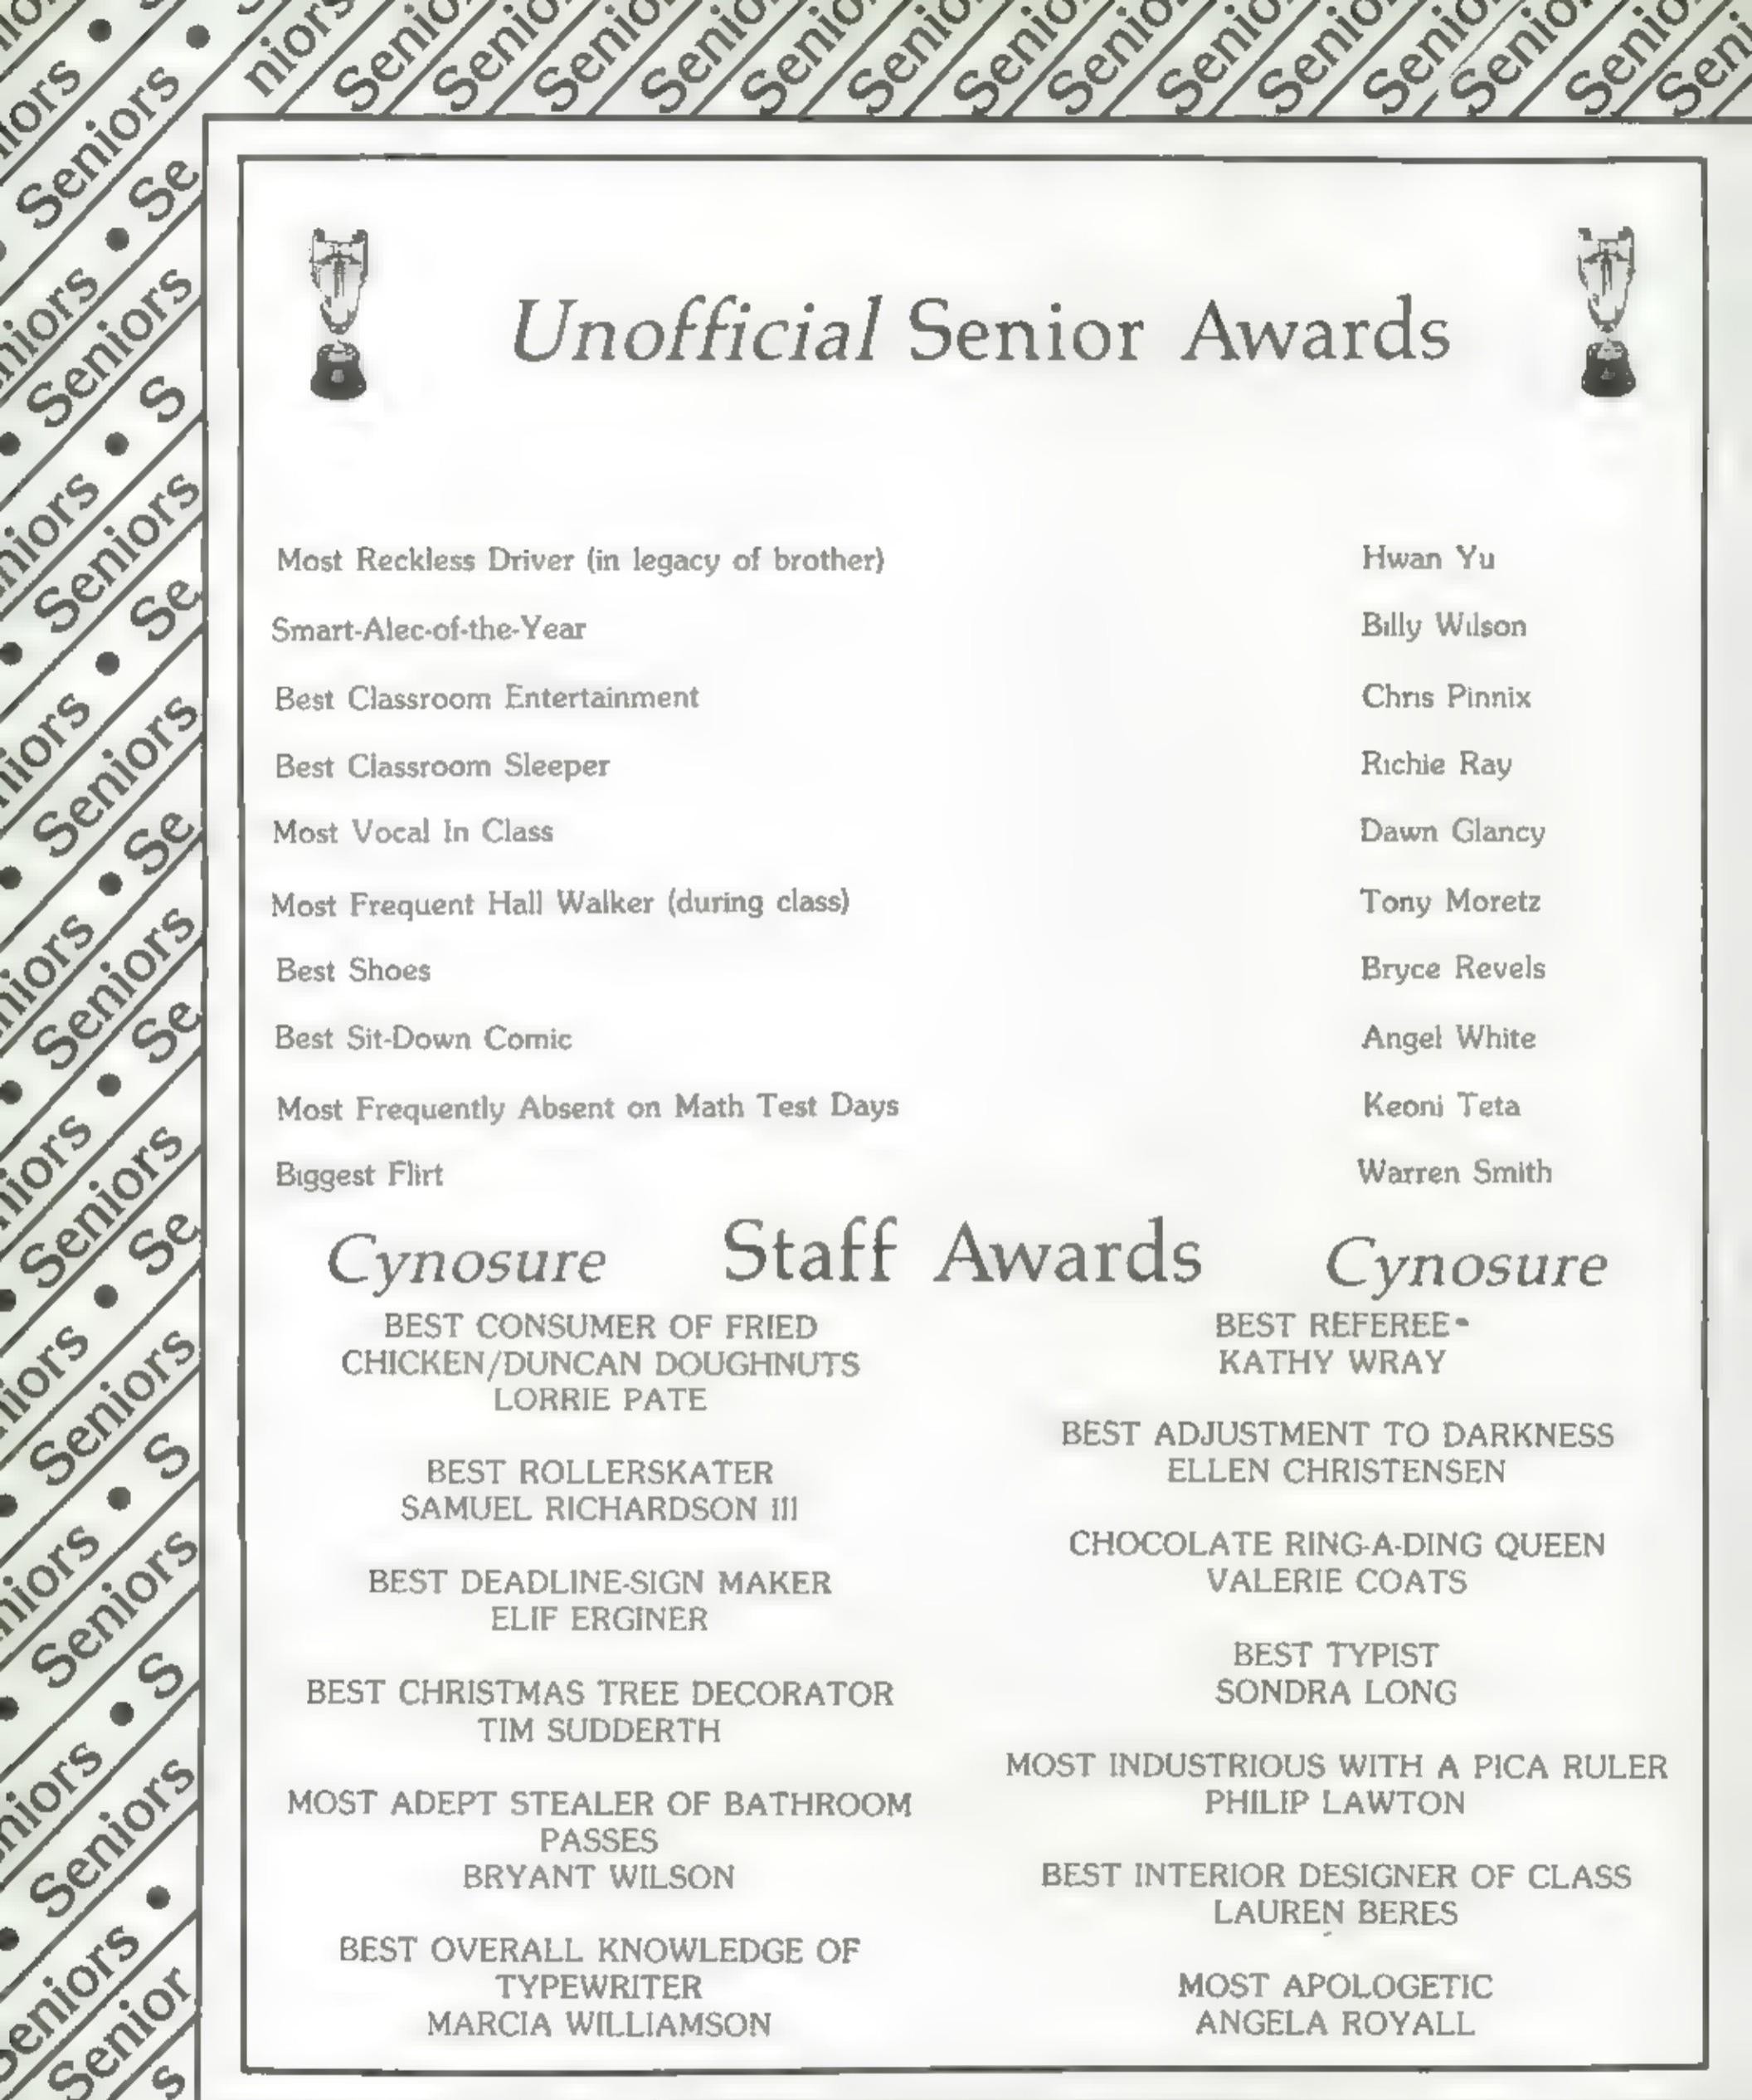

BEST TYPIST
SONDRA LONG

MOST INDUSTRIOUS WITH A PICA RULER
PHILIP LAWTON

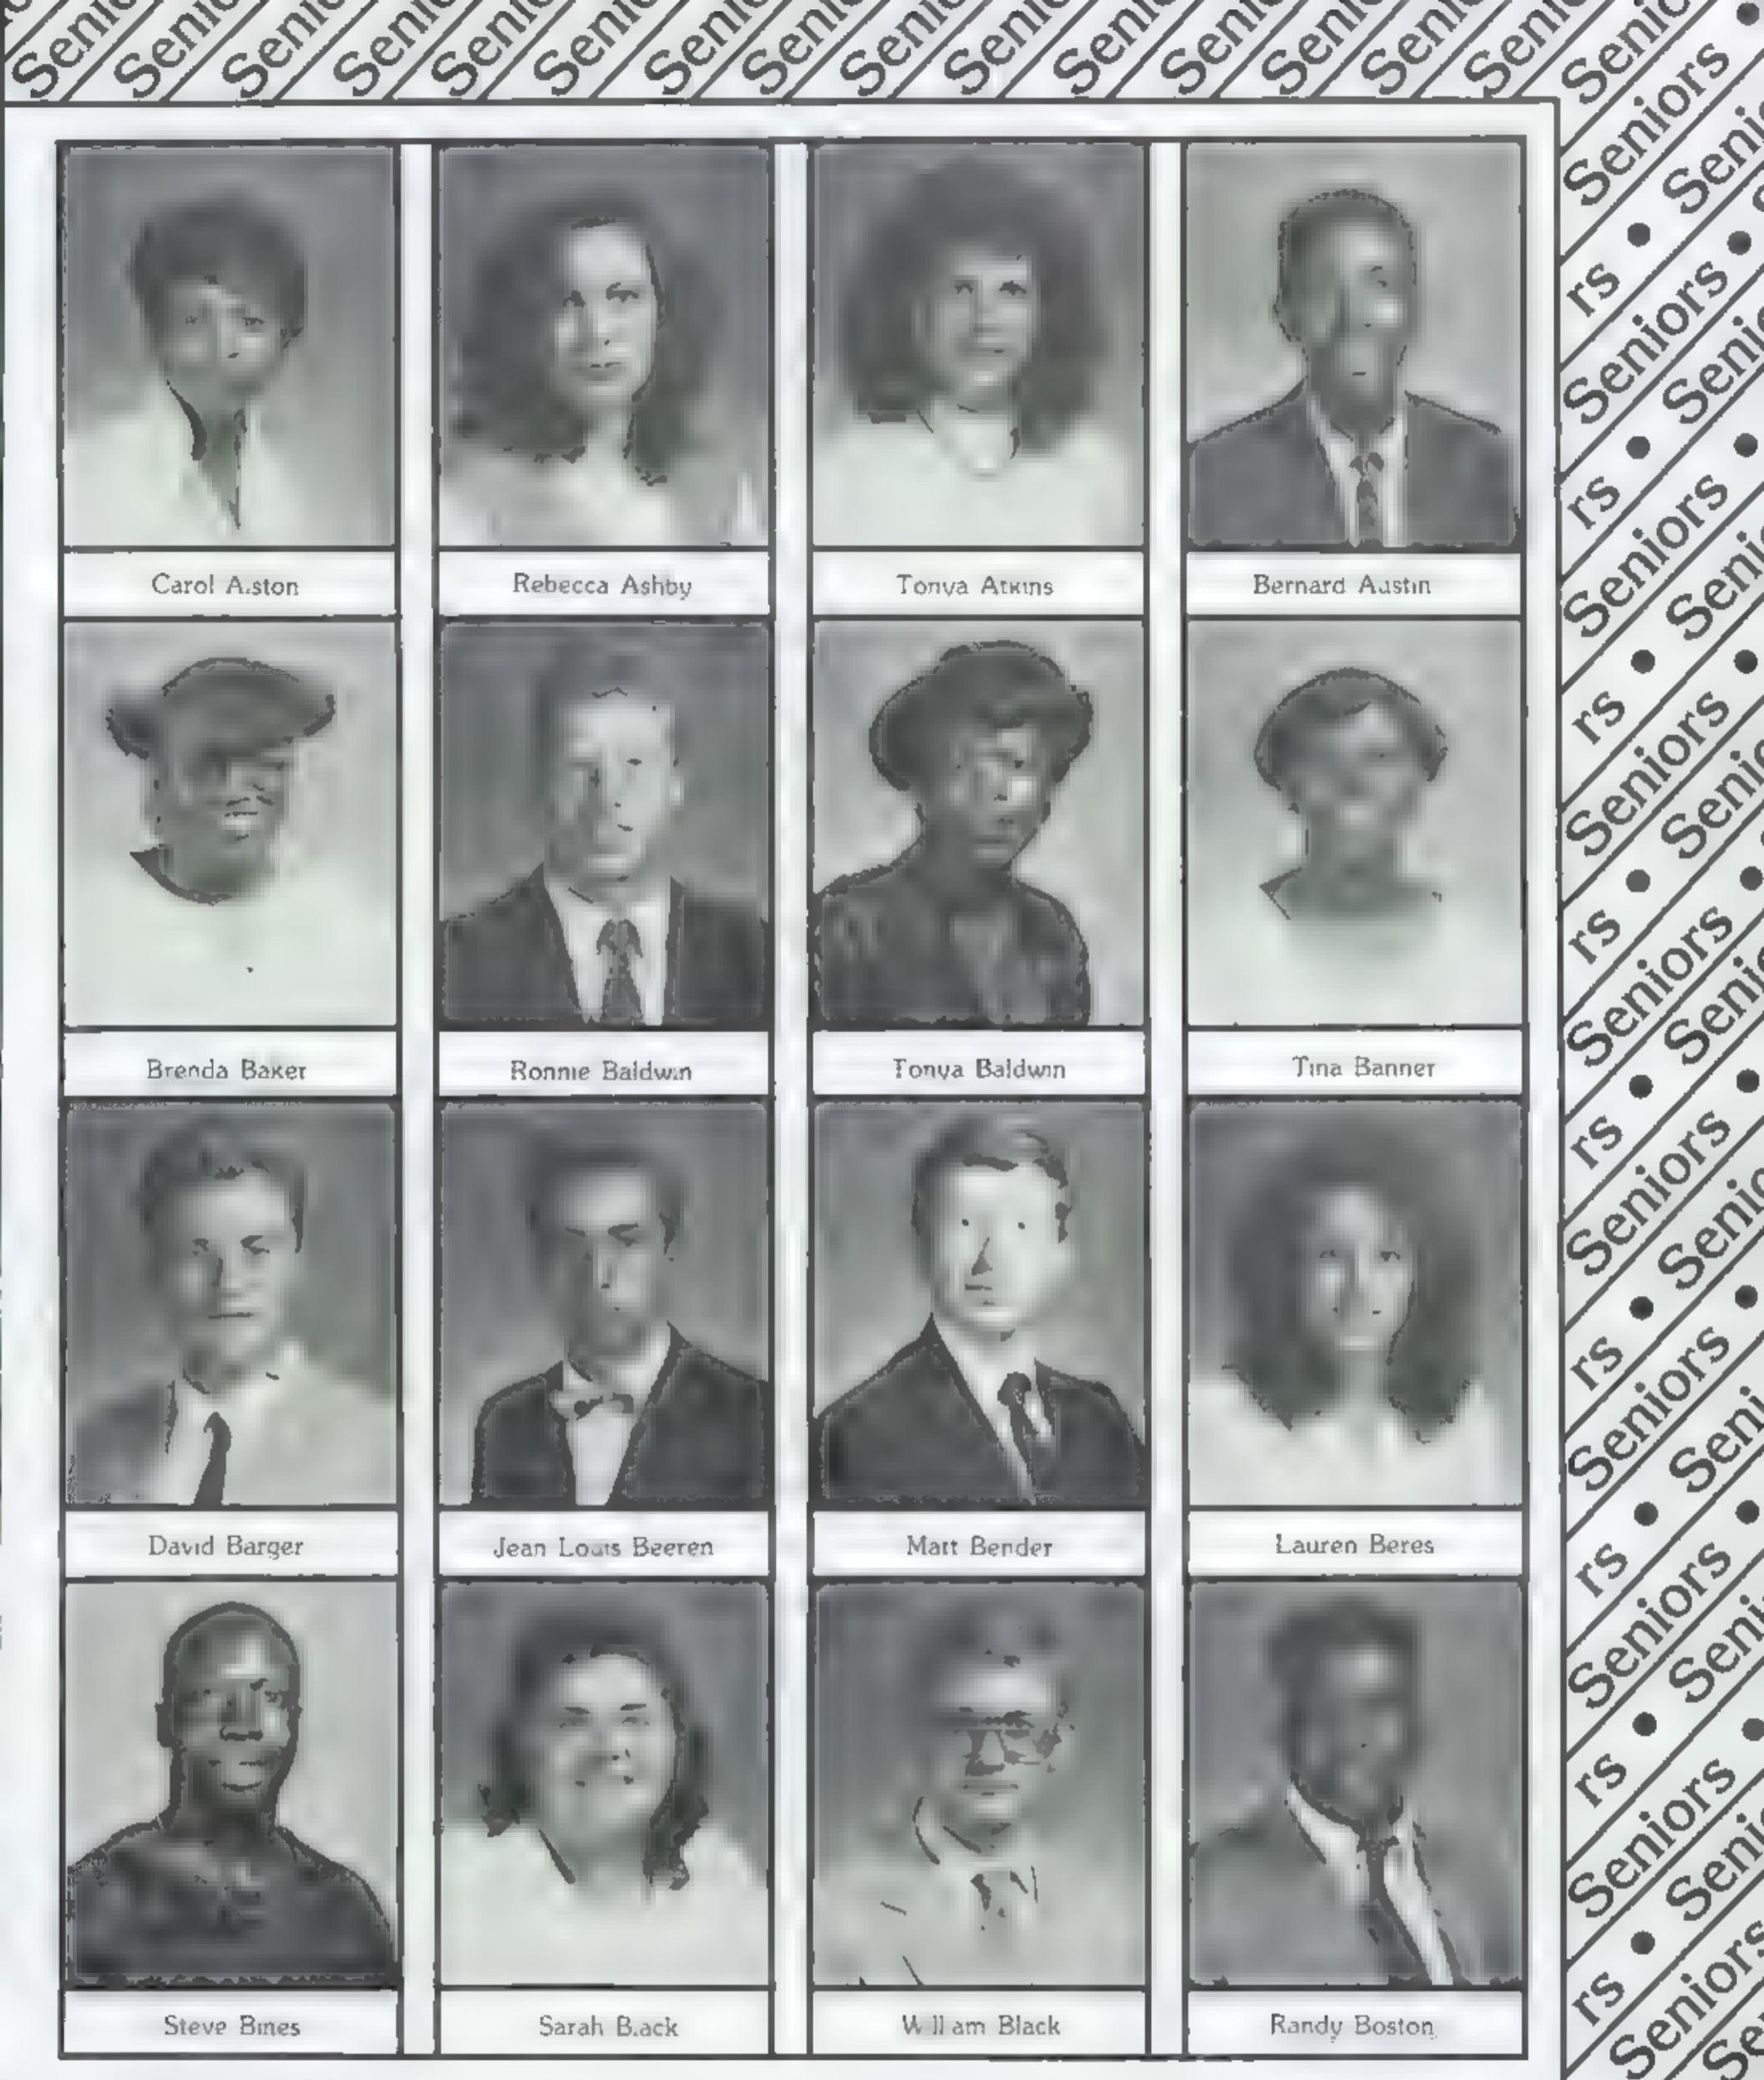

BEST INTERIOR DESIGNER OF CLASS
LAUREN BERES

MOST APOLOGETIC
ANGELA ROYALL

Cynosure

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Ken Carter

Ellen Christensen

Patrick Caesar

Amanda Church

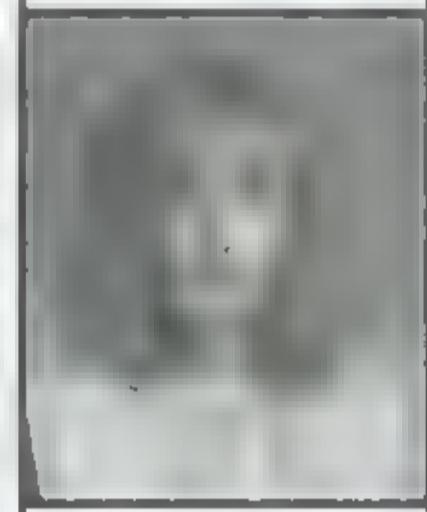

Chelle Chamberlain

Jeff Cline

John Ch dress

Vaere Coats

Procrastination

[It'll Wait]

Procrastination is putting something off until a later date. This occurs when seniors are asked to fill out scholarship information, study for tests, and even give quotes to the yearbook staff.

Although some students possessed the habit of postponing their responsibilities, others realized that they had to stop the inevitable. Judy McSwain stated, "I will have to be cured by the time I go to college."

The most fascinating aspect of procrastination was trying to get people to talk about it. As Steven Davis said, "I don't procrastinate, I just put things off until later. I'll finish this quote tomorrow. O.K.?"

So beware of getting carried away with putting things off until tomorrow As Margaret Wages said, "It's not something I do consciously; I just keep telling myself I have time until I don't."

All in all, students learn to be careful about how much they procrastinate. Some ideas on how to watch for this will be described in a later article.

Does practice really make perfect? Julie Rumley decides to have just one more chip before actually getting up and going to Valkyrie practice

Seniors

Future Plans

Not Easy To Make

As a senior, choosing a career goal was an important challenge. Many factors affected these significant decisions students made and differed for each individual.

For some, parents had a great impact on their career goals. Kent Wolff stated, "My parent's opinion greatly influences how I choose my career goals." Furthermore, Jeni Powers added, "My dad has influenced me because he has helped me decide what I want to do in life."

Money also played a role in the choice of a career. Mark Parks stated "Accessibility of money, preferably in large amounts influences my decision."

Individual factors also influenced students decisions about their careers. For example, Louis Pratt commented, "I look for a job where I can leave my mark on society." Furthermore, Patrick Patterson added, "The fact I am color blind plays a part in my decisions."

When weighing career prospects, many factors contributed to decisions of seniors. Although these were tough choices, they were made to advance students to their goals for the future.

Decisions, decisions Casually perusing through a brochure in the guidance office, Bobby Reed starts to make some plans for his future

Greg Cockerham

Missy Cockerham

Wendy Collins

Dana Connaway

Chris Cooke

Dana Covington

Cris Cox

Robert Cox

Patrick Creasy

Terry Crews

Tommie Crews

Valerie Crowell

Chris Cubreth

Sharon Culler

Angela Cunningham

Rodger Dalton

Scott Dameron

Todd Danner

Michael Davis

Salae Davis

Steven Davis

Benetta Dease

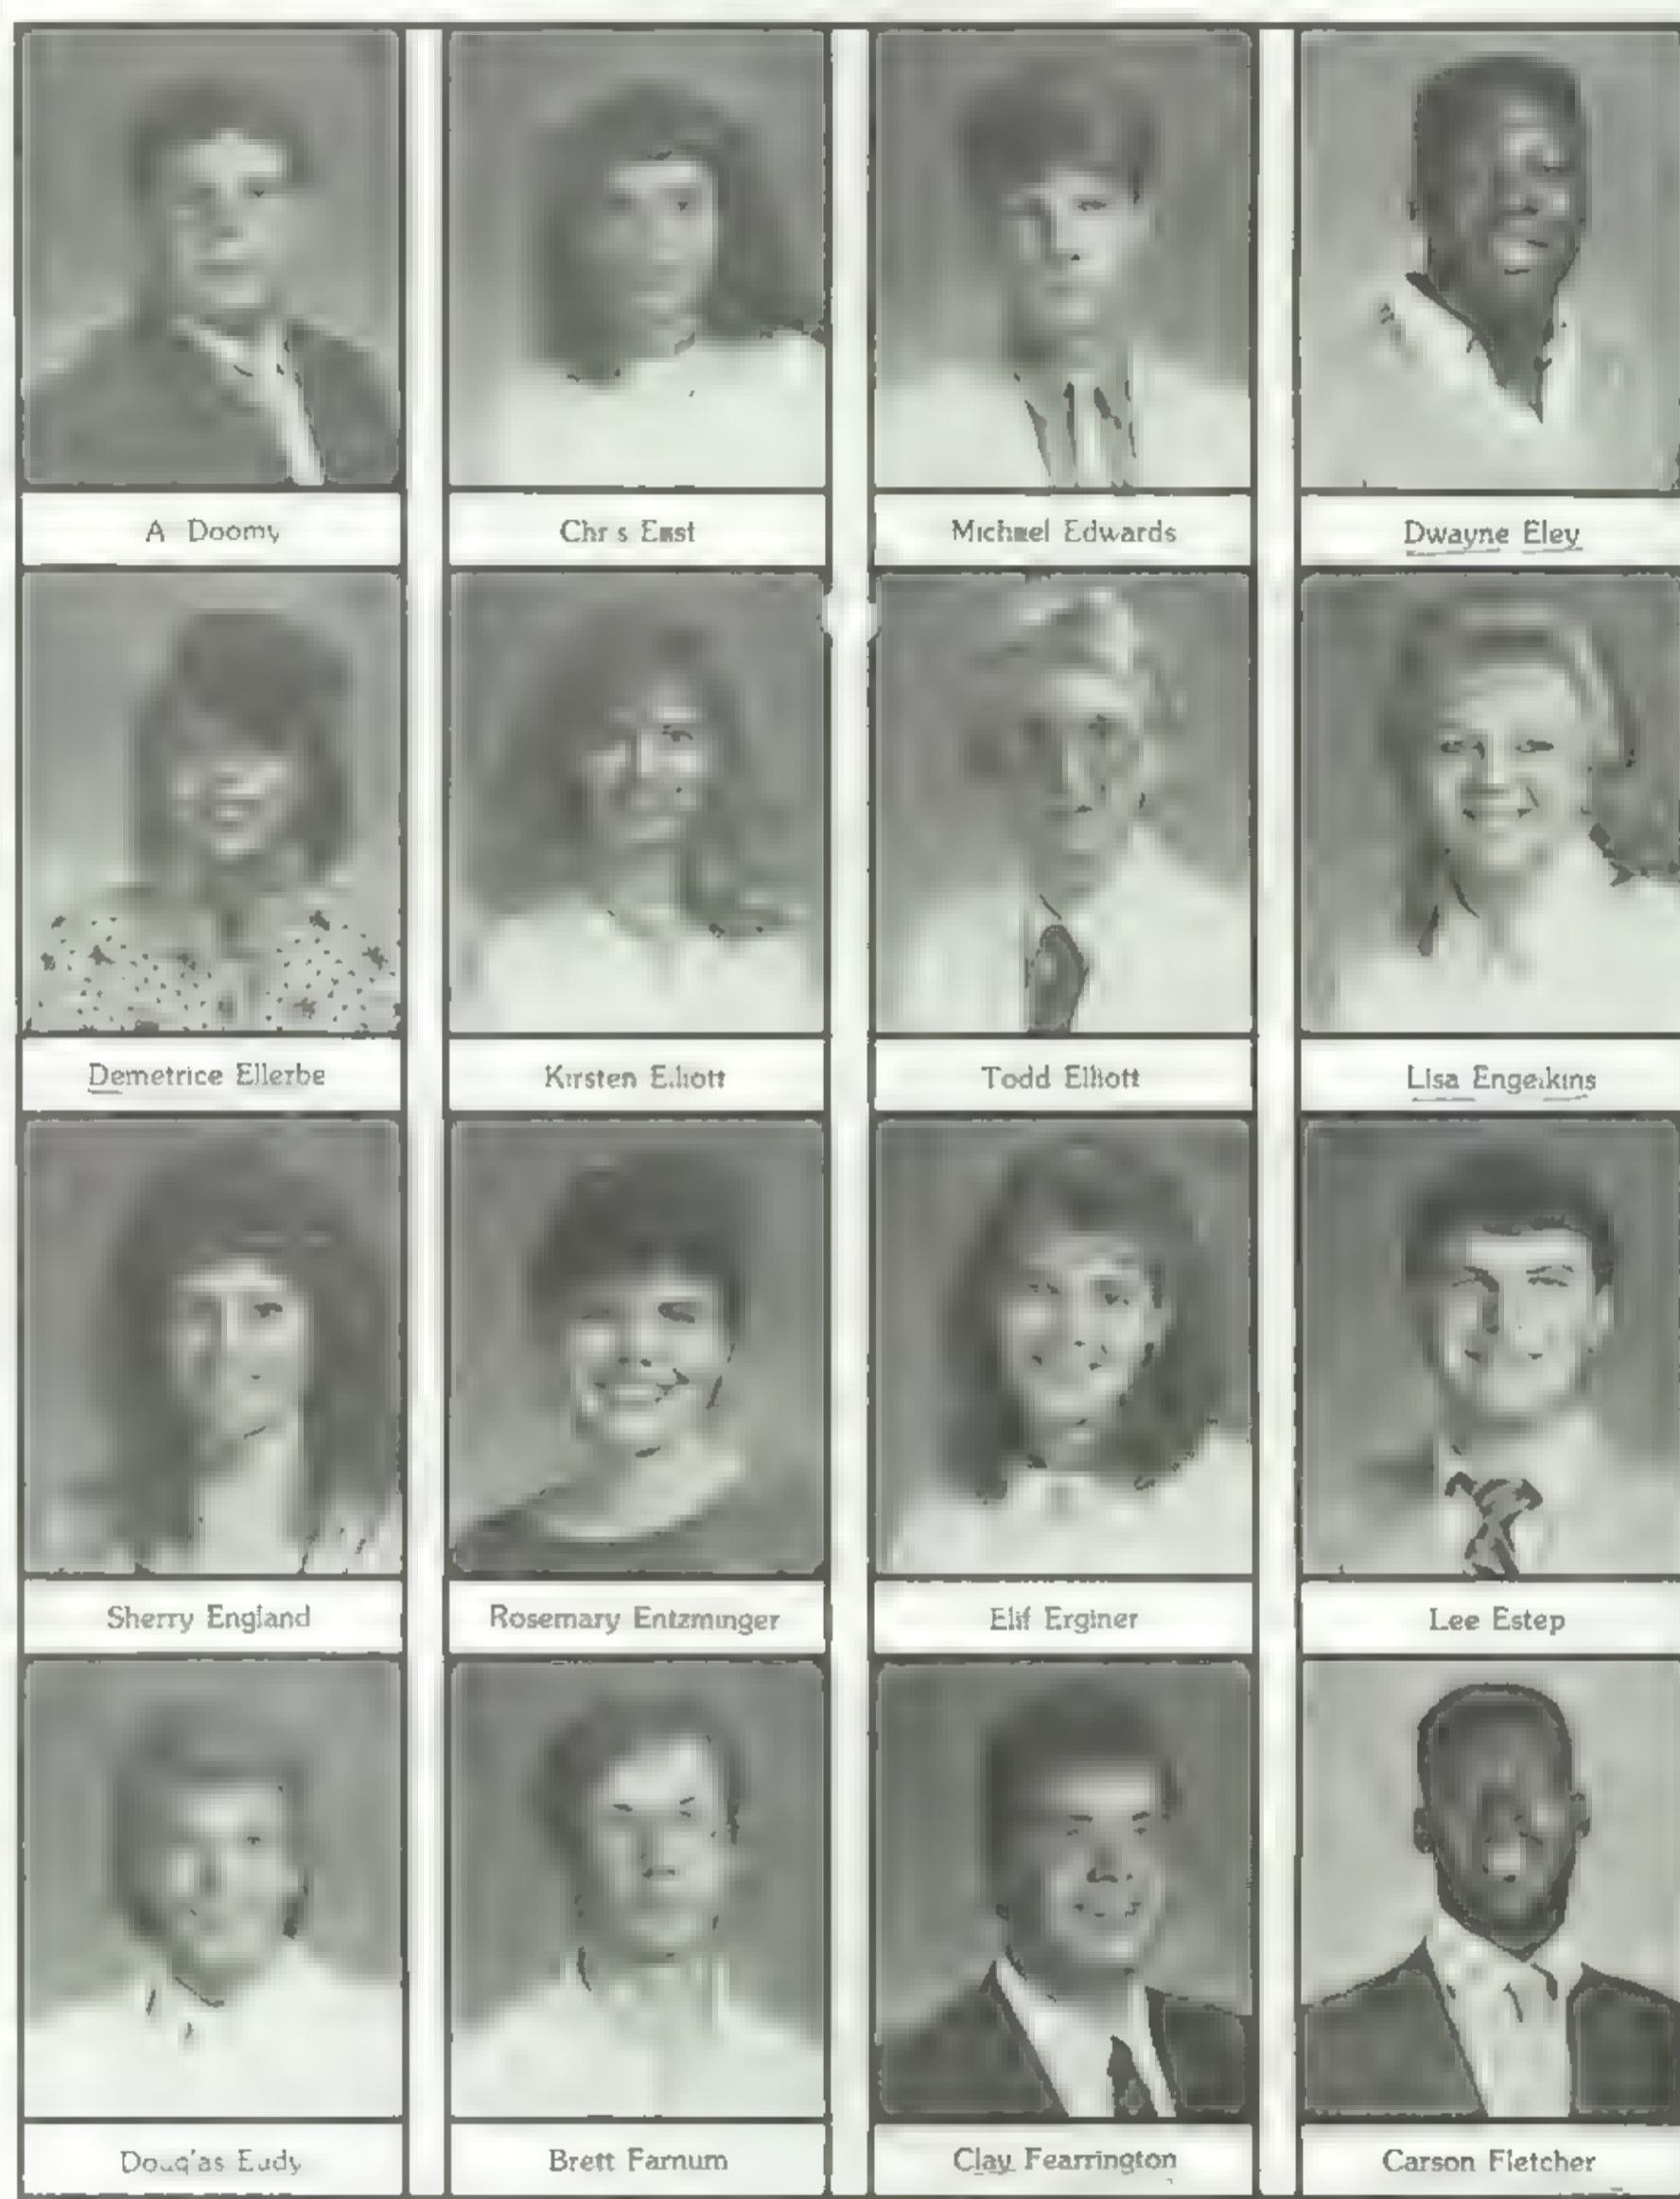

Sandy Disher

Wendy Donathan

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 •

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

What Is Your Favorite N.C. College?

UNC 40%

NCSU
21%

Duke
3%

ASU
10%

WFU
7%

Other 19%

Lee Fletcher

Kathryn Floyd

Brian Forte

De Foster

Michael Foushee

Parsons France

Jamie Franklin

John Frazier

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Troy Galloway

Anita Galyean

Gina Gambre

Sandra Gentry

Tina Georgeff

Belinda Gibson

Scott Gilbert

John Gladman

Senior Council Leading The Way

Would you like to know when your Senior Class Day is? How about when and where you'll graduate? Your senior representatives, with the help of sponsors, make up the Senior Council. This is the organization that informs seniors on activities and events that concern seniors.

Marcia Williamson states the objective of the Senior Council is to "keep seniors in your homeroom abreast of senior events and expenses."

A member of the Senior Council has a number of responsibilities. Nikki Spates commented, "My duty is to attend meetings to be in a position to inform and instruct my fellow seniors." Lorrie Pate added, "I am a link to my homeroom to keep them informed on all the information they need to know about graduation." Therefore, most representatives are elected because of their dependability.

Senior Council representatives have an abundance of duties in dealing with their homerooms. Their main objective is to alleviate seniors of graduation preparations so they can think about more exciting aspects of graduation to come.

Front row: Margaret Wages, Traci Johnson, Jenni Shoaf, Angela Martin, Nikki Spates, Valeria Miller. Second row: Amy Hudson, Wendy Donathan, Eli Erginer, Ellen Christensen, Lorrie Pate, Melissa Linn, Marcia Williamson. Third row: Wendy Neely, Samuel Richardson III, Chris Cooke, Burke Bovender.

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Dawn Glancy

Andre Gore

Robert Gravely

Rick Gregory

Jeffrey Griffin

Tracie Hadley

Arたんza Hairston

Coretta Hairston

Tawanna Harston

Kristie Hal

Brian Hamil

Sylvia Hampton

Renee Hampton

Steve Hannah

Tree Harrell

David Harton

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

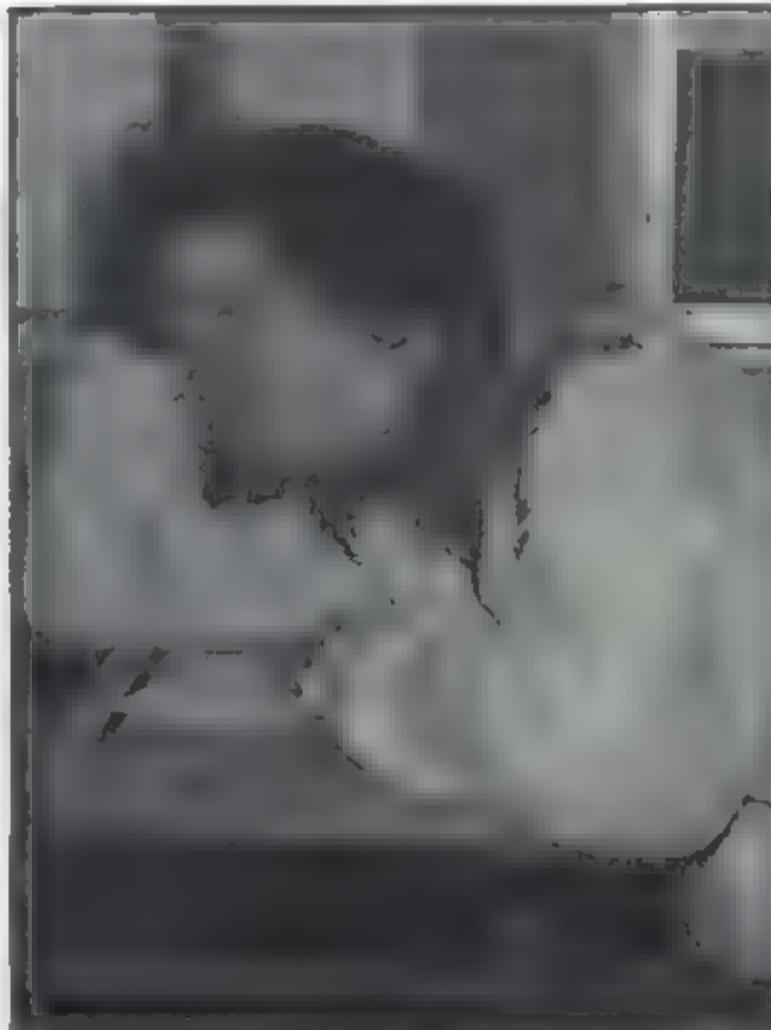

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Monday Mornings What A Drag

It was 6:00 a.m. Your alarm clock started blaring. You rolled over to turn it off and a horrible thought rushed over you. The weekend was over, and it was time to go to school. It was the dreaded Monday again. A lot of students hated Mondays, as Leslie Williamson explained, "I hate Mondays because I know I have five more days to go to school." David Harton elaborated, "The worst part is knowing it's a long time until Friday." Because many students enjoyed sleeping late and having fun on the weekends, Mondays were filled with moans, groans, and long faces. Some students forgot about assignments given on Friday and faced the consequences on Monday. Chris Cooke stated, "I can't remember Monday tests." Toshia Simmons added, "I always remember Friday homework right before school Monday." Students quickly learned that Mondays provided the shock of school reality. They were careful because Mondays occasionally caught the students by surprise.

Visiting a better place in time: Missy Cockerham drags into class and drops down in her chair, a usual event on a Monday morning.

Angie Hughes

Andre Huie

Sandi Hunt

Dawn Hutchens

Anthony Ingram

Marc Ingwersen

Shannon Inman

General Jackson

What Is Your Favorite Type Of Music?

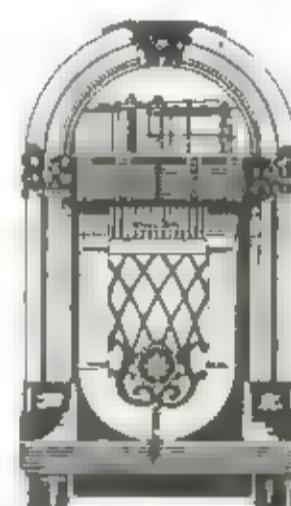

Progressive Rock

15%

Hard Rock

7%

Rap

30%

Rock & Roll

41%

Other

7%

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Dorothy Jamison

Tara Jenkins

J. Jewell

Erica Joe

Jeff Johnson

Linell Johnson

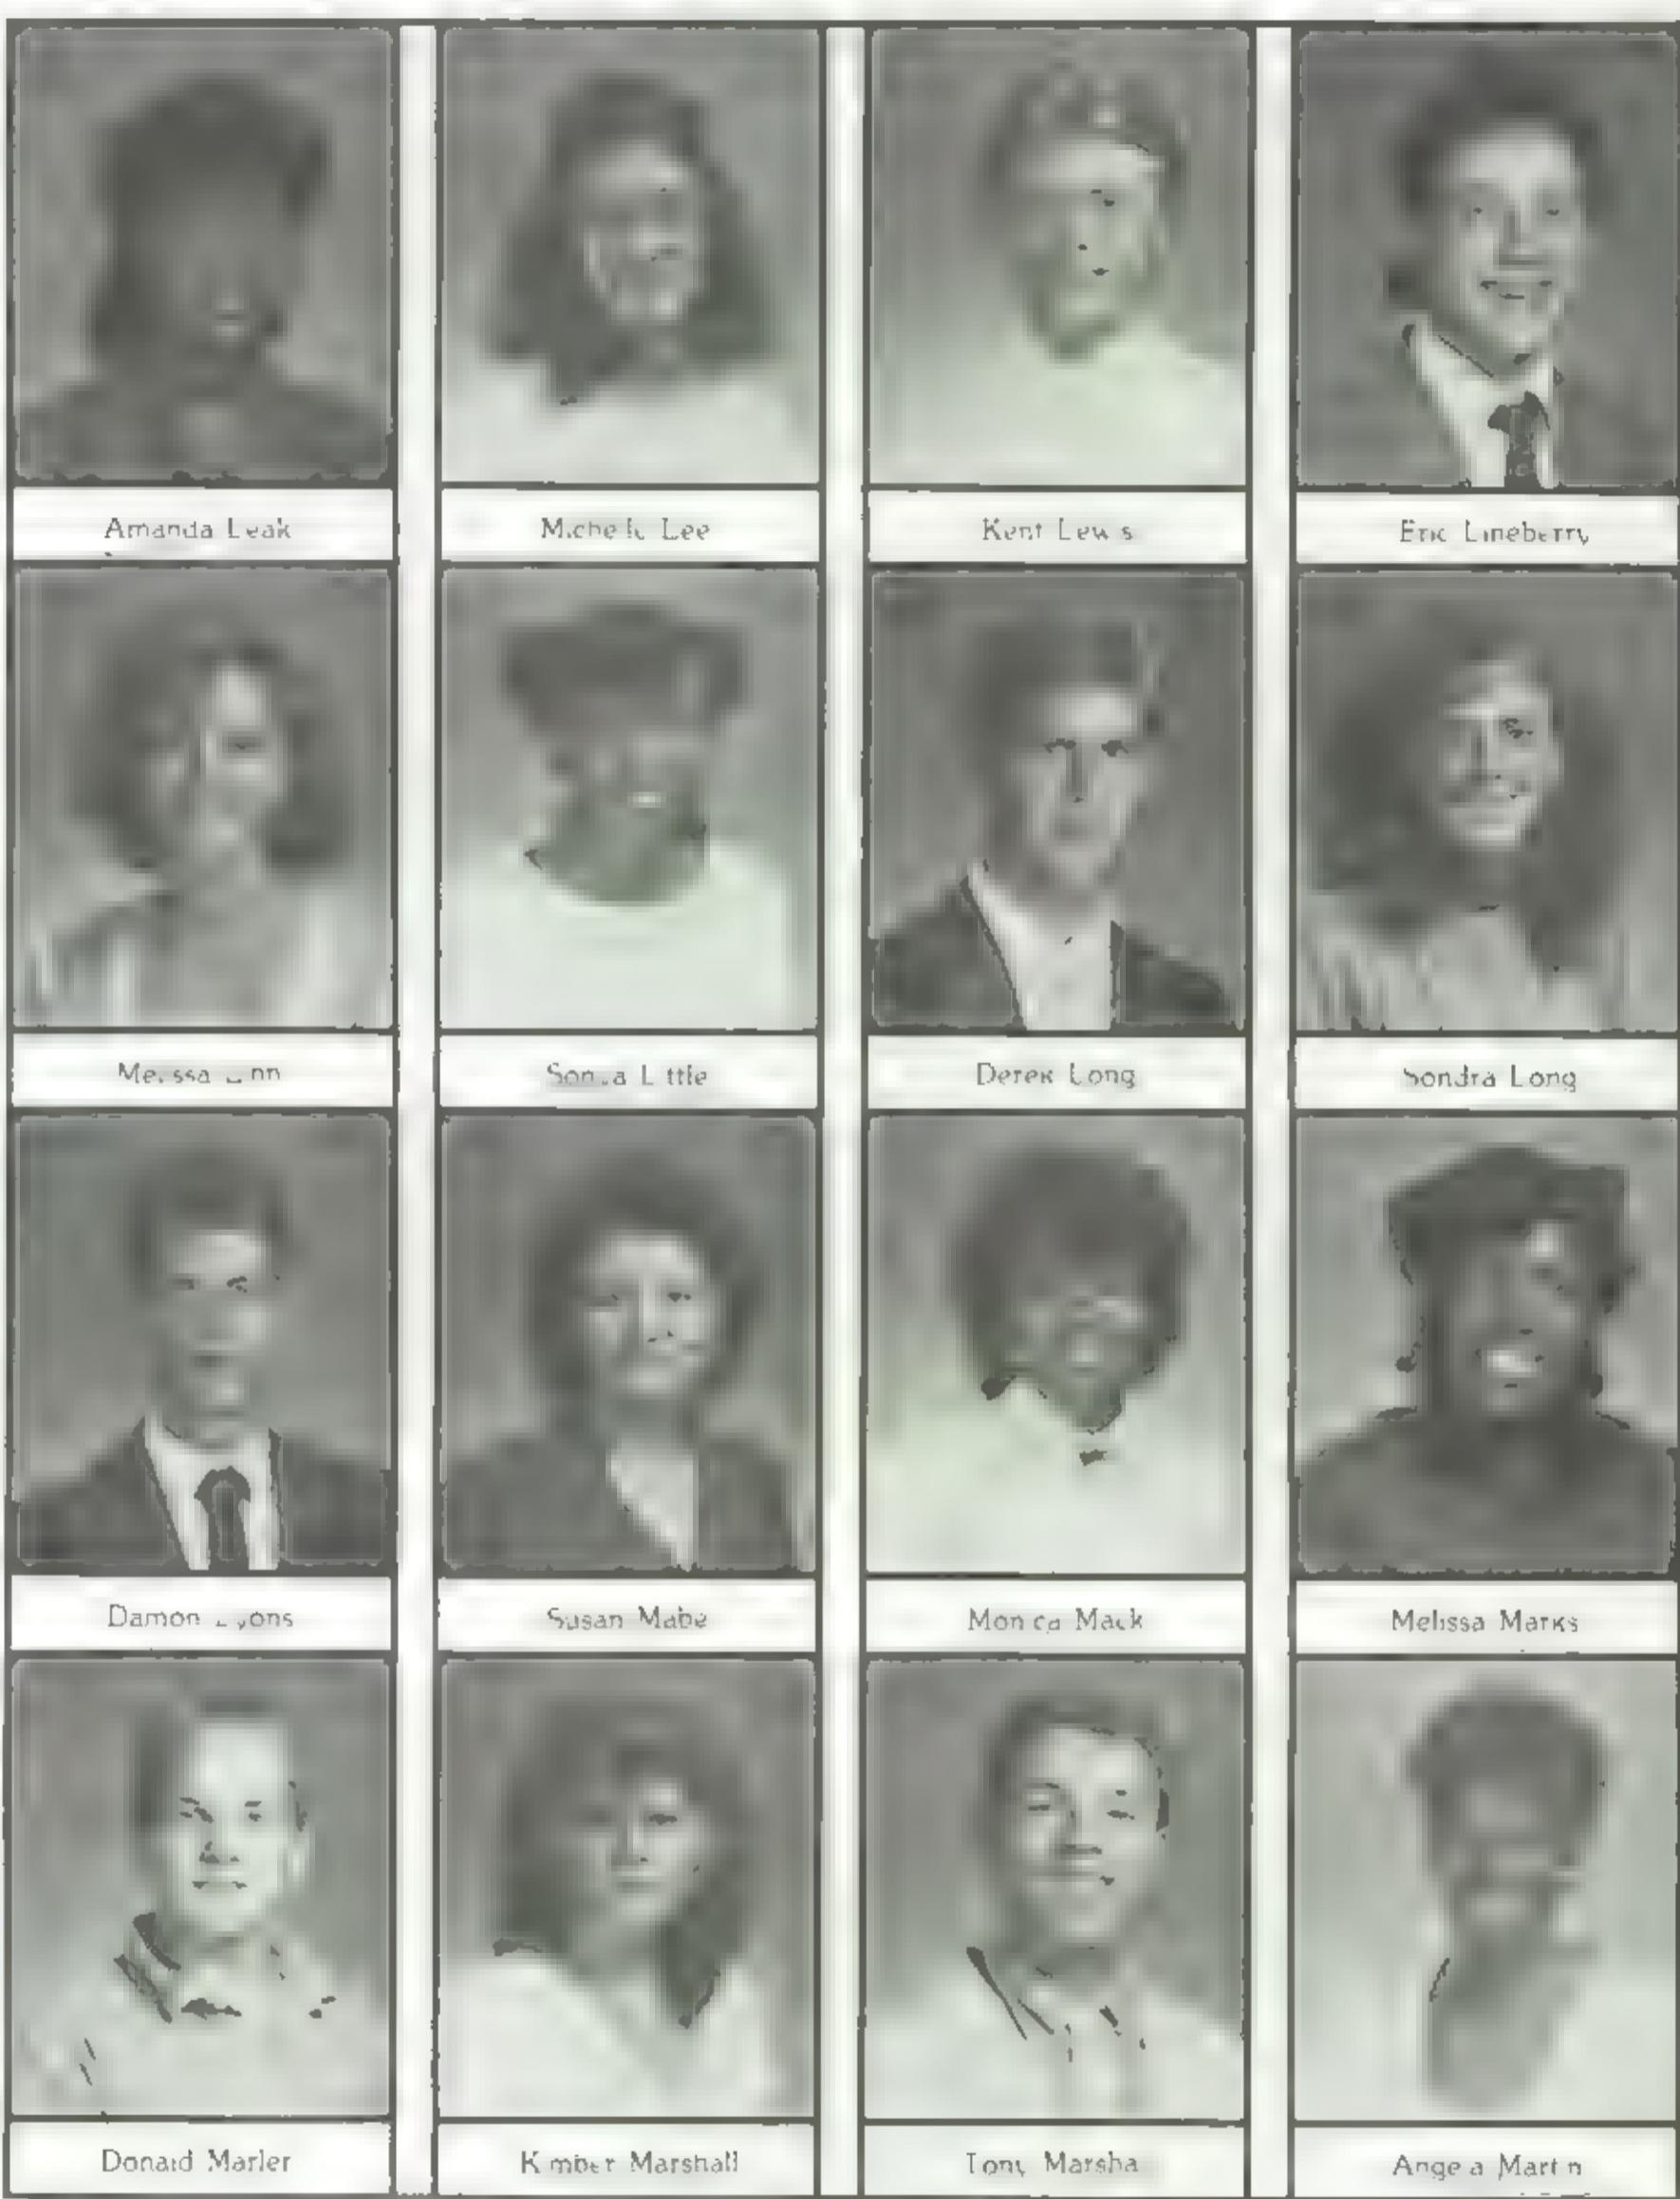

Traci Johnson

Lucy Johnston

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Shannlyn Martin

Stephanie Matthews

Jod. Maynard

Terre McFadden

Mark McFarlin

Tyrone McCaurin

Judy McSwain

Denise Melton

How Do You See Yourself Twenty Years From Now?

Derrick Auen — Rich — owning my own engineering company and designing my own car. Oh yeah, and a wife, two kids, and a dog."

Scott Bowen — "Married with grey hair and ugly but that doesn't matter because I'll have a million dollars."

Stephanie Soulsby — "I see myself in a BIG house in Mountains, Colorado and rich, rich, rich."

Brian Thompson — "Rich, two kids tops, married to Stephanie and living in Colorado."

Jean Krull — Kidless but with three dogs and making between thirty and forty thousand dollars a year and vacationing every year in Hawaii."

India Reinheart — "Twenty years older with fifteen kids."

Mr Goodwin — "Oldest Key Club advisor"

Michelle Moorefield — "I see myself teaching in a school for the deaf, possibly married to a gorgeous millionaire and of course, driving a BMW, preferably black."

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 •

It All Adds Up

The Cost Of Being A Senior

Announcements, invitations, class shirts, caps and gowns, and trips to Myrtle Beach — these were just a few of the senior expenses. Good grief! It seemed as if seniors were nickled and dimed to death. If they did not have to pay for one thing, there were always others with one key stipulation attached BEFORE THEY GRADUATED! Thus, most seniors only had money for mandatory expenses. For example, Steven Davis stated, "I don't usually have any extra money, but when I do, I put gas in my car and eat."

Some seniors saved for upcoming dues. Jenni Shoaf stated, "I tried to save for my fees, but they just came faster and faster." Anita Galyean added, "I saved for my dues but I don't have any money for myself." Margaret Wages summed up the burden that faced seniors, "If I make it out into the real world, I won't have any money to spend there!"

Because of all the payments, being a senior was not all fun and games. So, beware underclassmen, because before you graduate senior dues may get the best of you, too.

Raking in the bucks. A salesperson has come to intake the money of seniors Shawn Woolen, Amanda Leak, Donald Maher and Judy McSwain.

Dwayne Merton

Samantha Merritt

Kathy Mickey

Kim Miller

Michelle Miller

Valencia Miller

Janet Mitchell

Mechelle Mitchell

Sandy Mitchell

Donna Moody

Mark Moore

Teresa Moore

Michelle Moorefield

Tony Moretz

Dale Morris

Dexter Morrison

Beth Mueller

Michele Murphy

Tom Muse

Dave Napper

Kimberly Naylor

William Neal

Meredith Neely

Wendy Neely

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Seniors • Scott Nichols

Seniors • Amy Norman

Seniors • Eric O'Leary

Seniors • Charles Oppo

Seniors • Jerry O'Neill

Seniors • Mary Page

Seniors • Jerry Palmer

Seniors • Terry Palmer

Seniors • Mark Parks

Seniors • Lynne Pate

Seniors • Patrick Patterson

Seniors • Michael Peeler

Seniors • Jerry Peter

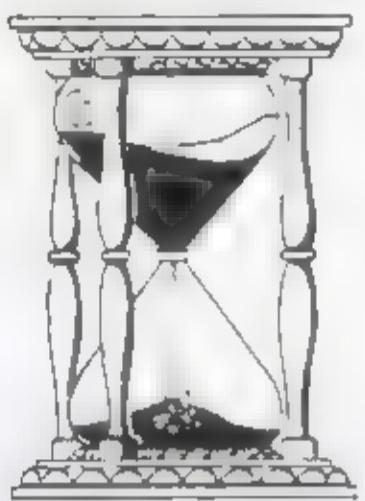

Seniors • Kathy Pike

Seniors • Greg Proos

Seniors • Wayne Pennix

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

What Is Your Favorite Soap Opera?

Santa Barbara 21%

General Hospital
7%

Days Of Our Lives
2%

All My Children
2%

Other 32%

Guiding Light 36%

Chris Poe

Michael Powell

Jen Powers

Louis Pratt

Curtistine Pressley

Jimmie Priddy

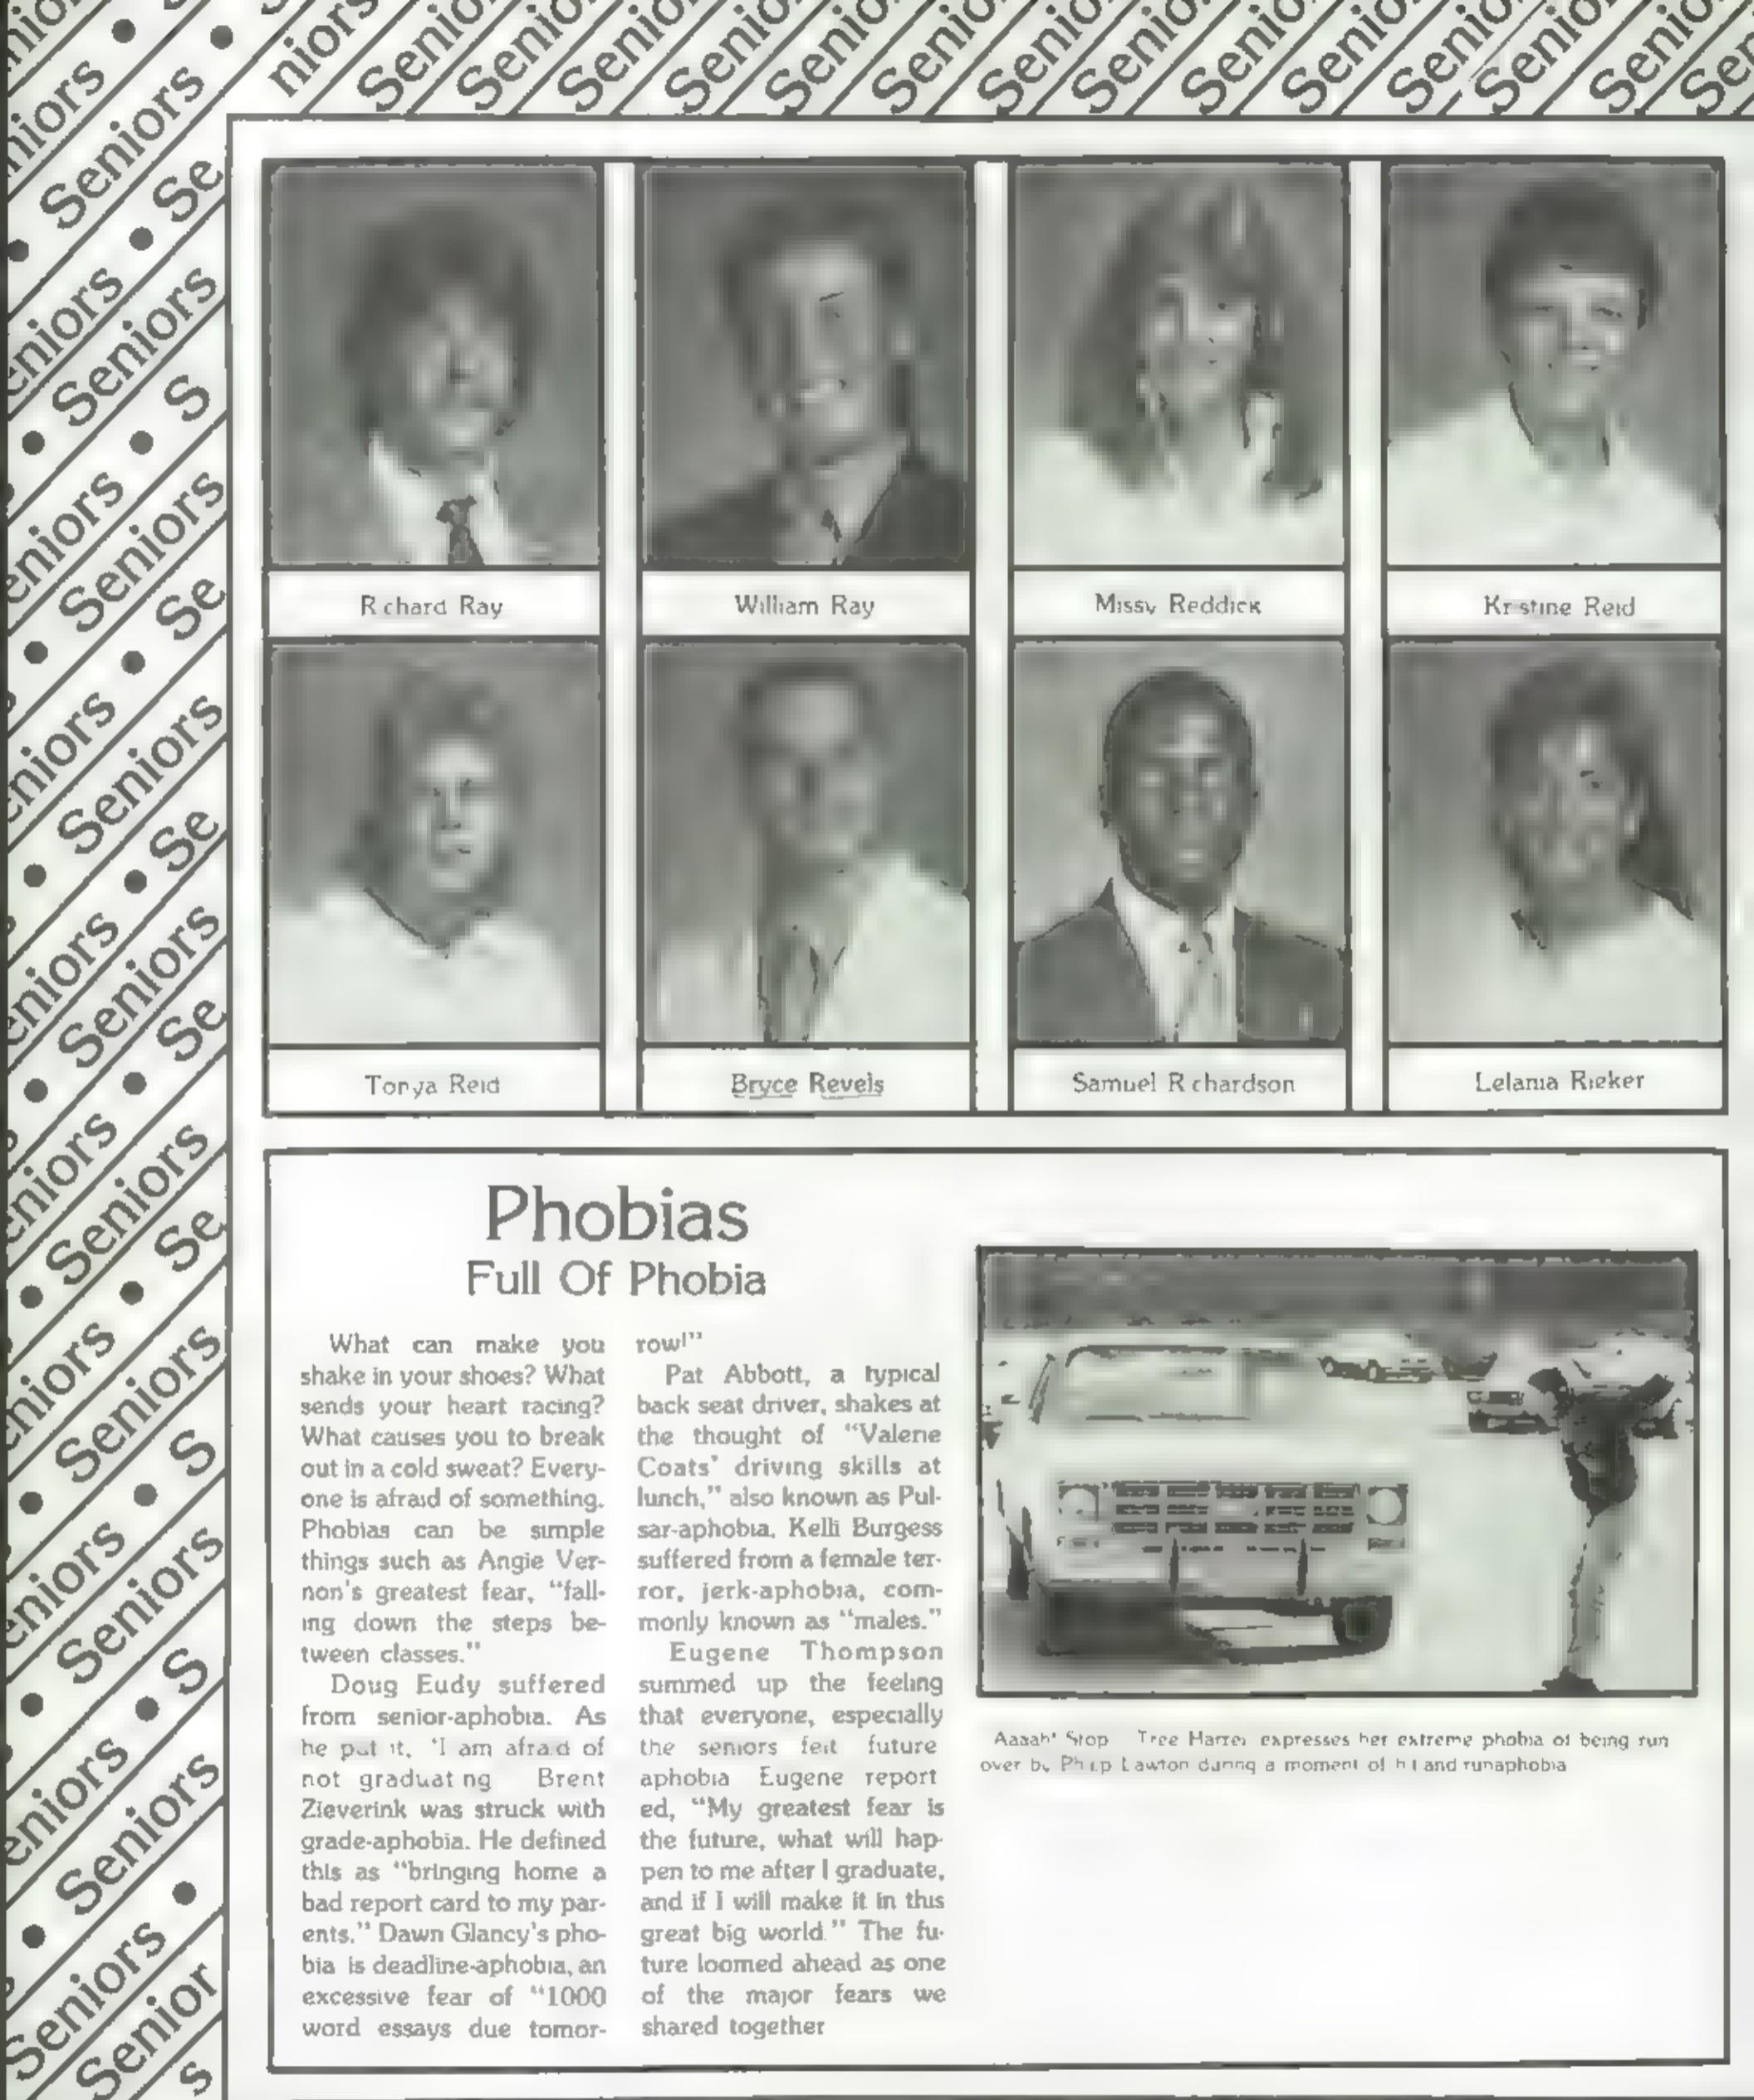

Christopher Puryear

Derek Rafferty

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Phobias Full Of Phobia

What can make you shake in your shoes? What sends your heart racing? What causes you to break out in a cold sweat? Everyone is afraid of something. Phobias can be simple things such as Angie Vernon's greatest fear, "falling down the steps between classes."

Doug Eudy suffered from senior-aphobia. As he put it, "I am afraid of not graduating." Brent Zieverink was struck with grade-aphobia. He defined this as "bringing home a bad report card to my parents." Dawn Glancy's phobia is deadline-aphobia, an excessive fear of "1000 word essays due tomorrow!"

Pat Abbott, a typical back seat driver, shakes at the thought of "Valene Coats' driving skills at lunch," also known as Pulsar-aphobia. Kelli Burgess suffered from a female terror, jerk-aphobia, commonly known as "males."

Eugene Thompson summed up the feeling that everyone, especially the seniors felt future aphobia. Eugene reported, "My greatest fear is the future, what will happen to me after I graduate, and if I will make it in this great big world." The future loomed ahead as one of the major fears we shared together.

Aaaah! Stop! Tree Harrel expresses her extreme phobia of being run over by Philip Lawton during a moment of hi and runaphobia.

Seniors

Kim Robinson

Kelli Rogers

Angela Royall

Lee Ann Rasmussen

Jeff Sapp

Mike Sapp

Wayne Sault

Misty Saunders

Gray Savior

John Scardina

Kate Sharpe

Lisa Sheff

Cassandra Shepard

Jennifer Shoaf

Derrick Shore

Steve Shore

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Seniors

Amy Shouse

Mica Shumate

Tammy Shumate

Amy Simpson

Art Sade

Dana Sade

Carrie Smith

Dwayne Smith

Jim Smith

Scott Smith

Stan Smith

Tonya Smith

Walter Stith

Kristine Snider

Andy Snipes

Susan Snody

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Jeff Snow

Vick Staples

Chick Spears

Brent Stacey

Kim Staples

Dana Steeman

Travis Steen

Karen Stewart

Prom Problems

Heaven To Heartache

I had a great time at prom. I went to the Mayfest in May, but I didn't go to prom. I wanted to go to prom, but I didn't have anyone to go with. I was really excited about prom, but I didn't have anyone to go with. I was really excited about prom, but I didn't have anyone to go with. I was really excited about prom, but I didn't have anyone to go with.

I partied afterwards in getting a whole different type of problems. Mike Edwards explained. A few of us were going to go to my house for a wild art party at 2:30 AM. In the house, Dad said we couldn't.

A few problems could be overcome but at the time, people were not very so we had fun. About the problems to seem bigger than they were. Expectations were high that evening and other car accidents in the major cross street.

Most people are safe.

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Time To Travel

The Goodbye Trip

Whether it is to demonstrate their freedom or simply to ensure that no one will see them in their celebrating disposition, seniors traditionally head out of town for graduating festivities. Tassles turned and cars loaded to the hilt, seniors hit the roads and travel to any city or province which represents the ideal atmosphere for their new freedom.

Preparations for these trips usually begin far in advance and often specify even minute details. Eric Lineberry, for instance, claimed, "I had my reservations set six months before graduation!" Hwan Yu stated, "I'm going to stay with my brother at his college dorm which is right by the beach."

Although seniors' finances limit their travels somewhat, some find places other than Myrtle Beach to occupy while celebrating. Lisa Engelkins, stated, "I want to do something different than just going to the beach."

From seascapes to cities, the importance of senior travels seem not to lie in the destination, but in the fact that there is one Surf's up. Soaking up some rays on their trip to Myrtle Beach in 1987. Dara Steerman and Amy Simpson scope the area for prospective entertainment.

Steve Stowe

Tonya Stavers

Andrew Swartzel

Keoni Teta

Darian Street

Tim Sudderth

Rhonda Sweat

Laura Theile

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 •

LaDonna Wilson

Marcus Wilson

Portia Wilson

Michael Winebarger

Kent Woff

Patricia Wood

Shawn Wooten

Kathy Wray

Gerald Wright

Nicole Wright

Hwan Yu

Brent Zieverink

Diane Zigar

Not Pictured Seniors

Shawn Abee
Crystal Adkins
Derek Ball
Marvin Black
Clinton Brown
Michael Clanton

Chris Cowan
Allen Gray
Greg Hunter
Jimmy Joyce
Jeff Kelley
Tim Kimel

Chris Lewis
Kevin Poole
Elbert Thacker
Malcom Thompson
Darryl Walker

1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988 • 1988

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

Juniors
• Juniors
• Juniors
• Juniors

Juniors

Class Rings

The PSAT

Driving To School

Upperclassmen

Varsity Sports

Off Campus Lunch

The Prom

Career Center

Class Of '89

Junior Marshals

Almost Seniors

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

s • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

Wendy Aaron
Joseph Adams

Vanessa Adolph Angela Allen

Dee-Dee Allen
Shane Allen

Tim Allen
Tammy Anders

Aaron Arnett
Chris Arnold

Paul Arrowood
Beth Autry

Dating Dilemmas

Things Can Go Wrong

When going out on a date, most want the mood to be perfect and everything to run smoothly. For the young man, perfect performance is a must; however, this was not always ensured. For example, Larry Childress's date was spoiled, "when I took my date out to eat and forgot my wallet." Keith Bryant also added that the worst thing he had ever done was, "when I locked my keys in the car at Western Steer."

From the young ladies point of view, gentlemanly behavior was expected, and disappointments were not taken lightly. Furthermore, women's liberation or not, most ladies did not appreciate having to foot the bill. Barbara McKnight commented, "The worst date I ever had was when a guy took me to Bennigan's and as we were leaving, informed me that I was to pay so I had to call my dad and have him bring me money!"

Fortunately, a bad date is nothing to be ashamed of. By facing the fact that all dates do not turn out well, one may even learn to appreciate those which do and even make the most of those which do not.

My other car is a Porsche Darci Massaroni and Mike Edwards discuss their mode of transportation for the evening, which often influenced the mood of a date

ors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

J
u n
i o r s
•

Andre Ayala
Paige Baggett
Marilyn Baker
Shannon Baldwin
Phillip Barton

Tonya Baugess
Kevin Beamon
Julie Bel.
Melinda Bell
Angie Belton

J
u n
i o r
s
•

Scott Berry
Melissa Beshears
Jennifer Best Sabrina Bethea
Ronald Bickers

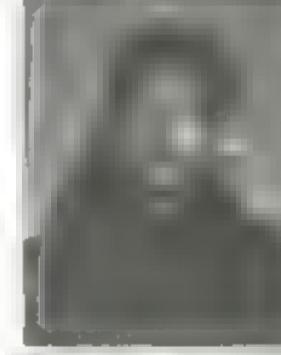

Heather Biggs
Katrina Bishop
Karen Blackburn
Julia Blackwel.
Wesley Blair

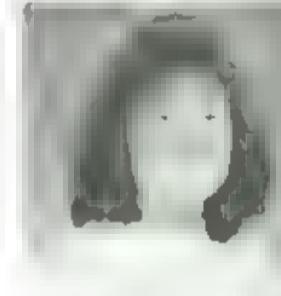

J
u n
i o r
s
•

Sheryl Blakney
Eddie Bolden
Cursena Boone
Elizabeth Bourne Heather Bowen

Sabrina Bowen
Scott Bowen
Todd Bowman
Kimberly Boyd
Glenn Bradley

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

A line everywhere you go. Jeff Caldwell, Adrian Martin, and Jarrod Scott wait patiently for their hamburgers at the North Point McDonalds.

An Upperclassman At Last Being A Junior

You pull up on campus in your clean car and step out with pride. For the first time, you're an upperclassman with brand new rights and responsibilities. Furthermore, the fact that only two more years of high school are left, fills you with immense pleasure and joy.

After the grand arrival, next comes the off-campus lunch outing. Every junior and senior awaited the bell to send them on their way to lunch. Leaving campus for lunch was one of the special privileges that was reserved for upperclassmen. However, the ability to leave the school grounds for lunch often lead to other PROBLEMS. For instance, being tardy or speeding were obstacles faced by rising seniors. Nevertheless, according to most, the advantages far out weighed the disadvantages, and a Big Mac was worth a tardy any day.

As the year pressed on, and the early year glory began to fade, juniors found themselves loaded down with academic endeavors. Junior classes demanded both time and talent. In addition to school assignments, many major national aptitude tests were given throughout the year. The major board test, the PSAT, was taken by many juniors. With little question, it was the hardest test most had ever faced. However, for a few brave souls, the PSAT would not be the last struggle to overcome. For most, nonetheless, the PSAT served as a vivid reminder that being an upperclassman was no easy task.

All the work which was completed would effect college or work plans. The Class of '89 found out having the title of junior meant far more than lunch and driving, it meant endless dedication as well as countless hours of never ending work.

arms ached. As a result, all those who went to the prom looked absolutely marvelous. Furthermore, the decorations made the night even more special for that lucky boy and girl who attended. Thus, inter-mingled within the tons of work, was an unforgettable night of excitement for juniors at the prom.

As the year closed out, the junior class began to assume new roles. They had to order their class rings and a few were Junior Marshals, but everyone knew who would be on top next fall. The juniors had served their time at the bottom and were anxiously awaiting their senior year. However, a few minor details still remained before the junior year would come to an end. Minor debts had to be paid and library books had to be found and returned. Also, many good-byes were left to be said to the senior class that would be moving on to make room for them. But all in all, the junior year was full of joy and great memories. Being a junior brought on many new exciting challenges, as well as, some great rights and outstanding privileges.

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•

Charahne Brame
Janet Brannock
William Brastow
Carol Brown
Crystal Brown

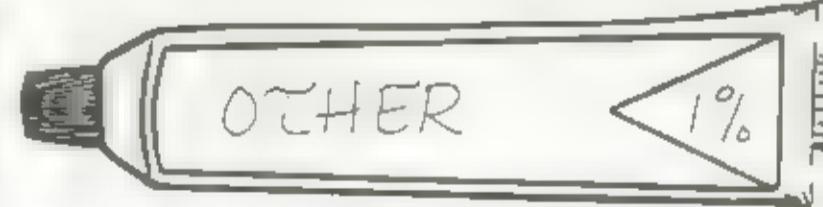

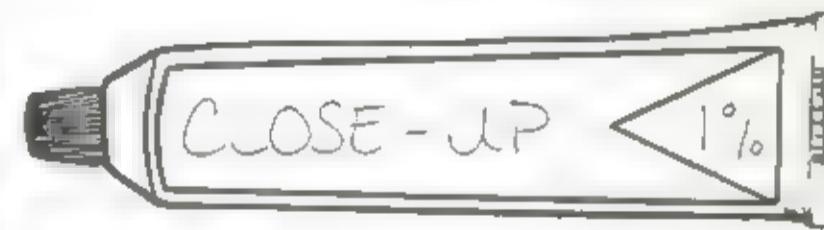

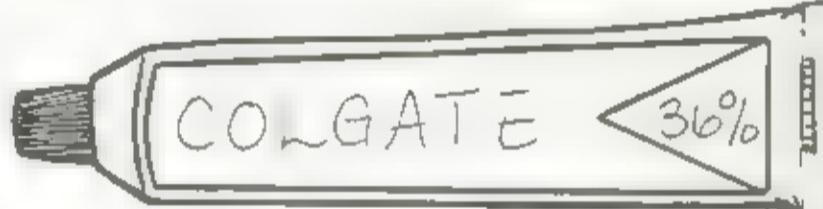

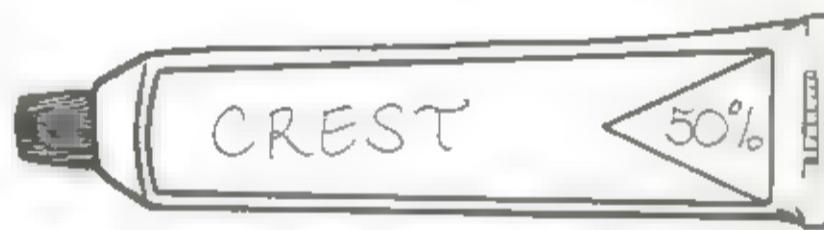

Danielle Brown
Jamie Brown
Karen Brown
Marty Brown
Stephen Brown

Tim Brown
Keith Bryant
Susan Burris
Cheryl Butner
Clint Calaway

What Is Your Favorite Toothpaste?

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

rs • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors Juniors

Jeff Caldwell
Dwaine Campbell
Jean Canady
Juhe Carmin
Tracey Carr

Joe Carrethers
Lara Carroll
Alfred Carter
Paula Carter
Debbie Cassidy

Cindy Cates
Eric Chadwick
Jessica Chaplin
Angie Cheek
Kurt Chester

Larry Childress
Nathan Cloud
Jody Clower
Tracy Commodore
Anita Cook

Michael Coker *
Jeannie Crawford
Christina Crews
Dennis Crews
Tracy Crews

Alan Cromer
Greg Cromer
Brian Dahmer
Barry Davis
Jacky Davis

rs • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors Juniors

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s

Karen Davis
Mark Deal
Rhonda Debnam
Kim Doughty
Nolan Duggins

Kevin Ellerbee
Casey Ellis
Charles Evans
Juan Everett
Chris Faulwetter

Havard Foshaug
Bridgett France
Emory Frye
Kimberly Frye
Robbie Fuhrer

Brian Fulp
Scott Fuqua
Whitney Gann
Stacey Garvin
Jeff Gentry

Nancy Georgitis
Jeff Gibson
Preston Gilbert
Bo Gileland
Russell Glenn

Michelle Glover
Stacie Goins
Rachel Goldstein
Pete Gordy
Maria Gosinski

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

Nerve Endings People's Pet Peeves

OOOHH! That makes me so mad! This type of comment was heard concerning people's pet peeves, those bothersome little things that people do that get on other's nerves.

Some people's pet peeves were incidents that occurred while driving. Melanie Reece was bothered by "people who don't give turn signals." Rachel Goldstein added, "I hate it when I'm driving down the road and someone pulls out in front of me and makes me slam on my brakes."

Other students were bothered by being late. Tracey Carr's pet peeve was, "people standing right in the middle of the hall during class change. I can't get by so it makes me late." Debbie Cassidy agreed, saying, "I hate when I'm late and when other people are late, too!"

Yet others disliked the normal everyday little things that happened during the school day. Beth King's pet peeve was, "people sniffing in class during tests because you're trying to concentrate and you're interrupted by that noise." So, remember that when you are tapping your foot or beating on the desk, it may be bothering someone else.

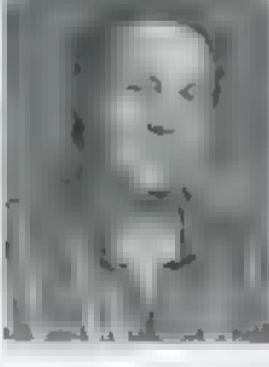

Let's get this show together. Preparing for stunt night, Brian Waits checks over a script for the big event while Steve Shore reads over his shoulder.

Robbie Greer
Rodney Gregroy
Larry Griffith Tammy Grundmeyer
Gina Gulatedge

Christina Hall
Derek Hall
Rodney Hampton
Kristi Hamrick
Antoinette Hardin

Daphne Hardin Shawn Harris
Heather Hartgrove
David Hartsook
Tracie Hawkins

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

Juniors
• Juniors
• Juniors
• Juniors
• Juniors

What Is Your Favorite Dream Car?

Porsche 18%

Jaguar 11%

Mercedes 11%

BMW 6%

Ferrari 27%

Other 27%

Tony Hayden
Scott Helms
April Hendrix
Christy Henley
Elizabeth Hepler

Tony Hess
Roger Hester
† Marty Hickman
Monty Hickman
Jamie Hicks

Allison Hill
Kelly Holland
Nakita Hooper
Shaun Hopkins
Shaun Hopkins

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•

Rick Hornsby
Ed Hrynkow
Jo Huddleston
Jennifer Hudgins
Traci Hunt

Paula Imes
George Ingle
Melissa Inman
Cecelia James Wendy James

Kim Jessup
Lisa Jessup
Eric Johnson
Shannon Johnson
David Jones

Kristy Jones
Lynette Jones
Tammie Jones
Ron Jordan
Zach Kapp

Amy Kiger
Charles Kiger
Chuck Kiger
Kim Kiger
Tanya Kimbrough

Beth King
Jamie King Sharon Kiser
Jean Krull
Frankie Kye

rs • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors

Dan Kyslinger
Greg Lambert
Scott Landy
Cameron Large Juniors Lawson

Dianne Lazenby
David LeGrant
Alison Leinbach
Cindy Lewis
Jerry Lewis

Elen Lineback
Michael Linscott
Jackie Lipkin
Marie Livengood
William Lott

Chad Lynch
Frank Mabes
Susan Malson
David Marion
Susan Marsh

Cathy Marshal
Adrian Martin
Benjamin Martin
Shevonne Martin
Willis Martin

Darci Massaroni
Tonia Massengale
Tammy Matthews
Natalie McCarrel
Tina McCarther

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•

Yolanda McCarther Derek McClugherty
James McCormick
Lee McCormick
LeAnne McCoy

Eddie McDaniel
Heather McIntosh
Barbara McKnight
Ashley McLeese
Anita McLemore

Aprile McNeill Gina Meeks
Robin Meeks
Melody Miller
David Mitchell

Ring It Class Rings For Juniors

Did you see those juniors huddled over a man with a case full of rings? Were they buying stolen goods? No! They were just buying class rings. But, why did they wait in line to spend over one hundred dollars just to remember their high school years? Mike Winters commented, "Class rings show your school spirit and help you remember your final years." Jamie Hicks added, "Because I'm proud of my class." However some juniors purchased rings for different reasons. Amy Kiger stated, "I guess I bought it for my boyfriend to wear."

Other juniors did not buy class rings. Jean Stevens explained, "I won't wear a high school ring in college." Rings were expensive so a few juniors were given ultimatums. Jean Krull elaborated, "When my parents gave me a choice I chose to buy a ring when I go to college."

Whether their reasons were based on pride, spirit or tradition, juniors made mad dashes for the cafeteria in order to commemorate serving four years in high school, and buying a ring was a good way to do it.

Such a little ring for so much money. Class rings were a very large part of many juniors' year and took a big hunk of money to obtain.

rs • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

Juniors
•
Juniors

Juniors
•
Juniors

Juniors
•
Juniors

What Is Your Favorite Type Of Movie?

56%

Comedy

Romance

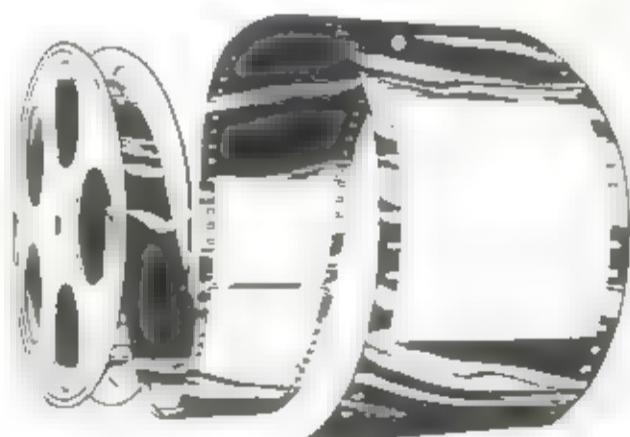

11%

27%

Horror

Mystery

6%

Donald Mitchell
Poncho Mitchell

Waymon Monroe
Wendy Monsalve

Dawn Montague
Jennifer Moore

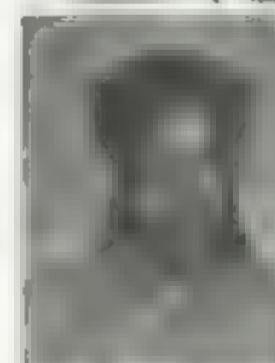

Scott Moore
Veronica Moore

Patricia Morphies
Maricka Mouzon

Veronica Moyer
Brian Mullins

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•

Monica Mumford
Alan Myers
Bryan Nance
Scott Napier
Shelby Neely

Deborah New Mary Nifong
Anna Ogburn
Alberto Olas
Tiffani Orange

Terri Owen
Tony Paige
Bo Park
Dale Patterson
ShaRonn Payne

Tiffany Peacock
Eric Petree
Billy Petrie
Carla Phillips
Joy Pitts

Charlitta Pledger
Aubrey Polk
Jami Poole
Lisa Pratt DeAnn Prevette

Chris Priddy
Dee Prince
Roya Qualls
Michael Quarles
Melanie Reece

rs • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s

Pam Reese
Roshawn Reid
Rhonda Rhodes
George Richardson
Jamie Reker

Jay Root
Danita Roseboro
Jennifer Rosenbaum
Terry Rowe
Alyson Royall

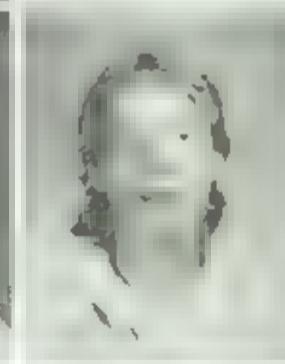

Eric Rucker
Suzi Russell
Robin Rutledge
Mike Sacco
Anne Sahadi

Sherry Samuels
Amy Sands
Jason Sapp
Philip Sapp
Eric Scarlett

Derek Schatz
Keith Schilke
Jerrod Scott
Vick Seat
Jerry Shelton

Kellie Shepard
Waddell Sheppard
Ernie Shouse
Jennifer Shropshire
Barbra Silva

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

Michelle Silva
Chad Simmons

Chad Simpkins
Debbie Smith

Eric Smith
Mike Smith

Terry Smith
Renee Snow

Stephanie Soulsby
Kathy Souza

John Speaks
Angela Speaks

Junior Council We've Only Just Begun

Preparing for a night that most students remember forever can be a monumental event. Trying to please everyone is a hard job. Each year the Junior Council makes preparations for the Prom. Because the Prom is such a special time, the students and faculty worked hard to make it a momentous occasion. "It's a memory they will always cherish, so we want to make it something to be proud of and something that represents the school in a positive way."

The Junior Council, which consists of selected representatives from each homeroom, is divided into committees. From these committees the theme, "We've Only Just Begun" was chosen. In addition, music from various artists was chosen in hopes of pleasing everyone. As Jean Stevens commented, "For the Prom to be successful, you want everyone to be satisfied. Hopefully the different ideas we have come up with will make everyone feel it is the best prom yet." With the hard work of the Junior Council, the Prom promises to be an exciting experience for all.

Front Row Debbie Smith, Kim Boyd, Tracey Carr, Ashley McLeese, Jody Clower, Kimberly Williams, Julie Bell. Second Row Tracie Hawkins, Heather McIntosh, Amy Kiger, Jennifer Rosenbaum, Karen Davis, Jean Stevens, Dee Prince. Third Row Carol Brown, Jeff Gibson, Chad Simpkins, Rhonda Debnam, Waddell Sheppard, Jennifer Best, Jamie Hicks, Shannon Virtue

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

Juniors
•

Juniors
•

Juniors
•

Packing produce. Kevin Ellerbe works diligently to complete an assigned task at Harris Teeter in the produce department to earn extra money.

To Work We Go Anything For Money

You wanted those stone washed jeans. You needed those Reeboks. You could not stand to live without a car. You also asked your Mom and Dad for help and they said, "No!" Because juniors wanted, needed, and desired, they worked to buy

Some juniors bought cars to go with their unique personalities. Jamie Hicks held down a job at Food Fair and stated, "I work because I'm still making payments on my car." Chad Simpkins added, "I have a job to earn extra money for gas and insurance."

Many juniors tried to con their parents into increased allowances and came up empty. Cecelia James explained, "I babysit because my parents don't love me enough to give me money for my wants." Monica Mumford elaborated, "I work at McDonald's because my parents refuse to support my outrageous spending habits."

Because juniors had to have the toys that made life easier, they frequented the malls, restaurants, and music stores. However, this time they were not buying, instead, they were working

It all adds up. Terry Rowe's operating the cash register at Little Ceasars gives him the opportunity to earn a little spending money for his enjoyment.

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•
J
u n
i o r
s
•

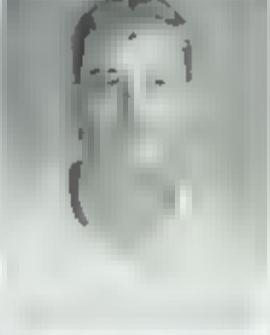

Lester Speas
Michael Speas
Tim Speas
Todd Speas
Jeff Sprinkle

Kenny Sprinkle
Teressa Sprinkle Wendy Sprinkle Darin Stafford
Amber Stanberry

Molly Stanley
Lisa Starling
Alan Starr
Leonard Staten Nikki Steen

Jean Stevens
Jason Stewart
Mike Stoltz
Shawn Stomean
Will Toburen

Jon Todd
Harry Transou
Tracy Tripp
Doug Troyer
Annie Tucker

Fred Turner
Angie Tuttle
Scott Tuttle
Anthony Underwood
Mark Uren

rs • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors •

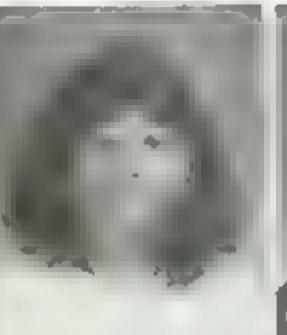

Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

J
u n
i o r
s
•

J
u n
i o r
s
•

J
u n
i o r
s

Tim Vaden
Danny Vaughn
Tammy Venable
Shannon Via Shannon Virtue

Michael Voss
Lisa Wall
Dwayne Washington
Brian Watts
Tony Webb

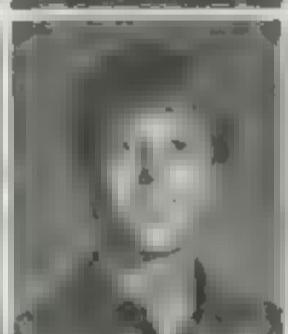

Jason Welborn
Robert Wharton
David Whitaker
Kevin Wilhelm
Cosmo Wilkes

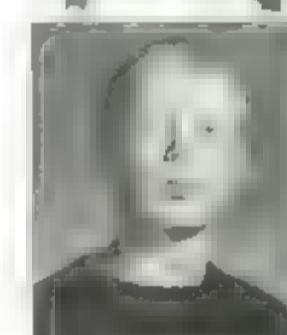

Dirk Willard
Chad Willette
Jennifer Williams
Kim Williams
Leslie Williamson

Memoree Wilson Michelle Wilson
Mike Winters
Craig Wolfe
Mary Womble

Jeff Wood
Tiffany Wood
Chris Woodcock Terry Wooten
Misty Wrenn

• Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Juniors • Jun

Kevin Wright
Lisa Young Sharon Young

Regina Galloway
Martha Jackson
Martin Kellum

April Kilian
Kathy Landy
Missy Lewis

Raylene Lineberry
Cliff Miller Jonathan Tharngton

Juniors Not Pictured

Larry Alston
Robert Attaway
Derek Baker
Kelda Blakemore
Gerald Blakney
Janet Brannock
Sandra Brannock
Tom Brophy
Stacie Brown
Thomas Bryant
Stephen Burcham
Peter Bures
Tonya Butler
Angie Callison
Matthew Carter
Bryant Carter
Pamela Clemons
Jonathan Chinard
Tina Davis
Dillard Dedrick
Teresa Doulit
Tarah Duncan
Seritta Dunlap
Fatima El Derrick Gentry
Cheryl Glenn Christ Goins
Chenita Goodman Adrian Graham
Susan Hayworth
April Hendrix
Robert Hunt
Denorris Johnson
Derius Jones
Charles Kellum
Mark Candy
Kevin Little Holland Mabes
Monte McBride
Kimberly Miller
Shawn Miller Coy Mitchell Mary Pendleton
Leslie Reeves
Thomas Shavers
Denard Shelt
Cassandra Sheppard
David Stanley
Benjamin Stewart
Kevin Upson
Philippa Warren
Paul Wells
Tyrone White
James Wilson
Timothy Wood

Yearbook I Class. First row: Jason Sapp, Tony Hess, Mary Womble, Fletcher Gist. Second row: Chad Willette, Annie Tucker, Molly Stanley, Melissa Beshears, Jay Root, David Whitaker, Tiffany Smith, Jo Huddleston, Mrs. Gloria Miller. Third row: Brian Fulp, Sharon Kiser, Robin Rutledge, Tracey Carr, Jody Clower, Karen Brown.

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sopho

•

S
o p h o
m o r e s

Range

Half Way There!

Class Of '90!

Sophomores!

Jobs

No Longer Freshmen

License

Gym Class

In-Car

Sweet Sixteen

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sopho

nores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

Tamika Adams
Zachary Albert
Toni Alexander
Patricia Alfing
Christy Allen

Tracie Allred
Kelly Anderson
Cedric Archie
Franklin Armstrong
Scott Austin

Mark Baker
Greg Barnes
April Bates
Lesley Baugher
Damonn Bell

One Step Closer

We Aren't Freshmen Anymore

Did the words control, one more year, and 1990 mean anything to you? They should have if you were a sophomore. These were the things most commonly enjoyed by sophomores, or "non-freshmen."

Some sophomores felt that they had more control after retiring from the freshman category. Camille Sprinkle said, "I can hold my head up because there's now someone with a number worse than '90!"

Having been considered a freshman at one point in a person's life was not a favorable experience. As James Wright said, "I just like the fact that I don't have to be called a freshman anymore." And of course, as David Styers put it, "You've only got one more year until you can go out to lunch, and drive to school!"

Finally, being a sophomore meant that you had a sense of having a little more control around school and there was always someone in line behind you for graduation.

Though relieved at having his status elevated to that of a sophomore, David McConville does not seem pleased with the idea of the extra work load.

nores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

•
S
o p h o
m o r e s
•
S
o
p

What's Your Favorite Tennis Shoe?

Reebok

44%

Converse

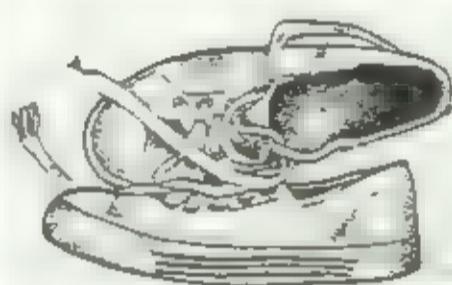

7%

Nike

25%

Diadora

12%

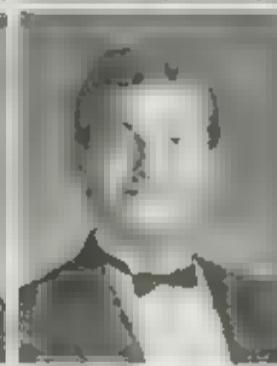

Other

12%

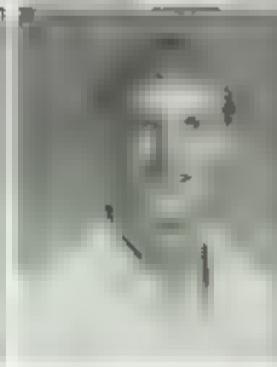

Shannon Bell
Cheryl Bethea
Chuck Blackburn
Kevin Blakely
Kelda Blakemore

Lawrence Blakey
Gerald Blakney
Jamal Blakney
Scotty Bledsoe
Prudence Blevins

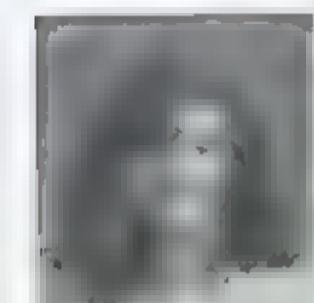

Tim Blevins
Shane Boaz
Kevin Bodenhamer
Rick Bottoms
Lori Bovender

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

Cassie Bowen
Glenn Bowen
Dusty Bowman
Renee Bowman
Danielle Brabham

Dayatra Bradley
Monica Brent
Keith Brewer
Melissa Bright
Tony Brock

Heather Brophy Angela Brown
Corey Brown
Ricky Brown
Patrick Brownlee

Mark Burnette
Brad Burton
Theron Butler
Dana Byrd
Candice Cagle

Marcia Cardwell
Robin Cardwell
Jermaine Carlton
Calvin Carter
Sandy Cartwright

Tyrone Chisolm
Richard Christensen
Wendy Church
Tyrus Clark
John Clayborn

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

S
o p h o
m o r e
s

Angela Clayton Chris Clayton
Charlie Clemons
John Clower
John Cockerham

Amy Cole
Crystal Cole
Lisa Coleman
Janet Conklin
James Conrad

Tracy Conrad
Sean Cook
Ashley Cooper
Robby Corpener
William Cousar

Steve Cox
Winburn Craft
Tracy Crawford
Tammy Crews
Tim Currie

Jennifer Dahl
Wendy Darnell
Charles Davis
Tad Davis
Jason Deal

Holly Dickson
Latisha Dixon
Wendi Doty
Eric Drake
Derek Duggins

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

Just Can't Wait

Finally Becoming Juniors!

Excitement, driving, varsity sports, and going out to lunch fill the heads of sophomores as they prepare for the future.

As they look forward, driving to school is an expected privilege given to sophomores as upperclassmen. Heather Brophy explained with elation, "While underclassmen stand on the bus stop, I'll drive by and wave!"

Varsity sports also instill ambitions in the young sophomores. Brian Stanley hopes to do well on the swim team and receive a letter as well.

Wanting the best in the coming year, a few sophomores would like to maintain their good grades. Peggy Fuqua stated, "I'll look forward to the excitement and fun. But I also want to keep up my great grades."

School board members are thinking about closing campuses for lunch for all students except seniors. The possibility of such a change irritates the sophomores. "Part of being an upperclassman is eating out at a fast food place. Besides, the cafeteria couldn't hold us all," commented Kelli Franklin.

Meanwhile, sophomores anxiously await the privileges which accompany the title of "upperclassmen."

A little softer now! Juniors and seniors hold the envy of many sophomores and freshmen by attending the exciting Junior Senior prom.

Show your stuff! Wayne Sault and Mike Winebarger cruise the parking lot, an upperclassmen privilege.

Here we come, fast food! Greg McManus and Patric Brownlee pioneer the future of off campus lunches.

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores

Sophomores
• Sophomores
• Sophomores
• Sophomores
• Sophomores
• Sophomores

Jason Duggins
Robert Duggins
Heather Dunn
Donzwella Dykes
Chris Eades

Katherine Ebert
Mandy Edmonds
John Engel
Chad Engelkins
Erica Enscore

Ellen Eudy
Ryan Ferguson
Shawn Fink
Shuronia Flood
Kelley Floyd

What Is Your Favorite Hang-Out?

31%

Hanes Mall

6%

Stratford Road

6%

Skating Rinks

25%

Teen Dance Clubs

13%

Fast Food Joints

19%

Other

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores

ores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

• S o p h o m o r e s • S o p h o m o r e s •

Chad Flynt
Allen Fogle
Veronica Fogle
Tanya Forte
Brian France

Susan Franklin
Erskine Fred
Peggy Fuqua
Teressa Galloway
Kim Garrett

Lisa Gentle
Mike Gentry
Joe Gilchrist
Todd Gilley
Fletcher Gist

Terrell Glenn
Jason Goforth
Nick Golden
Steven Goldsmith Matt Graffis

Michael Graham Rajah Graham
Tiffany Graham
Melissa Green
Colleen Grillo

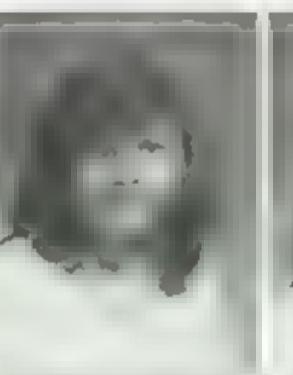

Cathy Guinn
Wendy Guthrie
Larry Hairston
Toni Hairston

ores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

Sophomores

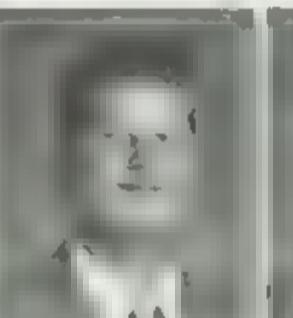

Carri Harper
Amanda Harris
D'Lynn Harris
Jodi Harrison
Stacie Hauber

Derek Hauser
Jamie Hauser
Sherri Hauser
Jennifer Haynes
Michelle Hendrix

Brian Hickerson
Eric Hicks
Chad Higgins
Tiffany Hill
Carlton Hinson

Michael Hobson
Tyson Hokes
Jason Holder
Susi Holladay
Traci Holland

Tina Holler
Brian Hollingsworth
Lori Hoots
Randall Hornsby
Charlie Hunt

John Hunter
Shannon Hutcherson
DeJuan Ingram
Jill Ingram
Monica Jackson

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

Turning Sixteen

Sophomores Celebrate

Turning sixteen seemed like a really big step for sophomores. It was the ultimate event to end all ultimate events that occurred during their teen years. But, still, what's the big deal about turning sixteen???

The first thing that usually popped into sophomores' minds at the thought of turning sixteen was, "THE CAR!!! I GET TO TAKE THE CAR!!!". However, some sophomores' attitudes to this great privilege and responsibility were not healthy. As Greg Pate said, "I can't wait to take the car and rag it out!"

On the other hand, a few had different opinions. "I expect to earn more trust from my parents with the responsibility of having my license," Rick Shouse said.

Still others felt that this was the time to kind of break away from their parents a little. As Tiffany Hill explained, "I think turning sixteen will give me more freedom to do the things that I want."

Whatever the reason, this event was long awaited and highly publicized. As Myra Wright put it, "Turning sixteen just sounds good!"

"I never promised you a rose garden." Beaming from ear to ear, Robin Cordwell, proud, displays the gift of half a dozen roses from her wonderful, kind, and caring boyfriend.

"Stay off the roads!!" Troy Moorman is laughing on the outside, but seems to be silently saying a short prayer for the safety of himself and others as John Cockerham prepares to brave the roads.

Happy birthday to me! Maricka Mouzon happily shows off her sweet sixteen bouquet.

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sopho

•
S
o p h o
m o r e s
•
S
o
p

What Is Your Favorite Soft Drink?

Coke/Pepsi

38%

Sprite/7-up

26%

Sunkist

12%

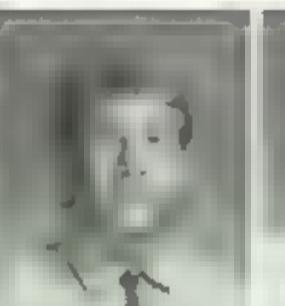

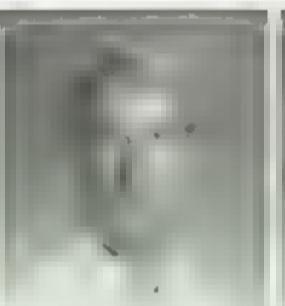

Dr. Pepper

12%

Mello Yello

12%

Monte Jackson
Shane Jarvis
Brian Jeffords
Todd Jenkins
Jody Jessup

C W Johnson
Julie Johnson
Keith Johnson
Robert Johnson
Terry Johnson

Cindy Jolly
Chris Jones
Dale Jones
Tiffany Jones
Carmen Joyce

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sopho

ores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

Jennifer Joyce Jimmy Kelly
Randy Key Alex Kiger
Kevin Kimber

Tanya Kimbrough
William Landrum
Nicole Lane
Patricia Lawing
Ronald Leak

Ishmul Lentz
Brian Lewis
Derek Lewis
Chris Little Emily Loflin

Aliceia Long
Catherine Long
Jason Long
Mike Lynch
Traci Lyons

Rosemary McCarthy
Schontal McClary
Paul McClure
David McConville
Lori McGinnis

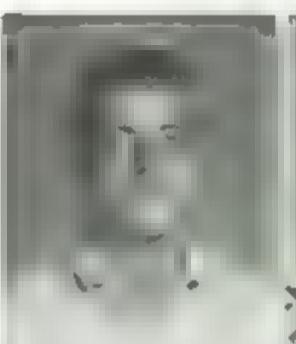

Kristin McGowan
Greg McManus
Renee McManus
Chris Meadwell

ores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

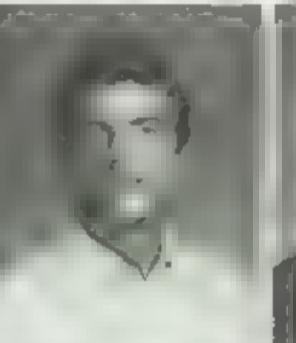

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

S
o p h o
m o r e
s

Scott Melisauskas
Bryan Merrill
Joe Mickle
Antonio Miller Brenda Miller

Candie Miller
Chris Miller
Jeff Miller
Steve Miller
Trenia Miller

Necole Mitchell
Greg Moore
Scott Moore
Steven Moore
Troy Moorman

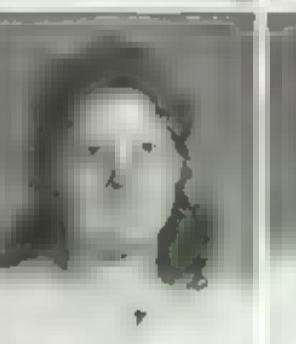

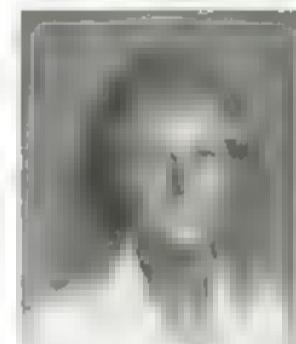

Angie Morphies
Trey Morris
Sabrina Morrison
Crystal Myers
Dedrick Napper

Kim Neal
Jeff Neighbors
Jennifer Nickerson
Michael Nitin
William Nixon

Lisa Norman
Tonia Oliver
Paul O'Neal
Yvonne O'Quinn
James Overstreet

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

I Need A Ride!

Transportation Problems

"Hurry mom or I'll be late!" The cry of many sophomores, who need transportation, rings out when they ask for a ride to school or over to a friend's house. As tenth graders participated in extracurricular activities, it became increasingly difficult to find a ride for themselves. "It is difficult to get transportation when you are a sophomore. Parents grow tired of transporting their children everywhere, everyday after school," expressed Chris Jones.

Many sophomores called upon their friends

when going over to a friend's house or out to parties. "Since I have so many friends, it's easy for me to call someone up and say 'come over and pick me up!'" stated Jason Williams.

The inconvenience of asking parents to be chauffeurs were quite evident Zack Albert said, "In my parent's car I'm never on time for anything."

For now, sophomores will have to accept being late for another year. But soon others will be depending on them for rides.

On board! Sophomores Clark Russell, Monica Jackson and Monica Brent prepare for the long bus ride home as Tyrone White and Jetl Choate look on.

Lee Anne Parrish gets out of the car, ready for the school day. Sophomores often had to rely upon their parents for rides to school, as well as other places. The only other options were friends and, of course, the dreaded school bus.

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

S
o p h o
m o r e
s

Vickie Owens
Marty Palmer
Kevan Parks
Lee Anne Parrish
Greg Pate

Brian Patterson
Gail Patterson
Niki Patton
Allison Payne
Angela Perdue

Melissa Pettigrew
Kim Pike
Melissa Pinnix
Brian Potter
Glenn Pounds

What's Your Favorite Time To Study?

23% Right Before Class

17% Late At Night

15% During Class

15% After School

6% Other

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

mores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores

Tracy Qunones
Seth Rader
Brian Ragland
Tryone Rakim
Kevin Ray

Marvin Reaves
Bobby Register
India Reinhardt
Beth Respess
Chris Richardson

Grey Richardson
Al Robinson
Jenni Robinson
Ronnie Rominger
Leisha Roseboro

Brian Ross
Michelle Royall
Julie Rumley
David Russell
Anthony Sacco

Rex Samuels
Chantelle Scales
Robin Schlotfeldt
Susan Schowalter
Christie Schuller

Chris Scott
Lori Shamel
Rita Sheek
Sam Sheff
Samantha Sheff

S
o p h o
m o r e s

S o p h o
m o r e
s

mores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sopho

Sophomores

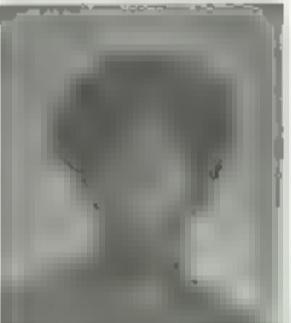

Stephanie Shepherd
Rick Shouse
Sherry Shutt
Jennifer Siegel
Chaundra Simmons

LaSaundra Simmons
Toshia Simmons
Suzanne Simpkiss
Rhonda Simpson
Roosevelt Sims

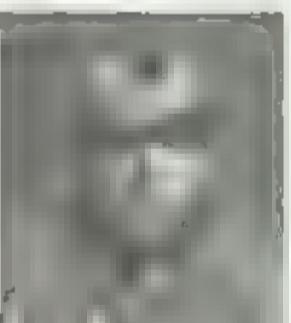

Chris Sinclair
Jennifer Sizemore
Jeremy Sizemore
Andrea Smith
Candice Smith

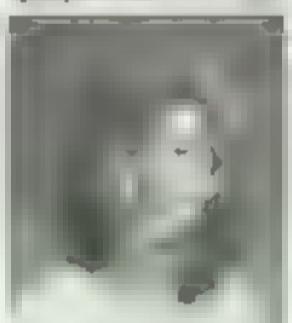

Tiffany Smith
Wendy Smith
LaTanya Smoot Chris Snow
Tammy Snow

Deavand Sowels
Crystal Spainhour
Randall Sparger
Cammille Sprinkle Mike Sprinkle

Brian Stanley
Sonya Starbuck
Ryan Stauffer
Shannon Studevent
David Styers

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sopho

Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores

Rhonda Sudderth
Marcus Sutton
Ansonja Taylor
Natalie Taylor
Pete Tega

Jodi Teta
Don Thomas
Robin Thomas
Ronald Thomas
Crystal Thompson

Kia Thompson
Kenya Tillery
Jerry Tilley
Brian Tillotson
David Tomlinson

S
o p h o
m o r e s

S o p h
o

Change Of Pace Improvements Of The Future

Remember those dynamic sophomores? They often led the cheers at pep rallies, and even made the game winning basket or goal. More importantly, they anticipated great differences before they became seniors.

When sophomores thought about becoming seniors, they also thought about change. Most of these changes fell into the category of school spirit. Carmen Joyce elaborated, "I hope when I'm a senior my class will support the school's activities." Monte Jackson added, "My classmates should come out and attend all the games."

On a different note, Cathy Long stated, "By the time we graduate, more service clubs should be organized."

However, some sophomores desired changes which were far from ordinary. For example, Shontal McClary stated, "I hope I'll have easier courses to take."

Whatever their suggestions were, sophomores proved to be young men and women with hopes and dreams. Accordingly, they also have a bright future.

Elbow room. With a smile and widespread arms, Susi Holliday indicates her fondest wish for her senior year: The dream of uncluttered halls.

Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

S
o p h o
m o r e
s

William Toney
David Townsend
Shawn Tucker
Jacinta Turner
Jennifer Turner

Angie Tuttle
Jeff Tuttle
Kim Tuttle
Misty Tuttle
Paula Tuttle

Jennifer Upchurch
Theresa Van Dyken
Shayne Vanhoy
James Venable
Tiffany Vickers

Angie Vigil
Vetti Walker
Janie Wall
Sally Wall
Rachelle Walsh

Charles Walters
Andy Warner
Annette Washington
Allyson Watson
Andy Watts

Josh Weaver
Stacie Weaver
David Weidl
Chris White
Sandra White

• Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Soph

Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores

Christie Whitlock
Tony Whitlock
Denodd Williams
Jason Williams
Kermitt Williams

Latees Williams
Shane Williams
David Wims
Merissa Wingate
James Wright

Kevin Wright
Keyla Wright
Myra Wright
Ronnie Wright
Ashley Yates

Edgar Young Lisa Young

S
o p h o
m o r e s

S o p h o
m o r e
s

Not Pictured Sophomores

Angela Austin
Denardo Autery
Tyrone Bailey
Hope Baldwin
Phyllis Cave
Karin Conner
Kenya Dobbins
Raquel Douthit
William Drake
Sam Dutton
James Erickson
Dennis Floyd
Derick Glover
Stephen Glover

Richard Gray
Vernon Gray
Carla Hauser
Cassandra Hauser
Tina Henderson
Harvey Hughes
Keith Hunt
Donald Johnson
Paris Jordan
Me issa King
Lloyd Lee
Chris Lineberry
Sherry Lipscomb
Ryan Little

William Lounsberry
Yolanda McCou
James Miller
Joseph Miller
Rickey Miller
Kevin Miller
Katnka Miliaps
Keisha Montgomery
Harry Morris
Ricky Mosley
Kimberly Moton
Samuel Oglesby
Christopher Paige
Stanley Reaves

Monica Roberts
Reginald Roberts
Regina Sapp
Eric Scott
Donna Shaver
Charles Story
Steven Swink
Douglas Tailey
Andrew Warner
Eric Williams
Tina Will Chris Wolff
Jeffrey Woodburn

mores • Sophomores • Sophomores • Sophomores •

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

•
F
r e s
h
m e n
•
F
r
e

First Impressions

Buses

Closed Campus

J.V. Sports

Class Of '91

Oh, No! Seniors!

Clubs

Viking Pride

Homework

Orientation

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

The Extremes!

Tall Vs. Short Freshmen

Were freshmen really all that noticeable? Were they hidden in a crowd? It wasn't quite that obvious, but they weren't all that hard to miss either.

When asked how they felt about being considered short or small, freshmen had mixed emotions. Tracy Settle said, "Well, it's obvious everyone knows you're a freshman." Her classmate Stephanie Hilderbrand felt that being short wasn't all that bad. She stated, "I'm happy being short, I really don't mind it."

And of course, there were always advantages to being "not so tall." As Marcia Christensen said, "I don't have to worry about being taller than my boyfriend."

Not every freshman was categorized as being short. Kendall Sink, who was 5'6 felt that, "being somewhat tall (for a freshman) has advantages because people don't think I'm a freshman."

Noticeable or not, the height of freshmen caused interesting remarks and mixed feelings.

What's up shorts? Jill Martin takes time out between classes to find out what her shorter friend Stevie Liang has been up to.

The tall and short of it. The difference in height between Erin Reich and Trace Gordy appears to have no bearing on their friendship as they chat between classes.

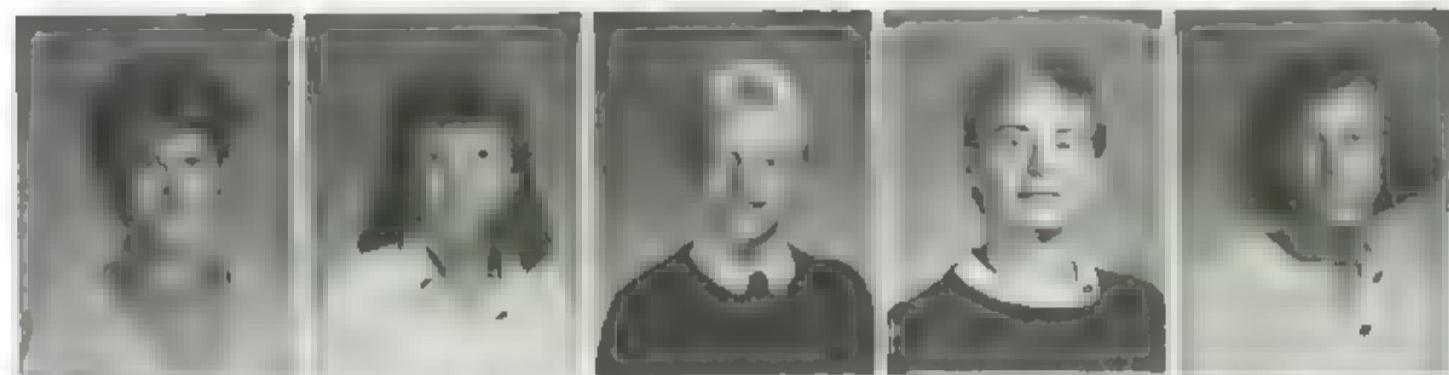

Christina Jones, Amy Wyatt, and Shannon Bricker, not so tall freshmen, happily oke around in the courtyard.

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

• Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

Andrea Absher
Stephanie Adams
Tom Adkins
Gabriel de Alba
Amy Allen

Beth Allen
Julie Alspaugh
Bill Alston
Mark Anders
Pamela Anthony

Contillus Archie
Jeff Armstrong
Serita Armstrong
Charles Artis
Tammi Austin

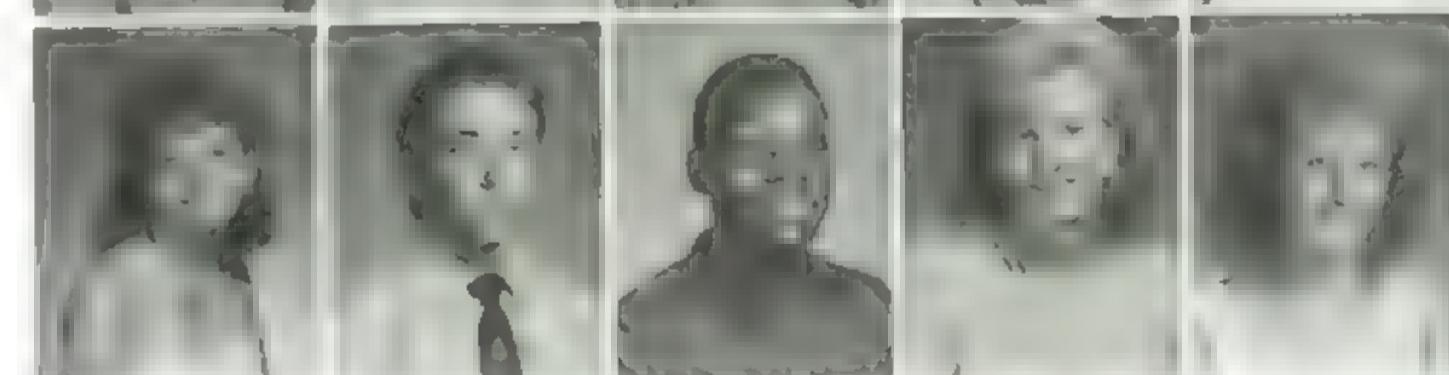

Chris Ayers
Jeremy Baggett Tanisha Bailey
Patrick Baily
Dale Baker

Gary Baldwin
Jim Barber
Scott Barber
Kenya Bass
Shannon Baugess

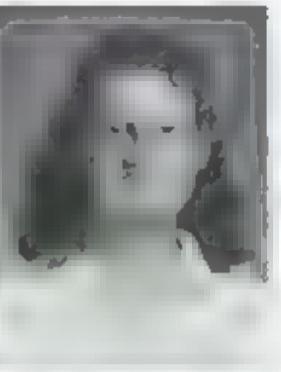

Shannon Billings
Scottie Boden
Anthony Bonner
Robin Bowers
Cindy Boyd

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

en • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Jody Boyles
Mike Brazuhs
Lisa Brewer
Michelle Brewer
Shannon Bricker

Angie Brown
David Brown
Stephanie Browne
Keith Bryant
Tonya Burbank

Meredith Burdette
Jewel Butler
Tammy Bynorth
Brian Cager
James Cain

What's Your Favorite Type Of Food?

Italian

25%

Chinese

20%

Mexican

10%

American

40%

French

5%

en • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

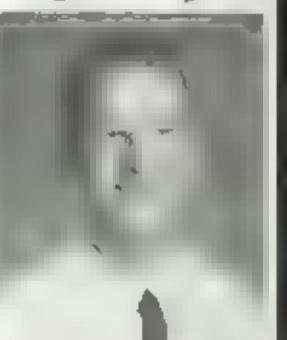

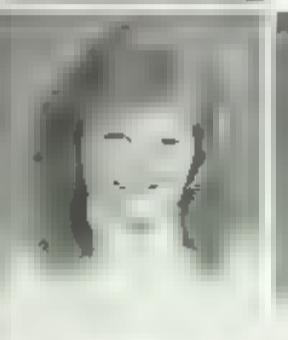

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

• Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Serderious Caldwell
Bridget Call Julia Cardwell
Anita Carethers
Jason Carter

Marquis Carter
Tamika Carter
Michelle Carver
Crissy Catlett
Chris Cave

James Cheek
Wayne Childress
Stephanie Chisholm
Jeffrey Choate
Sara Choplin

Marcia Christensen
Sabrina Clardy
Catherine Clinard
Janet Clyburn
Rodenick Cockerham

Cynthia Coleman
James Collins
Nikki Combs
Michael Conklen
Andrew Conner

Stephanie Conner
Teresa Cox
Laura Creel
Lisa Cress
Beverly Crews

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Crystal Crutchley
Billy Cummings
Duane Danner
Monica Dillard
Perry Dix

Tammy Dix
Otis Dixon
Tanya Donaway
Lester Doss
Brian Doub

Chris Doub
Jimmy Doub
Margaret Doub
Wiley Doub
Tumibu Douthit

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Modern Problems

Surprises On That First Day

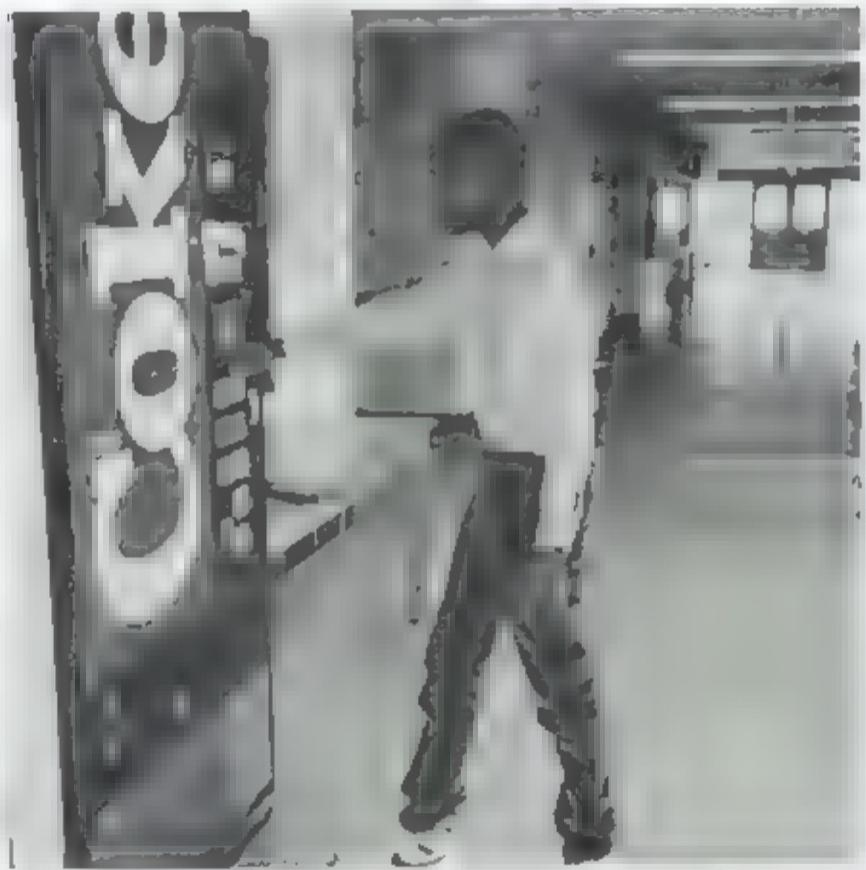

Once upon a time, long, long ago, you got up anticipating a special day. It was the first day of school and you knew that nothing could go wrong. However, as you entered the building the problems began.

Freshmen experienced the first day traumas. For example, Kenya Bass stated, "I couldn't find any of my classes." Contillus Archie added, "My teachers got my name wrong all day." Even the most unlikely events occurred on this disastrous day. Tony George commented "I locked myself out of the house and I realized it right before I got on the bus." Kelli Hall also stated, "I lost my lunch. It was awful."

Although many freshmen were caught by problems, some avoided them. Mike Nelson explained, "I planned my day from start to finish." Stacy Ingram added, "I just didn't talk to any upperclassmen."

Because many students overcame the adversity that often accompanied the first day of school, they won the battle with modern problems and were left more confident

Have a Coke and a smile. Anthony Williamson has trouble getting a quick drink between classes as he discovers that the machine is not on

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

• Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

Marcella Dykes
Leon Eastes
Leon Eaton
Bobby Elkins
Trey Ewell

Wendy Farnum
Chris Farr
Rosemary Ferguson
Scott Ferguson
Brian Fields

Herrett Fields
Vance Fitzgerald
Catina Fogg
Mary Ford
Bernard Foster

Jamie Foster
Amber Foushee
Terry Frye
Michael Fulk
Andrew Fulp

Latrice Fulton
K.m Garrison
Cheri Garrison
Virginia Gaylor
Bryan Gentry

Tony George
Kendra Gorden Tracie Gordy
Martin Gorham
Laksha Graham

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Lawrence Grant
Karen Greene
Kim Greene
John Griggs
Kelli Hall

Christi Hambright
William Hamm
Carl Hampton
Jeana Hansley
Stacy Harper

Melissa Harris
Weston Harris
Tara Hartman
Jeff Hartsook
Sonya Hatcher

What Is Your Favorite Activity?

Sports

40%

Classes

15%

Clubs

5%

Other

10%

All These

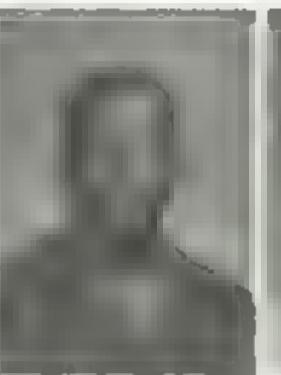

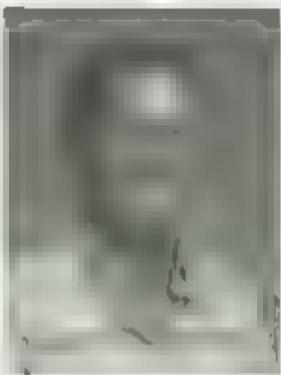

30%

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

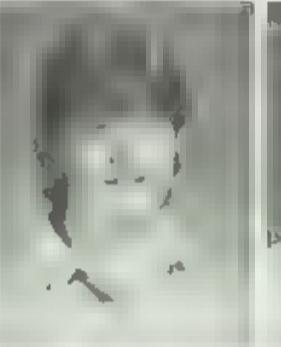

• Freshmen

Ezra Hatcher
Shane Hatcher
Argentina Hauser Mark Hauser
Walteria Hauser

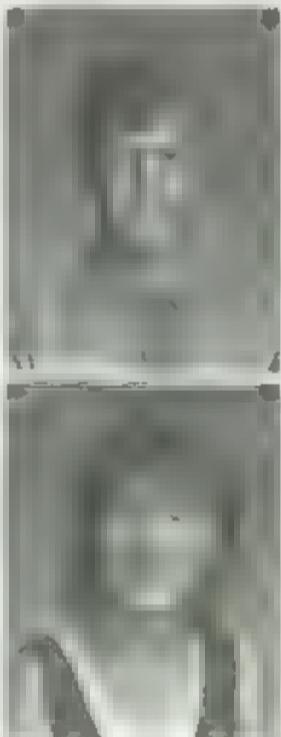

Freshmen

Sabrina Henley
Hubert Henson
Craig Herron
Shannon Hickerson
Chris Hicks

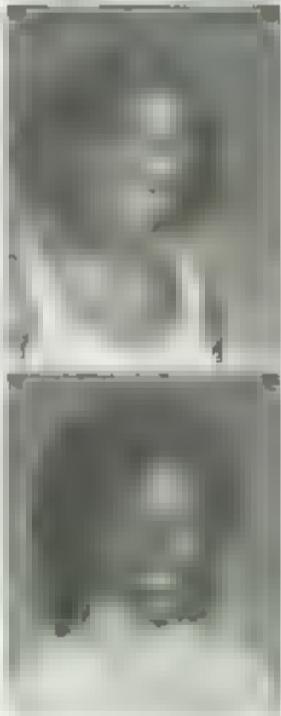

Freshmen

Jennifer Holland
Beth Hoover
Lori Horne
Leigh Hudspeth
Sherry Huey

11

Vicky Huffman
Michelle Hughes
Doug Hull
Eric Hunt
Alison Hyman

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

Invisible Fears First Day Phobias

They snuck up on you when you least expected. They racked you with so much fear that you hardly moved. These invisible "beings" were called intimidations and almost everyone knew them.

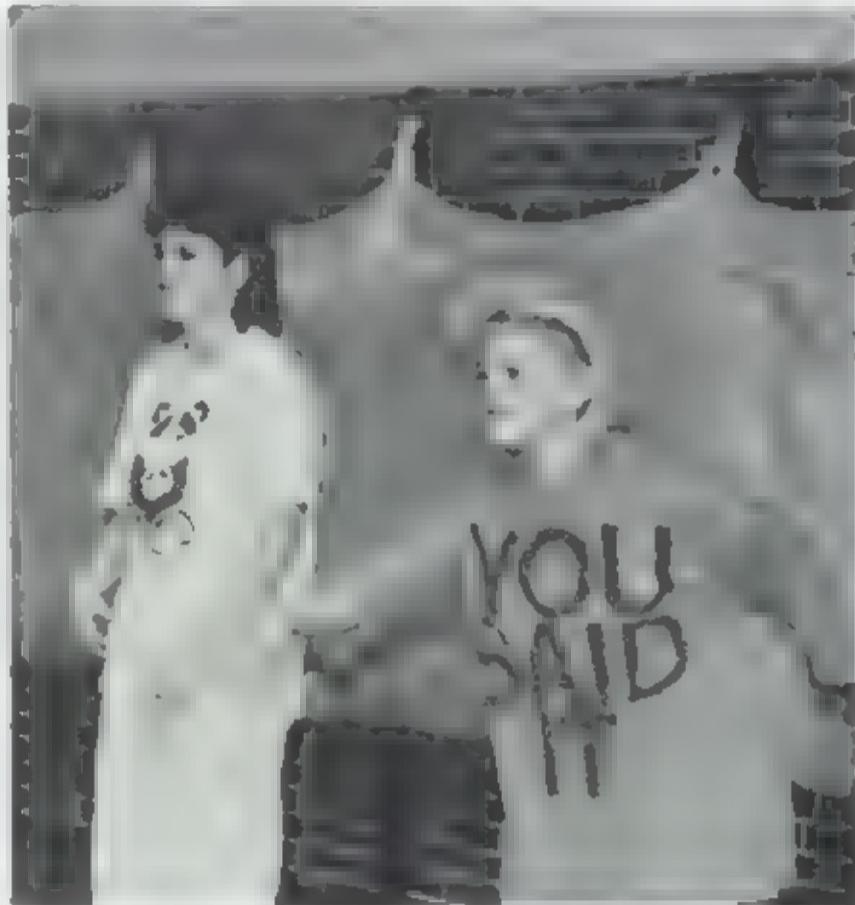

Freshmen, especially were captured by the faceless "creature" in their first year of high school. Stacey Ingram commented, "I was intimidated by the size of the school. It was so big and I didn't know where anything was." Marcia Christensen added, "The number of people blew my mind. It wasn't like junior high." Jason Edwards simply stated, "The upperclassmen were my biggest fears."

Because the freshmen were jokingly "harassed" by the upperclassmen, our friend, intimidation, crept in. Candice Garrison stated, "I was afraid of being caught by the old elevator trick." Lisa Jarvis added, "The upperclassmen seemed to be more secure than me."

Although many students experienced intimidation at times, most fought the fear and trudged onward. Therefore, students emerged victorious and the year left us all more secure.

Dancing to the beat Scarlet Hendrix works extra hard to keep up with the beat in gym class as Tracie Gordy has her style perfected

Deep in thought Lamont Williams concentrates on a particularly difficult test problem while Michelle Tyler tries to figure out his peculiar way of thinking.

Which way is up? Kyung Yu and Won Yu pause to recheck their schedules to make sure they go to the right classes in the first week of school

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

• Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

Cleo Hyman
Stacy Ingram
Shannon Ivester
Lisa Jackson
Lisa Jarvis

Jeremy Jennings
Chris Johnson
David Johnson
Enka Johnson
Rhonda Johnson

Christina Jones
Daniel Jones
Eric Jones
Jamer Jones
Vida Jones

Ruth Katz
Anthony Kellum
Beth Kelly
Donna Kelly
Katrice Kelly

Andrew Ketchie
Lewis Kiger
Beth Kilby
George Killian
Kesi Kindle

Jennifer Kleinmaier
Kelly Lawing
Buffy Lawson
Maurice LeGrant
Matthew Leonard

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Stevie Liang
Robby Lilly
Nathan Lindon
Mark Lineberry
Dwight Linville

Michelle Little Nelson Little Gale Livengood
Kenya Lockhart
Brad Logan

Ashley Long
David Long Chad Lorente
Jennifer Lucas
Mike Lunsford

What's Your Favorite Vacation Spot?

65%

Beaches

10%

Mountains

5%

Foreign Countries

20%

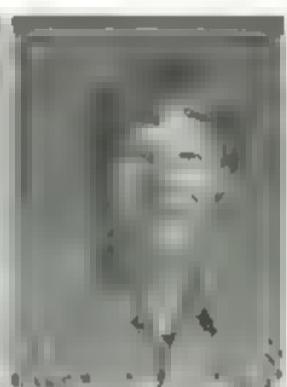

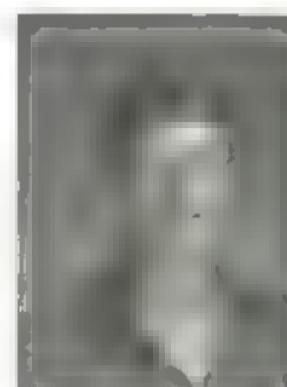

Big Cities

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

• Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

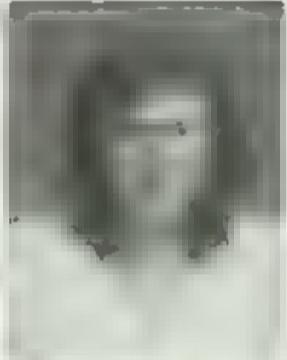

Richard Mabe
Don Mackie
Shawn Mankins
Patrick Marshall Jill Martin

Somonya Martin
Susan Martin
Trey Martin
Charles Matthews
Reshonda Matthews

Deron May Jessica McCarthy
Tiffany McCloud
Yvette McCloud
Teri McCormick

Tasha McCrea
Robert McCullough
Johnathon McDermon
Kim McGuire
Ty McIntosh

Tonia McLemore
Dollie McQueen
Kenneth McSwain
Mike Meadows
Lisa Melisauskos

Dana Meyers
Kathy Miller
Peter Miller
Sharmell Miller
Rhonda Mills

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

Locker Fashions

Small Homes Away From Home

Some students could not help bringing a little piece of heaven to school. Therefore, they made a miniature home in a place frequented as often as the actual home. This place was decorated with papers, pictures, and other paraphenalia and was called the locker.

Some freshmen saw this small space as special and decorated it as such. Catherine Chinard elaborated, "My locker reminds me of my bedroom. It is the same color and everything." Amber Foushee added, "If you could see my locker, you would also see my home."

Sometimes, lockers provided freshmen with a feeling of comfort, pleasure, and even relief. Walteria Hauser commented, "My locker is cheery and bright and it makes me feel better after a hard class." Lori Horne stated, "When I see my locker in the afternoon I think, one more day is over. It is a real relief."

Locker decorations showed creativity on the part of their temporary owners. They were reflections of the people and, therefore, showed that we were all unique

My personal home sweet home Susan Martin delivers a great big smile as she proudly shows off her unique locker fashions

So many books so little time Amy Wyatt has a hard time trying to figure out what books to take to her next class as the other students rush to beat the tardy bell.

Happy Birthday to you Deissa Robinson decorates a friend's locker for an extra special birthday surprise

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Beth Raker
Wally Ray
Bradley Read
Lavetra Reddic
Jimmy Reese

Danny Reeves
Erin Reich
Sugar Roberts
Delisa Robinson
Robert Robinson

Sendra Roseboro
Shannon Rosenbaum
Candice Rousseau
Robert Russ
Kristi Saalweachter

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

What's Your Favorite Fast Food Joint?

McDonalds

Burger King

Kentucky
Fried Chicken

Wendy's

Other

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

•
F
r e s
h
m e n

William Safrit
Loretta Salter
Christy Sapp
Susanna Sapp
Teresa Sapp

Chris Sargent
Chad Scales
Nancy Scarborough
Paul Schelle
Kim Scott

Tracy Settle
Molly Shelton
Antonio Shepard
Brad Shouse
Jeana Shouse

Monique Simmons
Krissy Simpkiss
Stephanie Sink
Jimmie Siade
Brenda Smith

Leslie Smith
Mike Smith
Sherri Smoot Stacie Southern Lynn Sowter

Matt Spainhour
Jimmy Speas
Tim Spurill
Eric Stigall
Ishmael Stowe

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Kevin Strickland
Mike Sugg
Susan Sugg
Shannon Taylor
Jon Tedder

Amy Thompson
Danny Thompson
Becky Thorn
James Tittle
Nell Tolbert

Mary Turner
Shawnda Turner
Michelle Tyler
Teresa Tyner
Detrenia Umberger

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

I Expected . . . And Now The Results!

It's the first day of high school and the freshmen are frightened half to death. What will high school be like? What will the seniors think of them? These are typical thoughts that freshmen ruminated about before entering high school. They knew that they were expected to act like high school students and not middle or elementary school students. Furthermore, they were expected to be able to handle all of the responsibilities that they were given. But what did they expect out of their first year in high school?

Tammy Hicks stated, "I expected to meet many new friends and make good grades in all of my classes." However, others faced the big high school step with a more social attitude. "I expected to see a lot of good-looking guys," exclaimed Ruth Katz.

The freshman year was an exciting one for some, and a dreadful year for others. Since some expectations were fairly high, they never actually happened. However, the freshman year was still one that lived up to most students' expectations.

Ticket to ride? Awaiting his opportunity to flee, Doug Hu eyes the bus doors and anticipates his trip to a better destination.

nen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

• Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

Marvin VanEaton
Angie Vaughn
Andy Walker
Carl Walker
Thalmulus Walker

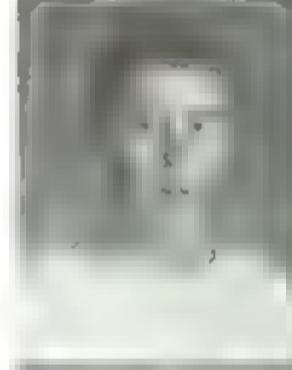

Elizabeth Wall
Gary Warren
Octavia Warren
Danielle Weeden
Adrian Whicker

Ashley White
Brian White
Kedrick White
Randy White
Wade White

Damon Willard
Keely Willard
Bryan Williams
Lamon Williams
Robert Williams

Sha Lai Williams
Anthony Williamson
Patrick Willis
Stacey Wilmot
Jason Wilson

Jason Wilson
Paula Wilson
Regina Wilson
John Wood

Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Freshmen • Fres

Kristina Woodruff
Crystal Wooten
Angie Wright

Lyoneil Wright
Amy Wyatt Sandy Young

Kyung Yu Won Yu
Tammy Zelensky

Not Pictured Freshmen

Sharee Anderson
Michael Barber
Curtis Blakemore
Tor Brown
Tona Brown
Melissa Bruce Aaron Burke
Derek Butler
A-ton Carter
Dwayne Carter
Sarina Clardy
Jack Clayton Sherry Coley
Felesia Cuthrean
Davell Dabson
Carl Dunlap
Jason Edwards
James Fisher
Gary Fletcher
Kirk Gibson
Eric Hall
Erick Hampton
Terrell Hanna
Roderick Harris
April Hayes
Anthony Higgins
Anthoinette Hines

Chen Holder
William Hooper
Tomorris Horne
Christopher Howard
Patricia Hunter
Terry Lawson
Derek Lewis
Brian Lindsay
Marcquett Linton
Melissa Lynch
Gerald Manning
Charlotte Martin
Cynthia May Audra McCoud
Michael McFadden
Larry McLaurin
Tony Necessary
Billie Jo Neely
Randall Newsome
Robert Norman
Clifford Owen
Brian Reid
Kennard Roberts
Gerald Robinson
LaDonna Rucker
Lamonte Rucker
Clark Russell

David Salling
Allen Scales
Reginald Shore
Sherry Smith
Vonda Smith
Richard Snowden
Carter Studard
Domanian Terry
Kevin Tyson
Anthony Vargas Matt Vest
Kenny Vista Micheal Walker
Robbie Westmoreland
Devon Williams
Paul Williams

What Do You Want As A Senior?

"I look forward to graduating, starting college, and leading my own life." — Michelle Tyler

"When I become a senior, I am going to look at the smaller freshmen and imagine myself there. Also, I can't wait until I graduate and head off toward California." — Jenn Lucas

"I'll be looking forward to graduating and going to college to fulfill my career in engineering." — Lewis Kiger

"Picking on the underclass-men and telling them where the elevator is." — Chris Farr

"Graduating!" — Won Yu

"When I become a senior, I want all the little freshmen to let me step on them." — Julie Potter

"Getting out of school in just one year." — Michelle Carver

"Being at the top." — Octavia Warren

"I am looking forward to making All-Conference in volleyball my senior year." — Kristina Woodruff

"Graduating from high school and going on to college" Pat Willis

"Going to Carolina and studying to be a pharmacist." — Jeana Shouse

Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty

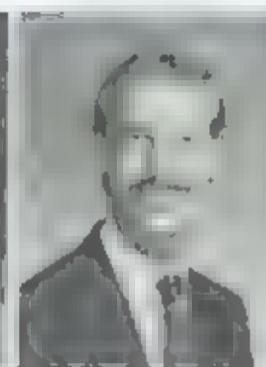

Class clown. After a hard day's work, English teacher Mrs. Susan Trotter lightens up the day with a humorous face, with a little help.

Research Papers Homework Lesson Plans
Tests Three O'Clock! Exams
Essays Summer Vacation

Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty

Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty

Joe Aured, Music
Marianne Ashby, Teacher's Aide
Sandra Averitt, Home Economics
John Boyt, Foreign Language
Scott Brent, Social Studies

Luther Brock, CDC
Eloise Brown, Foreign Language
Mary Anne Brown, English
Carolyn Burrell, English
Gray Cartwright, Phys. Education

Martha Cashwell, English
Anne Cave, Math
Tenia Clodfelter, CDC Aide
Judy Cowden, Asst. Prin
Paul Crinkley, Asst. Prin

Paul Dinkenor, Social Studies
Emmy Domozych, Marketing Dept.
Benjamin Dowell, Science
Sherman Ecock, Science
Mike Ferguson, Health

Marie Furches, English
Robert Garlow, ROTC
Gerolha Gentry, English
Walter Giner, ROTC
Cindy Goethals, English

Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty

faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty •

Bob Goodwin English
Barbara Gratto Media Center Aide
Mary Crissom Foreign Language
Norma Guhrie Main
Faye Hampton Spanish

Rebecca Hanes Math
Margotte Hill Math
Becky Hines Science
Martha Hix Business
Wendy Hunt Social Studies

Leona Hutchins Math
Gloria Ingram Phys Education
Anita Jackson Media Center
Barbara Johnson Foreign Language
Grace Johnson Science

Kimberly Kessinger Science
Jean King Secretary
Sonya Lawson Art
Maxine Leds Business
Jimmie Lewis Social Studies

Angela Colicero Science
Dawn Loggins Business
Betty Lucas Dr ICT
Glenda Martin Business
Dorothy McCarthy English

faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty •

Oh, No! Not Exams!

How Teachers Feel About The New Policy

Everyone knows that students had to take exams for the first semester this year. Teachers, as well as students, had problems adjusting to the new policy. The policy only gave students and teachers three days for exams and there was no make-up day. Therefore, teachers had to grade the exams on their own time.

When asked about how they felt about the new policy, teachers responded with mixed feelings. "Oh I love it" Mrs Gertha Gentry responded. "but we need time to grade them." Mrs. Mary Brown replied, "Taking the exam will be a worthwhile experience, but I dread grading those papers." Mr. Bob Goodwin added, "They show up, I'll give it."

Although teachers had their problems grading the exams, most seemed to go along with the idea of taking them "I think all students should take the exams," Mr. Ken Sloop stated. Mrs. Angela LoCicero added, "They (students) may think it's unfair but I think it's better for them."

Besides feeling that taking exams would be good for students, some felt that it was even fair to seniors. Mrs. Susan Spry stated, "It is not unfair because most seniors who had not taken any exams, need practice with the exam process". The teachers believed the exams would benefit the senior students in their post secondary educations

The exam policy did not reduce as many problems as expected. Most teachers felt that the only real problem with the policy was the grading period. According to teachers felt that exams were successful.

Some assembly required. Mrs. Sizman Ecock studies her exams together. Not only did the exams create more work for the students, but extra effort was required on the part of all the teachers.

You deserve a break today. Mrs. Deborah Tabor takes a long needed break from making out her mid-term exams. Although most teachers agreed that taking exams helped the students, the thought of grading all those papers was not very appealing or enjoyable.

Right Out Of The Blue!

Teachers Make "Different" Assignments

Remember that morning? You got out of bed, grumbled, complained, and finally dressed and left. Well, you were not alone. Many of you wished you did not have to go to school. So, you people thought school was a boring place where you did only book lessons and took tests. However, many students were pleasantly surprised to learn that school was not as hum-drum as they first anticipated. A few teachers assigned out of the ordinary tasks which included actual presidential elections, weddings, and divorce courts. Those assignments led to increased attention, enthusiastic participation, and sometimes even a stifled smile or an outright hoot of laughter. Were these actions possible in an environment where people were supposed to learn? You bet they were!

Mrs. Sandy Averitt, a home economics teacher, had her students perform a wedding ceremony complete with food for the reception, take care of five pound flour "babies," and go through the proceedings of a classroom divorce court. She stated "By acting out real life situations, students are able to realize the cost, time, and energy they take. The students learn better by involvement and I got 100% participation." Mr. Scott Brent, a government economics teacher, has his class perform a presidential campaign and election. He added, "These assignments put some variety into the study unit. They made class less boring and had a positive effect on the students." Lastly, Mr. Odon Shuler, also a government teacher, insisted, "My commercials let people use their imaginations and creative abilities toward a project."

Whether their homework made students laugh or bored them to tears, teachers worked hard to educate. Some taught by the book and others provided experience. Regardless the classroom education was often filled with terrific surprises.

Barefoot and pregnant Angie Hughes portrays a pregnant woman in Child Development which proved beneficial to students who plan to be mothers.

Video crazed Mr. Odon Shuler, a Government and Economics teacher, reviews some commercials his students made as a class project.

Taking the cake Many teachers had students bring in dishes for a "Food Day." Here, Melissa Green unwraps tempting brownies as Monica Jackson eagerly looks on.

ulty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Fa

Dorothy McLean, Phys. Education
Gloria Miller, English
Lydia Moore, Guidance
Mary Morgan, Home Economics
Dennis Moser, English

Carol Moss, English
Doris Moultry, English
Herman More, Guidance
Linda Murrell, Guidance
Jean Muse, Social Studies

Sylvia Neal, Math
Susan Nelson, Math
Ben Ne, DE ICT
Nanc Oakley, Science
Midred Peppers, Social Studies

Sarah Prevette, English
Bruce Ramsay, Industrial Arts
Avin Reid, Industrial Arts
Bonnie Rogers, Secretary
Fran Scott, Math

Marilyn Scott, Learning Disabil
Peggy Snow, Secretary
Margaret Shuford, Handicapped Aide
Olon Shuler, Social Studies
Virgil Simpson, Phys. Education

ulty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Fa

• Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty

Twenty-Five "Grant"

Mrs. Oakley Receives Study Grant

Only one $25,000 Christa McAuliffe federal grant was offered to teachers in the state, and Mrs Nancy Oakley, an anatomy and advanced biology teacher, was the recipient in North Carolina. Mrs Oakley was excited about this grant, along with her students. However, as Jennifer Best explained, there were some setbacks "I'm happy for Mrs. Oakley, but her project leaves us with two teachers, which is more difficult to understand."

Mrs. Oakley's proposed project was to research the cholesterol level of her students, along with some at West Forsyth. She planned to analyze diets, have trips to Bowman Gray, and conduct workshops for teachers across the state. Eventually, she will travel to Washington to present the results.

Mrs. Oakley has brought new fame to North Forsyth. Hopefully, this grant will prove an asset to the students here and at West Forsyth as well as the teacher who provided it.

What a set-up! Mrs. Nancy Oakley flaunts her new apparatus, which is used in her research project to test the levels of cholesterol in blood

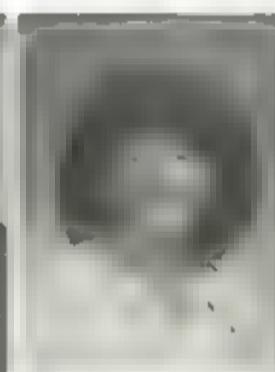

Susan Spry, COT

Bob Styron, Transportation

Nellie Swain, Transportation

Deborah Tabor CO-OP

Jean Tripp, Music

Susan Trotter, English

Doris Tucker, Math

Elizabeth Wackerhagen, Social Studies

Jake Ward, Industrial Arts

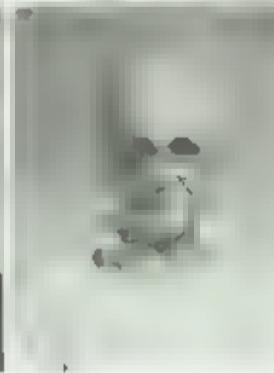

Benjamin Warren, Principa

Jane Westmoreland, Registrar

Leny Whitfield, Guidance

Rowland Wilkins, ROTC

• Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty • Faculty

Teachers Fulfill Dreams

What Happened To Make Them Want To Teach

Have you ever stopped to wonder why anyone would want to be a teacher? Just think of teaching 150 students everyday. Can you imagine grading 150 homework papers every night?

Luckily, there are some people who braved these tasks. Several teachers felt that they were influenced by an earlier teacher. Mr. John Boyst, a French and Spanish teacher, said, "I had teachers who influenced me in many positive ways, and I hoped that I could do the same for someone else." In addition, Mrs. Becky Haney, a math teacher, added, "My high school math teacher influenced my decision to study math while I was in college." Another math teacher, Mrs. Susan Nelson, stated, "I went into teaching because of the good feeling it gives me to think that I may make a positive difference in someone's life."

Each teacher had his own reason for choosing to become a teacher, as Mrs. Wynona Butner, a substitute Anatomy/Adv. Biology teacher, stated, "I grew up in the early forties when women either taught or went into nursing. Coming from a long line of teachers in my family, I chose to teach."

Whatever their reason, some teachers just felt they were destined to teach. Mrs. Gloria Miller, an English teacher, said, "I was just meant to be a teacher. I used to teach my dolls. I also enjoy working with teenagers. So here I am — a teacher."

Another English teacher, Mrs. Geratha Gentry stated, "I got a teaching certificate for a very practical reason — I could get a job. But, once I taught, I loved it and I would not do anything else."

All in all, teaching was found to be an influential and worthwhile profession despite all the hard work and tedious tasks.

Watching the clock. As Kurt Chester assists in cleanup, Mrs. Becky Haney keeps an eye on her watch waiting for him to finish

After hours Ricky Hornsby produces some artistic work for Mrs. Mary Grossom after class as she keeps a close eye on him helping along the way

Lending a helping hand. Mr. Bennie Dowe tutors Rebecca Ashby, after school, one of the main things he did in order to help his students understand the material more easily

A year
to...

Excel

Everyday students trudged to school for one purpose — to pursue knowledge. Like it or not, the academic part of school ws a pertinent part of everyone's school career.

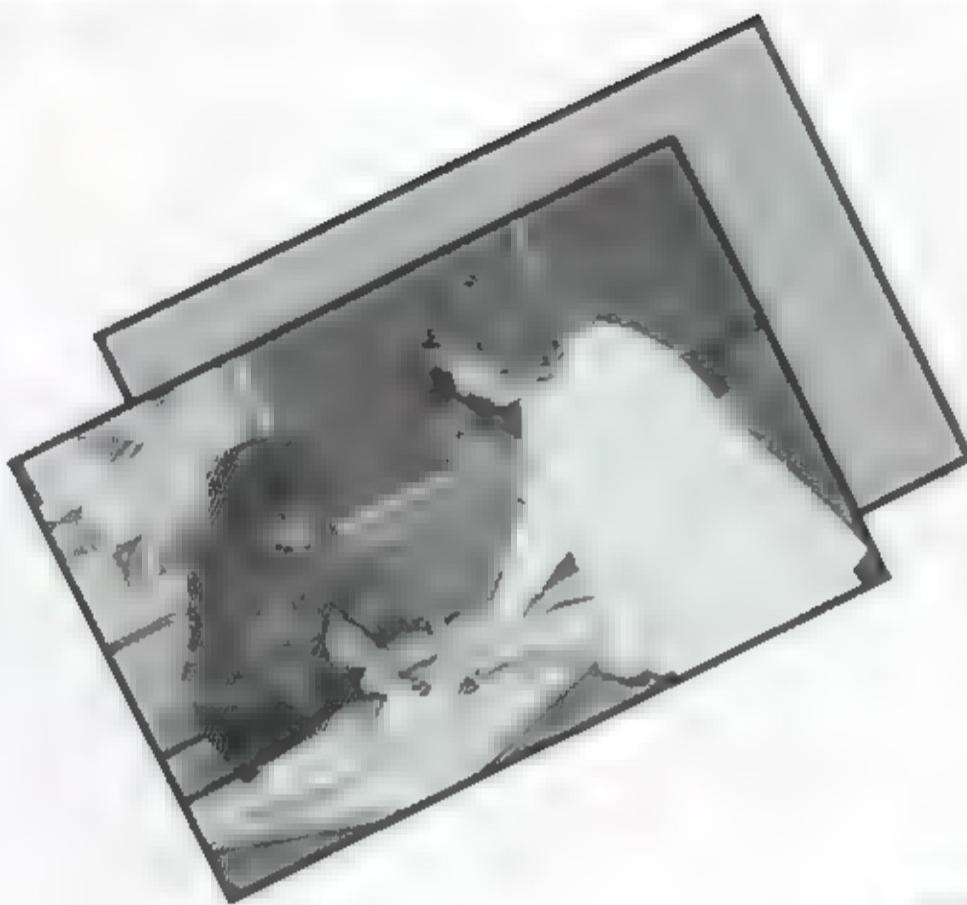

To help make the learning interesting, unusual courses were offered. For example, students could take an art course or even tax their brains and seek knowledge by taking advanced placement courses at the Career Center. For all those interested in journalism, students joined the yearbook staff or the newspaper staff. Furthermore, driver's education offered an unusual change from all the other normal classes.

Merchandising, one of the elective courses, was distinctive because it offered something special to those enrolled — a trip to New York. Anatomy and Biology courses were similar because they presented the students with an opportunity to study in the Bahamas for a week.

Year round, time in study hall was a favorite for many. Each chose how to use the time, studying or not. Many studied in the library while others helped gym teachers by being assistants. Students had ample opportunity to study for exams — something mandatory first semester for all students for the first time in years.

Pursuing academics after high school was also important to a large percentage of students. A Post Secondary Opportunity Session was offered at the Career Center where many colleges from all over the United States were represented for those facing a college decision.

Academics didn't have to be boring and students took it upon themselves to make it the best it possibly could be. With all that was offered, most everyone somehow had excitement added to their academic year in some form.

Grab it quick. Mrs. Susan Trotter and Amy Hudson, hurry to reach for their own personal disk in order to meet that evernearing deadline which all Norland staff members dreaded to face

Checking the data. Benjamin Martin takes a break in the action and turns to examine his neighbor's computer screen during the advanced placement computer courses for a little help

Watch those fingers. Using a gentle yet precise touch, Melissa Linn skillfully operates the small printing press found in Mrs. Whitehouse's art room in order to complete an assignment

On her free time, Molly Stanlev is a guidance page during her study hall. She does many important tasks for the Guidance department.

All Classes Aside

A Relief Period

Ahh, study hall. Finally a time to sleep, read, do homework, or even do nothing at all. Study halls, no matter when they may be, were a great break from the normal daily routine of the school day.

For some students, the importance of study halls was all in the timing. Dawn Giancy commented that she liked to have her study hall fifth period because, "I have only one class after lunch that way."

Instead of doing their own work, some people spent their free time helping other students. Chris Cooke, who had study hall in Mrs. LoCicero's class, stated, "Most of the time I sleep, but I also help others with chemistry because I had it last year." Tonya Atkins agreed, saying, "when I'm not talking across the room to my friends, I answer questions for people."

Many students in a study hall work for a teacher instead of helping other students. Scott Smith stated, "I usually just do whatever Mrs. Oakley wants me to do, if not that, I read a book." Another student Jamie Hicks, helped Mrs. Johnston put together the Soccer Spectacular programs during his free period.

Instead of helping others, some students concentrated their efforts on more interesting matters. For example, David Barger, who had his free period in the guidance office, commented, "I sleep, worry about college, and bug my guidance counselor."

Whether people spent their time in study halls relaxing, helping others, or doing homework, most would agree that this period was one of the most enjoyable parts of the school day.

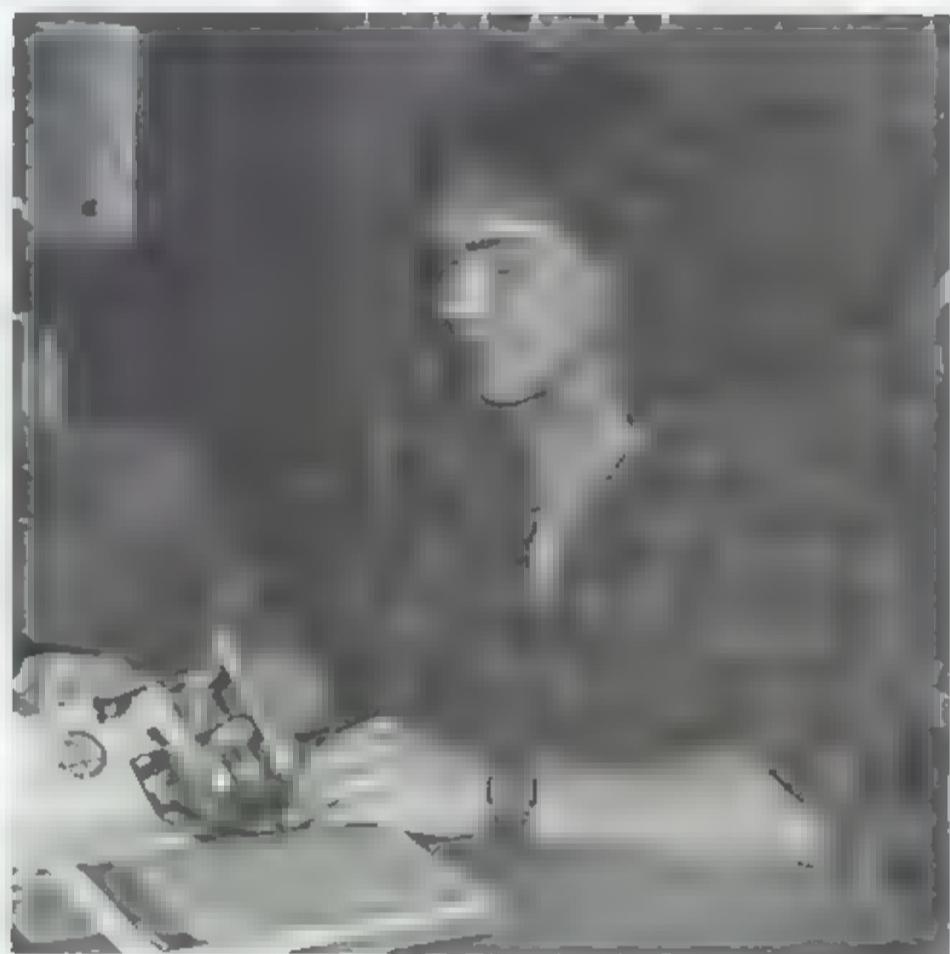

Some study hall students spent their study halls being office or guidance pages, or helping the Media Center by being library assistants. These students answered the phones, put files away, and got other students for guidance counselors. Their help was vital for the school's administration.

My buddy and me Like most students, Darcie Massaroni and Cheryl Butner go over their homework during their study hall to save time at home

All work and no play Fatima El helps Mrs. Johnston during her study hall giving up her chance to do last minute homework and take a quick nap

Chillin' in the stacks. Chris Wootton spends his study hall in the library looking at magazines and catching up on his reading and homework

Getting ready to go. Steve Stowe uses part of his study hall in the Guidance Office going over applications and other college information with his counselor

Let me tell you about it Joel Kilby and Jenni Powers have an involved discussion in their study hall, after passing out the morning announcements

Sitting down and staying awhile Spending his study hall in the library relaxing and chatting with friends. Mark Oill sits back and props his feet up Pinkahoo. Washing her art board for her next print, Traci Carr peeks out from under her hair at the rest of Mrs. Lawson's art class.

Lost in thought. In second period art class Ronnie Baldwin works hard to complete his picture, oblivious to everything else around him.

Artistry inclined? Sitting in their art class painting, the Potters, Mr. Keasey and Mr. Napper wait patiently for their next assignment.

Deep concentration. As he paints the trees on his oil pastel picture, Aaron Williams looks questioningly at his neighbor who is not so quiet.

Precision in motion. In her art class Wendy Venable carefully cuts the top away from her linoleum print, working to create a good board to make prints from.

Steady concentration. It takes a firm hand and a lot of patience to produce a sketch book worth an 'A', as Jarrod Scott demonstrates.

Talent At Work

Artists In The Making

Do you like to draw, but just do not feel you are good enough to take an art class, or are you left handed? If you answered yes to just one of these, you may have the characteristics of one of the world's greatest artists. Most anyone could learn to draw with work, but many have inherited traits which make it easier.

No one person could give the definition of a good artist, so thinking you are not good enough to take art was starting off on the wrong foot. Art is a course designed to make students aware that they are dealing with visual symbols. Art is like writing; everyone may write differently, but if it is recognizable it is okay. Mrs. Whitehouse tried to work really hard on self-confidence. Chris Wolff realized why he worked so hard on self-confidence, "I had a low image of myself when it came to school work. It seemed like I just couldn't do anything good at all until I took art and found I could draw pretty good."

An artist many times has difficulty in math or is left-handed for good reasons. The brain is divided into separate hemispheres, the right and left, which control different body functions and thought patterns. Mrs. Whitehouse observed, "When a student does well in art, math is extremely hard to him because math is in the left hemisphere of the brain, and art is in the right hemisphere; therefore, the art student will develop the right side of the brain where it controls art. Jimmy Palmer supported this statement. "I have always enjoyed drawing, but math has always been my weakness. In high school I have done well in art, but terrible in math." While the right side of the brain controls art, it also controls the left side of the body. Left-handed people generally develop their right hemisphere much more than the left; therefore, the thought pattern for art becomes more highly developed. A good example of a left-handed artist is Leonardo D' Vinci.

Artists many times have a tendency to be left-handed or have trouble in math because of the organization of the brain; however, anyone has the ability to learn to draw with a lot of hard work and perseverance. "I did not think I could draw at all, but I took art and discovered I was able to learn to draw," said Lara Carroll. Overall, art students were a special and talented group of people.

In Depth. Taking notes in Mrs. Elizabeth Whitehouse's art class, Cathy Quinn and Chris Sinclair ponder the notes and assignment they have been given.

A.P. Courses

When You're Gone Too Far

Here I go again. Rushing across the parking lot at the Career Center, Samantha Merritt tries to get to her English class before the 7:25 bell rings.

Can you imagine leaving home at 6:45 and driving all the way across town just to take classes that you have to struggle in? This is how many of North's students started each day. The Career Center held many challenges and opportunities for the academically gifted students, but only the strong survived the world of AP.

A unique insight into the world of AP was evident by several students' remarks about their impressions of the Career Center. James Jones, for instance, remarked that "the work is hard and the classes are tough, but it will help me in college." This was a common statement from North's students, but few have given in to the pressures of hard work. They realized that all of their hard work this year would benefit them later on in their collegiate careers.

Nevertheless, several Vikings felt a little lost. Grayson Horn said, "I read two chapters (computer science) and don't remember a thing." Another student, Greg Cockerham, stated; that he "simply felt lost."

It became clear that AP classes were no joke, and the work was very real. Every night students worked late into the night to finish work. However, all the AP students from North showed the courage to face the challenges.

Yet another stumbling block that faced students from North was the early morning drive to the Career Center. The first bell rang promptly at 7:23 and class began immediately. North's students had to be up early and ready for action.

The first session of AP courses reeked havoc among the sleeping schedules of all the AP students. One Viking, Ellen Christensen, when asked about the morning drive responded, "sometimes I just drive with my eyes closed."

Ellen was not the only student to feel the early morning blues. David Harton, another AP student, remarked, "I'm not awake until I leave." This might have been stretching the truth a little bit, but it did have some merit.

Taking Advanced Placement classes forced students to settle down and really get serious about school. Overcoming the many obstacles of these courses helped to build a stronger student.

The question of whether to take AP courses or not to take AP courses could not be easily answered. There were many factors to take into consideration. Students had to give up some of their spare time for extra studying and preparation. However, two things are certain: The work was hard, requiring 110% from every student, and the rewards at the end of the year were worth it all.

An Apple a day keeps the syntax errors away! Diligently working with the mouse on his Macintosh, Roger Dalton finished another program for Mr. Ken Sloop's fourth period computer course.

On your mark, get set... Taking off their jackets and heading for the pencil sharpener, Dana Steelman and Amy Simpson get ready for another early morning calculus class.

Just a little help from a friend. Dan Kinsinger explains a new class program to Tim Sied with some help at work was the name of the game.

Please step aside. Waiting patiently to get into an Advanced Placement English class, Anita Gaujean manages a smile for the possessive Mr.

Have you heard the news? Standing on the hall waiting for their calculus class to begin, Derek Allen catches Nick Spates up on the events of the evening before.

Can I have your attention, please?
Patients, watch, to be called on.
Sherry England raises her hand to participate in a class discussion

Fashionmongers

Discovering Fashion Careers

Fashion, fashion everywhere but not a thing to wear. These may have been your exact words as you stumbled out of bed every morning trying to find that special look or style. Did you ever get tired of asking yourself what was "in", do these match, and will there ever be a method to morning dressing madness? Well, you worried no longer, because there was hope. All you had to do was look up a fashion merchandising student.

One might wonder what goes on in a class about fashion. Deve' Napper insists, "work, work, and more work!" Sounds like the average Honors English course, doesn't it? Well, it isn't. This course, taught by Dr. Lucas, was where fashion styles from the past were compared and contrasted with today's exotic fads. Despite the hard work, many students braved the lectures and lessons and found it quite rewarding. Tonya Forte replied, "It's fun to compare the different styles of clothing." In addition, her classmate Katherine Ebbert added, "I've always had a flair for fashion." Sallie Davis felt that "Fashion is the key to everyone's personality and there's a lot of personality at North."

Since fads change so often, there was always some kind of discussion in class as to what was currently "hot". Kathy Landy observed the fads around school and stated, "Acid washed is in." However, Melissa Lynn said, "I think tie-dye is the key." Shar- etha Bruton had her own opinion by saying, "Girls are wearing more tight calf length skirts. I like that."

By enrolling in a fashion merchandising course, a student discovered what a marketing career involved, whether this type of work appealed to them, and how well their fashion sense could be applied to a merchandising job. Fashion merchandising taught students how to coordinate their own clothes, as well as how to market clothes and accessories.

Head of the class. Leading one of her classes in a group discussion, Dr. Beth Lucas explains an aspect of the marketing field to her attentive students.

Hold that thought. Showing deep concentration during a lecture in her fashion merchandising class, Anja Dittner exhibits a keen interest in this field.

Not too serious. Relaxing before class starts, Toni Hairston and Tonia Oliver enjoy a break from the hard work and study required for their fashion class

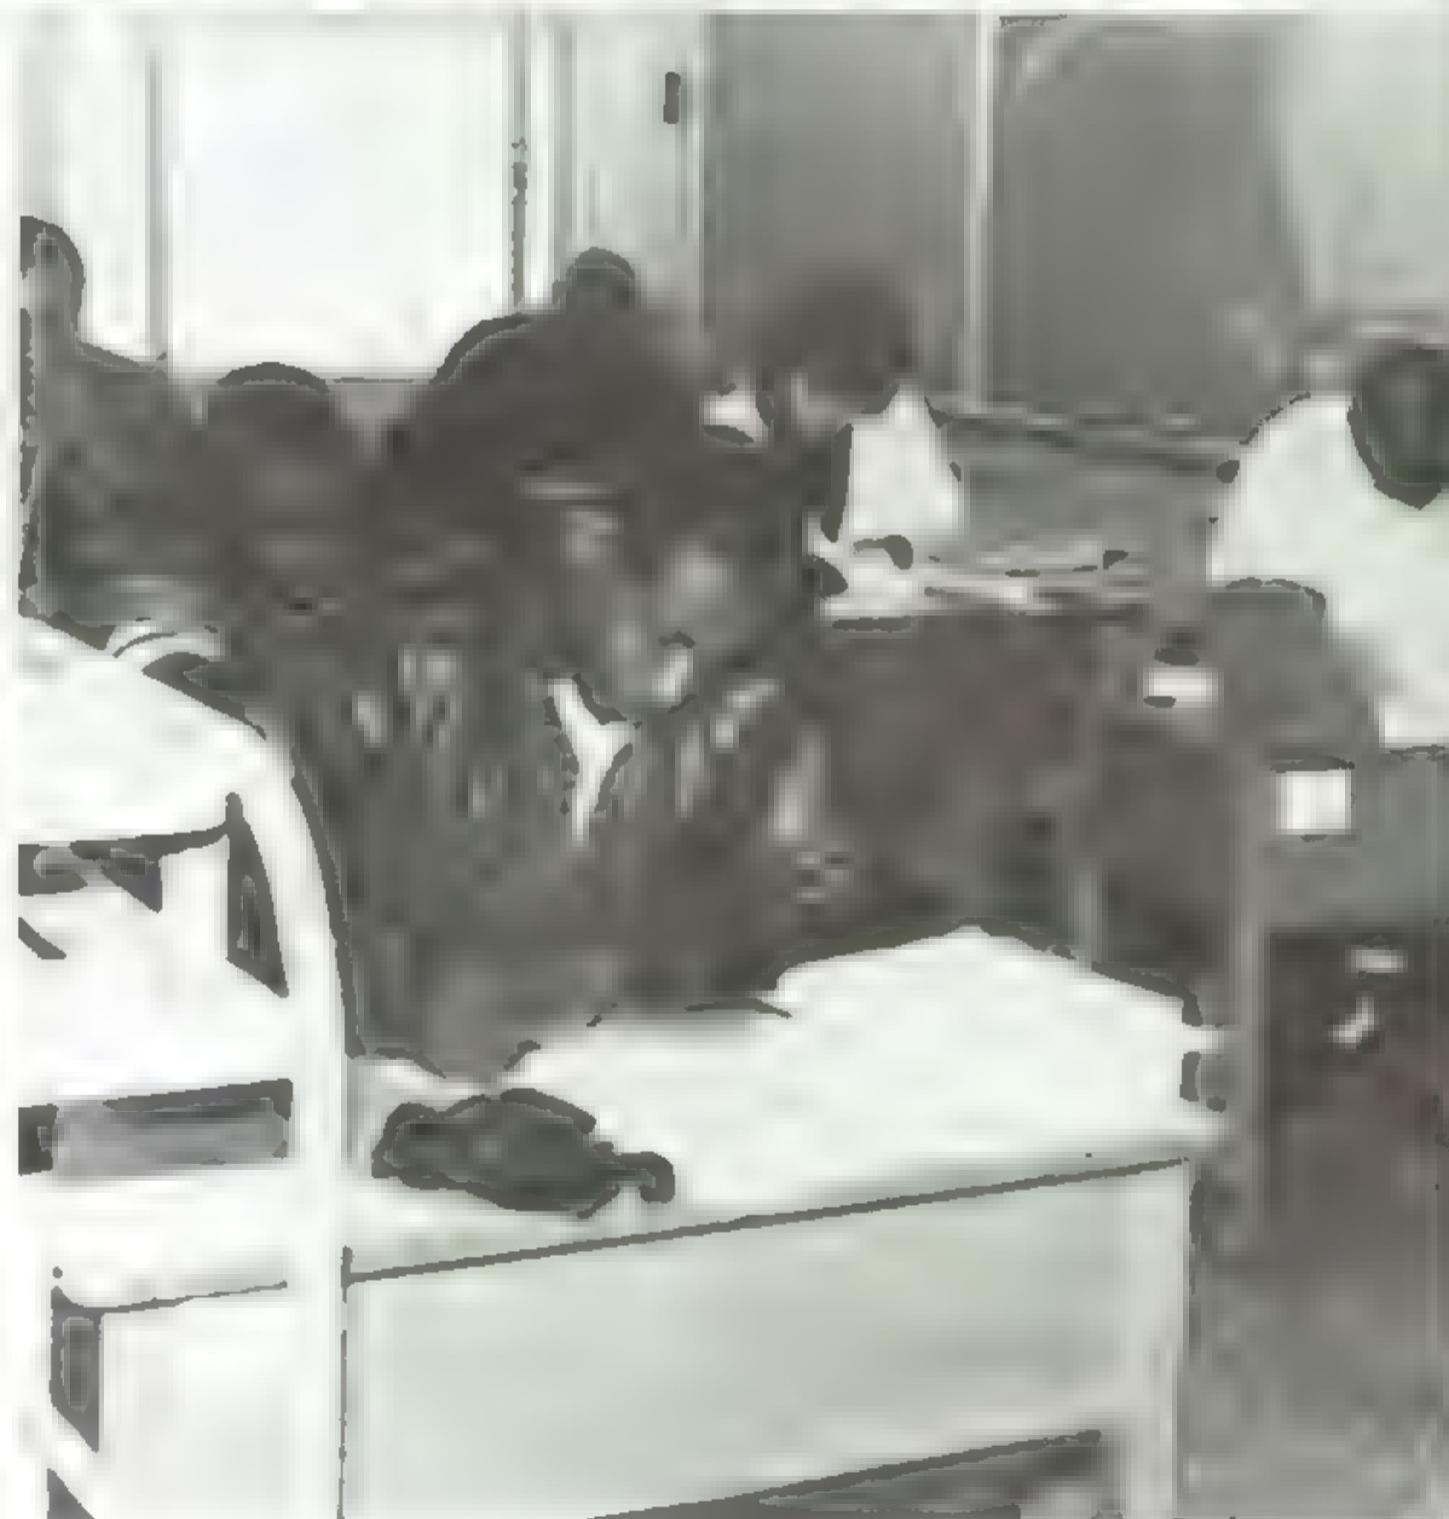

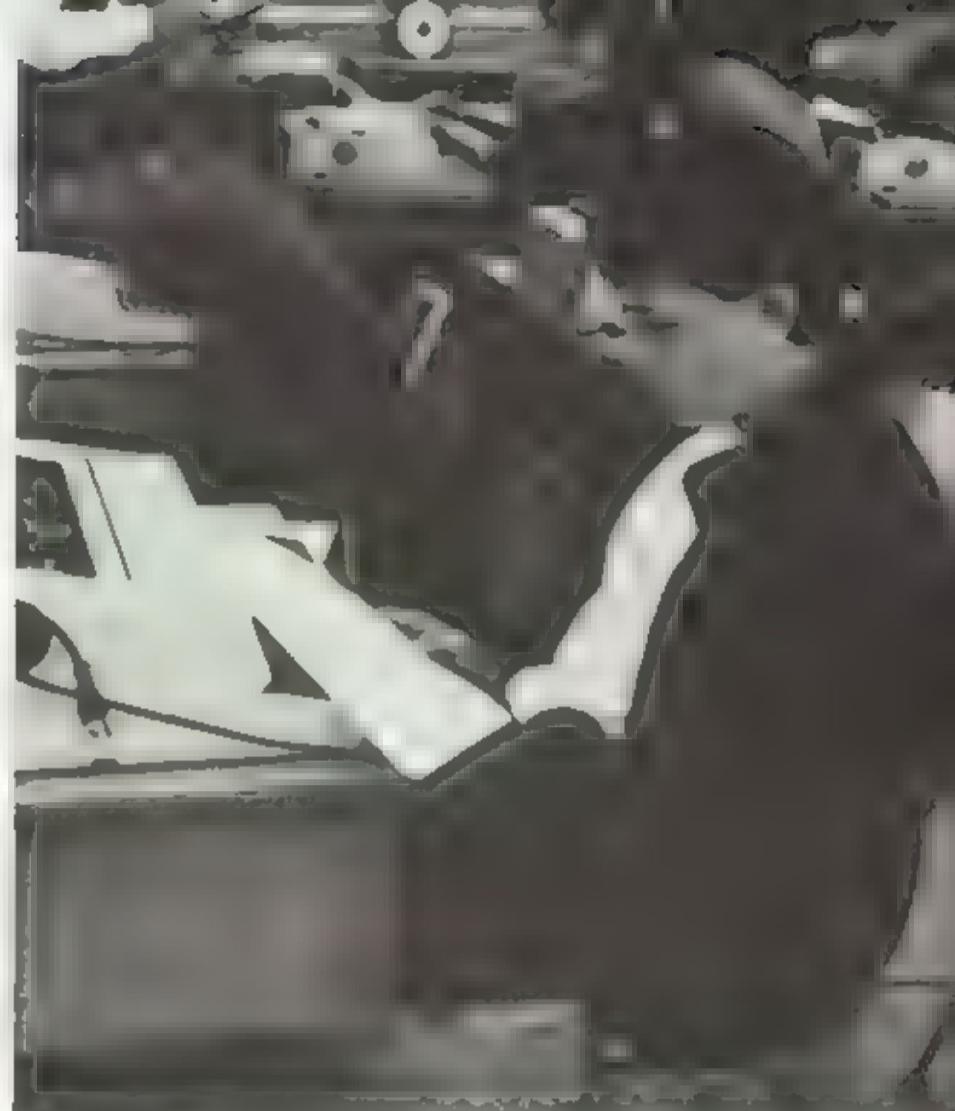

How long 'till lunch? Michelle Miller and Sharetha Bruton study their last few moments before lunch in Dr. Beth Lucas's Fashion Merchandising class

Caught up the the thrill. Sitting in her fashion merchandising class, Crystal Spainhour goes over last night's fashion merchandising homework assignment

Monday blues Checking over a typing problem that he received from Mrs. Martin's class, Jason Long wonders why these things always come on Mondays.

High hopes Working in Mrs. Joe Loggins' accounting class, Chad Bumpkins adds his accounting problem up and hopes that his answers will check out.

Keys to success Working hard in Mrs. Glenda Martin's introduction to Computers class, Jennifer Nickerson types in her computer program.

Solving and Double-checking Some of his class work in his Business Law course, Adrian Martin checks the problem for careless mistakes.

Commerce Careers

Executives In The Making

What are your future plans? What type of career do you plan to pursue? What type of job are you planning for? Students preparing for a business career had already found answers to these questions, and began taking steps to pursue their goals. Typewriting, accounting, and shorthand were a few of the business courses that were offered.

Business courses gave students the chance to explore basic skills in the fields of their choice. Typing was a popular business course that many students found rewarding. For instance, Keshea Montgomery said, "I took typing because it may help me in college or later when I get a job. It is good to know something besides basic school classes like English, biology, etc." Another typing student, Sandra White remarked, "I took typing because I feel like it could help me to find a job later on. I can use typing throughout high school and in college."

In addition to typing, accounting was a course that gave students first hand experience. For example, accounting student Beth Mueller stated her motives for taking the course like this, "I took advanced accounting because someday I hope to be a Certified Public Accountant."

Some students enrolled in business courses that related to the career they were interested in, but was not actually a part of that field. For example, Carla Hauser commented, "I took typing because I feel that I will probably need it later in life since many jobs involve working with computer keyboards." Many of the skills learned applied to more than one area that a student was interested in.

Whether their aspirations were to be a secretary, head of a large corporation, receptionist, or just to have a successful and profitable career, business courses proved to be the starting point for many students.

The numbers game. Their adding machine sits quietly while Jeni Powers' and Marcus Wilson's attention is drawn to another classroom happening.

No peeking! Tracie Conrad steals a peek at her fingers while typing a five minute writing in Mrs. Maxine Leak's first period Typewriting I class.

All packed up and ready to go. Resting their tired typing fingers, Robin Schlofeldt and Rebecca Ashby take time out to catch up on the latest gossip.

Living It Up

The Great Bahamas Escape

The Bahamas — what a perfect place to go for a trip in January. On this field trip you could lay on the beach or hunt for sand dollars and not even be counted absent from school. Sounds great, but the students that went to Andros Island with Mrs. Oakley did more than relax. The Bahamas combined learning with a spirit of adventure.

The highlight of the trip for most was snorkeling the barrier reef. Jodi Valencic said, "Seeing fish that I had previously seen only in encyclopedias is something I'll never forget!" Brian Thompson added, "I learned that a barracuda can't attack unless you are bleeding." The beautiful scenery that most only see in National Geographic was experienced first-hand by the ten Biology and Anatomy students.

Along with learning about nature, the students were able to experience some of the "culture" of the inhabitants by daily

Caught in the act. Mrs. Nancy Oakley gets her bag after a day in the surf mingling and attending a church service. Lucy Johnston stated, "It was a very unique experience. The Bahamians have a much more relaxed atmosphere during the service." It was also one chance to wear jeans and t-shirts to church.

Each day's activities ended with a study session. Dawn Glancy summed up the topics by saying "We studied the formation of the island and the fish and plants of the island. We also took a nature walk on which we learned what we could eat."

Beyond gaining academic knowledge, the students learned how to live without the usual luxuries. Mark Parks explained, "I got used to the cold showers very quickly." They also had to go without electricity, with the exception of lights, which went off at ten o'clock each night.

The students that received the privilege of going on this trip had a well-rounded experience that could not be obtained from any text book.

Hanging loose. Taking time out, Mark Parks, Julie White, Lucy Johnston, Tonya Atkins, and Anita Galyean relax outside their luxury accommodations.

Solid as a rock. Standing back to back, Dawn Glancy and Jodi Valencic enjoy the wonderful experience of being in a tropical climate in January.

A change of pace. Enjoying a pastime that is not usually available in January Dawn Glancy, Lucy Johnston, Tonya Atkins, and some frier is take n some late afternoon sun

A different twist. Among the natural wonders and other fascinating new sights, Brian Thompson finds a good old basketball and spends the afternoon shooting some hoops

Fun in the sun. Mark Parks and Lucy Johnston show that the Bahamas trip was not only a chance to learn, but many new friendships were also established

Laid back. Relaxing after a long day of snorkeling, boating, swimming, and just plain having fun. Chris Arnold sits with Jenni Shoaf as she stretches on the sand

Check this out. Lani Rieker shares some information worth looking into with Nancy Georgitis amid the hustle of the crowd at the Career Center

Pit stop Meenda Bel and Tracie Hawkins pause for a moment to make sure that they have not missed seeing any important college representatives

The First Step Looking Into Colleges

Undecided about your plans after high school? Lost in the swamp of colleges you have to choose from? Are you and your family buried alive under mail from colleges you have never heard of? Unable to contact the colleges that interest you? If this hits close to home, the answer to your problems is Post Secondary Opportunity Session, or more familiarly, College Night at the Career Center. At this year's College Night, over 100 colleges from around the state sent representatives to the Career Center to meet with students. Andre Huie explains, "College Night helped me find out about the different colleges, what they offer, the requirements for admission, and the cost. College Night also helped me get applications and other information on the colleges."

Most seniors found this chance to talk with college representatives very helpful in finalizing their college plans. Lucy Johnston commented, "At College Night I found out that I have two months to worry. The representatives from the colleges I applied to told me that they do not let you know if you have been accepted until after December!"

College Night was not only for seniors, juniors and sophomores also attended and began planning the future. Junior Kim Kiger stated, "I attained a lot of information about different colleges. This helped familiarize me with various colleges and what types of fields they have to offer. College Night also helped me narrow down my choices as far as what college to attend." This gave underclassmen a head start on their college preparations.

Even though College Night was a great help to most students, the abundance of choices was sometimes a bit overwhelming. Derek Long confirmed this by saying, "College Night at the Career Center helped me get more information on different colleges I realized all of the colleges that I had to choose from. It did not help in choosing a college; it was just very informative." Damon Lyons added, "College Night helped me learn about colleges that I normally would not have even heard of."

Overall, Post Secondary Opportunity Session is an important tradition that has helped many students make the right decisions. Judy McSwain described her College Night experience a little bit differently. She reported, "College Night at the Career Center . . Well, there's a big room and several tables all piled up with brochures and the like. Then you are handed a little plastic bag to put everything in. It is a bit like trick-or-treating."

Do you see what I see? Joy Pitts, Jerry Overby, Shawn Wooten and Margaret Wages look over what Eton College has to offer them.

Group Discussion Pat Caesar, Chris Cooke and Anthony Ingram scope a college application trying to decide which school appears to them.

Last night on the dotted line College night was a good opportunity for students to get on the mailing list of their favorite college.

Administration dedication. Checking with Coach Cartwright to make sure his job has been done well, Wil Toburen pauses for a moment to rest and watch his class play basketball

All temperature cheer. Diligently stuffing towels into the washing machine, Jamie Hicks does every gym assistant's chore, towel duty, with a smile on his face Totally in control. Watching his gym class play volleyball, Linell Johnson props his feet up and waits to unlock the dressing rooms.

A Right Hand Man

Gym Assistants

Do you remember those people in your gym class who handed out towels and gym uniforms and who you always had to wait on to open the locker room? These students were the physical education assistants who lent a helping hand to the coaches whenever they were needed. Each assistant gave up his study hall in order to take on an added responsibility for the purpose of gaining dependability and leadership.

What would ever encourage a student to want to become a coaches assistant in class. Will Toburen replied, "It's a lot better than sitting in a desk in a boring study hall. Sometimes I get to play basketball."

Students in the P.E. classes often depended heavily on the gym assistants. Donald Brown stated, "I have to make sure that the locker room is locked up so that none of the students' stuff gets stolen." This was one of the many jobs of the assistant which was appreciated by the classes.

In addition, P.E. assistants tried their best to help the students get in and out of the locker room and to their next class without being tardy. "They depend on us to get towels and gym suits for them so they won't be late," said Linell Johnson.

All of these responsibilities built leadership. As a result, many of the students looked up to them for guidance. Jimmy Palmer stated, "They ask how they can become a gym assistant."

All of the jobs undertaken by the P.E. assistants were a tremendous help to the coaches and without this help the coaches probably would have had a much greater load on themselves. Coach Jimmy Addison stated, "The assistants have many jobs such as washing and distributing towels and supervising the locker rooms to protect the students' belongings. They are a big help to us. It's like having another arm."

The P.E. assistants do not have to give up their time. If they did not, the coaches would have a lot more to do and the classes probably wouldn't run as smoothly. A gym assistant was the picture of true dedication. He was always where he was needed most, faithfully giving up his free period.

Man of steel. Moving the side of the volleyball net for his gym class, Patrick Creasy helps out like all gym assistants do

Here come the towels. Turning the corner towards the locker room, Steve Hannah pulls the cart full of dirty towels to the wash room, pausing to see if there are any more to be washed before he goes

Another year Todd, a first year student in the music education track, has another week to work to make his students realize that classical music can be makes perfect and concentrate more on their music selection. Using a video projector, Todd is become the best violinists possible.

Playing Beethoven's first. Playing music as intricate as Beethoven's takes extensive practice as well as concentration as Steve Laird demonstrates during first period strings class.

Focus on the arts. Warming up in her first period strings class, Sugar Roberts begins to get her fingers ready to play intricate violin notes.

A Classical Art

Strings Classes Strum Along

Relaxing in front of a cozy fire — enjoying beautiful music — your fingers deftly playing your strings instrument — sound like a pretty picture? These were some of the pleasures you could have gotten from taking strings. Strings students played a variety of instruments such as the violin, viola, and cello. Strings student Tina Holler described her love for the violin like this, "I have always loved music, and playing the violin gives me a chance to really get a good feel of the music we play."

Learning to play a strings instrument took effort and dedication, but the rewards were worth the time spent. Some strings students had been learning to master their instruments for almost six years. For instance, Julie Alspaugh stated, "When I was in the fifth grade my mother told me I'd hate playing the violin the next year I started playing it and loved it. The music made by a violin is the most beautiful music in the world."

There were many reasons why students opted to undertake a strings instrument. Erica Enscore's motive was very practical, she said, "The class is a good way to take your mind off things, and it looks good on your record for college." On the contrary, Steve Laing's reason for playing the violin was more sentimental. He remarked, "I enjoy playing the violin and I love music."

Mastering a strings instrument required patience, but was well worth the trouble taken. Strings students benefited not only from the beautiful music they produced, but also from the relaxing side effects their instruments provided. Sonya Starbuck summed up most strings's students feelings when she simply said, "I've always loved music, and I enjoy playing the violin." Strings proved to be a rewarding as well as challenging elective.

Great musician at work. Closing his eyes and concentrating on the music he is making with his violin, James Moody plays his first string selection.

Captive audience. Erica Enscore warms up her fingers and tunes up her violin before strings class, as Wendy Doty looks on with captive interest.

Awesome twosome. Sharing the same music stand as they strum along side by side, Morty Cager and Kerrie Uteff show how well seniors and freshmen can work together.

What's my cue? Using her script to ensure that she does her lines correct and on time Catherine Long practices with the rest of her class

The art of expression Practicing his lines for a drama skit, Al Doomy goes through his part with Jill Jewell to further improve from her advice

This is the hard part Away from the glamour of acting on the stage, Marcia Williamson takes the time that is necessary to learn her lines well.

Theatre Arts Learning Dramatic Expression

Have you ever wanted to be like your favorite actress or actor? Would you be interested in learning to express yourself in front of a large group of people? Do you consider discovering the "real you" important? If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, drama classes were the place for you. Drama was a good way for students to learn speaking and communication skills. As Mark Moore put it, "Drama is one of the better elective classes offered."

Although students enrolled in drama classes for different and individual reasons, Mrs. Maggie Griffin, the drama teacher, was the greatest influence over them. Cassie Bowen commented, "I really enjoy the class. Mrs. Griffin treats us all as individuals, and like we were all her age. She is a great teacher." Another drama student, Crystal Wooten, remarked, "Drama is fun because Mrs. Griffin treats us all as equals."

Mrs. Maggie Griffin taught her students how to be confident when speaking in front of others. She coaxed many of them out of their self-consciousness into confident speakers. Drama class induced students to learn to express their feelings. Theresa Sapp said, "Drama is 'bad' because Mrs. Griffin leaves you free to be yourself." In addition, Maricka Mouzon expressed her views like this, "I feel like the drama class has brought a lot of people out of their shy stage. This is a great class." Another incentive for students to enroll in drama class was to gain experience for the school production at the end of the year. The experience gained through drama class proved to be an invaluable experience for getting parts in the play. This was shown by the number of drama students that earned leading roles.

Drama was a challenge in self control, an experience in group speaking, and a thrill to the normal school day for those who undertook it.

Whether students were self confident before they took drama or not, everyone felt more capable after the course. Drama encouraged shy people to be outgoing, and improve everyone's self image. Drama was considered one of the best electives available.

A critical analysis. While watching some of their classmates perform a skit, Jeffrey Griffin turns to Beau Chidress to share his opinion.

Terrific teamwork Going through one of their skits for drama class. Winnie Craft and Joss Williams practice on the stage for the rest of their peers

Captive audience Waiting to rehearse a skit for the class, Jason Williams and Cecilia James take one last moment to look at their script

Not all fun and games Tina Georgeff and Heather Brophy show that drama class is not just another goof off period as they spend their class time learning lines

Change of pace Getting on the stage to offer some advice to her classmates, Kristen Ebot gets in some last minute words before reinserting her sucker

Those Iemanians. Why do chemists often have a chemistry lab? Because they can remove all the dirt and grime from their experiments.

(con't. fishing) After school Mr. Benjamin Dowell shows Scott Smith some of the more interesting fish in the tank in the chemistry room.

First insight Working gently on existing problems from which focuses on completing her assignment etc he can either pass or fail

2nd hours to go with James Miles and Eddie McDaniels can obtain check their credit to see if their chemicals for Mrs. Angele's chemistry class completely evaporated

Love through bug eyes Rhonda Debnam and Chad Simmons get a closer as they mass their chemicals for an experiment; precise measurements were a necessity

Dr. Jeckel or Mr. Hyde? Working with his elaborate chemistry lab setup Jason Williams adds the finishing touches to his complicated experiment

A Closer Look

The Chemical And Physical Sciences

Some students this year braved the threat of explosions and fire to enroll in courses that more than challenged their mental ability. The common names for these classes were not 'Learning how to create dangerous situations' or 'Lighting up your lab partner in ten minutes', but Chemistry and Physics. Lam Reker described her reason for taking Physics like this, "It's an exciting new experience, an in-depth understanding of why things work."

Chemistry and Physics offered students the chance to decide whether or not they wanted to make a career out of chemical science Jennifer Moore said, "I took chemistry to explore all areas I might be interested in, but it is very apparent that Karen Davis and I will never make a living as Chemists. I just hope we don't blow up the school!"

Once people got into their chemistry or physics classes, they had mixed feelings about them. Sebrina Wagoner commented, "The experiments are very different out of this world really." Darian Street felt that her physics class was difficult, but manageable when she remarked, "Physics is mostly calculus, trigonometry functions. It's difficult." Hwan Yu enjoyed his physics class because he 'loves to look at Mrs. LoCicero'. David Whitaker, a junior, had an opposite view from many of his peers. David believed, "Chemistry is an easy course I got a 93 first quarter! It's just equations, and elements and stuff a fifth grader could do!"

Whether students took chemistry and/or physics to help get them into college or just to expand their horizons, these courses proved to be profitable. In addition, chemistry and physics students impressed teachers as well as colleges with their ability to excel in these challenging elective courses.

Scientific struggles. In her own little station, far away from other classmates, Jean Canady ponders some of Mr. Benjamin Dowell's harder chemistry problems

Hot for the press. Lorrie Pate jots down a quick idea in yearbook class as she attempts to finish a feature story for the Cynosure

A view to a kill. Amy Shouse stares down all who dare to oppose her, as David Barger helps her with an article for the news page of The Norland

When two great minds get together Samuel Richardson III and Valerie Coats discuss final plans for the Clubs' Section for the Cynosure

No sleep till deadline! Tonya Styers News Editor of The Norland, almost nods off while concentrating on a story for the Norland

Oh No! Deadline!

Journalism At Its Best

Have you ever contemplated staying after school until six or seven o'clock, night after night? Have you ever considered spending one of your Saturdays at school typing? Does the thought of spending hours tied down to a computer make your blood run cold? These are all questions the members of The Norland and Cynosure staffs had to consider before accepting the responsibility that their staff positions demanded. When asked about his position, News Editor of The Norland, Jeffrey Griffin said, "It is extremely challenging and there is never a dull moment. I have learned and accomplished more with such a small group of people; it is sometimes hard to believe. It is wonderful."

Even though the journalism staffs faced tremendous deadline pressure, both staffs worked as teams to get the job done.

Angela Royall, Sports Editor of

The Cynosure stated, "The best part about being on the yearbook staff is the way we all pull together and help each other out when we have to make a deadline." Amy Hudson added, "I enjoy being Editor-in-Chief of The Norland because it is a great challenge and because I get to work with ten great and talented people!"

Members of the journalism staffs worked hard and learned a lot about writing as well as the school. Sometimes The Norland or the Cynosure took up an excessive amount of an editor's time, but everyone agreed the final product was worth the effort. Journalism prospered through teamwork. Burke Bovender, Features Editor of The Norland, commented, "It's not that hard because Mrs. Trotter guides us with her helping hands."

Whether a person became a member of The Norland or the Cynosure staffs to improve their writing skills, make close friends, or just to get involved with their school, the final products turned out well. As Philip Lawton described his experience of being Student Life Editor of the Cynosure, "Yearbook has allowed me to become closer friends with the people on the staff, and also has allowed me to learn more about the people at school." Missy Cockerham liked her position as Business Manager of The Norland for different reasons. She liked her job because "I handle the money, and that gives me a feeling of power." Elif Erginer summed up everyone's feelings by remarking "The yearbook takes up a lot of time, but the friendships I have made make the work worth the time spent."

Work your fingers to the bone Index Editor Bryant Wilson patiently puts student and faculty names on his cards for the index of the Cynosure.

Norland staff Front row: Missy Cockerham, Business Manager, Photography
Amy Hudson, Editor-In-Chief Billy Wilson, Editorials Editor, Margaret Wages.
Editorials Editor, Amy Shouse, Sports Editor, Nikki Spates, Features Editor; Mrs.
Susan Trotter, Advisor Back Row: Jeffrey Griffin, News Editor Burke Bovender, Features Editor, Tonya Styer, Sports Editor; David Berger, Sports Editor

Cynosure staff Front row: Ellen Christensen, Photography Editor; Lorrie Pate, Editor-In-Chief; Kathy Wray, Student Life Editor; Marcia Williamson, Classes Co-Editor; Angela Royall, Sports Editor; Lauren Beres, Photographer; Sondra Long, Academics Editor; Mrs. Gloria Miller, Advisor Back Row: Tim Sudderth, Sports Editor, Samuel Richardson III, Clubs Editor, Elif Erginer, Classes Editor, Philip Lawton, Student Life Editor, Bryant Wilson, Index Editor

The was skiing me. Greg Hunter, Michele Moorefield, Todd Danner, Amy Hudson and Chris Cooke try to prepare for their Mat v. exam.

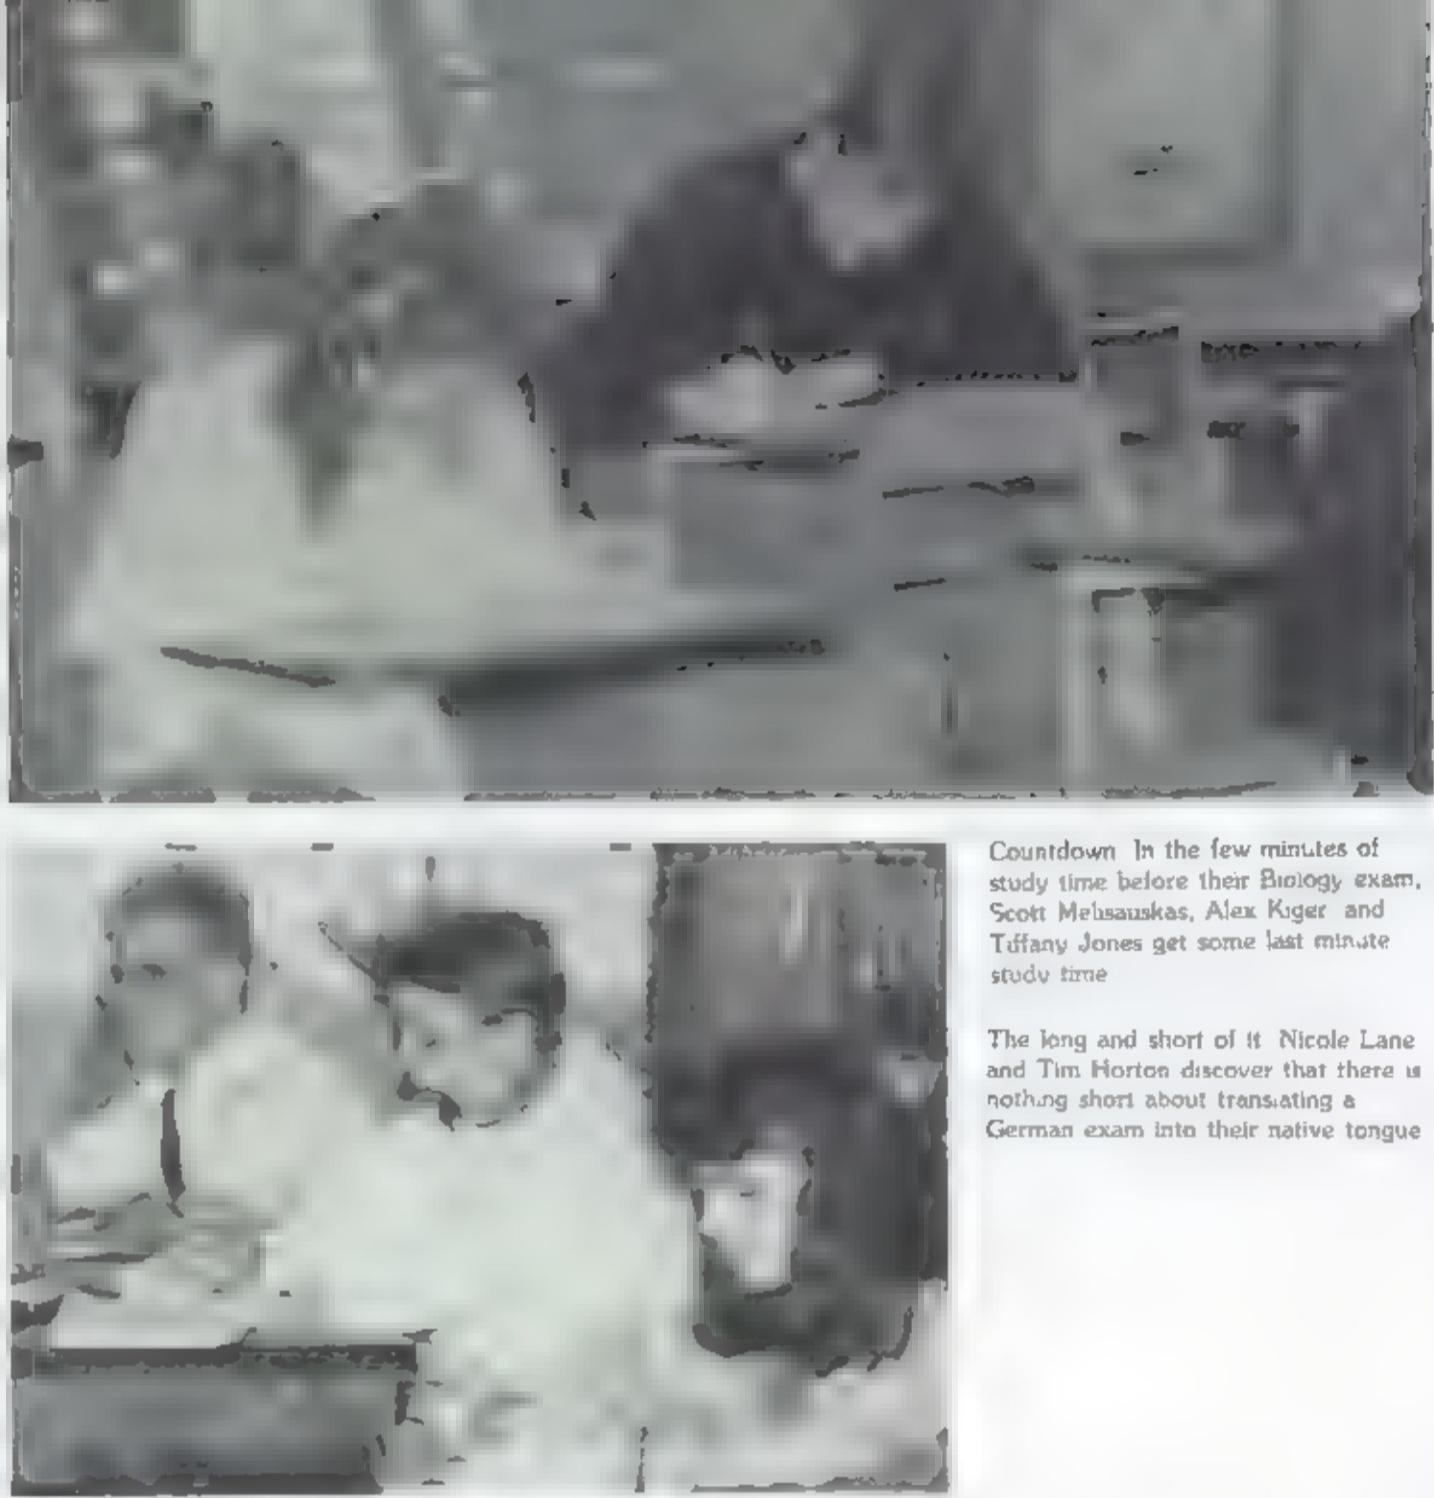

lost in thought? Sitting in her chemistry lab station far away from other classmates, Sean Kennedy ponders some of her chemistry problems.

Excuse me? After being interrupted from his sixth period physics exam, John Scarlina looks up to see who or what suddenly stopped his train of thought.

The late take: Working hard afterschool to makeup Mrs. Angelia LoCicero's chemistry exam, Ken Cartier relies on his calculator as well as his memory.

Countdown In the few minutes of study time before their Biology exam, Scott Mehsauskas, Alex Kuger and Tiffany Jones get some last minute study time

The long and short of it Nicole Lane and Tim Horton discover that there is nothing short about translating a German exam into their native tongue

Exam Requisites

Mandatory Policies Take Over

What do you mean we all have to take exams?! This was the cry that was heard from many students at the beginning of the school year upon finding out about the school system's new exam policy. Previously if a student's grades were high enough, and their absences were few enough, they were exempted from their exams.

Even though you could still be exempted from final exams, this year a new policy made mid-term exams mandatory for everyone. Some new changes in policy was that study hall students were required to stay in their classrooms the entire two hours, and everyone went to a mandatory 30 minute study period before exams.

This brought a mixed reaction from students. Billy Petrie stated, "Well I think this year's policy was good, but it had its bad points too. One was that it hurt more people than it helped." Although students realized that the new exam policy's well intending purpose was to better prepare everyone for college, many were not happy with the system.

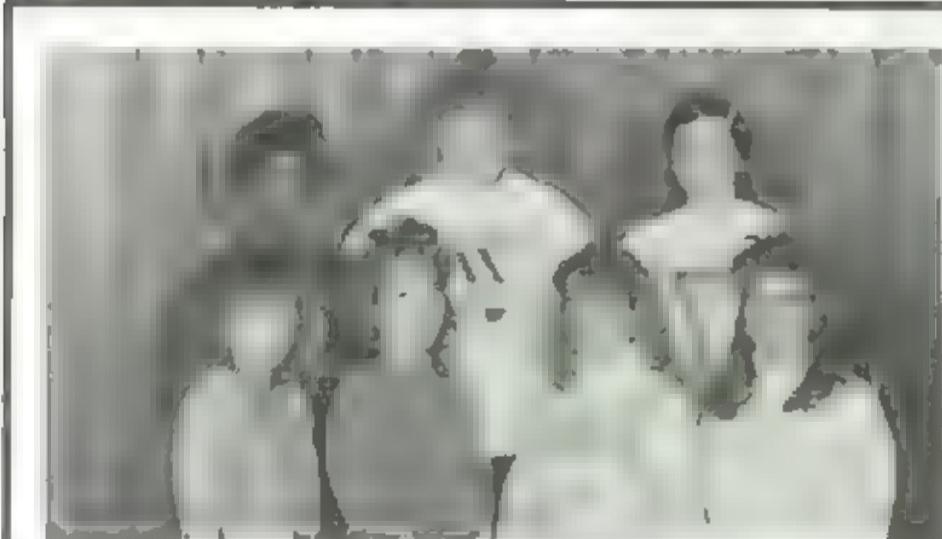

Seniors were especially affected by the new exam policy. Lisa Sheff, a senior commented, "I think exams were the pits this year. What was the point in making everybody take their exams if they were making good grades in their classes? They would change the rules this year." An other senior, Jodi Maynard shared this attitude when she said, "Exams this year were terrible. I do not understand the point in making us stay in classrooms an extra 30 minutes. I am glad I will not be here next year!"

Everyone was in basic agreement that this year's exam policy was much tougher than last years. Tony Marshall expressed his opinion on the exam policy like this, "I think this year's policy was good, but I also think that if you have an A or B in a class you should not have to take that exam." Kymber Marshall summed up everyone's feelings when she remarked, "I think this year's policy was not as good as last year's. I take exams better when I have an hour for lunch, and no 30 minute study time."

You can light my fire. While being inducted into the Spanish Honor Society, Jennifer Moore, Carmen Leonard, Karen Davis and Julie Behold their lighter candles and recite the honor society's pledge.

Waiting for the right moment President Nikki Spates waits with Jo Hu, Historian and Michelle Lee of the rest of the Latin Honor Society Members to arrive at the meeting

Vocational Honor Society Front Row Kim Kiger, Dana Steelman, Lucy Johnston, Christie Smith, Back Row Kenya Tillary, Jeffrey Griffin, Cheri Tonger Not Pictured: Leah Berger, Annael Rose, Breanna Burch, John Byrd, Kyle Dunn, Tamara Lewis, Gina McAllister, Shanae Hester, Wendy Jones, Kristin Jackson, Amy Kimball, Misti Moore, Taylor Morris, Monroe Morrison, Shelly Nease, Heather Nouchkova, and Julian Osborne at Allison Payne, Missy Heidrik, Theesa Reeves, Jon Russell, Jenny Riddle, Adrienne Schow, and Wendi Starnes attend the first ever meeting of the new club at Paynes Station Middle School.

National Honor Society Front Row Samyle Richardson, Parliamentarian, Amy Simpson, Vice-President Elizabeth Fink, President Nikki Spates, Secretary Benjamin Mason, Treasurer, Elizabeth Historian Second Row Margaret Wages, Dana Steelman, Christie Hines, Barbara Subrahmanyan, Michelle Moorefield, Amy Norman, Samantha Meritt, Third Row Angela Young, Robbie Bassett, Jennifer Moore, Melanie Keene, Bill Jewell, Darren Hickerson, Cherie Nease, and Leah Berger. Not Pictured: Aimee Clegg, Hannah Rose, Jennifer Rose, and Leah Berger. Photos: Kristin Morris, Wendi Starnes, Christie Smith, Cheri Tonger, and Not Pictured.

French Honor Society: Mike Linscott, Kathy Mickey, Samantha Merritt, Tracie Hawkins. Not Pictured: Deborah New

German Honor Society: Dawn Glancy, Robin Rutledge

The Best Of The Best Honor Societies Achieve Excellence

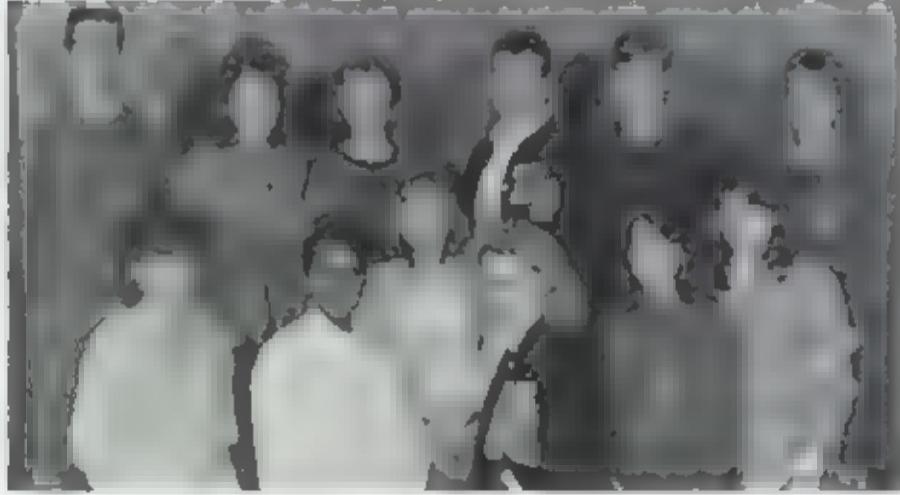

Would you like to know where to find the 'best of the best'? If so, you should check into the honor societies. Honor societies recognized outstanding French, German, Spanish, Latin, and Vocational students. The National Honor Society honored students who achieved true academic excellence throughout their studies.

Students were pleased to be inducted into an honor society because of the impression they made on future employers and colleges. Tonya Atkins stated, "I like being in the Vocational Honor Society because I think it looks good on school transcripts and business applications."

Jennifer Rosenbaum, a National Honor Society member commented, "It helps on college applications because when they see that you are in National Honor Society the colleges realize they have got someone good. I also hope that being in National Honor Society will help me with the scholarship I want to get."

Some honor societies raised money for scholarships. Debbie Smith said, "It is an honor to be in the National Honor Society. The fund raisers we do for scholarships are really fun." When asked about her participation in the National Honor Society, Beth King replied, "We raise money for a scholarship fund, and it is fun learning to work with other people."

Whether they excelled in Latin or German or a vocational course, Honor Society members appreciated the respect they were given. Jenni Shoaf summed up everyone's feelings by saying, "Honor societies are a place where outstanding students have important recognition for their achievements. I am proud to be a member of the Spanish Honor Society." Missy Cockerham also added, "It is an honor to be in the Vocational Honor Society because something like this can count a lot when planning your future." Honor society members were truly, 'the best of the best.'

Latin Honor Society: Front Row: Amy Simpson, Nikki Spates, President, Karen Brown, Mary Nilong, Samantha Merritt, Patricia Aifing. Second Row: Todd Danner, Wendy Neely, Jo Huddleston, Scott Moore, Steven Davis, Valerie Coats

Spanish Honor Society: Front Row: Margaret Wages, Debbie Cassidy, Jackie Lupkin, Karen Davis, Carol Brown. Second Row: Jill Jewell, Jennifer Moore, Melanie Reece, Eddie McDaniel, Nancy Georgitis, Darren Hickerson. Third Row: Anita Cook, Tonya Styers, Mike Davis, Elif Erginer, Oliver Helsabeck

Through clubs, students were unified. Clubs offered the opportunity for students with similar interests or qualities to be able to work and socialize together outside their academic life. Moreover, clubs were open for all students, so anyone could participate.

The members were the core of the clubs, but there were other factors which made a club enjoyable. Without club sponsors, the clubs could not exist, and their experience helped the clubs be effective. Furthermore, leadership from the club presidents took clubs to great reaches and served as the core of the club unity.

Many clubs worked to serve the school and the community, and some turned to help the less fortunate, and at Thanksgiving, clubs worked together to gather food for the needy. Within the school, clubs did various service projects to help beautify the school. They also did little things for staff members to let them know how they were appreciated.

The social aspect of the clubs was an important part. All clubs made their own excitement through club dinners, parties, and the ceremony of initiations. Clubs proved not to be all work, but had fun thrown in the package too.

For both service and social aspects of a club, money was needed. Clubs had one fund raiser, ranging from selling flowers and other types of greetings to the famous "candy sale." These fund raisers were a way to earn money for the projects clubs wanted to undertake.

Individuals' contributions to the clubs were the key to success. Through these contributions, the clubs gave both service and excitement for not only the members, but people within the school and out in the community.

On a winning team, USAA members Jami Poole and Jennifer Hudgins work at the club's stand during a Junior Varsity football game hoping to recruit some new students to join.

A shot away, Although dressed as a ship to catch Tr-H-Y member Katie Wray gets into a costume before on and off stageing to Mrs. Murphy's class on Halloween Day.

The work's not done until all the paperwork's finished. FFA member Robi Cox attempts to complete and organize all of the important forms or prepare for the district competition.

Initiations

Life's Most Embarrassing Moment

There was always some strings attached when a student was anticipating his acceptance into a club. Whether it was dressing as a clown, martian, swimmer, nerd, a piece of food, or a member of the opposite sex, there was always some drawbacks to club membership. A turn-off or a turn on? Students had many mixed responses toward the "red tagging" of clubs.

"They're great!" explained Chris Pinnix. "I've had to be in more than one initiation before, and all of them were fun!"

It's something different, plus I like doing those dumb things." Tiffany Vickers, a sophomore, commented, "It's embarrassing." Most freshmen and sophomores were the ones who dreaded the initiations. Some even felt that initiations were a turn off and would rather not be in the club than to make fools of themselves in front of Seniors.

Others, like Bo Addison, felt that after one experience, the others were not as embarrassing. "If I can make it through Hi-Y initiations, I can survive anything," explained Bo. Most students felt that the second time around was by far better than the first.

Initiations were viewed as a high school tradition and on the most part enjoyable for all of the participants. Even though students looked outrageous when participating in the initiations, they will most likely look back and reminisce about their clubs' initiations with very fond memories. Members will be glad that there were many strings attached to the all-important club membership.

Looking for Mr. Goodbar, Chris Scott attends a Spanish Club meeting in his initiation attire prepared and willing to perform the many stunts that his fellow members insist he do.

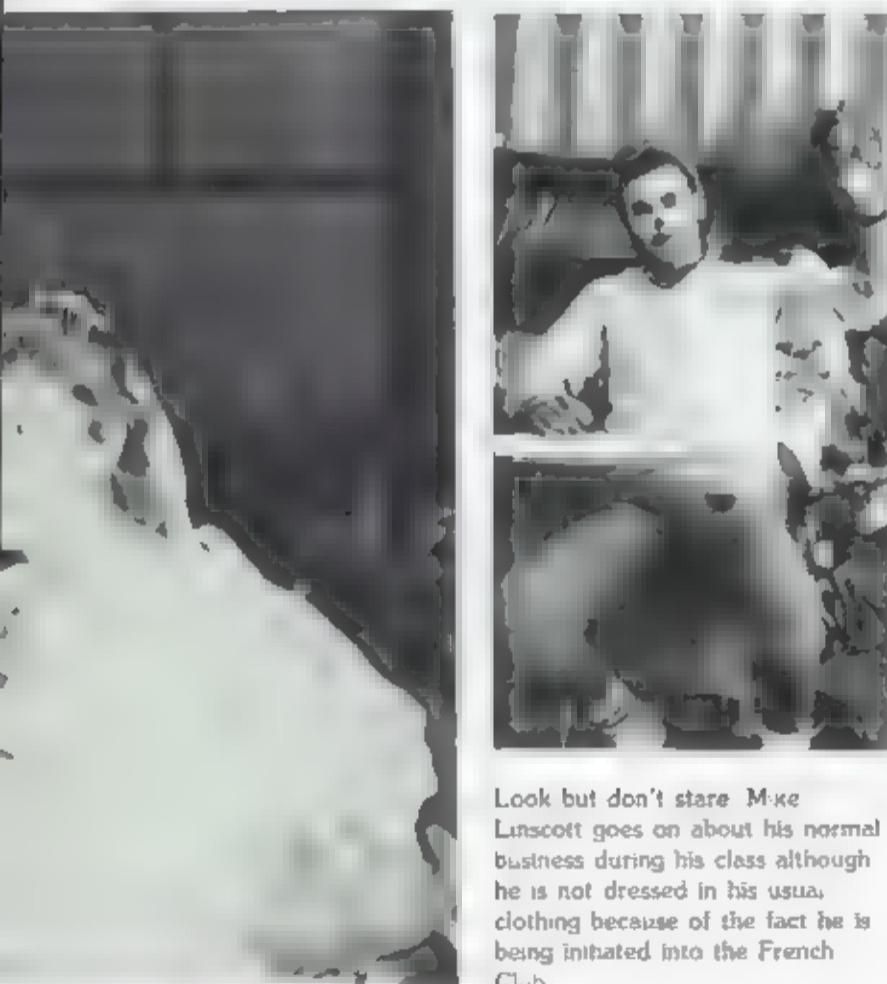

It's a cinch. Jodi Teta, Mary Womble, Sondra Watts, and Cheryl Butner are dressed as martians as part of the initiations for the Tri-Hi-Y.

A cheery bunch! Colleen Grillo, John Cockerham, Melody Miller, and Amy Kiger get ready to brave the halls in their good costumes for Spanish Club initiations.

Taking a little break, Tonya Baugess, dressed up as a giant pineapple, re-axes before she has to give out candy to the older Spanish Club members.

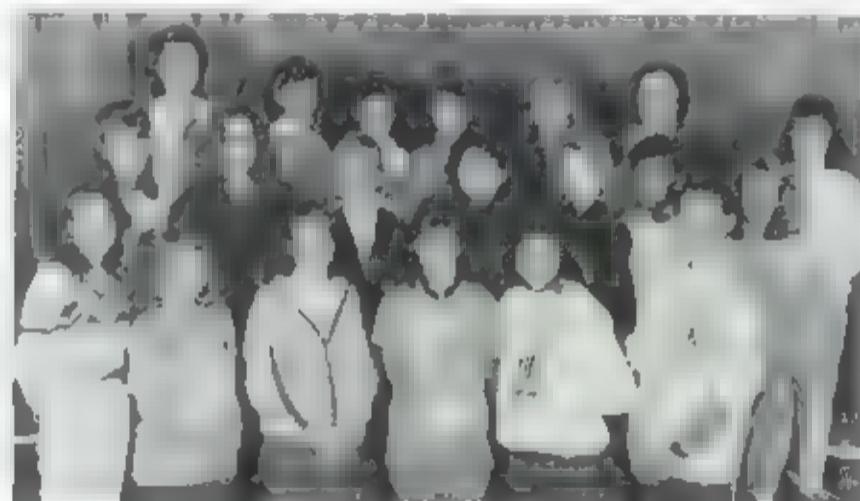

Look but don't stare. Mike Linscott goes on about his normal business during his class although he is not dressed in his usual clothing because of the fact he is being initiated into the French Club.

Clubs A-Z

ANCHOR CLUB. Front Row: Beth King, Karen Davis, Secretary Carol Brown, Treasurer Debbie Smith Vice-President Anita Ga'vean, President Valerie Oats Michelle Moorefield Holly Dickson Second Row: Salvie Wau, Tracy Johnson, Jennifer Rosenbaum, Jean Stevens, Jodi Valencia, Mary Nifong, Amy Cole, Samantha Merritt Third Row: Beth Autry, Lori Bovender, Tonya Styers, Shannon Virtue, Anna Ogburn, Lorrie Pate Not Pictured: Tonya Styers, Julie Bell, Ellen Christensen, Jody Clower, Amy Kiger, Tiffani Orange Bo Park, Danita Roseboro, Nikki Spates

ART SOCIETY. Front Row: Lauren Beres, Vice-President Angela King President Dana Steelman, Stacy Harper, Wendy Monslave, Danny Vaughn. Second Row: Elif Erginer, Rebecca Ashby, Tracey Carr Treasurer Susan Burris, Mary Nifong, Casandra Hauser, Kim Boyd Third Row: Jo Huddleston, Sarah Choplín, Jennifer Kleinmayer, Amber Foushee Karen Brown, Miss Sylvia Lawson — Advisor, Sabrina Bowen Not Pictured: Secretary Bo Park, Paula Carter, Mandy Edmonds, John Frazier, Jason Goforth, Sharrell Miller, Patricia Morphies, Kerri Outen, Jennifer Turner, Biji Wilson, Elizabeth Wall, Chris Scott

Mutnu at Beck's. Entertaining the daycare children at Beck's Baptist Church James Jones helps with an exciting game of Duck, Duck Goose in his pirate costume

Do I have to HOP anymore? Sara Black is all dressed as a delighful little bunny ready to hop about and make this Halloween happy for some sick children

Trick-Or-Treat Clubs Give Ghostly Cheer

Every year at Halloween, club members don their ghoulish costumes and go out into the community to entertain children. This year proved no exception, as several organizations visited youngsters throughout the city. Each club worked out its own outing and various activities. Nevertheless, all the clubs went out on Halloween for the simple purpose of making others happy. By bringing a smile to any small child's face, many students felt a special warmth in their hearts.

While out in the community, many club members experienced some rare moments of enjoyment through service. Melody Miller stated, "I never realized how much the kids would enjoy it." Likewise, Michelle Moorefield added, "We do so little, but they loved it so much." Many clubs realized for the first time that their efforts did not go unrewarded.

In addition to a new understanding about children, several students found out that having fun can come in many forms. As James Jones put it, "I almost didn't go because we had to wear costumes, but I did and I had a great time." Most members delighted in one another's attire as much as the youngsters did. Amy Simpson stated, "If no one else laughed at our costumes, we sure did." Furthermore, Kim Staples commented, "We all looked so crazy that everyone had to laugh." This confident, carefree attitude about having fun made Halloween outings really special.

Besides all the fun times and unforgettable memories, the greatest result of the clubs going out at Halloween to spread some ghostly cheer was the vast degree of respect each club gained from the community. Burke Bovender, Key Club Vice-President, remarked, "I was surprised with the praise we received. It appears we left a lasting impression that will not be forgotten." Likewise, all the clubs put forth a fine effort and made a solid foundation for future ventures.

Therefore, the Halloween special events went real smooth. Most of the participants had a fine time. Furthermore, they showed the community that Vikings care about others and were willing to go that extra mile to make it show.

Attractive costumes. Jean Stevens and Shannon Virtue dress up as an M&M and a pirate as they get ready to venture forth on an Halloween outing.

Look at this Burke Bovender and Ben King entertain the kids at Beck's Baptist Church with a lot of candy and an assortment of unique games for them to play.

Preparing for the upcoming battle. Kim Doughty is fully equipped in her Rambo costume to handle the task of distributing candy to the youngsters.

Clubs A-Z

Car Club. Front Row Tom Brophy, 2nd Vice-President Alex Helsabeck President Andy Honeycutt Vice President Scott Dameron. Parliamentarian Matt Page Second Row Cameron Large, Robby Lilly, Jeff Cline, Robbie Cox, Dwayne Melton — Public Relations. Third Row Michael Weinberger, Billy Neal. Not Pictured Secretary Tonya Atkins, Mike Davis or Kilby Kent Lewis

Computer Club. Front Row Melinda Bell, Latasha Dixon, Mrs. Becky Haney — Advisor Second Row Michele Murphy, Ed Hrynkow, Dawn Hutchens, Memoree Wilson Third Row Secretary Beth Autry, Treasurer Brad Burton, Ronald Leak President Cherri Kiger, Mr. Kenneth Sioop — Advisor Not Pictured David Barger, Rhonda Debnam, Laura These

Scouting for the yearbook
Editor with the book in an open easily researches the questions that will appear on the yearbook's first page.

Super Slogan

Not Just A Saying

You've all heard a number of different mottos. For example during school pep rallies people screamed "We are the best" or "We are number one." Also, television suggested that this car was the one to watch that telephone linked you to the future, and certain raisin heard it through the grapevine. Consequently, some clubs acquired sayings which reflected the club's beliefs or activities.

The Key Club motto was, "We build." As a result, the club worked extra hard and provided services for needy people.

Therefore, they helped to build better lives. Also, the Anchor Club motto was, "Anchored we hold." In conjunction, the club was like a family which worked steadfastly to accomplish set goals. The USAA had several sayings which included, "Be smart don't start" and "Get high on life." The USAA was an organization which was against the usage of drugs and alcohol. Lastly, the Tri-Hi-Y motto was, "Pure thoughts, pure words, pure actions" and the members of the club acted accordingly.

However, most clubs did not have mottos. For instance, Mr. Boyst, sponsor for the Spanish Club stated, "We don't have a motto. Would you like me to make up one?" Mrs. Haney, the Computer Club sponsor, added,

"Are we supposed to have a motto? I didn't know."

Whether the clubs had mottos or not, they were an added activity during the school year. They provided services for the poor and needy and promoted school functions which were enjoyed by the students. Mottos were truly an important part for the school and students.

Packing it in: Sandy Hunt attempts to get all of her gear in her car before she heads out to entertain some children for the FHA Halloween project.

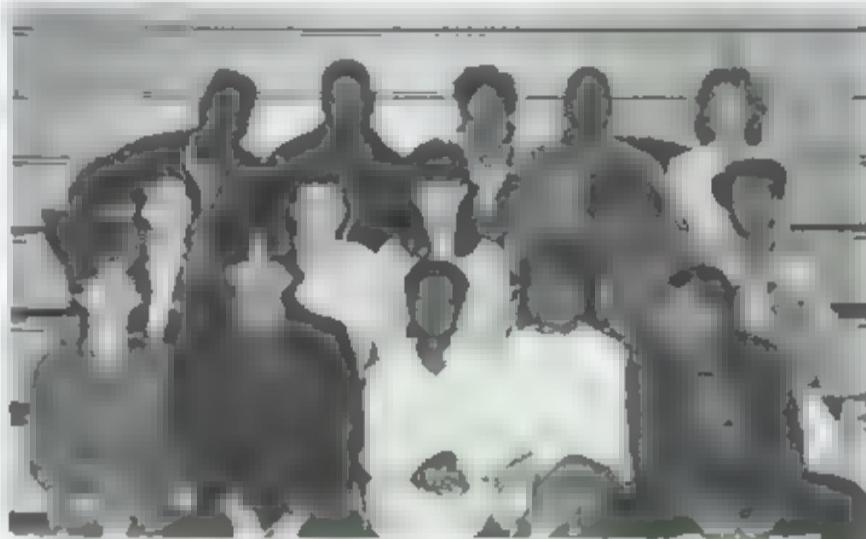

leave-ho. Bryant Wilson, a senior member of the Key Club, helps to load a box full of food onto the truck on its way to the Crisis Control building located downtown

Working it out together Sandy Hunt, Bonnie Cox and Sherry Yancey sort through a lot of information getting ready for a meeting to be held in the future

I think that it is this one Kim Doughty, a member of the FFA, carefully considers each remark before she selects one as she fills out some sheets for a very important upcoming club meeting.

Clubs A-Z

COT Front Row Karen Stewart Co-Secretary, Mike Foushee Co-Vice President, Done Legar Co-President Demetrice Euerbe, Shawn Harris Second Row, Amher Strawberry Co-Treasurer Gina Meeks, Leslie Reeves Soledad, Renee Dunlap Third Row Co-Treasurer Tyrone Fletcher, Darren Brown Co-Secretary Cassandra Shepard, Co-President Fred Wilson, Mrs. Susan Spurrier Not Pictured, Tom Brophy, Lee Fletcher, Ruth Hast, C Vice Pres., and Charles Keaum, Gerry Liles, Donald Marthe, Dennard Shell, Jeff Snow

DECA Front Row Michelle Miller, Toni Oliver, Vice-President Sherry England, Vice-President Amy Sands, President Missy Cockerham, Vice-President Chris Poe, Vice-President Bridgett France. Second Row: Kathy Ebert, Jamie Davis, Kathy Landy, Cindy Jolly, Candice Caugh, Gina Ansher, Tammy K. Sherr, Bullet Heather Hartgrove. Third Row: Connie East, Janice Wai, Tom Harston, Brian Forte, Lisa Engelkins, Danielle Brown, Heather Biggs, Keith Schilke. Fourth Row: Brenda Baker, Carol Austin, Shannon Johnson, Renee Hampton, Maryann Baker, Tonya Bowden, Kim Tice, Susan Haileworth, Larry Griffith. First Row: Tarah Duncan, LaTisha, Rick Gregory, Janet Brannock, Monica Jackson, Ima Jern, Eddie Boden, Shawn Abbe. Not Pictured: Angie Bowman, Susan Brinson, Amanda Clancy, Emory, Eric Cheneau, Goodman, Pete Gordy, Brett Heck, Christy Henney, Laurn Higgins, Harvey Hughes, Keith Johnson, Darren Jones, Melissa Leon, Susan Maber, Susan Marsh, Jerry Miller, Tonya Reid, Kristine Reid, Crystal Spainhour, Jon Todd, Tim Wagner, Cray Wolfe, Keisha Wright

Would you care for a Pepsi, Pepsi or a Pepsi? Elif Erginer, Leigh Hudspeth, and Chris Puryear get plenty of Pepsi cups in addition to many other items ready before the people began to come rushing out of the gym and up to the concession stand in search of a quick snack, as well as a drink to quench the thirst they have worked up cheering for the Viking players.

Refreshments

The Usual Half-time Routine

As much a part of sporting events as the athletes and crowds, the concession stand proved its worth time and time again. Furthermore, the students who gave up their time to help operate them were unique. Each person displayed an individual flare and attitude towards serving the student body and the community. Time spent in the concession stand brought to light many interesting moments.

One instance which arose quite often was minor mistakes in the taking of orders. Chris Jones stated, "I always mess up when people order a lot and then change their orders." Fortunately, most ordering mishaps were small and easily corrected. However, when ordering was not a problem, exchanging currency quickly stepped in to take first place. Robin Caldwell remarked, "It always confuses me when people have bills which are too big." Handling money was difficult at times, but most problems worked themselves out.

Another factor involved with the concession stand was the major crowds which popped up out of thin air. After every quarter and especially at half time, the lines were filled. Oliver Helsabeck summed it best when he stated, "Once the quarter ends, the work begins." Oliver was right on target with that, for the concession stand was nearly always busy. People flocked to the concession stands in herds in search of a quick snack. Furthermore, Memoree Wilson commented, "I like to help out, but the crowds get out of hand."

Besides money and crowds, getting help during the games could be difficult. Luckily, many students forfeited their time from watching the games to help out. This effort was greatly appreciated. Moreover, valuable working experience was acquired.

All in all, life in the concession stand was no easy task. The students who gave up their time and put forth the effort to work really made the sporting events special. With out the concession stand, who knows what all the hungry fans would have done. Luckily, the concession stand was there and an abundant amount of faithful students turned out to help.

Service with a pleasant smile. Meantime, Reece, a junior Key Club member, enthusiastically attends to a customer.

Chris Cook, at the concession stand which is located just outside the boy's entrance during one of the home basketball games at the school.

Clubs A-Z

A tough decision Chad Engelkins, Sage Reising, and Jennifer Swemore try to decide between the Rolos and the Snickers at a Tuesday basketball game

Selling hash. Mr. Robert Goodwin, Key Club advisor, works in the football concession stand during half-time of one of North's many games

DRAMA CLUB. Front Row Margaret Wages, President Dawn Glancy, Erica Enscore, Matthew Leonard. Second Row Myra Wright, Teresa Nagy, Mason Secretary, Tessa. Third Row Wendy, Farrah, Heather Brophy, Joy Williams, Suzi Holladay, Christie Smith. Fourth Row Ashley Yates, Lori Shamel, Win Craft, Al Dooley, Jeff Griffin, Treasurer. Vice President Donald Marder, Vice President Mike Edwards. Not Pictured: Paulette Ang, K. Allen, Tonya Baugess, Chatahne Braxton, Chamberlain, Beau Chastress, Greta Cockerham, Kirsten Eliot, Amber Foushee, Jamie Franklin, Wendy, Cathine, Shannon Inman, Jark, Jason Darren, Mrs. Jim McLean, Tom McLean, Kerr O'Brien, Mark Potts, Karen R. Parker, Amy, Swanson, Susan Hagg, Linda Thorne, Chris Woodcock, Allen Tynda.

EBONY SOCIETY. Front Row: Vice-President Marcia Williamson, Monica Brown, Monica Mack, President Darian Street, Terry Smith, Shanice Taylor, Samira Richardson. Second Row: Continus Archie, Parham, Latisha Garrison, Loretta Scott, Malcolm Thompson, Dexter Morrison, Juan Everett. Third Row: Latisha Dixon, Deatra Braxton, Cassandra Hauser, Carla Hauser, Stacey Garvin. Not Pictured: Randa Terrell, Rita Drake, Bridget France, Schontal McClary, Financial Secretary, Annelia Martin, Valerie Miller, Mrs. Doris Moultrie - Advisor, Mrs. Virginia Chard Simmons, Treasurer Nikki Spates, Eric Turner, Bryant Wilson, Memorie Wilson.

A hard day of work. Bill Wilson, a member of the Key Club, works in the library to help stuff envelopes for the Brenner Children's Hospital.

Turkey Day

Food Collection For The Community

Thanksgiving is a holiday for giving thanks for all that we have been blessed with. The clubs within the school came together and shared with those less fortunate, helping many families in the community enjoy a nutritious Thanksgiving feast they would not have had otherwise. All of the clubs participating made the Thanksgiving celebration the most club participated event of the year.

Most of the clubs reached out to the community and collected food and other goods for needy families or for those organizations designed to aid those less fortunate. Brian Thompson explained the band's part in the Thanksgiving festivities, saying, "Every year we collect canned foods for a needy woman in the community and some of the members chop wood for her so she can stay warm during the winter." The largest club drive of the year for Thanksgiving was a joint Key Club/Anchor Club food collection for the Crisis Control Ministries. Key Club President Samuel Richardson commented on the drive, "Club members were required to collect fifty non-perishable food items and we went as a group to collect even more. Then we took three trucks full of nearly four thousand cans to the ministry."

The Quest classes took a different approach by selling Life Savers in order to earn money for Crisis Control. In the Thanksgiving assembly, a Quest representative turned over a check to the ministry for nearly $850 to the ministry representative. Jimmy Palmer stated, "Everyone really helped out and sold all they could; and I think the project was a real success."

Clubs expressed their thankfulness by giving fully of themselves to those who had less than they. It helped everyone realize how much people can do when they work together to make the world a better place to live. Philip Lawton summed it up by saying, "Thanksgiving is a special time of the year when people take a good look at what they have, and then in turn give to those who lack all the luxuries of life they possess."

Doing good deeds. Unloading canned goods at Crisis Control, Philip Lawton helps the Key Club effort by contributing his time and devotion to help the needy.

ching in! As part of the Key Club's Thanksgiving food drive for Crisis control, Elif Erginler and Darrick Allen help sort the collected canned goods in Mr. Goodwin's room after school before the holiday assembly.

Lending a helping hand. Securing the Hi-Y's Thanksgiving food box in the trunk of the car, Clint Calaway and Jamie Hicks prepare to deliver the food to a deserving family in the North Forsyth community.

Clubs A-Z

FBLA Front Row: Memoree Wilson, April McNeill, Jerry Tillman, Marcus Wilson, Monica Mack, Tina McCarter. Second Row: Carla Hauser, Sondra Gentry, Sharron Payne, Assistant Secretary Kim Kiger, Darin Stefford, Tracy Willard, Dana Steelman, Sharon Kiser. Third Row: Non member Beth Mueller, Elizabeth Bourne, Wendy James, Parliamentarian Rhonda Simpson, Jennifer Upchurch, Wendy Smith. Fourth Row: Burke Bovender, John Scardina, Tonya Atkins, Ken Carter, Tonia Massengale, David Marion Clay, Fearnngton, Wendy Guthrie, Fifth Row: Sherry England, Second Vice-President Kim Naylor, Vice-President Sandy Mieke, President Michele Murphy, Treasurer Cherni Kiger, Historian Katrina Bishop, Wendy Neelu, Wendy Collins. Not Pictured: Melissa Allen, Kurt Chester, Sharon Culler, Dawn Hutchens, Beth King, Patricia Morphes, Carla Phillips, Kristina Reid, Reporter Laura Thiele, Mistie Tuttle, Krista Wall, Sondra Watts.

FHA Front Row: Sandy Hunt, Sarah Black, President Beth Autry, Vice President Michelle Mier, Robbie Cox, Treasurer Sharetha Bruton, Danielle Brasham. Second Row: Jim Smith, Christy Allen, Karen Stewart, Wendy Darlene, Susan Bristow, Yvonne O'Quinn, Mrs. Sandra Averitt, Advisor. Not Pictured: Brenda Baker, Sharon McLaurin, Dana Slade, Susan Sugg, Tammy Venable, Secretary Pam White, Annette Wilson, Sherri Young, Dottie Ziglar.

Helping Out

Serving The School And Community

Out of all the different types of clubs to choose from, one would wonder why service clubs were such popular choices. After all, the members had to give up time to attend regular meetings, plus visits to hospitals, churches, civic organizations, and the collection of goods for the needy.

The reasons given for joining service clubs varies greatly. Jody Clower said that "joining the Anchor Club gave me the opportunity not only to make friends within the Anchor Club but also with the people in our brother club, the Key Club." Kim Pike, a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, agreed, saying, "club membership allowed me to get involved and have fun at the same time."

However, some other members joined to help fulfill the main purpose in having service clubs: helping others. Beau Childress, a Hi-Y member, said that he liked "helping little children and making them smile." Many club projects were aimed to help children, especially the Key Club's effort to raise money for the Brenner Children's Hospital. Anita Cook, a member of the Key Club, explained that "all the after school hours for this project are well worth it because I have the opportunity to help children in a big way."

Beyond helping people of this area in general, several members of the Ebony Society had different reasons for joining the club. Terry Smith summarized his reasons by saying, "It gives me a chance to learn about my heritage and be proud of it." Memoree Wilson added, "the Ebony Society gives people an opportunity to join together in harmony and help others." By learning about their heritage, the Ebony Society members helped others to understand their own heritage.

No matter which service club anyone joined, they were ensured hours of work, but a year of deeper self-understanding and satisfaction.

How many more of these balloons are there? Lucy Johnston and Pat Abbott, two USAA members, help out at the annual Fannette Festival by bringing up numerous balloons and skillfully managing to tie ribbons around all of the balloons that did not fly away.

A terrific trio: Tina Hauser, Loretta Sater, and Eric Petree make plans for Black History Month at an Ebony Society meeting.

Signed, sealed, and delivered. Carrying the material for the Brenner Children's Hospital, Key Club member, Billy Wilson, gives a little extra time to help.

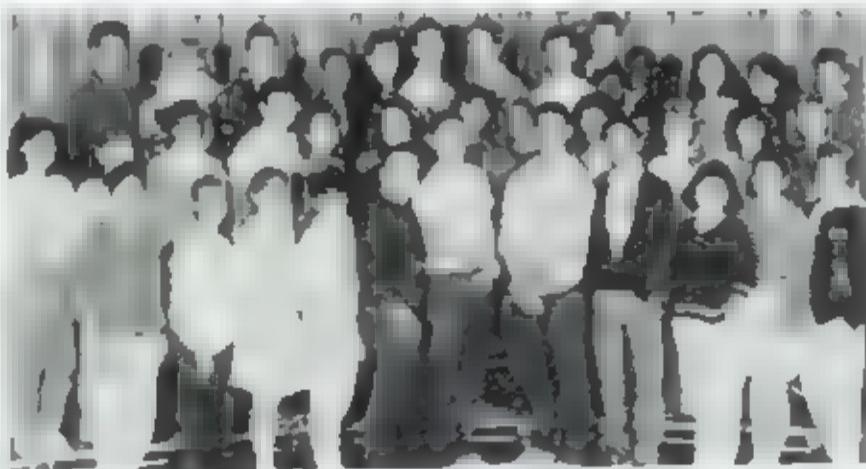

Stuffing the envelopes. Valerie Coals talks to Derrick Allen to help pass the time while working on the Brenner Children's Hospital project for the Key Club an undertaking which required a large amount of student support Lugging the boxes! Burke Bovender helps unload the truck full of canned goods part of the Key Club collection for the less fortunate at Crisis Control

Clubs A-Z

FISHING CLUB. Front Row Kvung Yu, Kristi Saalweachter, Christy Henley Amy Simpson, Treasurer Steve Shore, President Jamie Hicks Vice-President Chris Pinnix, Secretary Clint Calaway, Beth King, Kim Pike, Jenni Robinson Second Row Won Yu, Robin Rutledge, Jean Stevens, Tony Moretz, Dana Steelman, Kim Staples, Melissa Linn, Pam Reese, Jennifer Best, Jodi Harrison, Debbie Smith, Terri Owen. Third Row Mark Moore, Chris Trout, Jason Deal, John Gladman, Eric Chadwick, Doug Troyer, Will Toburen, Michael Linscott, Pat Abbott Eddie McDaniel, Jamie Rieker, Anna Ogburn, Tiffany Vickers. Not Pictured Kelly Allen, Tonja Atkins, Phillip Barton, Danielle Brown, Angie Butner, Paula Carter, Todd Danner, Doug Eudy, Ellen Eudy, Preston Gilbert, David Harion, Susan Havworth, Tony Hess, Tammy Hicks, Kelly Howard, Andy Honeycutt, Ricky Hornsby, Jennifer Hudgris, Angie Hughes, Lee Johnston, Jean Krull, Dan Kyslinger, Catherine Long, Chad Lynch, Mark McFarlin, Heather McIntosh, Terry Palmer, Dale Patterson, Bryce Revels, Lani Rieker, Kim Robinson, Suzi Russell, Joel Sapp, Jerrod Scott, Jennifer Shoop, Chad Simphus, Susan Snoddy, Jodi Teta, Angie Tuite, Mark Uren, Angie Vernon, Brian Watts, Sondra Watts, Dirk Wiers, Jason Williams, Tracy Wildard

FRENCH CLUB. Front Row: Secretary Judy McSwain, Vice-President Samantha Merritt, Treasurer Kathy Mickel, President Meissa Beshears, Assistant Secretary, Treasurer Benetta Dease Second Row Deborah New, Mira Wright, Meredith Burdette, Chele Chamberlain, Chad Simmons, Daphne Marion Third Row Mrs. Mary Grissom Advisor Tracy Quinones, Havard Foshaug, Suzi Russell, Michael Linscott, Dawn Hutchens Fourth Row Chris Woodcock, Lori Hoots, Rick Hornsby, Donald Marler, Diane Allen, Randal Sparger, David Styers. Not Pictured Heather Bropr, Danielle Burdette, Kelli Burgess, Beau Childress, Jodi Clowes, Trace Hawkins, Marcia Hines, John Hunter, Diane Lazenby, Lani Reker, Jeana Shouse, Camille Sprinkle

MICKEY Amy Simpson
President of the Tri-Hi-Y And Lucy Johnston dress in their costumes for their trip to Forsyth Memorial Hospital

Commanding attention Presiding at one of the Latin Club meetings Lauren Beres fills her role as president by informing the members of upcoming events

Leadership

Taking Charge Of Club Activities

"This meeting is now adjourned." This phrase often made many people happy after another long club meeting. Everyone also waited with eager anticipation to the president's closing of the meeting, with or without parliamentary procedure. Each club had a common thread in the president, the person that took charge and led the way.

Being the president of a club took a devoted and responsible individual. A club president had to have a positive attitude and dependable characteristics. Oliver Helsabeck, president of the Science Club, explained, "Being a club president takes a lot of responsibility in planning club activities and keeping the club running smoothly. In such an important position, the members depend on you to institute activities and service the club will do. As a president, you have to be a dependable leader."

Another responsibility of a club president was to make sure that everyone came to the meeting. Attendance was one of the major problems for most of the clubs to face. This could become a big hassle when trying to plan activities for the club. Amy Simpson, president of the Tri-Hi-Y, commented on the problem, "As president, I have to make sure that people attend the meetings. This makes it easier on me when I try to plan for functions." The Drama Club president, Dawn Glancy, agreed and said, "Planning activities is a hard job, but when everything works out, it makes our club look good, and it makes me feel proud."

Overall, a club president has a tremendous responsibility. Planning club activities and overseeing club functions were only two parts of the overall presidential duties. He or she did have help from the other officers, but the main responsibility rested on the president's shoulders. So the next time you get bored in a meeting, remember: The president needs your help and your consideration, if the club is going to operate smoothly.

A president in part, Samuel Richardson and Valerie Coats try to relax after a couple of tiring club meetings in addition to a busy day at school.

Heavy concentration. Ellen Christensen works hard afterschool to make plans for her upcoming monthly club meeting.

When Keoni talks Presiding over one of the Student Council meetings Keoni Teta commands attention while he explains the upcoming activities

Clubs A-Z

FRENCH SINGING GROUP. Front Row: Judy McSwain, Samantha Merritt, Kathy Mickey, Marcia Hines, Mrs. Mary Grissom Advisor Second Row: Donald Marler, Shane Allen, Tomorriis Horne Bennett Dease

GAMERS CLUB. Front Row: Mike Linscott, Mike Edwards President Mark Moore alias Priddy, in Back Not Pictured Kurt Chester, David Harto, Walter Shepard, Doug Trover, Tom Weber

A faithful supporter Mrs. Jean Muse sponsor of the Anchor Club lends her support at one of the bi-monthly meetings in her room Giving Time Under The Auspices Of . . .

What comes to your mind when you hear the words — club sponsor? Do you think of a person who tries to control your club? Do you like your club sponsor? Most people do not realize that the club sponsors give up their time mainly because they enjoy working with young people. The Sponsor was one person in the club that should have been appreciated

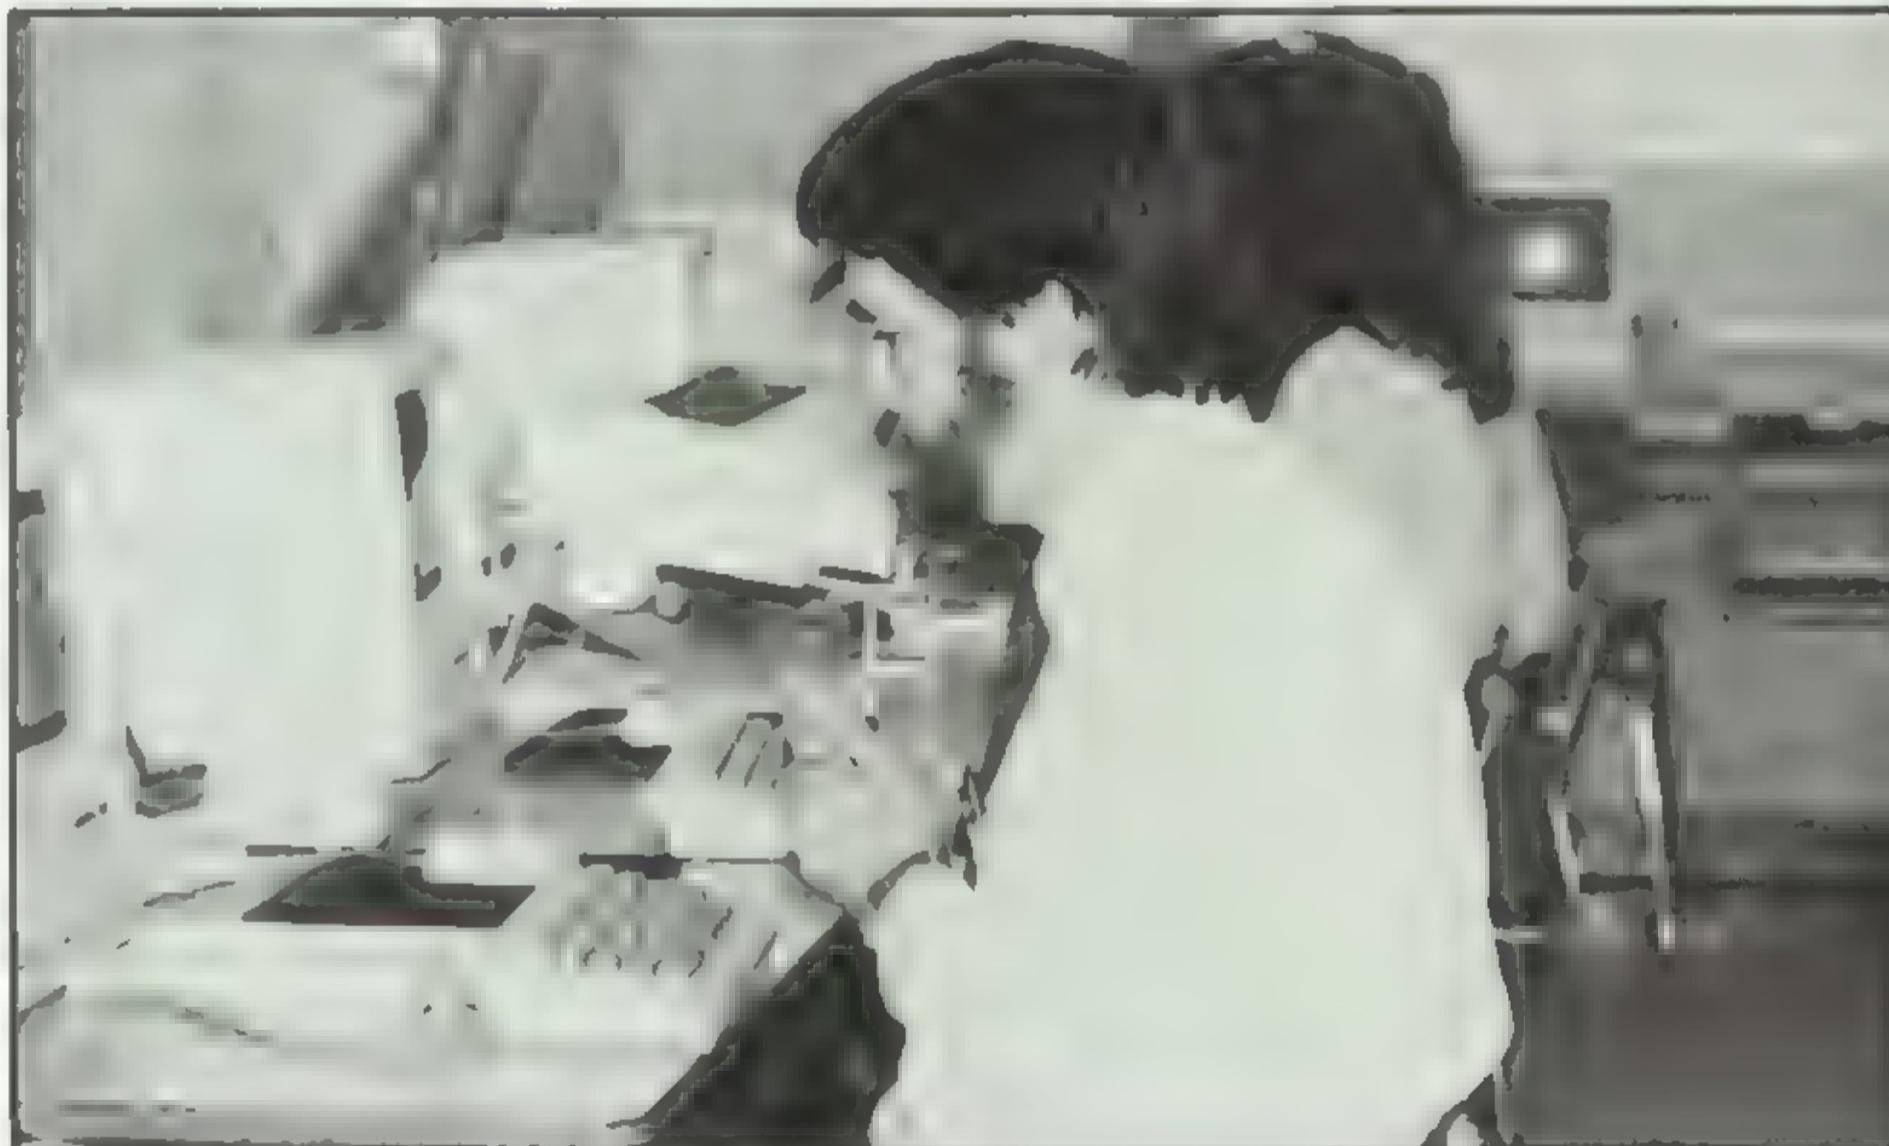

Mr. Robert Goodwin, sponsor of the Key Club, has had his position for many years. He commented on the job. "I enjoy working with the students. It gives me great pleasure to be their club sponsor." Most sponsors echoed Mr. Goodwin's responses

Some of the sponsors took on the job as an extension of their normal teaching position. Dr Beth Lucas is a perfect example of this situation. She teachers marketing at North, and she is the DECA sponsor. "The position of DECA sponsor allows me to continue my job as a teacher by working with the members in an extracurricular activity."

All in all, every club sponsor on campus gave up their time to help the youngsters in their particular organizations. Being a club sponsor took a lot of dedication and care from each sponsor. The club sponsors contributed a major part of each club's success, and they often made running the club so much easier for the presidents. The club sponsor was a very important club member

A lot of McIntosh input. Mr. Kenneth Sloop, sponsor of the Computer Club works on one of the many Apple computers after school with his club members business for the day, Mrs. Joy organizes the FBI A sponsor for many years of the club program for the day's meeting as the members sit quietly as she does.

A vision as Mrs. Linda White shows her enthusiasm as she watches the members of the HHA get ready in their Halloween costumes.

Punkin' Patch, in the corner of school. Mrs. Fran Scott takes a breather after one of the Tr. H. meetings, the club's 4 sponsors.

Clubs A-Z

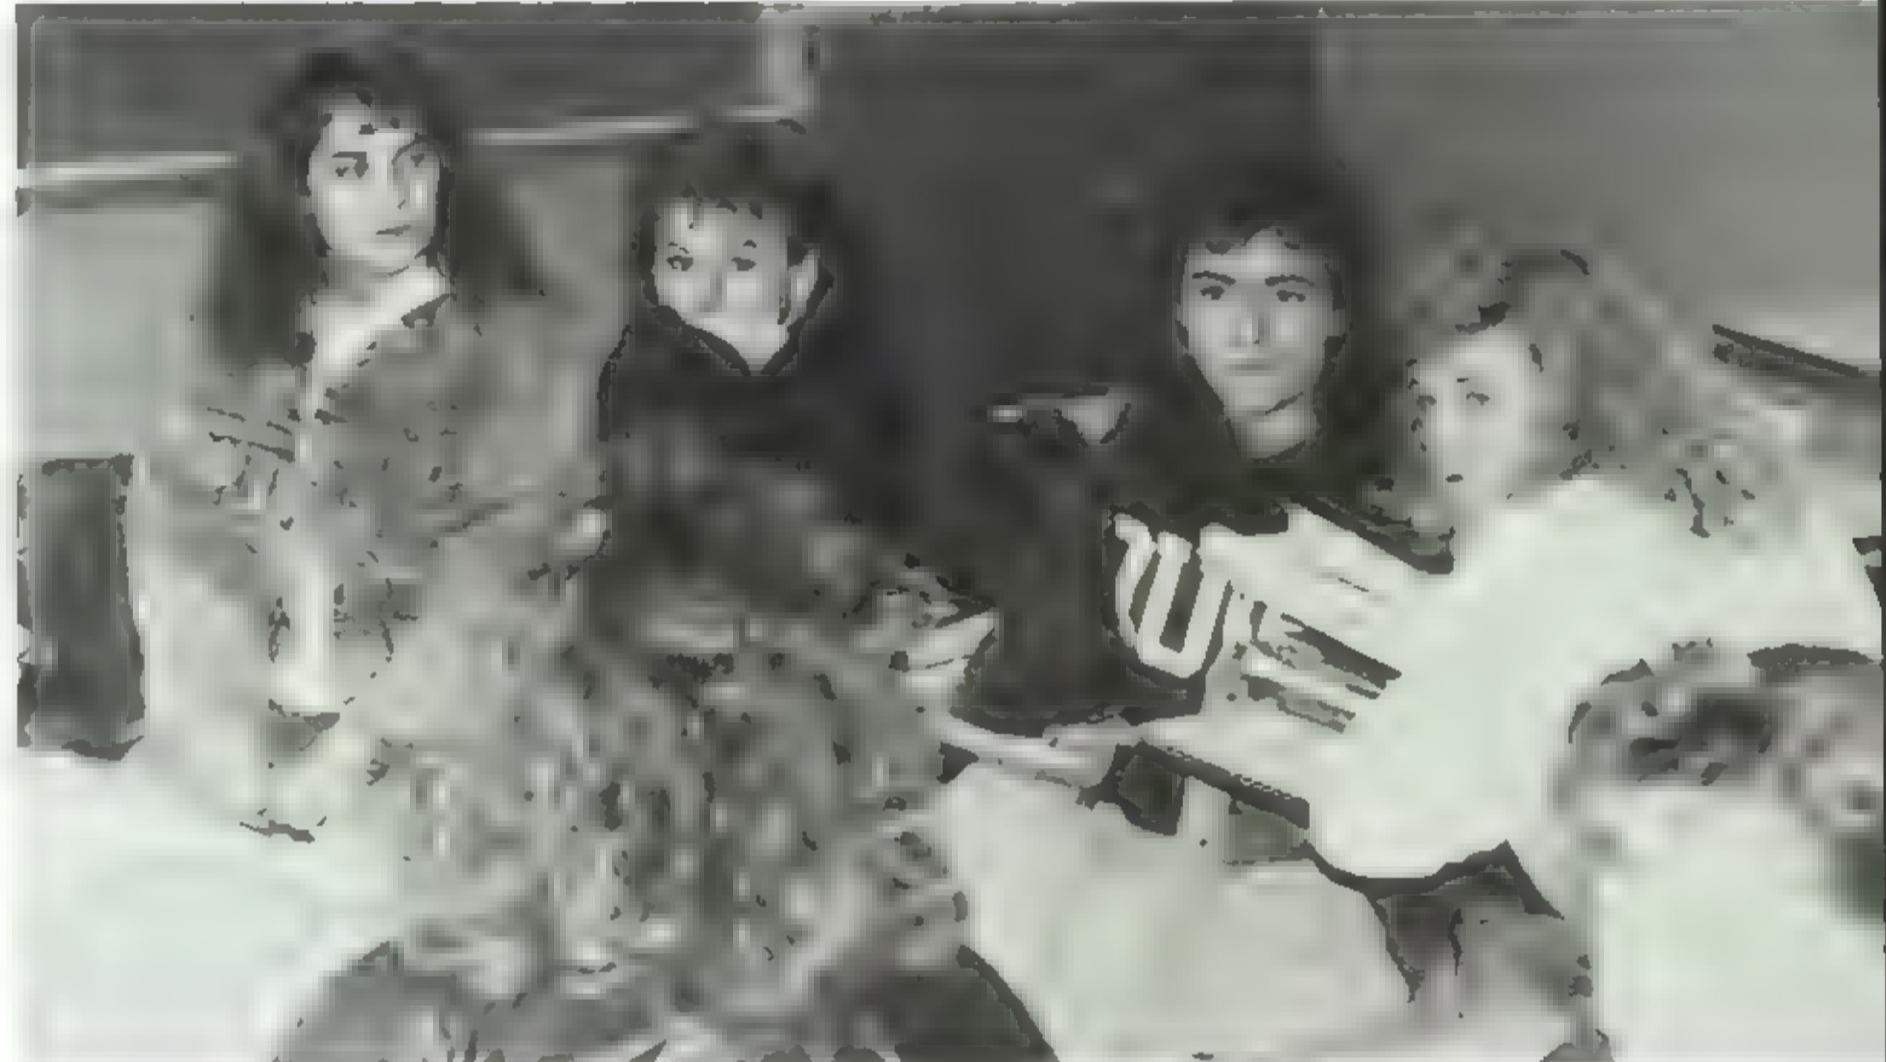

GERMAN CLUB. Front Row: President Robin Rutledge, Anita McLamore, Tiffani Vanderschueren, Tomba Massengale. Second Row: Mrs. Barbara Johnson, Advisor; Danny Vaughn, Rova Qualls, Jay Root. Not Pictured: Tim Herron, Dan Kinsinger, Nicole Lane, David Marion, Mark
Moore, Kathy Pike, David Weddy.

HERO CLUB. President Troy Galloway, George King, Vice-President
Rosemary Entzinger, Historian Michelle Watson. Second Row: Kenya
Hoover, Angie Cunningham, April Slade, Secretary Dale Morris. Not Pictured: Treasurer Chris Cowan, Robert Gravely, Susan Mabe, Lee Anne Rustine, Kristie Snover.

Paying close attention seems to come easy. Susan Snoody, Jeni Powers, Lori Rieker and Kim Robinson each listen intently to the speaker and soak up every word as they await their chance to voice their own opinions during one of the annual Tri-Hs-Y meetings held throughout the course of the school year.

Membership

The Backbone Of A Club

Why did a person join a club? To serve the school? Because they had a special interest? To become more involved? To have something to write down on their college applications? All of these were valid reasons why students joined particular clubs on campus. Club membership was also something that many people enjoyed.

Most members enjoyed being in a club with people who had the same interests as they did. Samantha Merritt stated, "I enjoy being in the French Club because I like to learn about the people, culture, and overall life in France." John Cockerham agreed with this statement and added, "Being in the Spanish Club allows me to have fun, yet learn about the Spanish culture and everyday life."

Others enjoyed serving the school through club memberships. Service projects were carried on throughout the school in order to make the environment better for teachers and students. David Harton commented, "I like to help the U.S.A.A. with their projects when I can. I just try to give something back to the people and the community." Julie Bell said that serving the school made her feel proud, and it gave her a sense of accomplishment.

Membership in a club was often limited and it required a dedicated person to belong to the clubs, and members had to go through many trials and tribulations just to get into a club. Even though students had different reasons for joining clubs, everyone wanted to get involved and make it a year to contribute to the school and the community.

How much more food can there be? With little effort, Brian Thompson, senior member of the Key Club, helped to unload a box full of canned food at the Crisis Control Center for the needy during the Thanksgiving season.

Clubs A-Z

Prepare to drown. At the Hanes company picnic, David Harton, Tony Moretz, and Jodi Teta have a little fun with the popular dunking booth

Just my size FBLA members Memoree Wilson and Cheri Kiger oversee operations during the Senior Sweatshirt Sale

Hi-Y. Front Row: Chaplain Steve Shore, Secretary Chris Pinnix, Treasurer Mike Peeler, John Gladman, Clint Calaway, Jamie Hicks, Tom Muse. Second Row: Eddie McDaniel, Tony Moretz, Will Toburen, Mike Linscott, Doug Troyer, Eric Chadwick. Not Pictured: Bo Addison, Beau Childress, Richard Christensen, Mike Edwards, Doug Eudy, Preston Gilbert, David Harton, Vice-President Marc Ingwersen, Tony Marshall, President Bruce Revels, Keoni Teta, Brian Watts, Hwan Yu

ICC. Front Row: Valene Coats, Meissa Beshears, Darian Street, Amy Simpson, Dana Steelman, Robin Rutledge. Second Row: Mrs. Mary Anne Brown, Elif Erginer, Cheri Kiger, Marcia Williamson, Ellen Christensen, Lauren Beres, Mrs. Martha Hix. Third Row: Oliver Heisabeck, Michelle Murphy, Keoni Teta, Beth Autry, President Billy Oakes, Jeff Griffin. Not Pictured: Secretary Missy Cockerham, Troy Galloway, Dawn Glancy, Rachel Goldstein, Tracie Hadley, Jamie Hicks, Amy Hudson, Angela King, Eddie McDaniel, Mark Moore, Patricia Morphies, Bryce Revels, Samuel Richardson, Nick Spates, Steve Shore

The gossip hour Julie White and Amy Shouse use their time at a Tri-Hi meeting to catch up on the latest news after a long day at school

A look to kill During one of the lengthy Latin Club meetings, Patty Aking tries to pay attention to the drama of upper class events.

Afterschool Meetings Cause Conflict

Have you ever been in the position of having three club meetings at the same time, on the same afternoon? Which one did you choose? How did you budget your time? Many students were faced with this problem every Friday, the day the majority of the clubs on campus met.

Club membership demanded time, responsibility, and most of all, service. Some members had to choose between club meetings or other commitments. Missy Cockerham, a member of DECA and U.S.A., commented on the problem. "I tried to find out what was going to happen at each meeting, and I tried to go to the most important one

I also tried to find a friend at the other meeting to tell me what I missed." Jeff Cline agreed and said, "Sometimes my job conflicted, but I had to go to work because it paid; the Car Club didn't."

Other students handled the problem differently. Mary Nifong claimed to have a system. "I usually made an appearance at the least important meeting. At a second meeting I usually stayed five minutes. At the most important meeting, which was usually Anchor Club because it was required, I tried to stay the longest amount of time." Unfortunately, many club sponsors had a hard time understanding this. Nevertheless, time in the afternoon was limited, and certain choices had to be made. Luckily, students usually did fine and rarely showed signs of doubt over their decisions.

So whether it was running into two or three meetings for only five minutes or picking one meeting for the afternoon, each student made his own choice as a dedicated club member. As a result, clubs often tested the member's dedication and resourcefulness. When students found themselves stuck between two clubs, choosing which club meeting to attend was very difficult. However, all of the fun made up for all of the troubles.

Signed, sealed and delivered. While working on the project for the Brenner Children's Hospital, Mike Linscott works by stuffing envelopes with Christmas cards to be distributed in the community.

What a spread! At one of the French Club meetings, Benetta Dease, Shannon Stoeven, and Susan Hayworth help themselves to some of the refreshments provided by all of the members.

Clubs A-Z

KEY CLUB: Front Row: Chris Jones, Oliver Helsabeck, Steven Davis. Roya Qualls, Shannon via Robin Cardwell, Chad Simmons, Leigh Hudspeth. Second Row: James Jones, Jeff Grittin, Melanie Reece, Secretary, Denise Cassiat, Margaret Wages, Anita Cook, Schanta McCay, Whitney, Sam. Mr. Robert Goodwin - Advisor, Benetta Dease. Third Row: Bryant Wilson, Melody Miller, Jennifer Morris, Jason Long, Brian Thompson, Phillip Lawton. President: Samuel Richardson, Derrick Allen. Fourth Row: Greg Pate, Dan Kysinger, Chris Walden, Vice President: Burke Bowender, Eric Enginer, David Barger, Bill Weston, Dale Patterson, Chris Puryear. Not Pictured: Tim Suderith, Mike Quarles, Tracy Hunt, Jean Kru, Daphne Horan, Darin Statterd, Monica Mumford, Scott Bowen, Shannon Stoeven.

LATIN CLUB: Front Row: Treasurer: Marv Nifong, Secretary: Karen Brown, President: Lauren Beres, Vice President: Nikki Spates. Second Row: Amy Simpson, Katrina Bishop, Wendy Neely, Steven Davis, Wendy Monsalve, Samantha Merritt. Third Row: Dana Steelman, Jill Jewel, Dennis Vaughn, Scott Moore, Jo Huddleston, Patricia Ang. Not Pictured: Ashley McLeese, Kes Kindle, Ali Martin, Terry Smith, Tracy Crews, Ruthin Smith.

Interests

Clubs Offer Many Opportunities

Having fun while learning was primarily the objective of this year's interests clubs. Whether it was the Future Business Leaders of America, Future Homemakers of America, the Car Club, or any of the foreign language clubs, these organizations enticed friendship among students and educated them according to their interests.

Wendy Neely joined the FBLA and the Latin Club because she wanted to become more active in school activities. She added, "I feel that both of these organizations are a vital part of our student body and benefit the community." The FBLA visited Forsyth Hospital on Halloween and gave candy and refreshments to the children. Accordingly, the Latin Club held the annual "Carnation Sale" for Valentine's Day. Tracy Williard, another FBLA member, explained, "I joined FBLA to learn more about the business world. We compete with other FBLA clubs from different schools and we are given business opportunities we would not get otherwise."

Another educational interest club was the French Club. This club gave members a chance to meet new people and participate in activities dealing with the French language. Samantha Merritt stated, "I joined the French Club in order to become more familiar with the French language, customs, and way of life." Judy McSwain, another French Club member, added, "We learn about French food and customs and we enjoy competing at Lenoir Rhyne."

Activities, fun, and learning were all ingredients of the diverse interests clubs at North Forsyth. Students who joined these clubs were fortunate in being able to further explore interests and gain more needed skills for their future goals. Moreover, interest clubs gave students a special feeling of companionship.

Setting it all out Michelle Lee arranges one prepares teacher treat which the club presented to the during Valentine holiday

Drawing it to a close Susan Burris and Advisor Mrs. Sylvia Lawson discuss the upcoming events which will take place in the Art Society.

Space the final frontier Michael Hobson a member of the Rocket Club carefully sets up a model of a rocket which is almost ready to go on its very first voyage into the upper atmosphere of the earth today.

"May I please have a ref.?" Mrs. Mildred Peppers asks Eric Petree for a refill on her beverage at the teacher's tea given by the Ebony Society.

Pleased as punch. Sandy Hunt serving punch to the teachers enjoys supplying refreshments to the hard-working faculty.

Clubs A-Z

QUIZ BOWL. Front Row: Jodi Valencic, Jenni Shoaf, Oliver Helsabeck
Second Row: Dan Kysliger, Captain Samuel Richardson, Steve Davis
Not pictured: Valerie Coats, Wadel Sheppard, Amy Simpson

ROCKET CLUB. Front Row: Shane Jarvis, Kathy Pike, James Priddy, Chris Faulwetter. Second Row: Brian Gentry, Michael Hobson, Paul D'Amato, Scott Meliauskas

Snack time Mrs. Fran Scott enjoys a few stretching ts at one of the many teacher's teas given to the faculty because of their hard work

One great man once said, "The strength is in numbers." This theory was evident in the club organizations in the school. Nearly all of the clubs worked hard to work well together. They pulled together and made each event a total group effort. Unity in a club is often what attracted new members into a club.

Several students held unique thoughts on club unity. For instance, Jeni Powers commented, "It does not always seem like we care, but we work great with each other." Many other students echoed the same idea about club unity. Tom Muse stated, "We might act lazy, but we get the job done." Luckily, the clubs showed a lot of inner strength. Each club united its members to get various tasks accomplished.

Gaining club unity was an issue that presented numerous theories. No one individual was able to point out any specific reason or reasons why clubs had unity. One student, Jennifer Moore, cited items such as common interests, similar skills, and a willingness to work as reasons for a united club. On another note, Beau Childress believed that diversity in a club could help make a strong, unified club. He also remarked, "I think its the differences in people that makes our club go."

It was clearly evident, therefore, that a certain sense of club unity existed in almost every organization. Obtaining a unified club was indeed a challenging and difficult task. However, strong leadership, positive advising, and dedicated members aided in pulling many clubs together. Furthermore, club unity gave the students and the school a better sense of Viking spirit and pride. Also, by working together to achieve a common goal, each club was able to do many great things and build for the future.

Just stalling around Kent Lewis, Andy Honeycutt, Dwayne Melton, and Rob Cox play close attention as they sit through their annual Car Club meeting.

Wedding kiss Ms. Terri Casey and James Hicks made as the bride and groom at the annual fashion show between LSA and DECA.

Stage right Dana Steerman, Heather A. Hartley or Amy Simpson anxiously await their turn to model at the fashion show.

Locker talk Karen Davis, an Anchor Club member, and Steven Davis, a member of the Key Club, engage in lively chatter with one another at their lockers during their free time after school.

Clubs A-Z

GROUP STAFF Front Row: Annette Wilson, Cathy Gunn, Terri Cows, Campbell, Leah Edwards, Sheri Rose, Scott Moore, Jeff Gibson, Lisa Young, Marissa Argote, Michael Voss. Third Row: Janice Wright, Michael Henton, Kellie Sizemore, Martin Nor, Peter, and Pete Barnes. Back row: Kim Fine, Lee, and Wright.

SABRES Front Row: Derek Long, Lisa Young, Cathi Gunn, Kim Doady, Commander Terri Cows. Second Row: Paul O'Neal, Shawn Taylor, Sherry Johnson, Scott McNaulskas. Third Row: Jeff Gibson, Scott Moore, Michael Henton.

Sports car park. At the end of the USAA and DECA fashion show, crowd at the door of their last event to display their designs.

Shagging the night away Enjoying beach music Karen Davis and Lori Bovender dance it out at the beach party

Fellowship Clubs Join Together In Fun

One aspect important to all clubs the social aspect thrived through the participation of club members with common interests and goals. With the many opportunities that clubs presented for making friends many students found joining a club and securing new friends were synonymous achievements. Further strengthened by the many shared activities of members participation contributed much to these friendships.

One of the many ways clubs achieved the special ties its members shared was by sponsoring parties and dinners strictly for the purpose of allowing students within a club to socialize without the burden of task at hand. As Lori Bovender commented "love club dinners because they provide a good opportunity for the members to get to know each other away from the atmosphere of the school. Also, over the holidays, parties such as the Anchor Club/Key Club Christmas Party were held at a member's home, and gave other members a chance to interact and be themselves."

Another important aspect of the inter club friendships were the many service activities where a common goal was worked towards and attained. For example, Julie Rumley, a USAA Peer Counselor, explained, "As a Peer Counselor I've met many people by actually helping them with their problems. Also referring to a club activity, Cindy Jolly, a DECA member, stated, "When we attend District Conference, all the different schools are represented, and we meet students from all over the city."

With the many ways teens interacted while serving in clubs, there were several opportunities for new friendship ties. Broken down, clubs were not only created to serve, but also to unite students with common appreciations. When the dirty work was completed, the new bonds which club members shared still remained, many of these friendships which were made lasted throughout the high school years.

Step yourself. Several members of the French Club happen to be into the refreshments eating & eating no matter what language you speak

The Road Warriors. Matt Page, Mike Winebarger, and Dwayne Melton stop to talk about their afternoon plans before they hit the street.

How do I look? Molly Stanley is really dolled up with a complete set of cat whiskers which were a socially embarrassing part of Tri-Hi-Y initiations.

Clubs A-Z

SCIENCE CLUB. Front Row President Oliver Helsbeck, Wendy Neely, Vice-President Steven Davis. Second Row Mary Nilong, Karen Davis, Wendy Monsalve, Michelle Lee, Stevie Laing. Third Row Aprile McNeil, Merissa Wngate, Jo Huddleston, Cherri Kiger, Kesi Kindle. Fourth Row Michael Lynch, Katrina Bishop, Carol Brown, Darrick Alien, Andre Gore, Chas Jones. Not Pictured Secretary/Treasurer Jamie Franklin, Michelle Glover, Historian Dawn Hutchens, Amy Kiger, Matthew Leonard, Melody Miller, Michelle Murphy, Chris Scott, Wade White

SKI CLUB Front Row Kristi Saalwechter, Kwyung Yu, Sondra Watts, Dana Steelman, Amy Simpson, Tammy Hicks, Kim Staples, Jamie Hicks, Chris Pinnix, Steve Shore, Coleen Grillo, Kim Pike, Ellen Eudy, Susi Honaday Lucy Johnston. Second Row Won Yu, Ellen Christensen, Heather McInosh, Myra Wright, Catherine Long, Angie Vernon, John Gladman, Pam Reese, Jennifer Best, Clint Calaway, Tiffany Vickers, Jodi Harrison, Angie Vigil, Stephanie Soulsby, Cheryl Butner. Third Row Christie Smith, Suzi Russell, Mike Smith, Rodney Gregory, Joel Sapp, Susan Schowalter, Mike Linscott, Doug Troyer, Eddie McDaniel, Jean Stevens, Terri Owen, Anna Ogburn, Shannon Virtue, Angie Tuttle. Fourth Row Rock Hornsby, Christen Herren, Jason Deal, Chris Trout, Chad Lynch, Eric Chadwick, Mark Moore, Robbie Ray, E. J. Ergner, Tony Moretz, Lani Rieker, Shawa Wooten, Kim Robinson, Keith Bryant, Mark Uren. Not Pictured: Gabriel de Alba, Shannon Baldwin, Jean-Louis Beeren, Scott Bowen, Meredith Burdette, James Cain, President Ken Carter, Brian Dahmer, Jason Duggins, Ryan Ferguson, Amber Foushee, Ginny Gaynor, Kealy Holland, Lon Hoots, Jean Krull, James Madel, Trevor Martin, Schontal McClary, Kristin McGowan, Ashley Merrill, Kimberly Moton, Kim Neal, Jimmy Palmer, Marty Palmer, Billy Petree, Jimmy Reese, Nancy Scarborough, Derek Schatz, Tiffany Smith, Wendy Smith, Alan Starr, Shawn Stomean, Angie Vaughn, Brian Watts, David Weidt, Dirk Willard, Jason Williams, Billy Wilson, Chris Woodcock, Hwan Yu

Such wonderful salespersons Jod Harrison and Heather Brophy try to make money for the school by selling M&Ms and Pepsi to students who need a snack.

Money The Art To Raising It

Getting money can be an extremely difficult task. This task was even harder for school clubs. Unfortunately, the clubs could not simply go out and get a part time job or ask mom and dad for a small loan. School organizations were forced to rely on their members and the community for the money they needed.

Fund raising caused many students to respond in the same way: YUCK! One student, Jeff Griffin, stated, "If I have to sell one more box of M&M's, I just might die." Likewise, Aprile McNeill felt the same way about selling candy for her club when she commented, "I hate it!" Fortunately, not all club members carried such a deep disgust for fund raising efforts. Another reason fund raising presented a problem was the new policy concerning the sale of certain items which was put into effect this year. Several types of candy that were popular sellers were banned. For many clubs, this nearly crippled them for the year. However, with some thought and a little extra effort, all the clubs made it around this detour and had a good year.

Besides hindering school policies and half-hearted members, clubs had to decide what items they would sell. In years past, candy was the hot item; however, this year new sale items appeared in the school. A lot of the new goods took awhile to find a market among the student body, but they all did. Jo Huddleston remarked, "I used to like selling candy, but I hate selling the little junk." Meanwhile, Chris Puryear stated, "Moving away from selling candy was a new experience, but I like it." Thus, each member had to deal with the changes and adjust accordingly.

Therefore, generating revenue was a real experience. New rules and standards put old money-making schemes to worthless theory. All revolutionary methods had to be developed and used. Clubs reached out a lot and discovered exciting ways to secure funds.

Such organization. Mary Nlong and Karen Brown help organize the carnation order forms for the annual Latin Club Valentine's Day flower sale.

Clubs A-Z

Hanging out Tony Moretz, Marcus Wilson, Patrick Creasy and Dirk Ward talk during the fashion show, a fund raising effort between DECA and SAA. The clubs were securing funds for live entertainment at the Sadie Hawkins dance.

Getting them ready to go Steven Davis places identification cards on the teachers Valentine's Day lollipops which were sent by the Science Club as a means of letting North teachers know how much they were appreciated.

SPANISH CLUB. Front Row Secretary Treasurer Nancy Georgitis Alberta Joas President Ed Engner Gabrie de Alba Vice President Darren Hickerson Second Row Jennifer Best, Pam Reese, Angela King, Ginni Gavor Nancy Scarborough, Kim Kiger, John Cockerham, Christy Hambright Shannon Rosenbaum Jennifer Holland Buffy Lawson Sherry Eng and Susan Frankin Third Row Joe Sapp Alex Kiger Margaret Wages Kim Pike Colleen Grillo Jackie Lipkin Anita Cook Sarah Black Amy Kiger Melody Miller Aprilne McNeal Alison Watson Jean Stevens Angie Vog Fourth Row Brian Watts Mrs Elsa Hampton Advisor Mr. John Best Advisor Mrs Eloise Brown Advisor Ryan Stauffer Zack Albert Chris Jones Jason Long Mike Davis Melanie Reece Eddie McDanielle Debbie Cassidy, Carol Brown, Beth Respass Not Pictured Torva Bouquess Sarah Black Cris Cox Rodger Dalton Jacky Davis Rhonda Dehnam Jamie Franklin Dawn Hatchens Greg Pate Chris Scott Angie Vaughn Shannon Via Mike Winters

SPANISH SINGING GROUP. Front Row: Mrs. Eloise Brown Advisor Jennifer Moore Jackie Lipkin, Patrick Creasy, Karen Brown, Jo Hudgesson, Wm Martin Second Row Director Margaret Wages Rosemary McCarthy, Alex Kiger, Oliver Heesabeck, Mrs. Elsa Hampton Advisor Darren Hickerson Not Pictured William Burton Chris Scott

A good deed for the day. After a hard day of studies, Chad Engelkins helps to keep the school nice and neat by picking up a piece of trash which has somehow been misplaced along side a garbage can located in the back parking lot.

Cleaning Up

School Takes On A New Look

Keep North Forsyth Clean and Green." This motto was often used in connection with many clubs' activities. School improvement was one of the major items on each club's agenda. The Inter Club Council attempted to get every club on campus involved in the beautification of the school.

Many clubs helped pick up litter in the parking lot after school. Often fast food trash was seen scattered about the parking lot after the two lunches. Ashley McLeese stated, "Cleaning up the parking lot may have been a dirty job, but it looked nice after the trash was gone." Molly Stanley agreed and said, "I enjoyed trying to make the school look better for visitors on the campus."

The courtyard, a garden area near the library, was another project undertaken to improve the school's appearance. The new members of the Anchor Club weeded the courtyard as part of their initiations. Also, other students helped with the project. Jody Clower commented, "I enjoyed trying to improve the image of our school. The courtyard looks a lot better now."

On the other hand, some students felt that it was part of their duties as a student to keep the school grounds looking good

Amy Thompson stated, "I did not mind picking up garbage on the school grounds. How could anyone not want to do something that made the campus look so much better?" Luckily, she was not the only member of the school that felt this way. Shannon Rosenbaum agreed and said, "I honestly enjoy doing things that will help my school look better."

With each club's dedication to school improvement, the campus began to take on a brighter look. Some of the trash was gone, along with other types of unattractive litter. The "facelift" of the school made it a place to definitely be proud of.

Clean and green Dana Steelman, a senior Tri-Hi-Y member helps to keep the football stadium clean by picking up trash from the grounds

Hosing down Amy Shouse works diligently to make sure that the azaleas have plenty of water so that they will not die due to the sun's exposure

Clubs A-Z

STUDENT COUNCIL. Front Row: Tammy Hicks, Kim Kiger, Shannon Baldwin, Gina Absher, Kristi Sealwechter, Kim Staples, Jodi Teta, Kyung Yu Won Y. Holly Dickson Second Row: Lorrie Pale Annie Tucker Catherine Long, Dana Steelman Second vice President Eddie McDaniel Corresponding Secretary Robin Rutledge Amy Norman Mrs. Martha Hix Advisor Third Row: Mrs. Mary Anne Brown Advisor Susan Schowalter Molly Stanley Eli Erginer, Schontal McClary, Susi Holladay, Ashley McGehee Tara Hartman Melody Miller Fourth Row Eric Turner Daphne Hardin First Vice President Brian Oakes Treasurer Burke Boenzer Link Ward President Keoni Teta, Jeff Caldwell, Chad Lynch Liston Moser, Recording Secretary Jeff Griffin Not Pictured Amy Cole Monica Dillard Monte Jackson, Tom Muse Samuel Richardson, Tracey Ward Bryant Wason

TRI-HI-Y. Front Row Lucy Johnston, Jenni Shoaf, Shannon Baldwin President Amy Simpson Catherine Long, Jodi Teta, Sondra Waits, Susan Smoot Second Row: Chris Pinax Sweetheart, Susi Holladay, Kim Staples, Dana Steelman, Christie Smith, Amy Shouse, Treasurer Kathy Wray, Kim Robinson, Keoni Teta Sweetheart Third Row: Jenni Robinson, Kim Pike, Kelly Holland, Stephanie Soulsby, Secretary Terri Owen, Sondra Long, Molly Stanley, Cecelia James Fourth Row: Mary Worthie, Susan Schowalter, Melissa Lynn, Susan Hayworth, Julie White, Heather McIntosh, Sue Russel, Pam Reese, Darci Massaroni, Cheryl Butner Not Pictured: Kei Burgess, Kim Kiger, Jenni Powers, Lani Ricker, Angela Royal, Tracy Ward

Information

News And Beauty In The Halls

When one was walking along the halls of school, he or she saw lots of colorful additions to the halls. These new additions were called bulletin boards. Most of the clubs at school participated in the project. Each club was asked to pick a bulletin board for one month. During that month, the club was required to advertise something on it. This could be a catchy slogan or some school news.

Some people considered putting up bulletin boards a real task. Eric White said, "Keeping up bulletin boards took up time. It sometimes was a real hassle trying to find time." Wendy Neely felt the same way. "It was often times difficult finding time to put up the bulletin boards. And besides, once you put them up, you just had to take them right back down." Therefore, bulletin boards were no laughing matter; many hard hours were spent to make them look great.

Others felt that the bulletin boards around school helped improve the look of school, and they allowed students to keep up with daily activities. The Student Council kept a calendar bulletin board in order to keep students informed of sporting and scholastic events. Molly Stanley thought the information type of bulletin boards were the most effective.

All in all, bulletin boards made the school seem to be a much brighter place. Keeping the bulletin boards up did take a lot of time and patience, but the time spent paid off in a big way. Whether the board was for beauty or information, the students really appreciated them. Furthermore, the hard work which was put in by these gifted students, was deeply appreciated by every member of the student body. Without any doubt, the beautiful bulletin boards definitely added a unique touch of class to the school building.

Time for a new look. Jennifer Rosebaum, with skill and tender care, manages to staple some new items onto the bulletin board as the school gets ready for a timely visit from the SAC Committee during the year.

The sign says it all. Tonia Massengale, Anita McLemore, and Robin Rutledge hold up an example which shows their skilled handy work.

March into Spring. Ellen Eudy prepares all the necessary materials as she puts up a spring bulletin board in the waiting area of the front office.

Putting it all together, Ashley McLeese helps to brighten the halls around the school by putting up or attractive as well as informative bulletin boards for one of her Student Council duties.

Putting up a new one. Amy Norman with help from a friend decorates the bulletin board outside the front office using some new and special designs.

Clubs A-Z

VICA Front Row Lee Estep Treasurer Jerry Overby, Reporter Steve Marah President Cray Saylor Second Row Alan Starr, Parliamentarian
Gret Scott Kent Wolf Tony Webb Third Row Marvin Reeves. Not Pictured Scott Berry Sabrina Bethea, Todd Bowman, Secretary Chip
Carter Russo, Glenn Christina Hall Roger Hester Shawn Hopkins C W
Johnson Jeff Kealey Tim Kime Tom Webb Jason Welborn Aaron Williams

A Year to . . .

Excel

The athletic program within the school was important to not only the participants, but the spectators as well year round. Hard work and vast amounts of time put in by students and coaches were exhibited in impressive performances.

In the crisp fall air, many students came out to play sports. It was a new school year, and a new enthusiasm came along with it from the many supporters of our teams. The players battled with both the heat and the cold to play the sport they had devoted their time and effort to for several months.

When the cold winter arrived, winter sports heated the crowds up with stunning performances. Although the teams' practices were often delayed by inclement weather and holidays, all participants exhibited vigor regardless of the sport they were involved in.

The first sign of "spring fever" in the school was the beginning of spring sports. Because the air was becoming warm, participants took to their practicing outside to take advantage of the new season.

To better cover athletics in the school, a new way of recognizing the spring sports is being used in the Cynosure this year. The 1988 season is being covered in this edition along with the 1987 season. This change has been made to more accurately record the sports year for the reader.

Sports played a crucial role in the school's existence throughout the year and was appreciated by many students, the faculty, and the community. It was both a year for wins and losses, yet the energy exerted into the sports was well-deserving of recognition, and was certainly a year to excel for each individual athlete.

All in awe As Varsity basketball player Lonnie Brown goes to the basket, the audience, the opposing Mt. Tabor team, and teammate Marty Hickman suspensefully await his shot

Better safe than sorry Trainer Mr. Benjamin Dowell and aid Kenny Sprinkle examine Junior Varsity player Timbu Douthit's ankle before the second half of the game against East Forest

Out of the ball park Following through with her mighty swing, Varsity softball player Michelle Moorefield prepares to knock the softball far beyond the last opposing outfielder

East Cart. Clint Calaway, Bruce Revels, Linell Johnson and Joe Miller successfully make a tackle to insure that the ball will not advance any further up the field.

Where does it hurt? As Mr. Benjamin Dowell assists Germaine Lane off the field, he questions him to try and pinpoint the exact location of his ache.

Football

FRONT ROW Trainer Benjamin Dowell, Dawn Glancy, Jeff Brown, Marcus Sutton, Dan Kyslinger, Warren Smith, David Russell, Kim Jessup, Kevin Adams, Linell Johnson, Terrell Glenn, Bryce Revels, Harry Transou, Kerrick Williams, Lester Spears, Alfred Carter, Ronnie Baldwin, Chris Sinclair, Coach Gene Bowles.
SECOND ROW Coach Jim Addison, Coach Tom Aef, Jarrod Scott, Chuck Spears, Dirk Willard, Steve Shore, David LeGrant, John Speaks, Jamie King, Randy Boston, Joe Miller, Al Doomy, Kelly Allen, Mark Uren, Tom Muse, Ron Brown, Greg Williams, Todd Danner, Monty Cager, Coach Nelson Cowden, Coach Mike Ferguson.
THIRD ROW Martin Keum, Chris Pinnix, Billy Oakes, Germaine Lane, Germaine Jackson, Donald Johnson, Clint Calaway, Chad Simmonds, Darin Stafford, Jeff Johnson, Keoni Teta, Larry Griffith, Brian Wolts, Shane Allen, Cosmo Wilkes, Joel Sapp, Denorris Johnson, Trent Little.
ABSENT Kenneth Sprinkle, Eric Scarlett, Dwayne Eley.

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|---------------|----|
| NF 13 | G'boro Dudley | |
| NF 33 | Mt. Tabor | 10 |
| NF 6 | W. Forsyth | 7 |
| NF 6 | Reynolds | 30 |
| NF 7 | S. Stokes | 14 |
| NF 14 | Carver | 21 |
| NF 19 | E. Forsyth | 22 |
| NF 6 | G'boro Smith | 14 |
| NF 0 | Glenn | 9 |
| NF 13 | G'boro Page | 42 |

He-e-e-e's Homer! As one of North's most supportive fans, Homer Crawford's face was a familiar sight at almost every sporting event.

Sideline Fans

How Players Like Support

The roar of the crowd, the smell of sweaty players, and the look of excruciating pain on the face of a ball carrier could signify none other than the thrill of football. However, for the football players, the thrill came partially from the fans and spectators on the sidelines. "When you score, you hear the crowd calling your name and it really makes you feel good," explained Ronnie Baldwin.

Spectators were extremely important to most football teams. In a sense, the crowd could possibly even be considered another player on the team. "We couldn't do it without the spectators," stated Jarrod Scott. "They pick us up when we get down and they give us something to fight for." All it usually took was one good play to really get the crowd into the game.

At home games, the team didn't have to worry about the fan support because the fans turned out in droves. However, at a few away games, such as Greensboro Smith and Greensboro Dudley, only the most loyal fans showed up to support their team. As senior captain Billy Oakes commented, "Without fans it's hard to get pumped up, and it's really hard to play without being pumped up."

Another aspect of the team that dealt with support was the trainer, Mr. Benjamin Dowell

He was responsible for tending to the players' aches and pains and mending all their wounds. "Mr. Dowell has a tough job," explained Chris Pinnix. "He has to tend to every player who gets hurt, which is sometimes more than one per play."

The varsity football team had a somewhat disappointing season, winning only two of their games and finishing with a record of 2-8. Nevertheless, the team, lead by coach Jimmy Adison, never gave up hope and began every game with the spirit of a winning team. In the same regard, the fans never gave up on their team and continued to support them until the final game of the season.

Giving it his all. As Tom Muse is rushed by many large Greensboro Page Pirate's, he hurriedly tries to get off a punt that will hopefully result in a poor field position for Page

Down you go! At once, Linel Johnson and Joe Miller use keen judgement to read the play and stop their opponent as close to the line of scrimmage as possible

Athletic Art

Keys To Good Sportsmanship

"It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." This trite saying has been drilled into athletes heads time and time again. However, the JV football and soccer teams realized that it took a lot of hard work to be considered a "good guy."

The JV football team found that a part of good sportsmanship was team comradery. In order to form a great team, the players had to keep one another's spirits lifted and respect each team members' abilities. "At the beginning of the season it was hard, because we couldn't work together," sophomore Joe Mickel said. "But finally, we pulled together and acted like a team."

By the players having good attitudes and high spirits, the team stayed motivated. "If a player felt down, other team members helped lift him up," sophomore Matt Graffis said. "A loss didn't dampen our spirit."

Showing concern for how team members felt on game days brought the team closer together. As sophomore Chad Higgins explained, "Team devotion was the main focus. The whole team cared, and we worked together."

In forming a good, hard-working team, togetherness was always the key. "We all worked and played as one unit," sophomore James Wright said. This type of togetherness was what led the JV football team to a fine year.

Led by coaches Gene Bowles, Nelson Cowden, and Herman Moye, the JV football team once again showed their strength and winningness. Losing only two games and tying the Carver Yellowjackets, they finished the season with a notable record of 7-2-1.

JV Football

FRONT ROW Dawn Glancy, Carl Walker, Tad Davis, Brian Patterson, Chad Flynt, Charles Atts, Auton Carter, James Jones, Eric Drake, Cleo Hyman, Chris Richardson, Tony Whitlock, Kevin Kimber, Charles Hatcher, Jimmy Stade, Tubu Douthit, James Wright, Allen Scales, Coach Gene Bowles. SECOND ROW Coach Tom Aef, Coach Jim Addison, Trainer Benjamin Dowell, Keith Hunt, David Tomlinson, Sam Sheff, Kevin Strickland, Lamar Lentz, Antonio Sheppard, Jeremy Jennings, Matt Graffis, Ryan Little, Rusty Anderson, Michael Hite, Joe Mickle, Larry Harston, Charles Winters, Charles Clemons, DeShannon Napper. Coach Nelson Cowden, Coach Mike Ferguson. THIRD ROW Ernie Shouse, Donald Pettigrew, Reggie Shores, Patrick Willis, Jamie Hauser, Wayne Childress, Derek Hauser, Jamal Morrison, Chad Higgins, Fletcher Gist, Troy Moorman, Lawrence Blahey, Kermit Williams, Dwight Linville, Vida Jones, Von Butler, John Griggs.

The JV soccer team realized that good sportsmanship also meant the ability to play fairly against other teams. As coach Raymond Boyle stated, "While I tried to coach them to win, I also tried to teach them to play with pride." Junior Derek Schatz added, "Whether we win or lose, as long as we behave like gentlemen, the coach was happy."

Also, good sportsmanship gained respect from other teams. It was very important to gain a notable reputation. As junior Jon Engel remarked, "Our opponents knew we played hard, but we always played fair."

It was obvious that the JV soccer team had a strong sense of pride and self-respect. It took a "big man" to go onto the field and play hard yet still play fair. As a result they finished their season with a record of 4-2-1 in the conference.

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|---------------|----|
| NF 18 | G'boro Dudley | 14 |
| NF 14 | Mt Tabor | 0 |
| NF 28 | Reynolds | 6 |
| NF 10 | W Forsyth | 0 |
| NF 22 | S Stokes | 12 |
| NF 14 | Carver | 14 |
| NF 18 | E Forsyth | 5 |
| NF 12 | Glenn | 0 |
| NF 22 | G'boro Page | 46 |

Kick that ball! Derek Schatz tries to send the soccer ball down the field as he out maneuvers the East opponents.

Diggin' In As the quarterback prepares for the snap, a few players from the JV football team's defense get ready to meet the East Forsyth Eagle's offensive line literally head on

Breaking away Richard Christensen shows that he gives a 100% effort when trying to outsmart his opponents, and he cunningly outsmarts and cleverly steers the ball away from the player defending him

JV Soccer

Get up! Chris Sinclair's tote echoes his feelings toward himself and his teammates and creates a sense of electricity on the sidelines during one of the JV teams many wins

Scoreboard

| | | |
|------|-------------|---|
| NF 0 | Mt Tabor | 3 |
| NF 0 | W Forsyth | 2 |
| NF 0 | Reynolds | 5 |
| NF 1 | Parkland | 3 |
| NF 1 | Reynolds | 4 |
| NF 0 | Parkland | 2 |
| NF 1 | E. Forsyth | 0 |
| NF 2 | G'boro Page | 5 |
| NF 0 | Carver | 0 |
| NF 3 | E. Forsyth | 1 |
| NF 0 | Glenn | 0 |
| NF 1 | G'boro Page | 7 |
| NF 1 | S Stokes | 4 |
| NF 0 | Bishop | 1 |
| NF 4 | Glenn | 2 |

FRONT ROW Richard Christensen Jonathon McDermon Daniel Jones Keith Brewer Chris White Trey Morris Michael Fuk SECOND ROW Mark Baker Jon Engel, Scott Melisauskas, Ronald Leak, Greg Moore, Randall Hornsby, Eric Hampton, Coach Raymond Boyle ABSENT Andy Watts

"Which way did it go?" Ken Carter barreled in the air to execute one of his trademark defensive moves.

Here it comes, ready or not. Jean-Louis Beeren performs a throw-in to help lead the team in the direction of another deserving win.

Soccer

FRONT ROW Patrick Brownlee, Greg McManus, Billy Wilson, John Gladman, Scott Smith. Jean-Louis Beeren, Brian Hickerson, Ken Carter, Mike Linscott, Shawn Wooten. BACK ROW Coach Paul Dinkenor, Robert Cox, Rick Hornsby, David Barger, Marc Ingwersen, Eric Chadwick, Doug Troyer, Jimmy Palmer, Mike Speas, WI Ray Sam Richardson, Assistant coach Brian Linn.

Scoreboard

| | | |
|------|-------------|---|
| NF 8 | W Forsyth | 0 |
| NF 1 | Mt Tabor | 1 |
| NF 3 | W Forsyth | 2 |
| NF 1 | Reynolds | 0 |
| NF 1 | Mt Tabor | 1 |
| NF 2 | Parkland | 1 |
| NF 1 | Reynolds | 1 |
| NF 0 | Parkland | 2 |
| NF 1 | E Forsyth | 1 |
| NF 0 | Gboro Page | 2 |
| NF 5 | Gboro Smith | 1 |
| NF 2 | Carver | 0 |
| NF 5 | Glenn | 1 |
| NF 2 | E Forsyth | 1 |
| NF 0 | Gboro Page | 5 |
| NF 3 | Gboro Smith | 0 |
| NF 5 | S Stokes | 0 |
| NF 6 | Carver | 1 |

With all his might. In an effort to move the ball as far away from his goal as possible, goalkeeper, Scott Smith, uses all his strength to punt it back out to his teammates.

Super Plays

A Season Of Memories

After countless hours of practice and action-packed games, the varsity soccer team finished their season with the best record ever in the history of the school. Even though it may have been filled with ups and downs, every player carried in his mind one special moment from the season.

One half of the game in which great memories were created was the offensive half. As junior Mike Speas, a forward, stated, "Sometimes, the passes we gave were so great, I wondered if anyone could beat us." Likewise, Damon Lyons observe "a team unity which caused each individual to work together as one being."

Besides the offensive thrust, the varsity soccer team also possessed a strong defense. They gave up an average of only 1.4 goals per game. As goalkeeper, Scott Smith remarked, "The defense made the game fun. I loved the hard slide-tackles the back four made."

The physical nature of the team often led to heated competition, but the varsity boys always held their own. As junior Eric Chadwick said, "A good tackle can change a game, so I never hesitate to take someone down legally." Because of the spectacular plays, strong players, and excellent record, this varsity soccer season will not soon be forgotten. As Coach

Paul Dinkenor said, "It's a great way to start a winning tradition."

The team finished the season with a 13-5-3 overall record and lost to East Mecklenburg in the district final game.

Even though this season was somewhat phenomenal for the soccer team, there is no reason for their winningness not to continue. Patrick Brownlee summed it up by saying, "Although we're losing a lot of seniors, we can still work hard next year and equal what we achieved this year."

Oh, no you don't! As one of the Glenn Bobcats tries to steal the ball, Marc Ingwersen maneuvers himself into position.

Here goes! While Sam Richardson looks on, anticipating the next play, John Gladman executes the free kick after the Glenn Bobcats were penalized with a foul.

Personal Bests

Handling The Competition

In order to run for the cross country team, one had to excel in concentration, determination, stride, pace, and winning. These abilities seemed like too much for some, but to be competitive when running over two miles they were a must for others.

What did runners concentrate on while running a race? "I act like I'm not doing anything, that it's fun," explained junior Mike Quarles. "I think about anything besides running," sophomore John Cockerham said. "Sometimes, I even sing to myself." Most runners tried not to think about running so they would not get tired.

Still, other runners had a different outlook on the race. "I try to concentrate on my stride, control my breathing, and keep a good position throughout the race," stated Erskine Fred Charlie Hunt, sophomore, said. "I try to think about when to make my moves."

Whether it was objects along the course or other runners talking, the concentration of a runner could be easily distracted. However, most runners felt that their opponents were the most disturbing during a race.

Reactions to passing opponents varied depending on the runner's position and the length of the race.

There were many different attitudes towards running cross country. Some considered it an individual effort, yet everyone ran for the team. Individually and as a team, the runner had to possess an excellent state of mind in order to complete his strenuous task.

After losing five seniors last year, the remaining team members along with the new runners filled the vacancies and rose to the occasion. Although this season did not prove to be as profitable as last year's, the team still performed exceptionally well. Led by coach Scott Brent, the cross country team once again represented their school at every meet with a winning style all their won.

About to be lapped. As Mike Quarles seems to run out of energy, Alan Myers comes up behind him and thinks nothing about passing a fellow teammate.

Gone with the wind. As the race nears completion, Patrick Creasy gives the effort his all and picks up his pace a little to better his time.

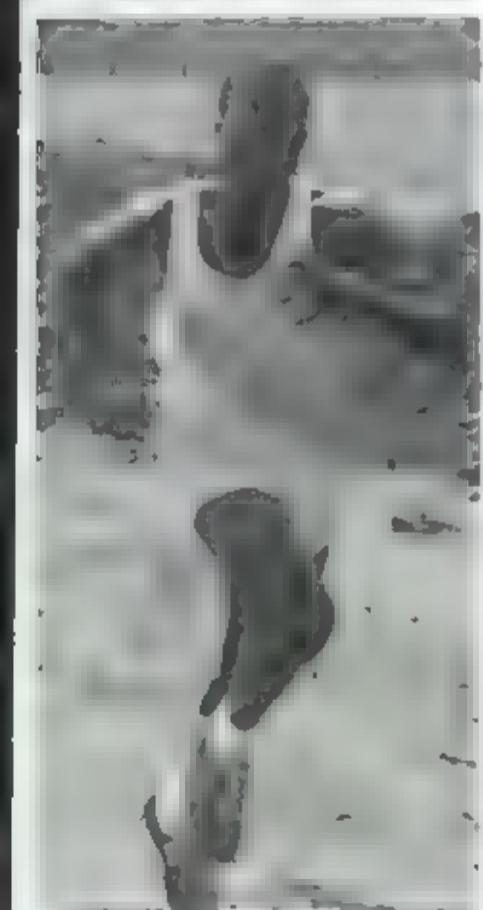

Holding her own. Being the only girl on the team does not phase Leisha Roseboro as she runs aggressively in every race and finishes ahead of most of the boys who are running.

It's not over, it's over. Rick Shouse seems to be tiring somewhat after almost completing the over two mile cross country course the runners completed in every race.

Cross Country

Push It! Erskine Fred appears to gain a second wind as he nears another runner and prepares to pass him.

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|-------------|-----|
| NF 55 | Carver | 127 |
| NF 55 | Mt Tabor | 37 |
| NF 55 | W Forsyth | 48 |
| NF 62 | Carver | 30 |
| NF 62 | Mt Tabor | 39 |
| NF 62 | S Stokes | 72 |
| NF .6 | Genn | 35 |
| NF .6 | Carver | 39 |
| NF 20 | E Forsyth | 31 |
| NF .7 | Genn | 38 |
| NF 35 | C boro Page | 23 |

FRONT ROW Rick Shouse, Matt Carter, Erskine Fred, Mike Quarles, Leisha Roseboro. BACK ROW Coach Scott Brent, Joel Kirby, Charlie Hunt, Patrick Creasy, Alan Myers. ABSENT Tyrus Clark, Darren Hickerson, John Cockerham.

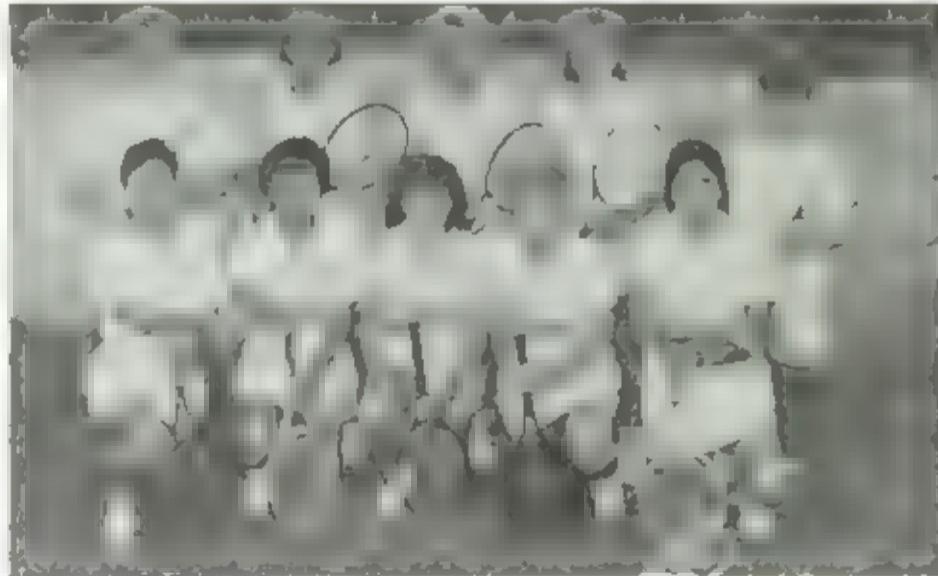

That's how it's done. Number one seed, Jodi Valencic, has no trouble at all returning her opponent's cross-court shot and sends it gracefully back across the net.

No problem! Barbara Silva intently watches the ball from the time it leaves her opponent's racket until it comes back across the net for her to volley and return it.

Girls' Tennis

FRONT ROW Won Yu, Kyung Yu, Melody Miller, Anita Galyean, Barbara Silva.
BACK ROW Elizabeth Wall, Leigh Hudspeth, Jodi Valencic, Amy Kiger, Amy Simpson ABSENT Rebecca Ashby

Scoreboard

| | | |
|------|--------------|---|
| NF 0 | Mt. Tabor | 9 |
| NF 3 | W. Forsyth | 6 |
| NF 6 | Parkland | 3 |
| NF 0 | H.P. Central | |
| NF 4 | S. Stokes | 5 |
| NF 3 | S. Stokes | 6 |
| NF 5 | Carver | 4 |
| NF 3 | E. Forsyth | 6 |
| NF 7 | G.boro Smith | 2 |
| NF 3 | Glenn | 6 |
| NF 0 | G.boro Page | 9 |
| NF 5 | Carver | 4 |
| NF 0 | E. Forsyth | 9 |
| NF 7 | G.boro Smith | 2 |
| NF 0 | Glenn | 5 |
| NF | G.boro Page | 9 |

Bite your tongue! Showing extremely keen concentration, Leigh Hudspeth demonstrates her excellent backhand by easily returning the ball back to her opponent across the court.

Travel Games

How Athletes Handled Them

New surroundings, unfamiliar people, and strange territories were just some of the things that athletes encountered when they traveled to play at other schools. For some, unfamiliar surroundings may have produced a slight case of the jitters, but strong, confident athletes were not phased by these changes. Furthermore, the girls' tennis team felt that playing away might have been beneficial for them.

"Away matches had advantages as well as disadvantages," explained junior Melody Miller. "Playing away was not as comfortable and sometimes put more pressure on us, but it helped us learn to concentrate on our game and not pay attention to what was going on around us."

Some players looked at the away games as an opportunity to socialize. Making new friends and acquaintances was a very important advantage of traveling to other schools. As Amy Kiger stated, "Traveling to other schools was not too bad because we could see different schools and meet new people."

During the long ride to the host school, thoughts of the upcoming match always lurked deep within the girls' minds. However, they tried not to really let it get to them and possibly affect their game. "I usually think about the game and wonder about who I'll be up against," commented second seed Anita Galyean. "I try not to let it bother me, though, because I don't like to get nervous."

Sometimes the team had a match at a school where classes ended later than theirs. As coach Bob Goodwin explained, "Away matches were fine except for when we played Greensboro teams, because we didn't start playing until 4:00 and were sometimes there until 6:00 or 7:00."

Even though the final record of the girls' tennis team did not show a winning season, their year was still a good one. They compiled an overall record of 5-11, beat the Carver Yellowjackets twice, and felt that this season was beneficial despite their record.

Not good enough. Kyung Yu has no trouble at all in sending a shot right back over the net to her opponent with a hard backhand of her own.

Reach out and touch. As Amy Kiger shows, not all of the shots were aimed directly at her. The girls had to be on their toes and really be prepared.

Bump it. Melanie Reece concentrates on getting the ball across the net and into her opponent's territory

"For your eyes only" Monte Jackson spikes the ball over the net and gives the defenders a hot item to deal with

Off-Season Preparing For Next Year

Making a winning team took lots of practice, especially after the last season was over. Practice and time had to be put into the sport year round, not only during the season. An example of how hard work and practice made a successful team was reflected in the girls' volleyball team.

The team had seven players who at one time played Junior Olympic Volleyball at Wake Forest. They played on teams with girls from other schools in the area and improved their ability to play and get along with other players. "I like playing J.O. Volleyball because it helped improve my fundamental skills and gave me practice for the upcoming season at school," stated

Shannon Bell

The league was led by many coaches from numerous colleges and professional leagues. "I am glad I got the chance to be coached by someone who was well-trained, because I felt it helped me learn some new techniques," explained Amy Norman

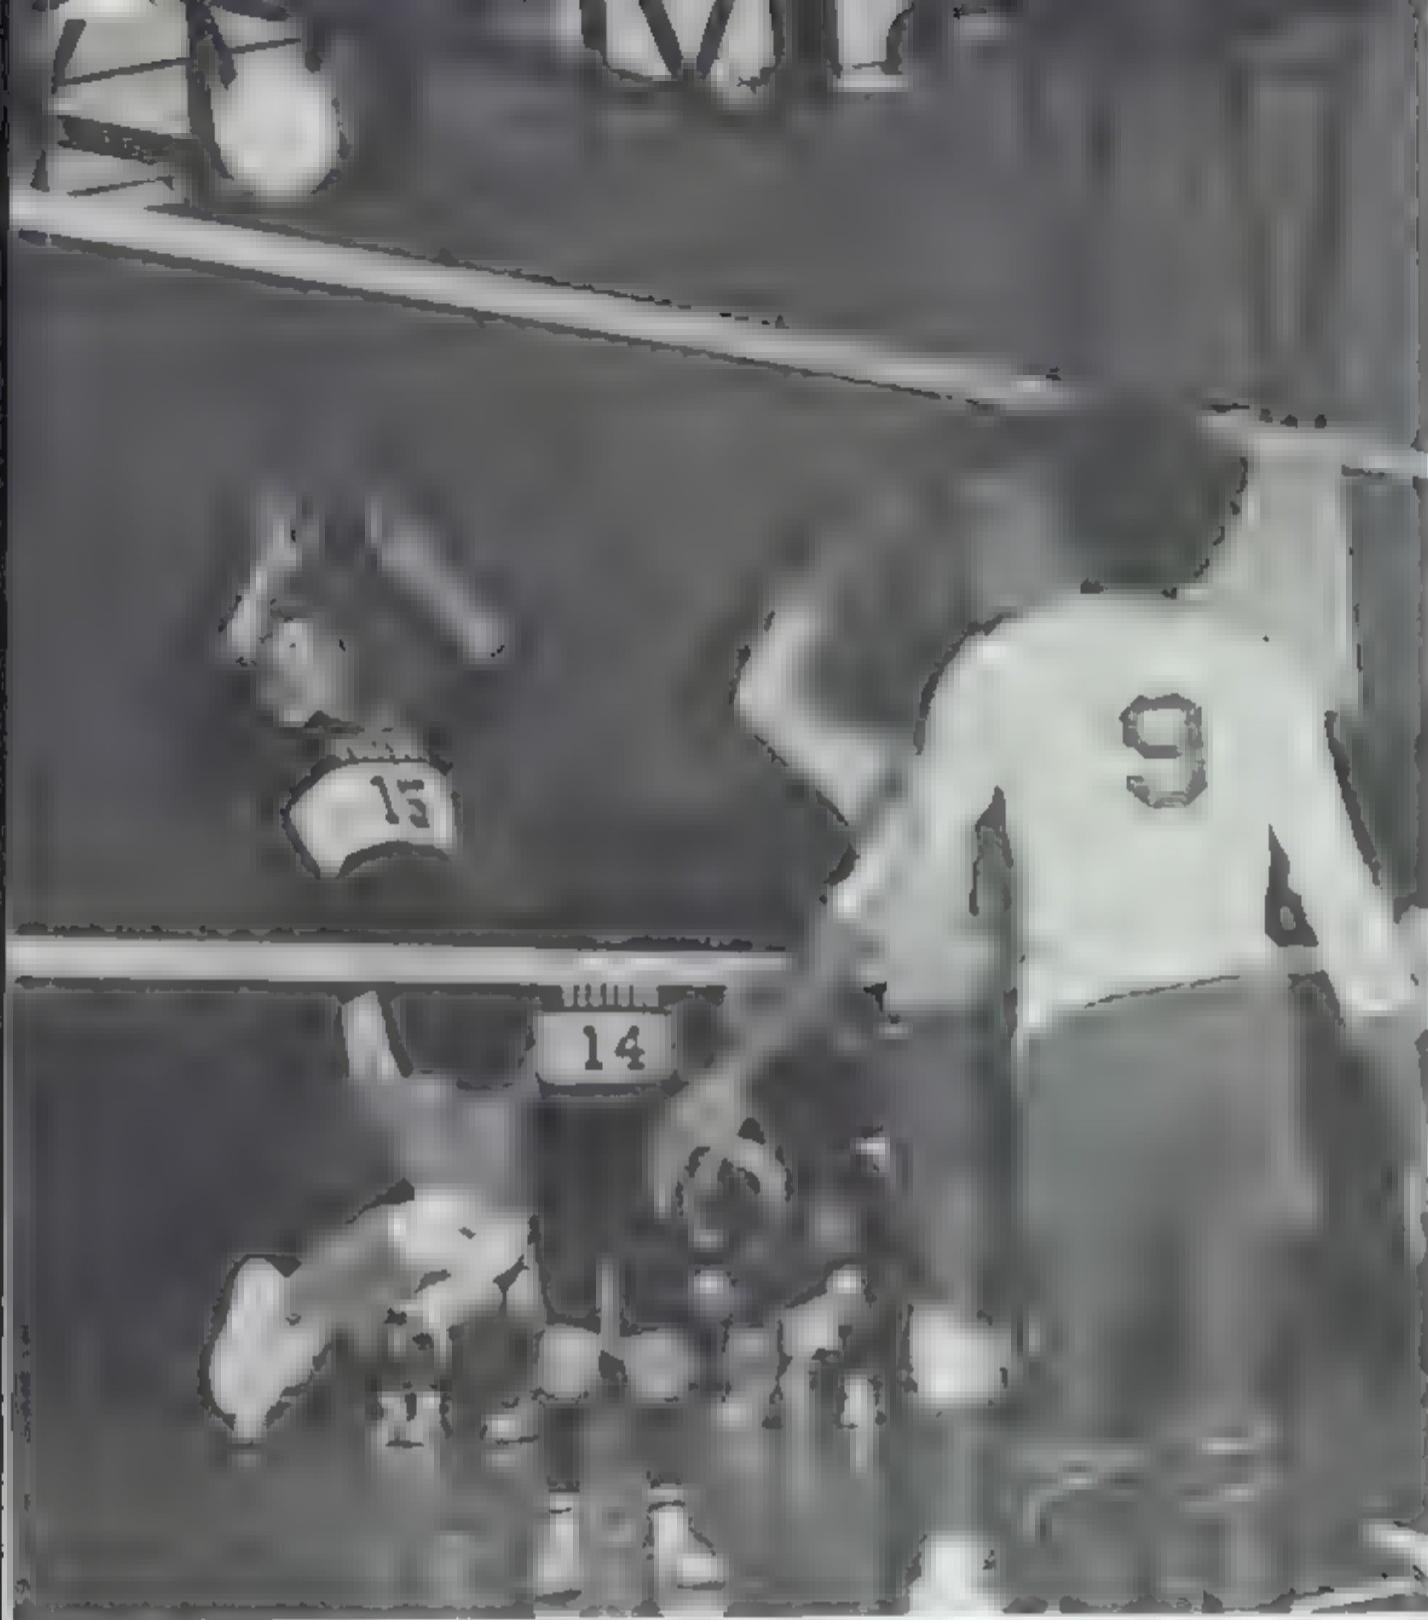

The league was beneficial to the girls because it gave them a chance to convey what they learned to their team. Even though not all the team members participated in the league, they all profited from the instruction. "We all tried to help each other by giving a little constructive criticism every once in a while, but it was only to help make the team stronger," stated

Melanie Reece.

The girls' Volleyball team certainly produced a strong and winning team this year as in past seasons. They finished the conference with overall record of 8 and 2, and also, were Metro Conference champions for the third year in a row. Their only obstacle was Greensboro Dudley in the second round of the state play-offs

It was obvious that the girls proved they were winners by their numerous season accomplishments. They realized, however, that hard work and much time must be spent in order to be able to compete with other teams. These factors are what made the season truly successful

A high jump. Shannon Bell leaps up into the air to maneuver the ball into the opposing team's court

Set it up! Reaching for the ball, Angela Royall anticipates the ball's arrival and the forthcoming spike

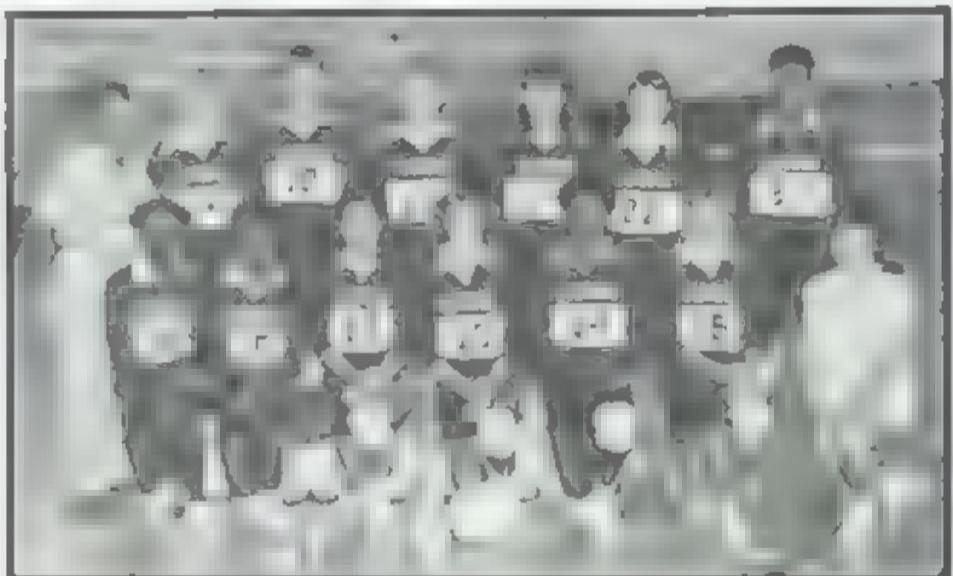

Volleyball

Caught in the act. Amy Norman uses all of her concentration to deliver a winning serve for another point

Scoreboard

| | | |
|------|-------------|---|
| NF 3 | E Forsyth | 1 |
| NF 3 | Gboro Smith | 0 |
| NF 3 | Carver | 0 |
| NF 3 | Glenn | 0 |
| NF 3 | Gboro Page | 0 |
| NF 3 | Carver | 2 |
| NF 2 | E Forsyth | 3 |
| NF 3 | Gboro Smith | 0 |
| NF 2 | Glenn | 3 |
| NF 3 | Gboro Page | 0 |

FRONT ROW Danita Roseboro, Monica Mumford, Amy Norman, Angela Royall, Monte Jackson, Shannon Bell, Kathy Mickey BACK ROW Coach Gloria Ingram, Shannon Virtue, Suzi Russell, Melanie Reece, Keli Burgess, Teresa Harrel, Lisa Hickman

Pump it up! To help pep up the crowd, JV cheerleader LeeAnne Parnish, belts out a cheer while staying in unison with the rest of the squad

I got it! Lisa Starling calls out a fair warning to Jackie Lipkin as she hurries into a position to skillfully return the ball back across the net

JV Cheerleaders

FRONT ROW Phyllis Cave, Shannon Hutcherson, LeeAnne Parnish, Tamika Adams. BACK ROW: Jenni Robinson, Sherry Shutt, Kenya Bass, Tracie Lyons, Ellen Eudy, Amy Allen

Taking a break In between cheers at a Thursday night game, JV cheerleaders, Rosemary Ferguson and Teresa Sapp, enjoy some of the game before returning to work

Starting Fresh

A New Beginning

Starting out "cold" at a task with no background or experience can be a scary feeling sometimes. However it is necessary in order to work, learn, and accomplish something. This year, the JV cheerleaders and volleyball team realized that what they learned during their JV years prepared them to be the "Superstars" of the Varsity.

To prepare to become a varsity cheerleader, the JV cheerleaders were taught basic cheers and moves. Any experience they may have had before joining the JV squad was extremely helpful. "I was a cheerleader for the Tiny Falcons," explained Sherry Shutt. Sophomore Jenni Robinson also added, "I was a Valkyrie last year, and I think that has helped my cheerleading a lot."

The desire to become a cheerleader can come from numerous influences. "I used to watch a lot of cheerleaders on TV and wanted to become one," Tamika Adams said. "I am really looking forward to becoming a varsity cheerleader one day."

This year, the JV volleyball team only had four returning players from the previous season. Therefore, they practically had to build a new team from the ground up out of girls who had never played volleyball before. However, the new players did not hinder the team in any way. As returning player Tina Hoyer explained, "The new players picked up the basic skills pretty fast, and it didn't take long for us to learn to play together."

When the girls first tried out for the team, they soon realized that things were not exactly going to be easy. "I found it hard to learn all the different rules," Beth Respass stated. Freshman Bridget Call added, "The hardest part for me was getting to know all the other players."

After the rules were learned, and the players became comfortable with one another, the JV volleyball team settled down for a fine season despite their inexperience. Led by Coach Dorothy McLean, they finished their season with a 5-5 record which is truly commendable and very deserving.

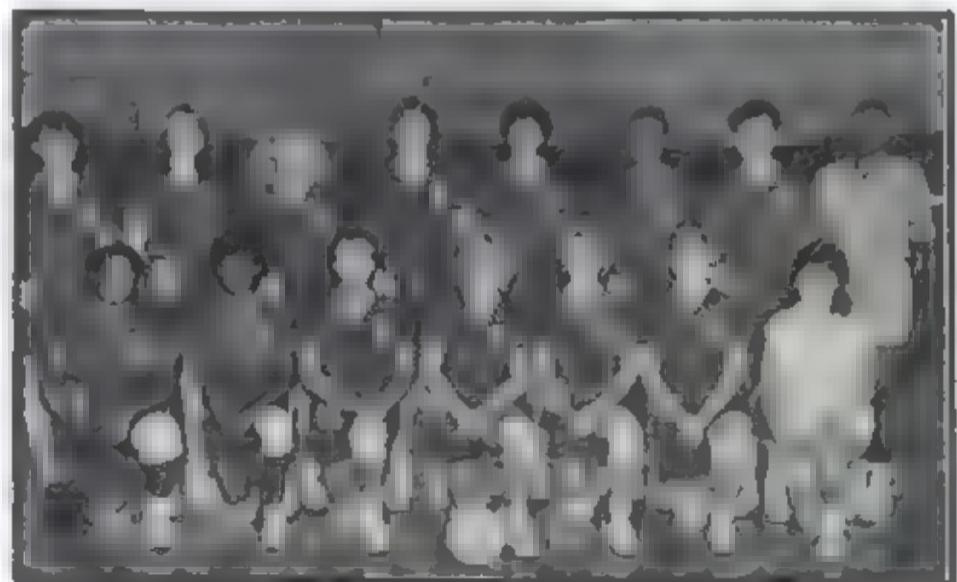

Are you ready? With Bridget Call alertly on back up, Jennifer Dahl bumps the ball high into the air to allow the setter time to get into her position.

JV Volleyball

Scoreboard

| | | |
|------|--------------|---|
| NF 2 | G'boro Page | 0 |
| NF 2 | Carver | 1 |
| NF 2 | G'boro Smith | 1 |
| NF 0 | E. Forsyth | 2 |
| NF 0 | Glenn | 2 |
| NF 0 | G'boro Page | 2 |
| NF 0 | Glenn | 2 |
| NF 0 | E. Forsyth | 2 |
| NF 2 | G'boro Smith | 0 |
| NF 2 | Carver | 0 |

FRONT ROW Charlitta Pledger, Kenya Tillery, Bridget Call, Jackie Lipkin, Lisa Starling, Karen Brown, Kathy Mickey. BACK ROW Jennifer Dahl, Beth Respass, Susan Franklin, Anita Cook, Tina Hoyer, Schontal McClary, Kristina Woodruff. Coach Dorothy McLean

Out In front Beth King, along with the rest of the varsity cheerleading squad adds to the sparkle and excitement that the Homecoming festivities bring

Hey Vikings! Yo? Angie Tuttle puts her all into a cheer to help liven up the Viking fans during the first half of a Friday night home football game

Spirit Support The Essence Of Enthusiasm

"We've got spirit!! What?" "We've got spirit!! What?!" This familiar cheer could be distinctly heard without fail at every football and basketball game as the varsity cheerleaders stood before a capacity crowd of students and athletic fans. Even though the cheerleaders swayed back and forth and yelled until they became hoarse, their job of rousing the crowd was of utmost importance in their minds.

Being a cheerleader meant being someone who had a lot of responsibility and respect placed upon them. They were prominent figures in the everyday life of the school, as well as the athletic events on the weekends. "I think the other students look up to us as spirit leaders," senior Nikki Spates commented. "Having such a recognizable status means we have to maintain a good image."

The cheerleaders realized that promoting a lot of school spirit would give the athletic teams more confidence and, possibly, help them play better. At pep rallies it was evident that good school spirit was a key to team success and school unity. The students sometimes felt like they were like a member of the team if they exhibited a lot of school spirit.

Most athletes came to their games looking for a crowd that was big, supportive, and a little rowdy. If the team ever got down, it was up to the cheerleaders to liven up the crowd and get them behind their team.

Furthermore, it was the cheerleaders' job to make sure the crowd stayed in the game and did not get down on the team. As junior Cheryl Butner said, "Making sure the crowd has spirit is very important, because it shows the school we're playing that we have pride in our school, and that the team has our support."

It was extremely obvious that a cheerleader's job meant doing a lot more than standing up in front of a crowd of people, jumping around, and yelling their lungs out. Promoting spirit, both at school and at athletic events, was a lot harder than it looked. Numerous hours of practicing and memorizing were spent in learning all the cheers and routines.

However, being a cheerleader created a sense of pride and a feeling of reward whenever their team won a game. Promoting school spirit became a major aspect of every game and could not have been omitted. As senior Angela Martin summarized, "To have a good team, you had to have lots of good spirit first."

Give it all you've got Cheryl Butner and Tracie Hadley, along with JV cheerleaders, Sherry Shutt and Amy Allen, pep up students at the first outdoor pep rally of the year

"Way to go Vikings!" Reacting to a super offensive play by the football team, Angela Martin and Jeff Griff cheer the team on to a possible victory.

Cheerleaders

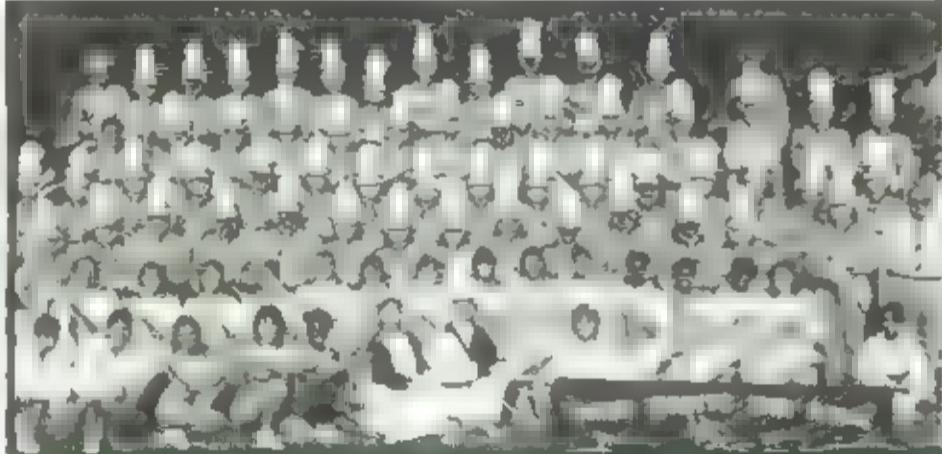

FIRST ROW Shannon Baldwin, Beth King. SECOND ROW Gina Absher, Cheryl Butner, Nikki Spates, Kim Kiger. THIRD ROW Annie Tucker, Angie Tuttle, Angela Martin, Darci Massaroni. FOURTH ROW Tracie Hadley, Carol Brown

"Go, North High Vikings!" As the football team makes its way through the tunnel, Annie Tucker dances to the school fight song

Ready or not! After leading the band into the field during the halftime of a home football game, Roya Quadas assumes her position atop the director's box on the sideline.

Viking Band

| 1997 K-W Class | Honors | W.H. Class | Honors | 1997 W.H. | Class | New & Honors |
|---|-----------------|----------------|--------|-----------|-------|------------------|
| McGraw, T. | | | | | | |
| Teressa Calloway, Paul | es, Cami Harper | | | | | Veronica Foggie |
| Blamee Lor | s Donaway, Tdt | | | | | Absher, Charlene |
| | | | | | | Karen Davis |
| Rachel Cox | | | | | | |
| Martin Ams, Weatt Vickie Hu | | | | | | |
| Jones Cindy Cates Mr Danny Green | FIFTH ROW | Brian Thompson | | | | |
| Shane Moore Ron Bickers Ricky Cheek Kevin Ray | | | | | | |
| Winden, Josh Weaver David Long Robbie Duggins, Jonathon | | | | | | |
| SIXTH ROW Burke Bowunder Matt Carter Will Toney Alan Cromer Tim Aulen, Nathan | | | | | | |
| Linton Robin Cardwell Oliver Hesabeck Kevin Beaman Andre Gore Tim Brown, Andi | | | | | | |
| Snipes Rou Morrison | | | | | | |

The Halftime Show That's Truly Entertainment

The gun sounded ending the first half of an exciting football game. On the sidelines, the North Forsyth Marching Band awaited the exit of the football team, so they could begin the half-time show. A lot of hard work went into preparing the half-time entertainment, because, as Burke Bovender put it, "What we do creates an atmosphere of excitement, while it also entertains the crowd."

The band began practicing early in the summer, long before school started. Many felt this was a big sacrifice. As Senior Richard Ray said, "It was difficult to stop doing summer things."

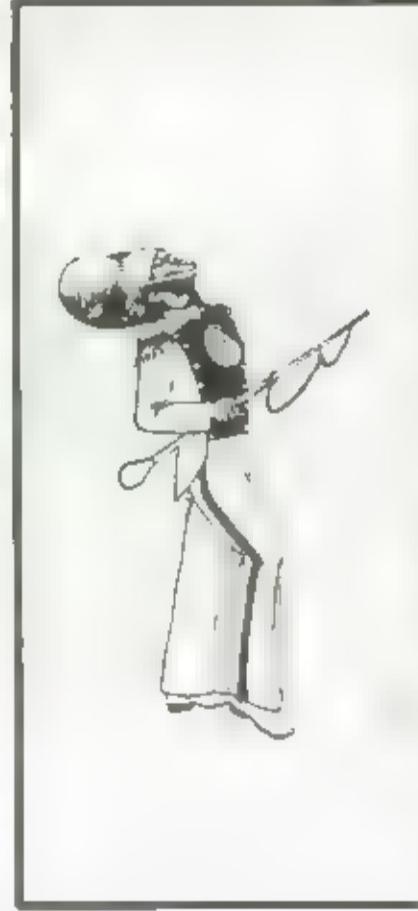

just to start band practice four weeks before school even started."

The formations the band presented during half-time were obviously difficult to perform. Therefore, it took much hard work and cooperation from each band member to perform each routine perfectly. Steven Davis, a drum major, explained, "We practice for about two weeks to get the basic pattern down, and then we polish it up the week before the game on Friday."

The band had a difficult task of keeping the crowd's attention between the second and third quarters. It was hard to perform while some spectators used half-time to get refreshments from the concession stand or to stretch their legs. Brian Thompson felt, "To a lot of spectators we were only there to fill the void."

Being a member of the marching band was not as easy as it seemed. It required a lot of hard work and tremendous dedication to be able to entertain a crowd of anxious football fans. Without this effort from each band member, the half-time shows would not have been possible, and though not always demonstrated, most spectators valued the band's performance.

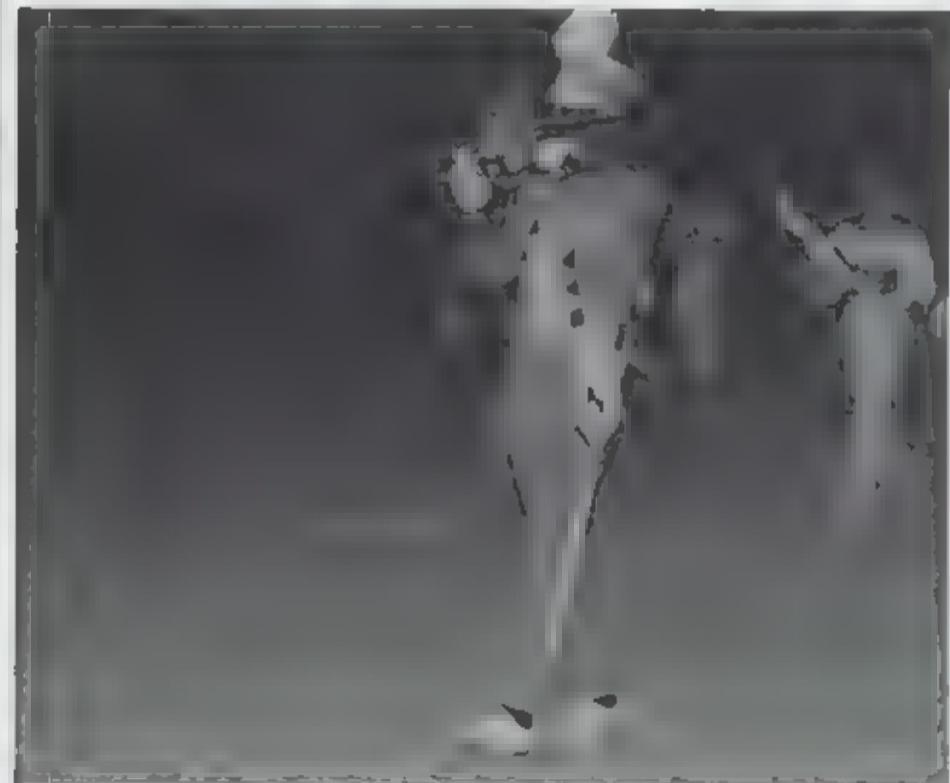

Battle of the bands. At a competition held at Bowman Gray Stadium, Robbie Duggins, David Long, and Charles Davis wait in line to perform

A team effort. Members of the marching band show their support for the football team by giving them a little help on the kickoff return.

A together now. Play Corps members Tony Sims and Connor Upchurch add another aspect to the band's halftime performance with their call me routine.

A solo performance. Tim Brown seems to be all alone out on the football field as he plays inspirational notes from his saxophone to entertain the halftime spectators.

Beat of a different drum. Chris Warden, Ost Weaver, Charles Davis, and Mark Graham demonstrate their drum playing abilities to the excited supporters in the stands.

Fresh and ready, listening for their cue, the Valkyries prepare to entertain a gymful of basketball fans at a home game against the Mt. Tabor Spartans.

Behind the scenes. Even after the Valkyries finish their halftime performance, they still enjoy promoting spirit in the stands.

In step. Showing keen concentration, Alison Leimbach carefully watches the Valkyne in front of her to make sure that she is always in step.

Perfect Timing Means Working Together

As the end of the first half drew to a close at almost every football and basketball game, a group of 66 girls gathered together and began stretching out in preparation for their halftime routine. One way the Valkyries made sure these routines looked good was by making sure they were all in step together.

Every routine they presented to the athletic fans started out in the planning stages and worked its way up from there. It was up to the three senior choreographers, Tonya Atkins, Amy Shouse, and Tonya Styers, to develop the routine and put it to music.

"When we start a new routine, the three of us go to one person's house and sit down and throw ideas out until something good comes up," Tonya Styers explained. "Then we show it to the rest of the squad."

After the girls on the squad saw the new routine, many hours of after-school practice were involved in learning it themselves. This required a lot of memorization of steps and the usage of other methods to remember when to do what, where.

"To stay together, we practice a lot, and there's a bunch of counting involved so we'll know when to do the next step," Sandra Watts said. "Sometimes, though, it's just easier to listen to the music to know what to do."

Often times, the routines involved many complex steps and formations. Sometimes, the counting method did not always work in these situations. "When we have a peel in a routine, we know kind of how to count to know what we're supposed to do, but we just watch the person beside us," Sylvia Hamilton stated.

As a result of all the hard work and practice, the Valkyries always had nearly flawless routines and always put on performances that were purely entertainment.

A photon finish Receiving a huge burst of applause Jamie Poole Sondra Watts and Stephanie Soutby will be invited to Lost in Emotion

Forward march! Laura Theis, Mistie
Tate, Ronda Hansen, Kathy Wray and three others march out onto the field to perform during Homecoming.

Valkyries

All bundled up While she is not performing, Tawanna Hairston likes to stay warm by piling on the clothes and cheering the Viking team to a victory.

FIRST ROW Tonja Sheets, Tonya Atkins, Amy Shouse SECOND ROW Christy Sapp, Myra Wright, Darian Street, Sharetha Bruton, Julie Bell, Tiffany Hill, Colleen Grillo, Catherine Long, Kim Puse THIRD ROW Kristi Seeger, Sandra White, Rhonda Sorenson, Laura Theis, Averi Faushee, Neptusia Sowbel, Debbie Smith, Amy Thompson, Tracy Ward FOURTH ROW Jodi Clower, Kim Gartett, Tracy Ward, Sondra Watts, Sondra Watts, Shannon Taylor, Tammy Hicks, Sylvia Hamilton, Tawanna Hairston, Allison Payne, Lani Rieker, Sherri Hauser, Loretta Salter FIFTH ROW, Kathi Walker, Harrison, Jennifer Holland, Jennifer Best, Jami Rieker, Pam Reese, Catherine Long, Terri Owen, Tiffany Vickers, Jennifer Hudgins, Heather Alexander, Julie Hart, Tera Hartman, Daphne Hardin SIXTH ROW Allyson Watson, Cecilia James, Kim Robinson, Jennifer Rosenthal, Valerie Coats, Tera Hartman, Alison Leinbach, Ashley Yates, Beth Hoover, Eleanor Rosenthal ABSENT Angie Green, Tracy Seeger, Jennifer Stoops, Macie McNamee, Marie Moore

To the hoop. During a home game against the South Stokes Sauras, Brian Brown cuts maneuvering the Saura's defense and banks in a lay-up over an opponent's blocking attempt.

Crossing the boards. As the South Stokes Sauras seem to just stand by and watch Pat Caesar drives uncontested to the hoop for an easy lay-up and another two points.

Boys' Basketball

FRONT ROW Coach Tom Grier Asst Coach Clarence Reynolds Connie Brown Tom Muse Patrick Caesar Anthony Ingram Marcus Wilson Pat Abbott score keeper BACK ROW Louis Pratt manager Elbert Thacker Merleith Nappie Scott Spears Bryant Peter Germane Martin Grier Carter Charles Evans David Risse Martin Heckman Azmar Martin Eric Smith Mike Davis manager

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|----------------|----|
| NF 1 | Mt. Airy | 51 |
| NF 13 | Wilkes Central | 68 |
| NF 11 | West | 66 |
| NF 7 | Reynolds | 67 |
| NF 2 | Mt. Tabor | 80 |
| NF 16 | Reynolds | 57 |
| NF 2 | Mt. Tabor | 52 |
| NF 50 | HP Andrews | 75 |
| NF 8 | Parkland | 44 |
| NF 69 | HP Andrews | 65 |
| NF 82 | South Stokes | 50 |
| NF 71 | South Stokes | 52 |
| NF 66 | Carver | 68 |
| NF 65 | East | 66 |
| NF 60 | Gboro Smith | 56 |
| NF 31 | Glenn | 74 |
| NF 64 | Gboro Page | x |
| NF 70 | Carver | 61 |
| NF 50 | East | 46 |
| NF 51 | Gboro Smith | 67 |
| NF 68 | Glenn | 76 |
| NF 59 | Gboro Page | 67 |

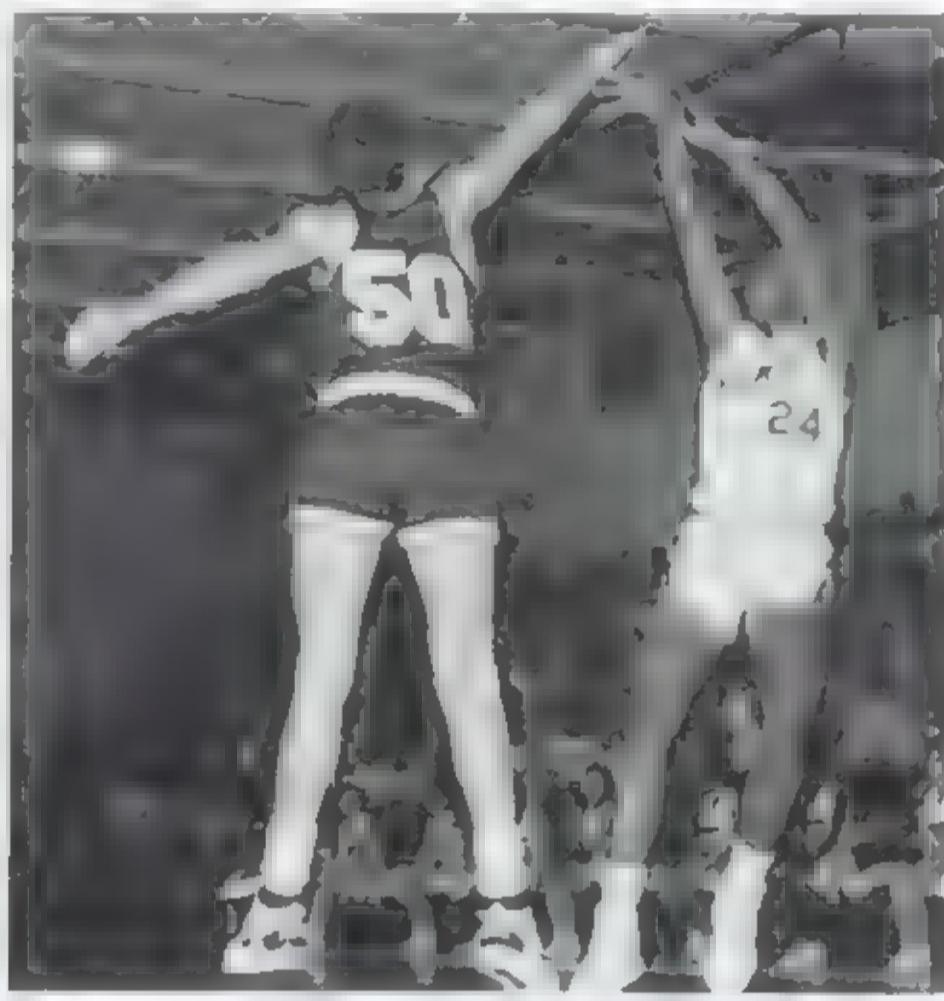

Setting it up. Bringing the ball back down court, Anthony Ingram carefully surveys the Mt. Tabor Spartan's defense and prepares to work around it to get a good shot.

A sure two. Towering high above the visiting Greensboro Page Pirate defenders Pat Ceasar makes it look so easy as he banks in the ball off the backboard Fading out Even though a Mt. Tabor Spartan has a hand in his face, Todd Speas takes careful aim and shoots in another two points from the baseline

"Scout's Honor"

Sneak Previews Really Work

It seemed like a must. Traveling to other schools and sizing up opposing teams and standout players was one very important strategy the varsity boys' basketball team used when preparing for a game.

This seemingly easy process involved a lot of time and hard work. As the team's manager, Mike Davis explained, "Coach Shuler tries to go and see every team before we play them. For instance, on a Tuesday he watches the team that we are to play on Friday."

However, the coach's observation of their opponents was not enough. A scouting report was then made, and practices were devoted to capitalizing on their opponents' weaknesses. "During our practices, if they have a certain kind of offensive play they always run, we work defensively to stop it," Tom Muse said. "Sometimes, we worked offensively to penetrate their defense."

Often times, if a scouting report could not be made, the team and coaches had to revert to other methods of previewing their opposing team. "If a lot of the same players are still playing, we watch a film of the game when we played them last year," Patrick Ceasar commented.

After a couple of days of hard practices, the planning then moved into the classroom, but the coaching did not stop. As Greg Hunter explained, "Coach Shuler writes on the board the day before each game our opponents five starting players, their heights, and their numbers so we can recognize them. Then he lists some 'Keys to Victory' that we have to do if we expect to win."

All of this sacrifice, time, and hard work was very beneficial for the varsity boys' basketball team. Even though this season did not prove to be as successful as in previous years, it was still an exciting one. The team finished the regular season with a record of 11-9, and finished third in the annual Frank Spencer Holiday Classic.

Flawless form. Tom Muse shows keen concentration as he tries to narrow the gap in the score during a home game in the boys' gym against Mt. Tabor

Study Habits

Finding Time To Study

Jp. up, and away. As Buffy Lawson watches in the background, Kenya Tillery puts up a shot and hopes to add another two points to the score against High Point Andrews.

Everyone had to make time to study, but the members of the J.V. boys' and girls' basketball teams had to make an extra effort to study around the hustle and bustle of practices and games. Even though their minds may have told them that academics should come first on their list of priorities, actually making time to sit down and do homework became difficult for many of them. However, most of them did manage to keep their grades up.

The coaches were a big help when it came to both academic and athletic excellence. Their philosophy on grades was if you didn't make good enough grades, then you didn't play. This rule alone was often enough to keep the players motivated in their studies. James Overstreet commented on his coach, "Coach Simpson is concerned with academic achievement off the court as well as athletic excellence on the court." With this attitude, the coaches greatly influenced the J.V. basketball players to find the time to do their work.

After games, athletes often got home late which left them only a little time for homework. Furthermore, the game drained most of their energy, and the only thing they really wanted to do was sleep. However, they knew that they had to strive to do their work, and if it meant staying up late at night, then that was one of the sacrifices they had to make. Vick Seat stated, "I'm tired when I get home, and it's hard to really sit down and study." Lori Bovender felt different about the issue, saying that "basketball clears our minds for better thinking."

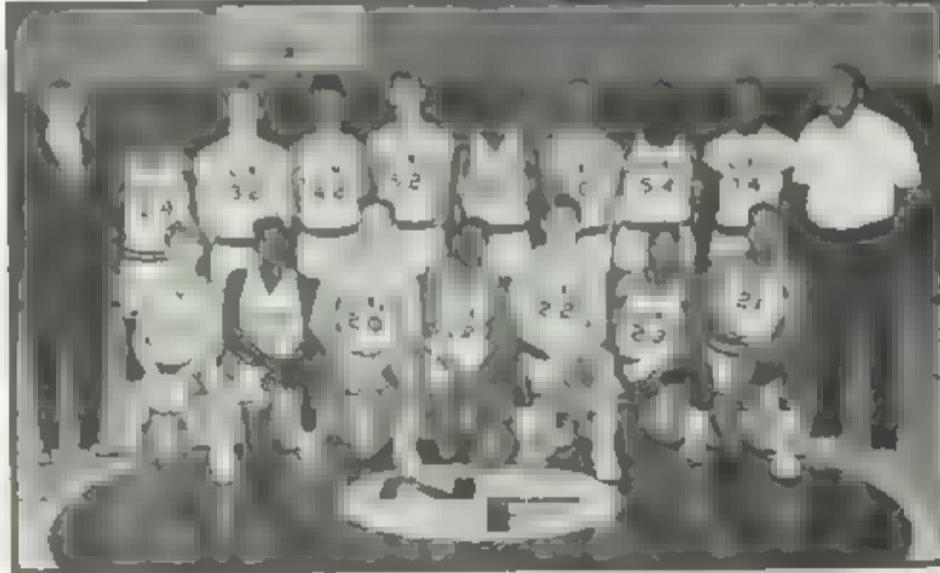

After late games, many J.V.

athletes didn't have enough time to do their work at night, so they had to get up a little earlier to do it. "I can't finish all of my work at night, so I get up early in the morning and do it before school," added Vance Fitzgerald on the subject.

Some of these athletes were fortunate enough to have study halls which proved to be a big help. Wendy Doty felt, "Without the study hall that I have, couldn't get all of my work done." Study halls gave athlete a nice amount of time to actually sit down and study and not have to worry about basketball.

These athletes did have to struggle outside of practice just to get their homework done, but, with the guidance of the coaches and their hardworking attitudes, these athletes managed to find time to get their work done.

JV Boys' Basketball

FRONT ROW: Vance Fitzgerald, Robert McCullough, James Overstreet, Jamie Foster, Todd Jenkins, George Richardson, Dejuan Ingram. BACK ROW: Mike Winters — manager, Eric Scott, Tony Whitlock, Tyrus Clark, Shane Boaz, Derrick Glover, Leon Eaton, Anthony Bonner, Vick Seat, Coach Virgil Simpson

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|--------------|----|
| NF 52 | West | 57 |
| NF 82 | Reynolds | 56 |
| NF 56 | Mt. Tabor | 69 |
| NF 64 | Reynolds | 76 |
| NF 69 | Mt. Tabor | 82 |
| NF 63 | H.P. Andrews | 73 |
| NF 70 | Parkland | 47 |
| NF 63 | H.P. Andrews | 86 |
| NF 70 | South Stokes | 56 |
| NF 81 | Carver | 93 |
| NF 74 | East | 60 |
| NF 76 | South Stokes | 61 |
| NF 59 | Gboro Smith | 58 |
| NF 92 | Glenn | 60 |
| NF 68 | Gboro Page | 71 |
| NF 56 | Carver | 68 |
| NF 83 | East | 50 |
| NF 67 | Gboro Smith | 59 |
| NF 72 | Glenn | 73 |
| NF 58 | Gboro Page | 70 |

Eye on the sky Watching with intense anticipation for the ball to bounce out off the backboard, Vick Seat positions himself for the offensive rebound.

Jumping for joy Eric Scott demonstrates his leaping ability as he tries to defend against his opponent during a crucial Viking game

Ready, aim, fire! After getting fouled by a player from High Point Andrews, Lon Bovender capitalizes on an easy chance to run up the score

JV Girls' Basketball

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|--------------|----|
| NF 49 | West | 27 |
| NF 48 | Reynolds | 34 |
| NF 30 | Mt Tabor | 29 |
| NF 46 | Reynolds | 34 |
| NF 30 | Mt Tabor | 31 |
| NF 39 | HP Andrews | 56 |
| NF 58 | Parkland | 2 |
| NF 28 | South Stokes | 43 |
| NF 46 | HP Andrews | 43 |
| NF 31 | South Stokes | 34 |
| NF 71 | Carver | 15 |
| NF 60 | East | 42 |
| NF 37 | G'boro Smith | 22 |
| NF 37 | Glenn | 40 |
| NF 50 | G'boro Page | 24 |
| NF 62 | Carver | 20 |
| NF 62 | East | 27 |
| NF 46 | G'boro Smith | 12 |
| NF 34 | Glenn | 28 |
| NF 46 | G'boro Page | 23 |

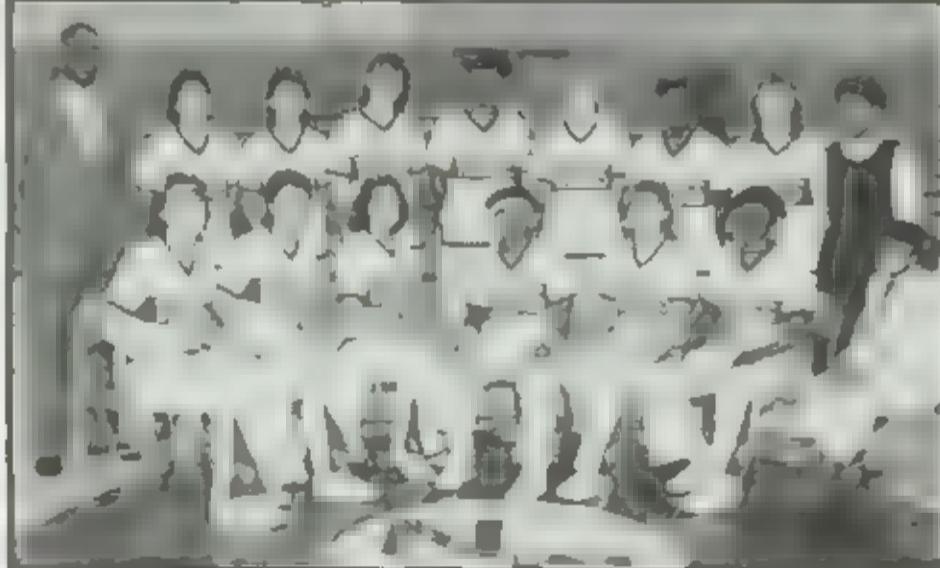

FRONT ROW Kenya Tillery, Sugar Marie Roberts, Buffy Lawson, Leisha Roseboro, Keyia Wright, Tasha McCrea, Carmen Joyce, Marcia Christensen
BACK ROW Jeana Shouse, Walteria Hauser, Susan Franklin, Rhonda Sudderth, Lon Bovender, Wendi Doty, Patricia Alving, Erica Ensoore — manager

Beat the clock. Defending against the East defense, Marcia Christensen attempts to score another basket for her team's quest for victory

On the run. With Val Crowell on hand for the offensive rebound, Jean Canady puts up a shot while avoiding her High Point Andrews defender.

Girls' Basketball

FRONT ROW Julie Carmin, Michele Moorefield, Amy Cole, Angel White, Shannon Bell Tina Banner, Monica Mack — manager BACK ROW Coach Gene Maloy, Barbara Siva, Beth Kilby, Mary Womble, Valerie Crowell, Jean Canady, Monté Jackson, Anita Cook, Natalie McCarrell — manager

Scoreboard

| | | | |
|----|----|--------------|----|
| NF | 71 | West | 26 |
| NF | 56 | Reynolds | 54 |
| NF | 65 | Mt Tabor | 56 |
| NF | 50 | Reynolds | 46 |
| NF | 48 | Mt Tabor | 51 |
| NF | 57 | HP Andrews | 43 |
| NF | 57 | Parkland | 28 |
| NF | 60 | HP Andrews | 47 |
| NF | 60 | South Stokes | 44 |
| NF | 53 | South Stokes | 55 |
| NF | 52 | Carver | 53 |
| NF | 31 | East | 41 |
| NF | 50 | Smith | 32 |
| NF | 51 | Glenn | 56 |
| NF | 46 | Page | 37 |
| NF | 71 | Carver | 56 |
| NF | 41 | East | 33 |
| NF | 42 | Glenn | 47 |
| NF | 40 | Page | 42 |

Slow it down. After stealing the ball from one of the Glenn Bobcats' players, Angel White decides to slow down the pace of the game before taking it down court.

In the ball. Seeing an opening in the Carver Yellowjackets zone, Amy Cole decides to take a chance and penetrate in towards the basket for a shot

In or out. Trying to get off a respectable shot over the hands of a Glenn Bobcats defender, Michelle Moorefield puts up a difficult shot from the baseline

For Good Luck Superstitions And Idiosyncrasies

Can certain articles of clothing and events actually determine the outcome of a game? Maybe it was all in their minds, but some members of the Varsity girls' basketball team believed that they could.

Many of the girls developed their own habits and idiosyncrasies throughout the season. For example, before every game, the team as a whole recited the Lord's Prayer aloud as they huddled together. This rite gave them a sense of security and guidance while they were out playing on the court. It also made them feel a little closer to each other.

A few players individually had some rite practices of their own that they performed without fail at every single game. Some of them may have seemed a bit silly, but if the girls felt that they helped them at all, then these habits surely would not have hindered the team. As sophomore Amy Cole said, "I always put on lip gloss before I go out onto the court at every game."

Pregame habits were the most common ones that developed during the season which lasted from November till February. "Shannon Bell, Amy Cole, Jean Canady, and I always go to the store to get some gum before every home game," junior Julie Carmin explained. "It seems like we don't really play as well if we don't have any gum to chew during the game."

However, a few habits were carried out of the locker room and onto the basketball court. "I always have to wear my headband while I'm playing," senior Angel White said.

Whether or not these habits and routines had any affect whatsoever on the girls' play, they certainly enjoyed a fine and winning season. Led by coach Gene Malloy, the team finished with a record of 13-7 in the regular season and finished second in the Tobacco Road Tournament at Wake Forest University over the Christmas holidays.

Looks like a winner. With skill and careful aim, Shannon Bell executes a perfect jump shot from the baseline to push her team further ahead.

On your mark, get set As Brian Stanley awaits the sound of the starting signal, he nervously anticipates the competitive race that is to follow

Coming up for air Bridget Call breaks the surface of the water as she keeps her eye on her final destination and another victory for the swim team

Moving On

Motivation Produces Results

Splash splash Motivating himself towards the finish line Randa Hornsby demonstrates his skill in mastering the difficult backstroke

The freezing point of water is thirty-two degrees. So what, you ask, was the motivation for swimmers to get out in the middle of winter and swim in sub-freezing temperatures? Numerous factors contributed to a decision to join the team. "I have been swimming competitively off and on since I was about seven, and it's a good way to stay in shape over the winter," explained Amy Kiger.

First of all, swimming is an extremely competitive sport, and this is one reason many students were drawn to the team. As Jodi Valencic stated, "I love to swim, but, when it comes right down to it, I swim for the intense competition, and I do it pretty well."

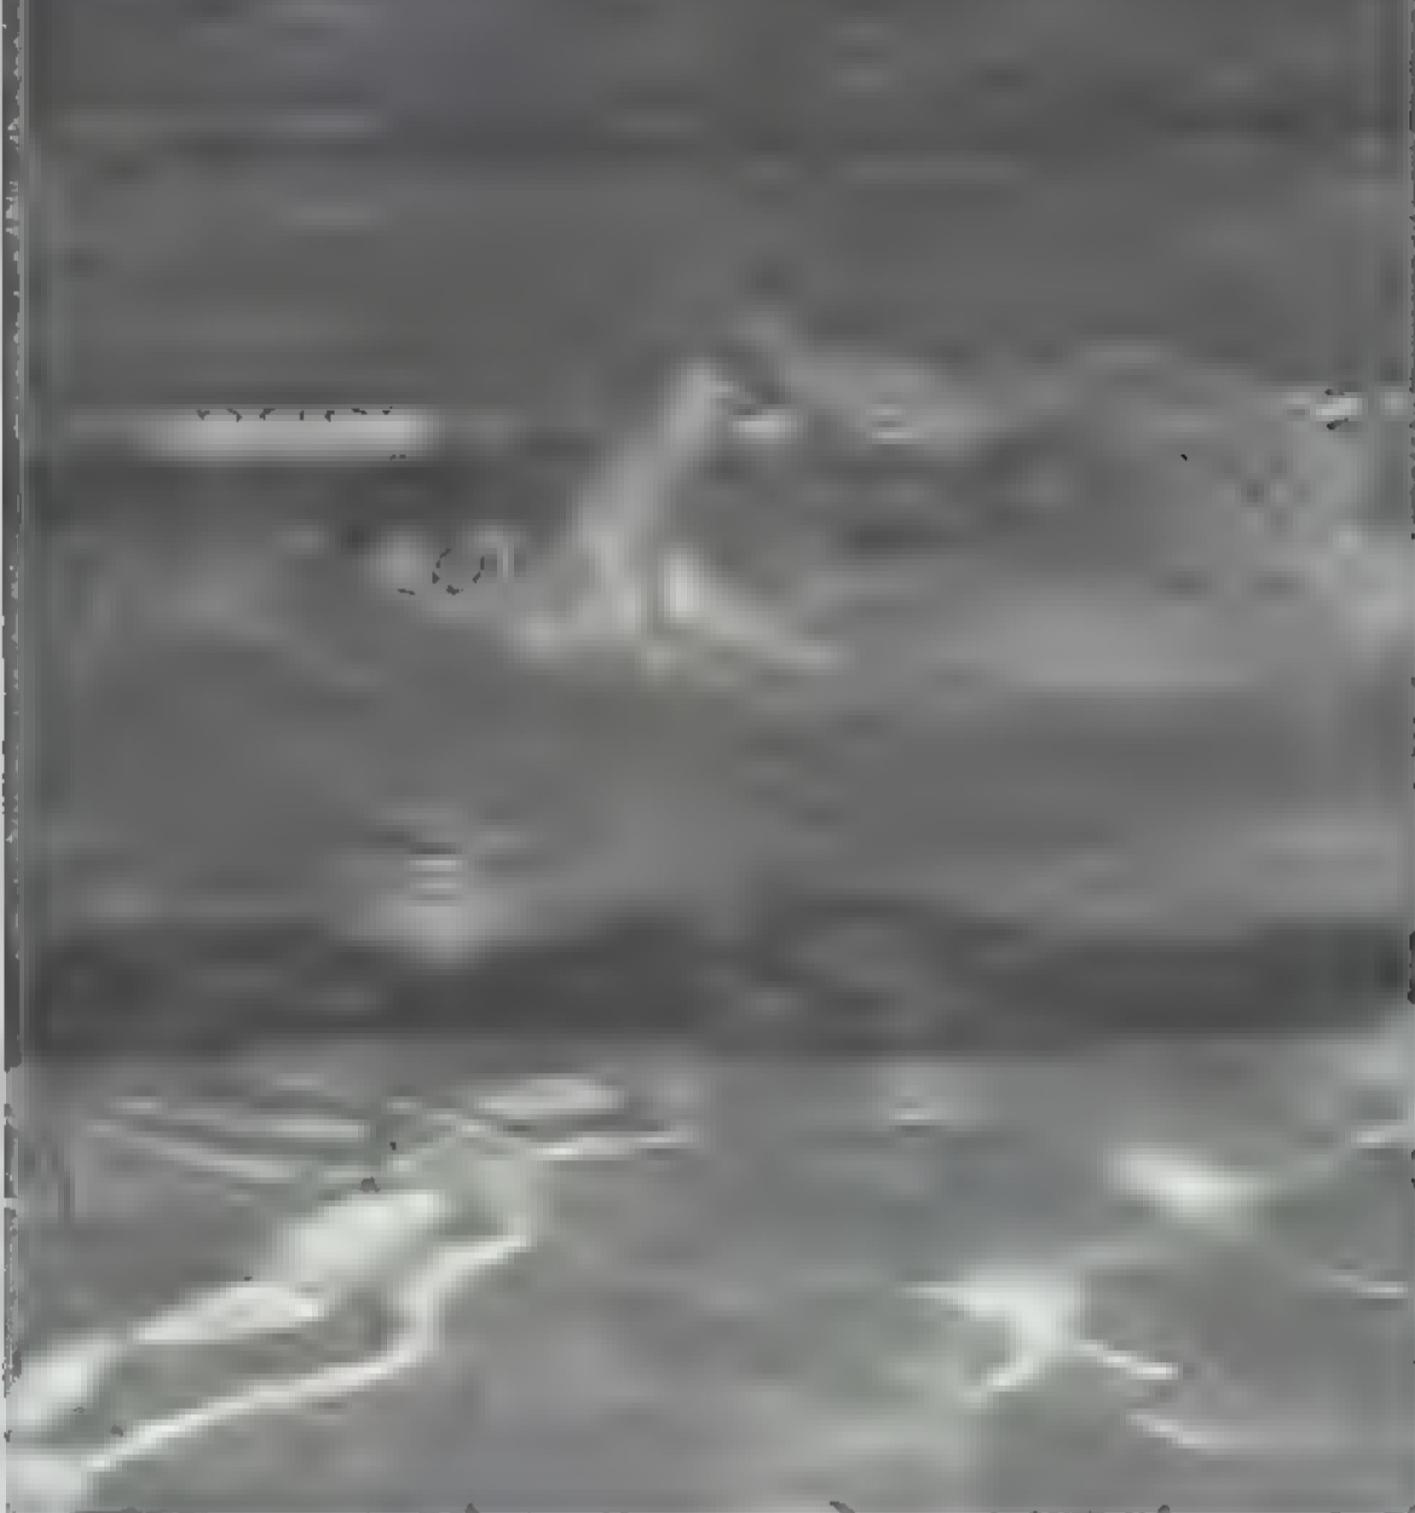

Swimming was individual versus other individuals for personal gains, and team versus opposing team for school honors

Also, swimming provided students with a chance to socialize and meet new people. "I joined the swim team because I like to swim and wanted to be with my friends," Andy Watts said. "but in the process, I've made new friends that I would not have met elsewhere." To many swimmers, having friends on the team meant an extra bit of support

Some students swam for various reasons. Competition, interest, the love of swimming, friends, and just to receive a varsity letter were some of the most prevalent ones. However, Eric

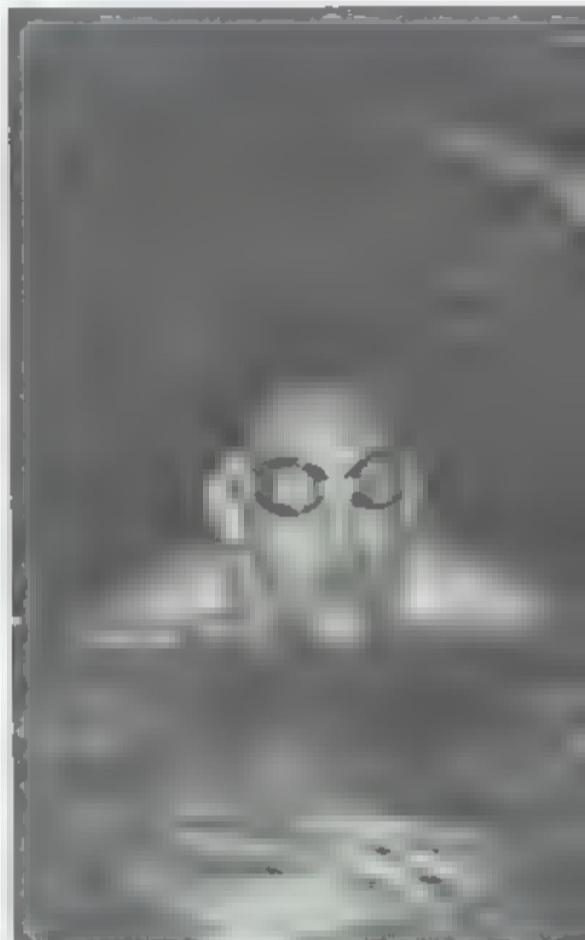

Hunt voiced the most common reason for swimming, when he said, "I swim just for fun!"

Regardless of the reason a person joined the ranks of the swim team, he or she did their part for self-improvement and their part in pushing the team to victories throughout the season. With several excellent swimmers returning, many who were record holders for school and regional events last year, the team was extremely competitive this season. Led by coach Mike Ferguson and assistant coach Ida Hicks, they finished their regular season with a record of 3-3, and once again represented their school proudly at every meet that they attended.

Strokes of genius. Carefully pacing himself in the 200 meter freestyle event, Greg Pate outdistances the rest of the competition

On the way to win Being careful to pace himself for the entire distance Jamie Hicks passes the rest of his opponents in the breaststroke event

Swimming

Scoreboard

| | | | | |
|----|----|-----|---------------|-----|
| NF | B | 48 | G'boro Page | 157 |
| G | A3 | | G'boro Page | 152 |
| NF | B | 65 | Concord Smith | 73 |
| G | 73 | | Concord Smith | 73 |
| NF | B | 88 | Carter | 95 |
| C | 74 | | Carter | 65 |
| NF | B | 104 | Parkland | 30 |
| C | 92 | | Parkland | 40 |
| NF | B | 47 | Reynolds | 101 |
| G | 52 | | Reynolds | 98 |
| NF | B | 68 | West | 108 |
| | | | East | 48 |
| G | 52 | | West | 113 |
| | | | East | 83 |

All pooped out After a long practice Terry Palmer decides that it is time to stop and rest his over worked muscles before exiting the water

FIRST ROW Jamie Hicks, Will Toburen SECOND ROW Asst Coach Ida Hicks, Kristina Woodruff, Tammy Hicks, Gina Guleidge, Susi Holladay, Susan Schowalter, Kyung Yu, Bridget Call, Melissa Green, Coach Mike Ferguson
THIRD ROW Delisa Robinson, Jean Stevens, Dawn Glancy, Angie Vernon, Lucy Johnston, Won Yu, Paula Carter, Amy Kiger, Jodi Valencic FOURTH ROW Charles Davis, Hubie Henson, Terry Palmer, Greg Pate, Eric Hicks Randal Hornsby, Dale Patterson FIFTH ROW Lloyd Lee, Eric Hunt, Andy Watts, Brian Stanley Michael Nielsen Scott Barber

In the heat of battle. In a wrestling tournament at East Forsyth High School, Bobby Attaway attempts to gain the advantage by getting a strong grip on his opponent.

Sav. "Uncle!" Goofing off a little before Coach Doug Geringer arrives in the gym, Trey Ewell and William Toney practice some basic wrestling moves on each other.

Wrestling

FIRST ROW: Coach Doug Geringer, Preston Gilbert, Joe Mickle, Bobby Attaway. SECOND ROW: Tyson Hoxes, Chris Howard, Mark Graham, Frank Armstrong, Clark Russell, Allen Scales, William Toney, Joel Bowman. THIRD ROW: Martin Gorham, Vincent Puryear, Chad Willette, Eric Scarlett, Rodney Gregory, Larry Griffin, Larry Chidress, Richie Ray, Ernie Shouse. FOURTH ROW: John Griggs, Clio Hyman, Scott T. Moore, Lyoneil Wright, Eric Hampton. FIFTH ROW: Will Safrit, Jermain Terry, Lawrence Grant, Danny Vaughn, Chris Cayton. SIXTH ROW: Andy Warner, Keoni Teta, Eric Drake, Fred Turner, James McCorkle, Derek Hauser, Donald Brown. SEVENTH ROW: Tre Ewell, Richard Gray, Rick Shouse, Kenny Sprinkle, Chris Snow, Shawn Tucker, Ronnie Wright, Mark Uren, Scott Moore. EIGHTH ROW: Allen Foge, Steve Cox.

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|--------------|----|
| NF 30 | West | 39 |
| NF 1 | Parkland | 11 |
| NF 27 | Reynolds | 41 |
| NF 2 | Mt. Tabor | 28 |
| NF 48 | Mt. Tabor | 25 |
| NF 6 | Davie County | 69 |
| NF 19 | South Stokes | 42 |
| NF 21 | Carver | 21 |
| NF 26 | East | 43 |
| NF 41 | Smith | 33 |
| NF 48 | Clemmons | 18 |
| NF 45 | Page | 24 |

Listen up, boys. Practices are an important aspect of the sport of wrestling, and Coach Gene Bowles takes a little time to give the wrestlers a few pointers and hints.

Nonparticipation

Why Injuries Really Hurt

A scream of pain from a wrestler, or a runner falling is a coach's nightmare. Injuries are dreaded in all sports. Wrestling and indoor track have much more apparent problems, because all competition is on individual level.

Every sport has injuries, but wrestling injuries create a more desperate situation, because wrestlers are pitted in one on one competition to see who is the strongest and quickest. "Wrestlers push their muscles to their limits, and sometimes they just give," explained junior Ernie Shouse.

Avoiding injuries is a talent every smart wrestler works hard at. Clark Russel said, "I try to stay in shape and make sure I stretch out before my match." In wrestling it seems that the same injuries plague the team. Mark Uren, from experience, stated that "shoulder injuries are the most common injuries occurring in wrestling."

There are few ways to get over injuries. Time and gradual buildup of training are about the only things a person can do to recuperate from injuries. Bobby Attaway said, "When I dislocated my shoulder all I could do was lift weights to make it stronger." Under Coach Gerringar the wrestling team finished the season with an excellent 5-8 record.

Indoor track presents a different set of problems from wrestling for participants. Runners stretch muscles which can only take so much tension before they break. "Sometimes you try to push yourself too hard and your muscles give out," explained Marty Palmer.

It is as important to runners to work out, as it is to wrestlers

Tight muscles are what cause most injuries to runners. Eric Turner stated his routine, "I do my calisthenics correctly and stretch out before every event." In track the most commonly injured parts are hamstrings. "If you are not stretched out properly before an event you will probably have problems running, and may hurt yourself," stated Tony Marshall. The indoor track team finished the season with five people qualifying for the state meet compared to one qualifying last year. They felt they had improved greatly.

In wrestling and indoor track injuries are difficult to overcome, because you have to replace the injured player with another person skilled in the same areas. As Richard Ray explained, however, "The worst part of injuries is not being able to participate."

Just horsin' around. Goofing off a bit before the serious practice time begins, Shawn Tucker playfully puts a wrestling hold on?

(Clark Russell)

Indoor Track

Schedule

| | |
|-------|--|
| 12/4 | Invitational Track Meet at North Tarheel Invitational Track Meet |
| 12/8 | Invitational Track Meet at North Tarheel Invitational Track Meet |
| 12/12 | Invitational Track Meet at North Tarheel Invitational Track Meet |
| 12/19 | Western Regional Track Meet at Chapel Hill |
| 1/2 | Local Invitational Meet |
| 2/6 | State Indoor Championship Meet at Chapel Hill |

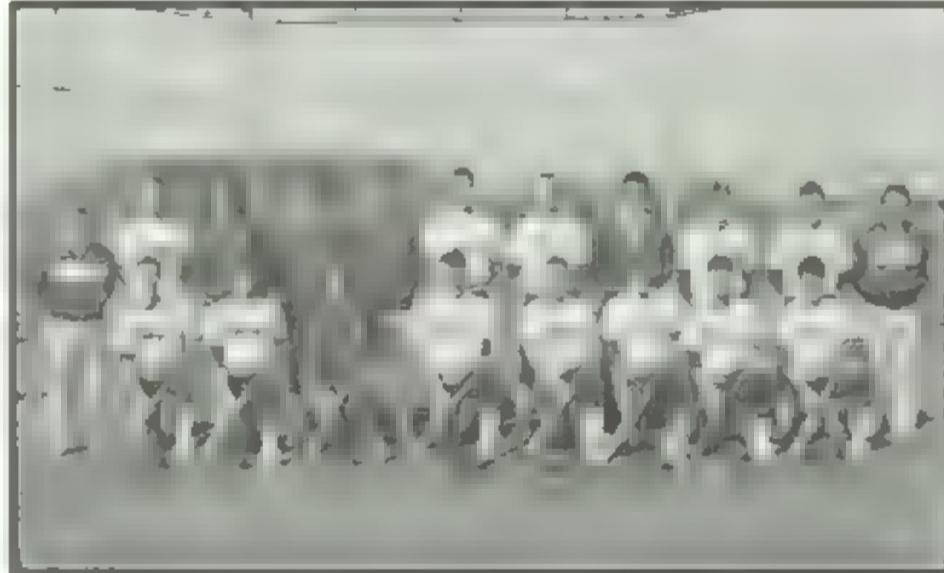

FIRST ROW Charlie Hunt, Eric Turner, Linell Johnson, Marcus Sutton, Angela Speas, Shevonne Martin, James Jones, Steve Stowe SECOND ROW Brian Holsworth, Tad Davis, Fletcher Gist, John Clavborn, Cheryl Glenn, Jeff Johnson, Tony Marshall. THIRD ROW Ishmael Stowe, Kerri Outen, Teresa Moore, Marcia Williamson, Sabrina Henley, Danita Roseboro FOURTH ROW Chris Cave, Marty Palmer, Mark Baker, Trish Norman, Michelle Hughes, Coach Scott Brent

Is he going? As Chad Simpkins awaits a possible throw from the pitcher, Joel Sapp takes a few steps off of third base and contemplates his next move

1987 Baseball

FRONT ROW Scott Nichols, Daryl Muncus, Bryce Revels, Kelly Allen, Steve Shore, Michael Peeler, Gene Williams, Mike Griggs. BACK ROW Coach Tom Keener, Toby Toburen, Neil Shinault, Jay Atkins, Joe Kilby, David Luebchow, Tommy Vickers, Chris Pinnix, Kevin Bottoms, Robbie Nicgorski, Coach Jake Ward

Team Unity Striving For "One-ness"

The 1987 baseball team's success cannot be measured by their season record, but rather by the achievements made as a team. From the start they had to hurdle several obstacles.

New head coach, Mr. Jake Ward, was the first adaptation the players had to make. They also had to overcome many injuries, which Chris Pinnix felt hindered the team's success, along with some players' personal successes. Steve Shore agreed and added, "The injuries kept us from flowing together as a team because someone was always hurt."

The team played strong defense, but had a difficult time on offense. David Luebchow felt that batting was the worst part of their season. Even with the familiar encouragement, "Meet that curve ball and hit it, boom, boom, boom!" from that loyal fan Homer Crawford, the team couldn't put the ball where they wanted it

Even though they finished with a disappointing record of 8-10, they kept a bid to the state play-offs alive until the final game of the season when they were defeated by Carver. Overcoming obstacles by hard work, determination, and team unity between the members made the season a success.

The 1988 team had a rough time during the year. Graduation in 1987 took three All-Conference players away who were not easily replaced. "With the loss of the seniors we are left with no power hitters and a crippled pitching staff, so we are going to have to pull together and take up slack in our weak areas," stated Coach Ward.

"We are going to have to work harder in practice to have a more successful season," said Bryce Revels. Mike Peeler had the same basic idea saying "the team as a whole is going to have to be more serious in practice to win games."

Pitching was an extremely tough problem to overcome this year. Some pitchers had to be brought up from J.V. to fill in gaps in the pitching staff. However, most teams in the conference also had weak pitching.

The 1988 Varsity baseball team faced a lot of difficulty this year that might have hampered their chances of playing as a team. Kelly Allen felt, however, that "the team will pull together and have a strong season."

Scoreboard

| | | |
|-------|-------------|----|
| NF 1 | Parkland | 2 |
| NF 1 | Reynolds | 6 |
| NF 1 | Reynolds | 0 |
| NF 7 | Parkland | 1 |
| NF 7 | Mt Tabor | 4 |
| NF 0 | West | 4 |
| NF 14 | HP Andrews | 5 |
| NF 1 | HP Andrews | 2 |
| NF 6 | East | 0 |
| NF 0 | Gboro Page | 4 |
| NF 2 | Gboro Smith | 1 |
| NF 1 | Carver | 6 |
| NF 3 | East | 2 |
| NF 8 | Glenn | 3 |
| NF 2 | Gboro Smith | 10 |
| NF 2 | Glenn | 14 |
| NF 8 | Gboro Page | 9 |
| NF 0 | Carver | 5 |

Make your turn. After smashing a ball over the center fielder's head, Toby Toburen rounds first base and heads on towards second for a double.

Ready for action During a game at the East Forsyth League, Chris Fornia connects with a pitch and sends it right up the middle of the field.

Thinking it over Before stepping up to the plate, Tom Moore thinks over his strategy for hitting the ball.

Baseball

Strike! Winding up and taking a long first step, Chad Flynt keeps his eyes on the catcher's glove and fires a ball into the strike zone.

Schedule

| | |
|------|--------------------|
| 3/5 | NF vs Parkland |
| 3/11 | NF vs Mt. Tabor |
| 3/14 | NF vs Roswell |
| 3/17 | NF vs West |
| 3/24 | NF vs South Stokes |
| 3/30 | NF vs HP Andrews |
| 4/8 | NF vs HP Andrews |
| 4/15 | NF vs East |
| 4/19 | NF vs Gboro Smith |
| 4/22 | NF vs Glenn |
| 4/26 | NF vs Gboro Page |
| 4/29 | NF vs Carver |
| 5/3 | NF vs East |
| 5/6 | NF vs Gboro South |
| 5/10 | NF vs Evans |
| 5/13 | NF vs Gboro Page |
| 5/17 | NF vs Carver |

FRONT ROW Todd Jenkins, Terry Palmer, Joe Sapp, Kyle Allen, Steve Steele, Jon Kuhn, Clint Cadeau, Bryce Rivers, Roanier Gregory. SECOND ROW Coach Alan Weller, Tom Moore, Dick Ward, Dan Patterson, Chris Phillips, Chad Flynt, Dan Kessinger, Mike Peeler, Jamie Hicks, Coach Chip Estrem.

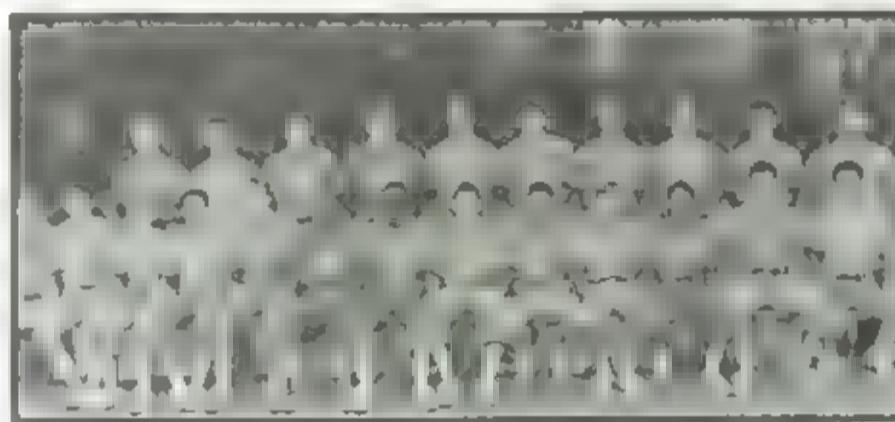

JV Baseball And Softball

| 1 | 9 | 8 | 7 | S | C | O | T | e | b | o | a | r | d |
|----|----|---|---|--------------|---|----|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| NF | 17 | | | Reynolds | | 10 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 13 | | | Reynolds | | 6 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 7 | | | West | | 8 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 1 | | | Parkland | | | | | | | | | |
| NF | 8 | | | Mt Tabor | | 3 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 4 | | | West | | 1 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 3 | | | South Stokes | | 5 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 4 | | | East | | 0 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 3 | | | South Stokes | | 3 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 4 | | | Parkland | | 2 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 7 | | | Gboro Page | | 1 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 3 | | | Gboro Smith | | 3 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 5 | | | Carver | | 3 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 3 | | | East | | 1 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 7 | | | Glenn | | 2 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 8 | | | Gboro Smith | | 1 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 10 | | | Glenn | | 1 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 8 | | | Carver | | 4 | | | | | | | |
| NF | 6 | | | Gboro Page | | 3 | | | | | | | |

FRONT ROW Tony Whitlock, Donald Johnson, John Cockerham, Harry Transou, Joel Sapp, Nolan Duggins, Michael Niten, Rodney Gregory, Frank Armstrong, Chad Simpkins, Chad Flynt, Jim Kelly. BACK ROW Coach Nelson Cowden, Jeff Miller — manager, Clint Calaway, Dirk Willard, Dan Kyslinger, Mike Quarles, Ricky Bottoms, Jamie Hicks, Todd Jenkins, Dale Patterson, Coach Gene Bowles

| 1 | 9 | 8 | 8 | S | c | h | e | d | u | e | |
|----|----|---|---|----|----|--------------|---|---|---|---|--|
| 1 | 9 | 8 | 8 | NF | vs | Parkland | | | | | |
| 2 | 1 | | | NF | vs | Mt Tabor | | | | | |
| 3 | 2 | | | NF | vs | Reynolds | | | | | |
| 4 | 3 | | | NF | vs | West | | | | | |
| 5 | 4 | | | NF | vs | South Stokes | | | | | |
| 6 | 5 | | | NF | vs | HP Andrews | | | | | |
| 7 | 6 | | | NF | vs | HP Andrews | | | | | |
| 8 | 7 | | | NF | vs | East | | | | | |
| 9 | 8 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Smith | | | | | |
| 10 | 9 | | | NF | vs | Glenn | | | | | |
| 11 | 10 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Page | | | | | |
| 12 | 11 | | | NF | vs | Carver | | | | | |
| 13 | 12 | | | NF | vs | East | | | | | |
| 14 | 13 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Smith | | | | | |
| 15 | 14 | | | NF | vs | Glenn | | | | | |
| 16 | 15 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Page | | | | | |
| 17 | 16 | | | NF | vs | Carver | | | | | |

FRONT ROW Shane Moore, Vance Fitzgerald, Shane Hatcher, Tony Whitlock, Frank Armstrong, Dejuan Ingram, Jeff Tuttle, John Griggs, Brian Doub, Pete Tega, Chad Flynt, Jim Kelly SECOND ROW Coach Ronnie Jenkins, Chris Clayton, John Cockerham, David Brown, Jason Williams, Ricky Bottoms, Jody Boyles, Mike Niten, Todd Gilley, Jason Carter, Coach Gene Bowles

| 1 | 9 | 8 | 7 | S | c | h | e | d | u | e | | |
|---|----|---|---|----------|---|----|---|---|---|---|--|--|
| NF | 23 | | | Mt Tabor | | 2 | | | | | | |
| NF | 8 | | | West | | 14 | | | | | | |
| NF | 2 | | | East | | 17 | | | | | | |
| The team folded at this point in the season!! | | | | | | | | | | | | |

FIRST ROW Benetta Dease, Kristin McGowan, Jackie Davis, Lori Bovender, Robin Cardwell, Keida Blakemore, Tina Holler SECOND ROW Coach Clarence Reynolds, Anita Cook, Shannon Via, Rhonda Sudderth, Lisa Starling, Michelle Royall, Joy Pitts, Stacie Hauber THIRD ROW Jennifer Nickerson, Tanya Kimbrough, Lisa Pratt, Regina Galloway, Bridgett France, Candice Smith, Jennifer Dahl, ShaRonn Payne, Natalie McCarrell

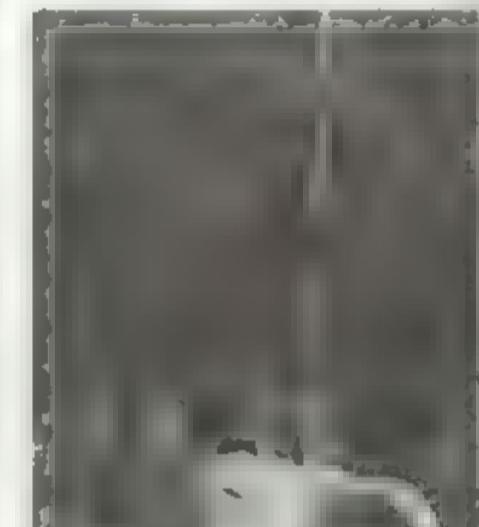

| 1 | 9 | 8 | 8 | S | c | h | e | d | u | e | | |
|----|----|---|---|----|----|-------------|---|---|---|---|--|--|
| 3 | 1 | | | NF | vs | Parkland | | | | | | |
| 4 | 2 | | | NF | vs | Mt Tabor | | | | | | |
| 5 | 3 | | | NF | vs | Reynolds | | | | | | |
| 6 | 4 | | | NF | vs | West | | | | | | |
| 7 | 5 | | | NF | vs | East | | | | | | |
| 8 | 6 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Smith | | | | | | |
| 9 | 7 | | | NF | vs | Glenn | | | | | | |
| 10 | 8 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Page | | | | | | |
| 11 | 9 | | | NF | vs | Carver | | | | | | |
| 12 | 10 | | | NF | vs | East | | | | | | |
| 13 | 11 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Smith | | | | | | |
| 14 | 12 | | | NF | vs | Glenn | | | | | | |
| 15 | 13 | | | NF | vs | Gboro Page | | | | | | |
| 16 | 14 | | | NF | vs | Carver | | | | | | |

FRONT ROW Shannon Ivester, Beth Allen, Shannon Taylor, Stacie Hauber, Bridget Call, Christy Hambright, Michelle Brewer, Stephanie Browne, Jeana Shouse, Jennifer Dahl SECOND ROW Coach Nelson Cowden, Buffy Lawson, Michelle Royall, Tanya Kimbrough, Lori Hoots, Beth Kelly, Susan Martin, Tina Holler, Rhonda Sudderth, Nancy Scarborough

Precision timing. After quickly scooping up a hard hit grounder, third baseman Harry Transou rifies a shot to Mike Quarles for an out at first

Into the strike zone During a practice at Northwest Middle School, Tony Whitlock winds up and fires a perfect pitch across the plate

Perfect aim Warming up before a game, on the lower field, Jamie Hicks loosens up his arm to be sure not to pull any muscles during the game against Parkland got it! With Tanya Kimbrough close by for back up, Shannon Vestor goes after a ball during a scrimmage game with the Varsity softball team

Influences

The Start Of Something Big

What do you think are the major reasons for JV baseball and softball players wanting to start playing the games? Why would someone want to start playing these sports? At first, most people think they play to get exercise, to have fun, to gain needed experience for varsity sports, or simply because they have nothing better to do. While this may be true in some cases, many of the team members attribute their start in baseball and softball to great influences.

For some of the JV players, these influences came about many years ago. Clint Calaway commented, "I started playing baseball about eight years ago because all of my friends were playing, and it seemed fun."

Some of the team members have been playing for many years, which means that they have been exposed to a lot of baseball and softball knowledge and experience. Michelle Royal explained, "I played some softball in the community for a few years, so I decided to try out for the JV softball team at North."

Although friends were important, other family members were also very strong influences for many of the players. As Jamie Hicks stated, "My family influenced me to play baseball. They were all so much involved with it, that I wanted to become a part of it, too."

The family's influence also provided some role models for at least a few players on both of the junior varsity teams. John Cockerham commented on who inspired him the most to play the sport of baseball. "My grandfather was my biggest influence. He was a pitcher for Griffith High School in 1941 and 1942." These influences may have gone back into past generations, but the will and the dedication that was present back then is still evident for many of the JV players today.

The quest to strive to live up to these various influences led the Junior Varsity Baseball and the Junior Varsity Softball teams to an admirable year. Under the leadership of many fine coaches, both of the teams ended their seasons on an extremely positive note.

And she's safe! During a scrimmage game between the JV and Varsity softball teams, Buffy Lawson slides safely into second base before Melanie Reece gets the ball.

She's swinging. After letting a few balls go past her, Beth Pendleton decides that it's time for action as she connects with a ball.

1987 Softball

FRONT ROW: Julie Carmin, Shannon Virtue, Barbara McKnight, Beth Pendleton, Ashley McLeese, Melanie Reece, Lori Hoots, Tree Harrell. BACK ROW: David Stanley - manager, Ellen Lineback, Julie White, Debbie Smith, Susan Burris, Shannon Bell, Coach Joyce Sparks, Angela Royall, Michelle Moorefield, Traci Hunt, Barbara Silva, Tina Snowden - scorekeeper.

Preparation

Practice Really Makes Perfect

Growing to become the best, the Varsity girls' softball teams of the previous two years have rapidly produced quality teams through long, hard work. Practices and game-like preparations were the main keys to the success of these two teams.

The 1987 team, although they were very young, gained valuable experience that could be carried on into the next season. When asked about the team's experience, Coach Joyce Sparks commented, "The team knows a lot, but they still have a lot to learn."

The road to success was long and hard, as all of the varsity softball players learned throughout the season. The team consisted of only one senior, four juniors, eleven sophomores, and four freshmen who knew that practices were a very important aspect of the game and of being a winning team. As Julie Carmin explained, "Practices give us a chance to become accustomed to one another and to build up our confidence in one another."

Being able to attend the practices every day after school required lots of dedication and willpower. As Ashley McLeese stated, "You have to dedicate your time, your body, and your mind to the game." Each and every player on the team made sacrifices for the sheer learning of the game.

Having such a young team might have posed as a hindrance for the girls, but, through long hours of practice, the 1987 Varsity girls' softball team had a commendable season. Although their 10-10 record was not quite what they had hoped for, each member gained invaluable experience for future use. This season may not have been the best as far as winning is concerned, but as far as learning, it was most successful.

Since the 1987 team had such a respectable season, this year's team had very high hopes for their season. After losing only one player from the previous year, the Varsity girls' softball team came out fired up for the new year. As Melanie Reece said, "With almost every player coming back that was on the team last year, I think we are destined to be one of the leading teams in our conference."

With this optimism, anticipation, youth, and experience, the girls embarked on yet another promising season. Starting out with a new coach, Mrs. Pam Brooks, their goal was to make the most of the talent on the team and use it for everyone's benefit. This led to a very rewarding and successful season.

Scoreboard

| | | | |
|----|----|--------------|----|
| NF | 9 | Parkland | 8 |
| NF | 4 | Mt Tabor | 2 |
| NF | 5 | Reynolds | 9 |
| NF | 2 | Reynolds | 9 |
| NF | 8 | West | 3 |
| NF | 0 | Parkland | 1 |
| NF | 8 | Mt Tabor | 0 |
| NF | 8 | West | 6 |
| NF | 5 | H P Andrews | 4 |
| NF | 7 | H P Andrews | 4 |
| NF | 6 | East | 2 |
| NF | 8 | Page | 3 |
| NF | 18 | G'boro Smith | 17 |
| NF | 4 | Carver | 0 |
| NF | 2 | East | 1 |
| NF | 1 | Glenn | 4 |
| NF | 7 | Smith | 2 |
| NF | 13 | Glenn | 12 |
| NF | 9 | Page | 3 |
| NF | 0 | Carver | 5 |

"C'mon. Pitch it in there!" Shouting words of encouragement to the pitcher, Shannon Bell prepares herself at third base for the arrival of a sharply hit ball.

Just a swingin'. During a game against the East Forsyth Eagles, Jean Canady smashes a one drive base hit over the head of the shortstop

A perfect pitch. While playing the JV softball team in a scrimmage, Susan Burris confidently throws strike after strike over the plate

Softball

Schedule

| | |
|------|----------------------|
| 3-5 | NF vs. Forest Park |
| 3-12 | NF vs. Mt. Paran |
| 3-18 | NF vs. Roswell |
| 3-22 | NF vs. West |
| 4-5 | NF vs. East |
| 4-12 | NF vs. Gwinnett Park |
| 4-17 | NF vs. Cartersville |
| 4-24 | NF vs. North Fulton |
| 4-29 | NF vs. Cartersville |
| 5-5 | NF vs. East |
| 5-16 | NF vs. North Fulton |
| 5-22 | NF vs. North Fulton |
| 5-23 | NF vs. North Fulton |
| 5-27 | NF vs. Cartersville |

FRONT ROW: Teressa St. John, Kristin McGowen, Angela Royal, Michelle Morris, Sarah Bell, Heather Luttrell, Angie King
NF - ND ROW: Coach Pam Brooks, Trez Harrell, Barbara Silva, Beth Kilby, Michelle Reece, Shannon Virtue, Beth Pennington, Julie Carmin
ABSENT: Jean Canady

A definite hit. Swinging with all her might, Trez Harrell keeps her eyes fixed on the ball to make sure she gets a clean base hit Neck and neck. Hurrying to be the first one to get the ball. Gina Absher competes with one of the Carver Yellowjackets for control of the ball.

1987 Girls' Soccer

FRONT ROW Amy Cole, Nancy Georgitis, Rachel Goldstein, Melissa Lunn, Asdis Sigurdardottir, Stephanie Griffin, Lucy Johnston, Beth King BACK ROW Coach George Kennedy, Crystal Hiatt, Carrie Smith, Angie Vernon, D'Andrea Roberts, Gina Absher, Jenny Starling, Anne Lise Hansen

Celebrations Following Big Victories

"We finally did it! We won! We won!" Shouts such as these rang out through the halls last spring as the Varsity girl's soccer team triumphed over Reynolds, one of their main rivals. Victories such as this proved the strength and determination of the varsity team. But, the 1988 team already shows great promise because of the experience, leadership, and power of the players.

Last year's defeat over Reynolds gave the girls confidence and high expectations for the remainder of the season. Beth King exclaimed, "This was one of our best seasons. It was the first time we beat the Demons in our soccer history!" Nancy Georgitis agreed, saying, "Beating Reynolds had to be one of the most satisfying experiences of the season."

Beating tough competitors was not the only new experience for the team last year. They were introduced to a new coach, Mr. George Kennedy. Stephanie Griffin commented, "Everything is extremely different under Kennedy. We had to adapt to new practices with difficult and vigorous skills." Even though the girls did not win their conference, improvement and dedication were evident to their loyal fans.

The 1988 Lady Vikings, under the leadership of their new coach, Mr. Paul Dinkenor, are already preparing for their competition. The enthusiasm of the girls was apparent as they look forward to the start of the new season. As Debbie Cassidy said, "We're going to be strong because we have experience, plus new people, and the coaches record from the boys' season." Elif Erginer summed up the feelings of her teammates by stating, "Because our team has improved over the previous years, we feel that victories such as the one against Reynolds last year have made us a lot stronger and more confident." When asked what he thought of the upcoming year, Mr. Dinkenor replied, "North, after graduating so many seniors, will be young and inexperienced. However, there is a lot of athletic ability and agility within the squad. Once they have mastered the technical and tactical aspects of the game, and allied this to their physical skills, the season should progress smoothly."

Despite the changes in the coaching staff from year to year and the tough competition the 1987 and 1988 Varsity girl's soccer teams were dedicated, enthusiastic and more than ready for success.

Scoreboard

| | | | |
|----|----|--------------|---|
| NF | 0 | Mt. Tabor | 1 |
| NF | 1 | West | 1 |
| NF | 2 | Reynolds | 0 |
| NF | 7 | Parkland | 0 |
| NF | 1 | Mt. Tabor | 0 |
| NF | 0 | West | 1 |
| NF | 1 | Reynolds | 3 |
| NF | 10 | Parkland | 0 |
| NF | 7 | Carver | 0 |
| NF | 1 | East | 2 |
| NF | 5 | Glenn | 0 |
| NF | 3 | Giboro Smith | 0 |
| NF | 0 | Giboro Page | 2 |
| NF | 5 | Carver | 0 |

Oh no you don't! Battling with an opponent for possession of the soccer ball. Ellen Christensen tries to take it away and move it down the field.

Using the body Showing athletic grace and skill, Lucy Johnston has no trouble at all in stopping the ball from advancing any farther down the field

Girls' Soccer

Schedule

| | |
|------|---------------------|
| 3/15 | NF vs Parkland |
| 3/17 | NF vs Mt Tabor |
| 3/24 | NF vs Reynolds |
| 3/31 | NF vs West |
| 4/12 | NF vs Carver |
| 4/14 | NF vs East |
| 4/19 | NF vs. G'boro Smith |
| 4/21 | NF vs. Glenn |
| 4/26 | NF vs. G'boro Page |
| 4/28 | NF vs. Carver |
| 5/3 | NF vs. East |
| 5/5 | NF vs. G'boro Smith |
| 5/10 | NF vs. Glenn |
| 5/12 | NF vs. G'boro Page |

FRONT ROW Brian Hickerson — manager, Beth King, Kelly Holland, Lucy Johnston, Nancy Georgits, Ellen Christensen, Gina Absher, Debbie Cassidy, Julie Bell, Amy Cole SECOND ROW Coach Paul Dinkenor, Dee Dee Allen, Marcia Christensen, Rachel Goldstein, Elif Erginer, Sage Reissing, Suzi Russell, Sandy Cartwright, Leigh Hudspeth, Scott Helms — manager, Brian Potter — manager

Stop and go Practicing her basic ball handling skills during soccer practice on a frigid day, Amy Cole improves her ability to perform an instep kick

Catch me if you can! During a practice game Sabrina Bowen outraces Lynn Sowter and dribbles the soccer ball down field towards the opposing goal

1987 JV Girls' Soccer

FRONT ROW Kell Franklin, Jean Stevens, Jennifer Rosenbaum, Tracy Lyons, Sandy Cartwright, Heather McIntosh, Dee Dee Allen, Melissa Allen, Suzi Russell
BACK ROW Coach Bruce Ramsay, Coach Warren Hierl, Tracie Tripp, Allyson Watson, Jackie Lipkin, Kelly Holland, Sabrina Bowen, Bo Park, Tracie Erikson, Julie Bell, Jean Krul, Rosemary McCarthy

Team Development

Learning To Play Together

"Individuals can't do it alone. Work together! Work together!" The screams of a coach whose team is young and inexperienced echoed across the field. Cooperation and teamwork were what it took for a soccer team to function. To become one unit, the girl's Junior Varsity soccer team learned that working together, not being an island, was the key to success.

"When playing soccer, you have to realize that you're not the only player on the field from your team. Helping out other teammates by blocking, passing, and being open as much as possible is needed for a good defensive team on the field," replied Shannon Hickerson, on working for the good of the team.

Drawing on the knowledge of others benefitted the younger players. As Kelli Franklin said, "With teamwork, I can draw on the experiences of the more matured players. The close contact we have with each other makes working together much easier."

On the field it's all give and take, players can not be selfish. As Heather McIntosh explained, "Every position is as important as the other. In order for a player to be willing to give up possession to someone else so that she can score for our team, we have to work as one on the field."

Special abilities and qualities instilled in each player helped make the transition from first year member to a working part of the "machine." "You can't make progress alone. You have to work together if you want to score, and working on teamwork in practice and in the games creates a bond between the members of the team," stated Jackie Lipkin.

Individuality has no place on a soccer team as Barbara McKnight explained, "No one certain individual can make the team. They can't do everything by themselves. It's teamwork or nothing!" No one person could do it alone, and that is where teamwork came in.

Learning to work together better prepared a young eager team. Catherine Long summed up teamwork by saying, "We have to be cooperative of each other and help one another in order to score or move the ball. Although we have just begun the season, teamwork will be the key ingredient to having a strong winning season."

Scoreboard

| | | | |
|----|---|--------------|---|
| NF | 0 | Mt Tabor | 0 |
| NF | 2 | West | 1 |
| NF | 4 | Parkland | 1 |
| NF | 2 | Mt. Tabor | 2 |
| NF | 2 | West | 1 |
| NF | 0 | Reynolds | 0 |
| NF | 0 | East | 0 |
| NF | 2 | Glen | 0 |
| NF | 3 | South Stokes | 1 |
| NF | 7 | Glen | 0 |
| NF | 0 | G'boro Page | 7 |

Don't take it away. Intelligently zooming in on the opponent with the ball, Kristie Saalwechter confidently moves in and tries to steal the ball.

WARM-UP EXERCISES Before the game, the girls warm up with stretching exercises to stretch out and prepare for practice.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT Practicing one of the soccer basics, Alison Weston shows that moving a ball down is not as easy as it looks.

JV Girls' Soccer

Schedule

| | |
|------|-------------------|
| 3/15 | NF vs Parkland |
| 3/17 | NF vs Mt. Tabor |
| 3/19 | NF vs Reidsville |
| 3/20 | NF vs West |
| 4/3 | NF vs Central |
| 4/4 | NF vs East |
| 4/10 | NF vs Gboro Smith |
| 4/21 | NF vs Glenn |
| 4/26 | NF vs Gboro Page |
| 4/28 | NF vs Central |
| 5/1 | NF vs East |
| 5/2 | NF vs Gboro Smith |
| 5/3 | NF vs Glenn |
| 5/12 | NF vs Gboro Page |

FRONT ROW: Meredith Burdette, Kristi Saalweachter, Sabrina Bowen, Tammy Hicks, Angie Absher, Julie Blackwell, Barbara McKnight, Catherine Long, Jodi Teta, Tracey Carr, Jean Krull, Ruffin Smith - manager SECOND ROW: Susan Schowalter, Rosemary Ferguson, Jackie Lipkin, Shannon Hickerson Lynn Snodder, Crista Cole, A. Lynn Watson, Terri Owen, Jennifer Upchurch, Heather McIntosh, Lisa McSwain, Jennifer Lucas, Tracy Lyons, Ben Hill - assistant coach ABSFNT Coach Becky Reed

Bending over backwards. As a part of the warm-up exercises for the JV soccer team Heather McIntosh and her partner prepare for practice.

Out of trouble Showing his true skill as a golfer, Mike Bell expertly gets himself out of a bad situation by hitting the ball out of the sand trap.

1987 Golf

Kevin Kimber, Darrick Allen, Greg Hunter, Brian Walker, Mike Clanton, Derek Schatz, Chad Lynch, Mike Bell

Obstacles

Ways To Overcome Them

Since golfing is full of challenging obstacles, each player had to develop a mental and physical alertness on the course. Also, a good golfer had to be willing to work with the other team members to achieve success. Moreover, to be the best, a player had to conquer heat, as well as the many other types of weather problems which arose. Therefore, in order to win, a golfer was required to overcome a variety of obstacles.

The first and most basic problem that a player was forced to solve was how to actually play each hole. Almost every hole was different from the others and presented a special challenge for the golfers. As Darrick Allen remarked, "The approach shot is everything; but sometimes even a good approach can be ruined by bad putting." Fortunately, most of the players had more than enough skill to master the greens. Moreover, they had the courage to try and try again.

Once the obstacle of playing the course was surpassed, the team members had to battle the opposing players. Going into some matches, the team automatically received the title "underdog." Nevertheless, as Chad Lynch put it, "When people expect you to lose, you can play better. You can catch them off guard and get an easy victory." Furthermore, Mike Clanton stated, "Being the underdog gives you more incentive to win." Thus, the opposing teams put no fear in the players' hearts. They simply went out and did their best on every shot.

The greatest obstacle a golfer faced while out on the course was himself. Unlike many sports, golf required a person to achieve an intense level of concentration. No one but the player can cause a great game or a disappointing one. One senior member of the team, Greg Hunter, summed it up with the following comment, "When you play, it's you against yourself. You alone control the outcome." Therefore, the state of mind in which almost every player plays totally determines the results of the game. All other obstacles can be overcome in the mind.

Overcoming the difficulties on the course and in your mind is all a part of golf. With practice, patience, and presentation, the golf team performs well and has fun doing it. Also, each team member gains a valuable lesson in control, as well as the ability to work around the difficulties which arise. Who knows, somewhere in the soul of a player a golden cub may be growing into a bear.

Scoreboard

| | | | |
|----|-----|----------------|---|
| NF | vs. | Bishop McQuinn | W |
| NF | vs. | South Stokes | L |
| NF | vs. | South Stokes | W |
| NF | vs. | West | W |
| NF | vs. | Mc Tabor | W |
| NF | vs. | " | W |
| NF | vs. | Gboro Smith | W |
| NF | vs. | Gboro Page | W |
| NF | vs. | East | L |
| NF | vs. | West | W |
| NF | vs. | Reynolds | W |
| NF | vs. | Glenn | W |
| NF | vs. | East | L |

It's almost there. Silently coaxing the ball towards the hole, Brian Walker watches his putt and hopes that it at least gets close enough for a tap in.

Putt for par. Showing amazing golfing skill and concentration, Mike Clanton sizes up the situation and easily puts the ball in the hole for par.

In the rough. After slicing his ball off the main fairway, Chad Lynch carefully surveys his strategy for his next move on this hole.

Golf

Putt for par. Showing amazing golfing skill and concentration, Mike Clanton sizes up the situation and easily puts the ball in the hole for par.

Schedule

- 3/15 NF vs West
- 3/21 NF vs Bishop McGuinness
- 3/28 NF vs Redsville
- 3/30 NF vs Reynolds
- 4/1 NF vs Cawer
- 4/11 NF vs Green Smith
- 4/15 NF vs Redsville McTahoe
- 4/21 NF vs Goboro Page
- 4/25 NF vs East
- 4/28 NF vs Reynolds
- 5/2 NF vs Green

FRONT ROW: Derek Schatz, Mike Clanton, Brian Doub, Ken McSwain, Brad Logan. SECOND ROW: Coach Jimmy Addison, Chris Warden, Barry Davis, Chad Lynch, Greg Hunter, Darnick Allen, Mike Smith.

Boys' And Girls' Track

1987

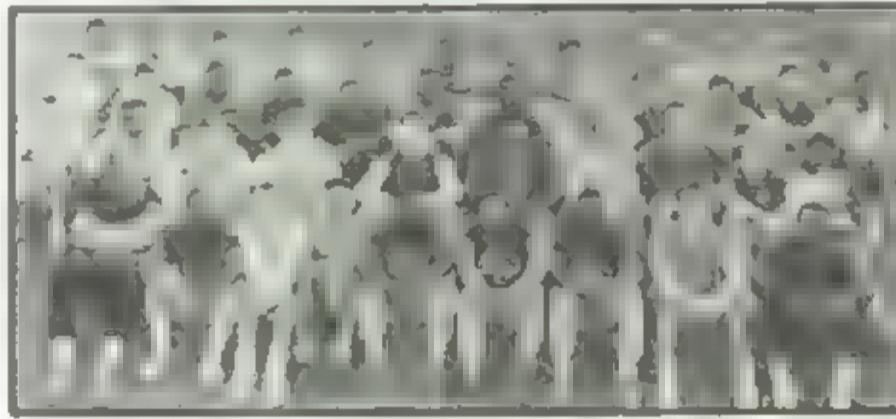

| | | | |
|----|----|--------------|----|
| NF | 92 | Conn | 48 |
| NF | 86 | Carver | 56 |
| NF | 87 | G'boro Smith | 39 |
| NF | 77 | East | 27 |
| NF | 71 | Reynolds | 66 |
| NF | 67 | Carver | 61 |

Schedule

- 16 NF vs. Parkland
- 1 NF vs Parkland, Statesville
- 1 NF vs. Carver
- 1 NF vs. G'boro Smith
- 1 NF vs. G'boro Page
- 1 NF vs. East
- 1 NF vs. Glenn
- 1 Men's Sectionals

FIRST ROW James Jones, Kevin Jessup, Shane Boaz, Paul Hughes, Scott Austin, Neal King, Lee Tuttle, Alan Myers, Harvey Sutton, Jason Duggins, Steve Stowe, Brian Patterson, Coach Scott Brent. SECOND ROW Coach Mike Ferguson, Eric Drake, Linell Johnson, DeNorris Johnson, Eugene Thompson, Charlie Clemmons, Terrell Glenn, Erskine Fred, Tony Marshall, Trenton Allman, Eric Turner, Charlie Hunt, Brian Hollingsworth, Kevin Caesar, Lee Dixon, Germaine Lane, Coach Herman Moye. THIRD ROW Jarrod Scott, Marcus Sutton, Keith Hunt, Jeff Brown, Ronald Leak, Fletcher Gist, Carl Hinson, Charles Waiters, Tim Brown.

HERE goes nothing. After putting the moxie back in leave the ground and vault over the pole, Jason Duggins gets a running start to build up his speed.

All set to go. Listening intently for the sound of the starting signal, Coach Johnson and Marcus Sutton prepare to start around the next track.

Here goes nothing. After putting the moxie back in leave the ground and vault over the pole, Jason Duggins gets a running start to build up his speed.

Schedule

- 16 NF vs. Parkland
- 1 NF vs Parkland, Statesville
- 1 NF vs. Carver
- 1 NF vs. G'boro Smith
- 1 NF vs. G'boro Page
- 1 NF vs. East
- 1 NF vs. Glenn
- 1 Men's Sectionals

FIRST ROW Angela Speas, Stephanie Matthews, Shevonne Martin, Shannon Baldwin, Marcia Williamson, Carla Phillips, Sherri Fields, Leslie Williamson, Leisha Roseboro, Keyria Wright. SECOND ROW Mary McFadden, Sherri Hauser, Monica Jackson, Monte Jackson, Cheryl Glenn, Cassandra Hauser, Schonial McClary, Carla Hauser, LaTanya Smoot. THIRD ROW Chris Thompson, DeeDee Bradley, Michelle Mitchell, Chevelle Wilson, Samantha Shell, Veronica Fogle, Nicole Mitchell, Camille Sprinkle. FOURTH ROW Coach Virgil Simpson, Tonya Turner, Rhonda Forney, Michelle Wharton. ABSENT: Danita Rowboro, Monica Mumford, Maricka Mouzon.

FRONT ROW Samantha Shell, Tina Hauser, Shevonne Martin, Leisha Roseboro, Marcia Williamson, Marcella Dykes. SECOND ROW Loreta Salter, Walteria Hauser, Danita Roseboro, Monte Jackson, Shannon Baldwin, Angela Speas, Tashia Simmons. THIRD ROW Carol Brown, Sherri Hauser, Carmen Joyce, Monica Mumford, Teresa Moore, Stephanie Matthews. FOURTH ROW Coach Virgil Simpson, Coach Carl Perry, Assistant Coach Mike Winters.

Off and running. At the sound of the starting signal, Marcella Dykes hopes to get a jump on her opponents and be the first one to pass the baton.

Schedule

- 16 NF vs. Parkland
- 1 NF vs Parkland/Statesville
- 1 NF vs. Carver
- 1 NF vs. G'boro Smith
- 1 NF vs. G'boro Page
- 1 NF vs. East
- 1 NF vs. Glenn
- 1 Women's Sectionals

FRONT ROW Samantha Shell, Tina Hauser, Shevonne Martin, Leisha Roseboro, Marcia Williamson, Marcella Dykes. SECOND ROW Loreta Salter, Walteria Hauser, Danita Roseboro, Monte Jackson, Shannon Baldwin, Angela Speas, Tashia Simmons. THIRD ROW Carol Brown, Sherri Hauser, Carmen Joyce, Monica Mumford, Teresa Moore, Stephanie Matthews. FOURTH ROW Coach Virgil Simpson, Coach Carl Perry, Assistant Coach Mike Winters.

Anticipation

What To Expect

Team spirit, the thrill of victory, and the satisfaction of a job well done were several of the reasons that athletes looked forward to being a member of the track team. Even though track was one of the most physically demanding sports offered, students looked forward to seeing their hard work pay off.

1988 track team member Eugene Thompson explained his reasons for expecting a good season when he stated, "I'm looking forward to a winning season, and for the new people we have to give us the support we need." In addition, when describing the 1987 track team, Shannon Baldwin remarked,

"When we win it's always a group effort."

First year track team members had some extra special anticipations for their track season. For instance, Carmen Joyce, a first year runner in 1988, said, "This is my first year running for North Forsyth and I plan on being a winner!" Also, 1988 boys track team member Robert Stephens described his anticipation of his first season like this, "This is my first year, but I want to do my best to succeed. I want to strive for excellence."

Some track team members anticipated the track season for unusual reasons. For example, 1987 track team member James

Wright pointed out that "track is useful socially to check out all the ladies." On the contrary, Eric Turner looked forward to his track season for a more practical reason. His plea was, "Track is the only sport where your body doesn't get twisted and mangled."

Whether an athlete anticipated hard work, good times with close friends, or just the challenge this physically demanding sport required, he or she found track to be everything they had hoped for. The completion of these young people's anticipations enabled them to have a successful 1987 as well as 1988 season.

At the races. Trying to get the timing just right on her departure, Schontal McClary readies herself for her take off in the long jump event.

Nervous anticipation: Waiting for the starting signal, Charlie Hunt and Trenton Allman chat with other track team members from opposing schools.

Flying high now Showing no concern for his body, Hwan Yu leaps and stretches his arm as far as possible to return the ball back over the net

1987 Boys' Tennis

FRONT ROW James Venable, Jim Johnston, Lawrence Blakey, Scott Bowen, Won Yu, John Ingwersen, David Bowen. BACK ROW Coach Olin Shuler, David Weidl, Marc Ingwersen, Gray Evans, David Berger, Derek Long, Hwan Yu, Scott Moore, Alan Starr

Handling It

Learning To Cope With Changes

Making a fresh start at anything requires a lot of planning and preparation. Many adjustments must be made, and sometimes, it was required to make sacrifices.

Last year's team was certainly a tough act to follow even though their season's record did not tell the true story. The boys finished the year with a team record of 7-9, but there were many outstanding individual players.

Coach Olin Shuler, the boys' coach for the 1987 tennis team, had positive feelings regarding the team. He remarked, "The team did quite well, and they are nice kids who enjoyed playing and are good representatives of the school." His comment set the stage for an exciting 1988 season.

This year the boy's tennis team got off to a fresh and exciting new start. They were set for an exciting year with four returning starters and a new coach.

Although the team felt confident with their returning lettermen, they were a little worried about having a new coach. Scott Moore expressed his opinion by saying, "I think it will be hard, but if we try, I believe we can all be winners." His teammate, David Weidl, stated, "With our returning lettermen on the squad, I feel confident we can hold our own in matches. Having a new coach will only compliment the talent we already possess."

However, some players felt unsure about the accomplishments of this year's team due to the many obvious changes. Alan Starr was less optimistic as he said, "It's going to be tough since a lot of our best players have graduated."

The new coach, Mr. Gerlinger, felt very confident and assured about the capabilities of his new team. He stated, "We are going to work hard and have fun and see what happens!"

With an excellent combination of mature experience and young enthusiasm, the boy's tennis team tackled the new season with eagerness and a renewed perspective of the game. Their hope and optimism certainly payed off and allowed the team to represent themselves and their school to the best of each

Scoreboard

| | | | |
|----|---|-------------------|---|
| NF | 0 | Parkland | 1 |
| NF | 0 | Mt Tabor | 7 |
| NF | 2 | West | 7 |
| NF | 2 | Bishop McGuinness | |
| NF | 0 | Reynolds | 9 |
| NF | 2 | Parkland | 2 |
| NF | 2 | Bishop McGuinness | 9 |
| NF | 1 | South Stokes | 6 |
| NF | 1 | Carver | 4 |
| NF | 6 | East | 3 |
| NF | 3 | G'boro Smith | 6 |
| NF | 6 | Glenn | 3 |
| NF | 0 | G'boro Page | 9 |
| NF | 5 | Carver | 4 |
| NF | 1 | East | 6 |
| NF | 3 | G'boro Smith | 8 |
| NF | 6 | Glenn | 4 |
| NF | 0 | G'boro Page | 9 |

High-power serve Swinging with all his might, Won Yu delivers a hard hit serve to his opponent who is eagerly waiting on the other side of the court

Ready and waiting. Anticipating his opponent's serve, Marc Ingwersen has no trouble at all in returning it with a hard forehand back across the net.

Match point Playing every shot as if the match is on the line, Derek Long takes his time before sending the ball over the net for a possible ace.

Boys' Tennis

Different strokes for different folks. Demonstrating his ability to smoothly return the ball, David Barger volleys with a teammate during practice.

Schedule

- | | |
|------|--------------------|
| 4/9 | NF vs Reynolds |
| 4/11 | NF vs West |
| 4/15 | NF vs Parkland |
| 4/17 | NF vs Mt Tabor |
| 4/22 | NF vs HP Centra |
| 4/24 | NF vs South Stokes |
| 4/29 | NF vs HP Centra |
| 5/4 | NF vs South Stokes |
| 5/12 | NF vs Carver |
| 5/14 | NF vs East |
| 5/19 | NF vs Gboro Page |
| 5/21 | NF vs Glenn |
| 5/26 | NF vs Gboro Page |
| 4/28 | NF vs Carver |
| 5/3 | NF vs East |
| 5/5 | NF vs Smith |
| 5/10 | NF vs Glenn |
| 5/12 | NF vs Gboro Page |

FRONT ROW Gabriel de Alba, Mike Hite, Andy Walker, Steve Liang, Ashley Merrill, Andrew Ketchie, Wake Doub, Mark Anders, Daniel Williams. SECOND ROW Aaron Arnett, Mark McFarlan, David Weidl, Scott Moore, Derek Long, Marc Ingwersen, Hwan Yu, Jean-Louis Beeren, Brian Watts, Dale Baker, Coach Doug Gerzinger.

*A Year
to...*

Support

The community, in some way, played a role in everyone's life. Each student added a special touch to the school by representing a unique mixture of different societies.

Parents were some of those who were represented at Viking functions. These activities ranged from attending the many sporting events, becoming involved in the PTSA, and helping out with the Booster Club. This type of support helped make the school year an enjoyable and memorable experience for not only the students and faculty, but the families of those involved.

In addition to faithful parents, many local businesses helped out to enrich the school year. These businesses gave outstanding support to each of the school's publications by advertising with them. Without their help, the publications would not have been able to enrich our school as it had the ability to. Likewise, the businesses of the community assisted many of the clubs in their fund raising efforts. Businesses helped make the school year as eventful as it could be.

One activity which occupied many students' time and talents was organized community sports. There were opportunities for both males and females in an array of sports. The students gave to the community by becoming a part of it and taking advantage of the multitude of activities it offered.

It was definitely a year for everyone to get involved, not only students and faculty, but the community as a whole, all for the benefit of the students of the school. The community rallied behind the school in many of its events and supported the functions constantly; and with their help, it made it a year to be involved for everyone.

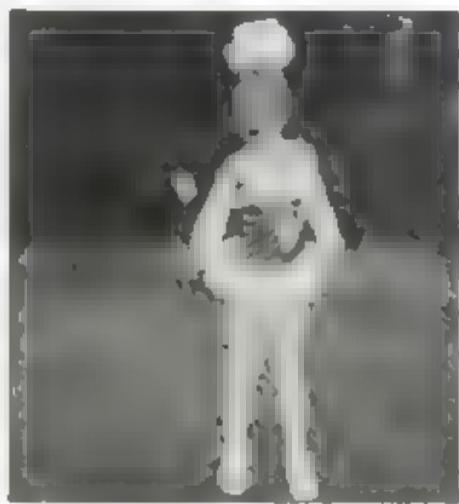

Living life to its fullest, Mrs. Grace Johnston and Mrs. Linda Murrell take time to enjoy themselves at the annual Hanes Fall Festival, digressing from their usual guidance counselor roles.

A fair affair. Ricky Cheek, Trey Martin, Kevin Beaman, Ricky Mosley, Melissa Pinnix, Robbie Duggins, and Angie Absher take an evening out to enjoy the Dixie Classic Fair.

Out and about. Ruffin Smith reviews all the latest releases at Camerot Music, located in Hanes Mall. She was browsing around during her long-awaited weekend shopping escapade into town.

Gina Absher

May you walk in "Sunshine" like the "Sun shine" you brought into our lives. May God be with you and bring you much success. You're a winner.
Love, your parents

Senior Congratulations

LAUREN CLAYTON

969-2817

Hwy. 65 AT U.S. 52
RURAL HALL N.C.
(BESIDE MAYFLOWER SEAFOOD)

HOURS
TUES. - FRI 9-6
SAT 9-4

The "NEW" Pollirosa

'Home of Grandma's Country Kitchen'

TOBACCOVILLE, NC

PHONE 983-5352
HOME 924-9389

Light Rolls Chicken & Dumplings
Home Made Pies & Cakes Fresh Vegetables

BUFFET — Friday and Saturday — 5 to 9
Sunday — 12 to 7
Closed Monday, Tuesday,
Wednesday, and Thursday

COUNTRY MUSIC — LIVE

Private Parties by Appointment Anytime

Owned & Operated by Johnny & Millie Rierson
$2.50 Children — $6.95 Adults

Kelly Allen

Congratulations and best wishes for a bright future. You have always made us proud and given us only joy and happiness. Best of luck, we love you Mom, Dad, Tony and Amy

Senior Congratulations

Darrick Allen

Congratulations to a very special son.
We are proud of you. Good luck next year at Georgia Tech. Love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

WILEY R. JONES, PA

Complete Accounting And Income Tax Service

3710 Reynolda Road
Winston-Salem, N.C. 27106
Phone (919) 924-4128

Member
NC Society Of Accountants
National Society Of Public Accountants

Tonya Atkins

You are not only a lovely, talented daughter, but you are our best friend. Friends are forever and so is our love for you. Your achievements have been many and we are very proud. Look to the future with great expectations!
Love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Reynolda Road

North Point Blvd.

Hopes Your Future Years As A Viking Graduate Will Be Most Rewarding

Thanks For The Memories

Big Mac Attack Curbing his appetite Student Body President Keon Teta eats lunch at McDonalds Upperclassmen satisfied their hunger pangs by visiting local fast food restaurants with their friends

IT'S A GOOD TIME FOR THE GREAT TASTE.

Reynolda Auto Parts

3807 Reynolda Rd
Winston-Salem, N.C. 27106
919-924-0945

Our Congratulations to the Class of '88

AUTO REPAIRING TOWING CRANE SERVICE

Phone 767-4660
Phone 767-4926

Horn's Garage, Inc.

4153 Patterson Ave., P.O. Box 4303
Winston-Salem, NC 27105

Jim Horn

Owner

40 Ton Wrecker

David Barger

Congratulations David! We are very proud of you. We wish for you all the luck and happiness that life can bring. Always be yourself and remember we love you. Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Matt Bender

"Congratulations Son" Love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Lauren Beres

Lauren, you will always be the sunshine in our lives. With your God given talents and your loving nature, you will have a very bright future. Congratulations and all our love. Mom, Dad and Steve

Senior Congratulations

Burke Bovender

Congratulations to a son and brother who has brought much laughter and joy to our family. We are very proud of you. Love Mom, Dad, Rick, and Lori

Senior Congratulations

Mad scientists at work. Nancy Georgitis and Whitney Gann try not to blow up the lab in Mrs. LoCicero's room as they attempt to make up a very important chemistry lab after school

Angela Bowman

Angie, you are a very special daughter. Your spirit and determination will take you far in life. May all your dreams come true. Love, Mom.

Senior Congratulations

Susan Bristow

Congratulations Susan. You've been a joy in our hearts. May all your dreams come true. Love Mom, Dad Bill, and Grandma.

Senior Congratulations

Kelli Burgess

Congratulations — You've made it this far! Now COLLEGE Keep on working hard and always remember, we love you. Mom, Dad, and Heather.

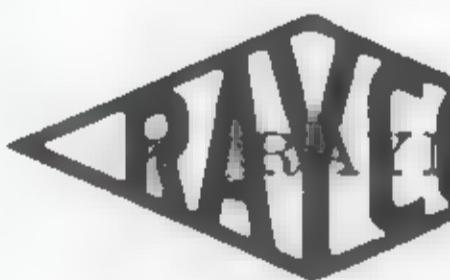

Senior Congratulations

Amanda Church

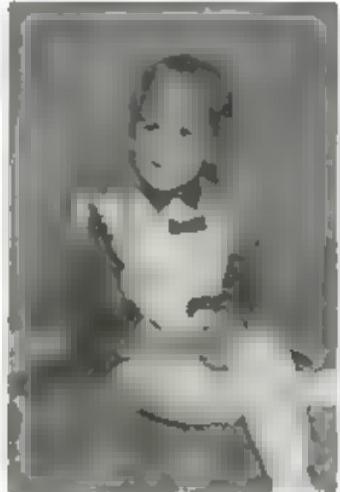

Congratulations Amanda! We are so proud of you! You can do anything you want to, so go for it! Love Mom, Dad, Tracy, and Shae.

Senior Congratulations

RAYMOND SUPPLY COMPANY, INC.
DISTRIBUTORS OF SHEET METAL SUPPLIES

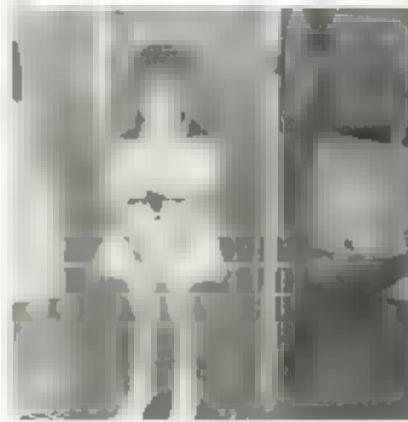

- PHONE 723-8873
- P. O. BOX 4115
- 708 E. 13TH STREET
- WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. 27105

Valerie Coats

Congratulations to our daughter on her graduation. We are so proud of you. May your future be as bright as that special light you have always been in our lives. Love always, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Wendy Collins

Congratulations to our daughter on your graduation. We are very proud of you. This is a day we have all looked forward to. May all of your dreams come true. Love, Mom and Dad

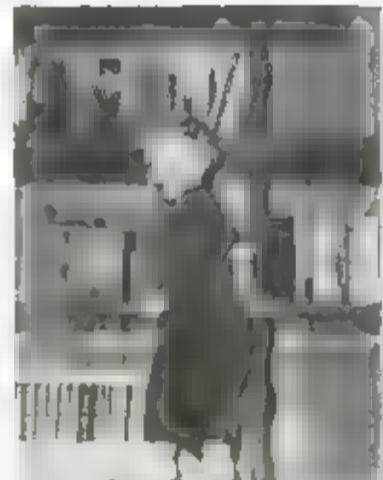

Senior Congratulations

Donita Covington

Congratulations on being a good student and a wonderful daughter. Always remain the way you are. Love and best wishes. Your father, Donald Covington

Senior Congratulations

Terry Crews

A lover of life, you are a joy and a treasure to all who have come to know you. Congratulations on your graduation. You've come a long way and we're so very proud to call you son. Our devoted love, God bless you. Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

SERVICE YOU CAN COUNT ON FROM THE BANK YOU CAN TRUST.

Member FDIC. And Your Community.
© First Citizens Bank & Trust Company

QUALITY

SERVICE

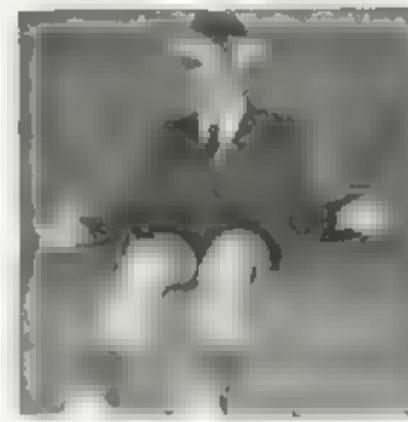

DUNNAGAN AND RIDEOUT, INC.

1234 N. Liberty St. — Phone 722-2843

HEATING and AIR CONDITIONING

STEVE RIDEOUT

Winston-Salem, N.C.

Mike Davis

Mike, our entire family is very proud of you. We wish you much success and a long and happy life. Remember you will always have our love and support. Affectionately, Mom

Senior Congratulations

Sallie Davis

Precious daughters are rare and God gave us the best in you Congratulations for today, hope for the dreams of tomorrow and all our love forever Love Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

LONG JEWELERS

231 S. Main St

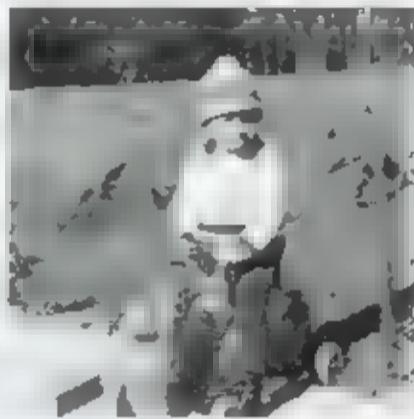

King, N.C

ARTCARVED GLASS RINGS

Pack it up! Tina Hauser takes a seat at the end of a long school day as she gathers up her belongings preparing to make her trek home

Senior Congratulations

Wendy Donothan

Congratulations Wendy We love you and wish you the best of luck in all your endeavors Love Mom
and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Kirsten Elliott

You are special. Your faith in God and your determination are exceptional. You have brought us all and made us proud of you We love you Mama and Daddy

Sherry England

Tears fill my eyes as I try to write my best wishes to you, my lovely daughter.
You and I have come a long way and you have far yet to go. With God at your side, you will do great things. Your Dad would have been proud. You know I am I Love you, Mom

Senior Congratulations

FASHION MARKETING

Total Allure

ANDRAIS BRANDON, PRESIDENT

TOBACCO SQUARE
536 OAK STREET NW SUITE 500
WINSTON SALEM, NC 27101

PHONE (919) 721-9610
FAX (919) 724-1834

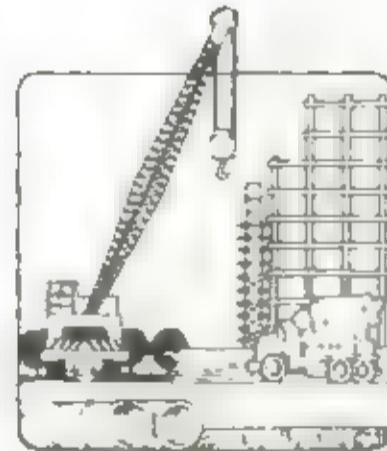

CHARM

SKIN CARE

POISE

Patronage

When you plan construction plan on Salem
Construction.

salem construction

Salem Construction Company, Inc. ■ P O Box 290 ■ Advance, NC 27006
Phone (919) 998-8383

Elif Erginer

Congratulations! We are sure you will do your best under any circumstances and that will be great. We love you and support you for being yourself. Mom, Dad, Ayse, and Kenan

Senior Congratulations

John Frazier

You may never have scored the winning touchdown or hit a homerun, but you will always be my hero and I'm so proud you are my son. Congratulations and I love you, Mom.

Senior Congratulations

Sloan-Smith

— Clothing —
Ladies, Mens, Students

Colony Centre
King, NC
983-2994

Arthur Smith

Frances K. Allen

765-5621

SHERWOOD FLOWER SHOP INC.

3437 Robinhood Road
Winston-Salem, NC 27106

SHERWOOD REYNOLDA FLORIST

Reynolda Manor Shopping Center

Safety first. Monika Mumford performs a tedious chemistry lab with dangerous chemicals under the fume hood during chemistry class.

Clay Fearrington

Clayboy, you have come a long way. You have made us very proud parents. Always remember the tougher the challenge, the sweeter the victory. Love always, Mom & Dad

Senior Congratulations

Jamie Franklin

Congratulations, you have made us very proud of you. Remember, we are behind you, so keep your goals high in life. We love you, Mom, Dad, Kelli, and Matches

Senior Congratulations

John Gladman

Beyond a wholesome discipline be gentle with yourself. Seek excellence but enjoy the journey as well. When challenges are pressing you down a bit, rest if you must but don't quit
Love. Mom & Dad

Senior Congratulations

All Types of Repairs
Foreign and Domestic

Towing in City Limits: $25.00

SHATTALON SHELL

5560 Shattalon Drive
Winston-Salem, N.C. 27106

Phone 924-1300

MIKE PRIM
Owner

The Bridal & Tux Shop

"The Complete Bridal & Formal Shop"

3703 Reynolda Road
Winston-Salem, N.C. 27106
Phone 924-1520

Hours
Mon.-Fri 9:30-6:00
Sat 9:30-5:00

Dawn Glancy

It's been a fleeting hour,
how quickly it passed. You are a joy, be happy I am proud of you. Remember success is a journey not a destination. Love, Mom

Senior Congratulations

Jeffrey Griffin

Remember there is nothing that you and the Lord can't handle. You will never cease to be THE JOY of our lives.
Nannie and Mama

Senior Congratulations

REYNOLDA MANOR

721-1711

L-Vira's

South Main Street
King, NC
983-3171

Ladies' and Children's Fashions

Sylvia Hamilton

Congratulations Baby Girl from Dad, Mom, and sister Angela. Here's wishing you much success in your future endeavors because we've come a long way and we are very proud of you

Senior Congratulations

Steve Hannah

Congratulations to our #1 son! Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Teresa Harrell

Twelve years seemed like a long time to you, but they have gone by too fast for us. Hope life out of school is the best it can be for you. Happiness to you always "Tree." We love you, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Servin' time Tyrone Bailey spends thirty minutes after school serving detention and cleaning out desks as punishment for too many tardies

Parts Plus

INGRAM AUTO PARTS

Tom & Jim Ingram — Owners

5946 University Parkway
Winston-Salem, N.C.
(919) 377-9101

Specializing in Domestic and Foreign Auto Parts

PHOTO DIMENSIONS

Division of Brandon Lauren Enterprises

A Full Line Professional
Photo Finishing Lab

We Specialize In Color and Black and White

Mass Productions

924-2121

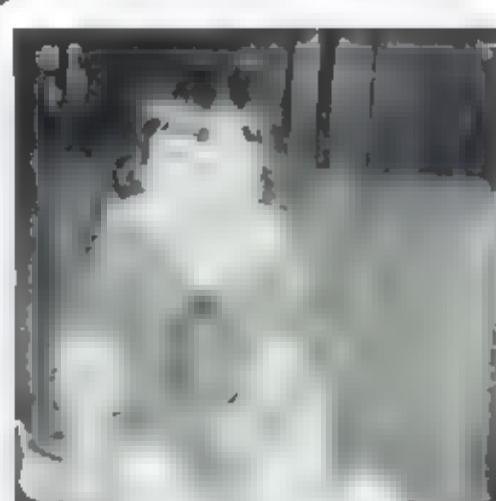

924-2001

Oliver Helsabeck

Congratulations on all your many achievements over the years. We hope your future endeavors will carry you to what you dream of becoming. We are proud of you and wish you only the best. Love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Angie Hughes

Congratulations! You have been such a joy to us! We wish you all the good things in life — love and laughter forever. Be yourself and be happy. Love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Shannon Inman

You have always been there when we needed you. We'll always be here when you need us. Thank you for the happiness you've brought to our lives. We love you, Mom and Dad.

Senior Congratulations

COMMERCIAL-RESIDENTIAL-AUTOMOTIVE
SAFES OPENED. REPAIRED-COMBINATIONS CHANGED
EMERGENCY SERVICE-RADIO DISPATCHED TRUCKS

THE A & T COMPANY LOCKSMITHS

DAY
PHONE
744-0119
OR 767-4988

SHARPENING
&
LUGGAGE REPAIR

NIGHT
PHONE LEXINGTON
249-0500

PINEBROOK SHOPPING CENTER
4208 PATTERSON AVENUE & GERMANTON RD.

NORTHSIDE SHOPPING CENTER

WINSTON-SALEM NC

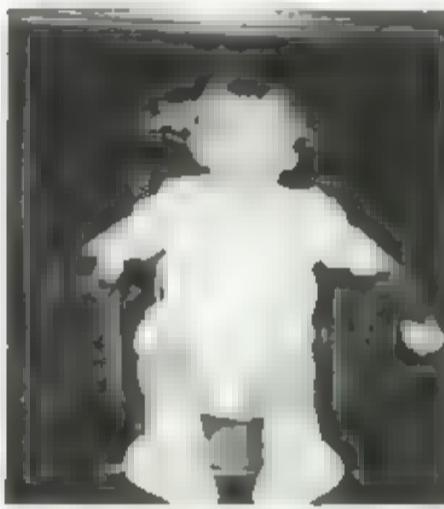

A COMPLETE LOCK SERVICE

Stokes PHARMACY

King Shopping Center
Ample off-street parking
King, N.C. Ph. 983-3118
Across from hospital
Danbury, N.C. Ph. 593-8070

"YOUR COMPLETE PHARMACY!"
"WHERE THE CUSTOMER IS APPRECIATED!"

Jill Jewell

Jill, we are very proud of you, both as a student and as a person. Continue to work hard and reach for the stars. Our support and love will always be with you. Mom, Dad, and Ronnie

Senior Congratulations

Erica Joe

Years after you're still a lovable mess
Best wishes for the future. Love Your Mother

Senior Congratulations

Lucy Johnston

Our family nest has emptied much too soon! Remember we love you. Have fun next year. Every trip home will be special for us. All our love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Look at me! Valerie Coats takes a break from photographing the Junior Varsity football game against South Stokes

TOWING AND RECOVERY
MOTOR CLUB MECHANICS

AMOCO

Shell CERTIFIED

OLD TOWN SHELL

4905 Reynolds Rd.
Winston-Salem, NC 27106
Phone 924-0171

BILL LANHAM MANAGER

TIM W. DINKINS
OWNER

Cherri Kiger

Congratulations Cherri! We are very proud of you. Your heart is full of love and faith therefore, nothing is impossible for you to accomplish. Our prayers are with you and we know with God's help, you will be successful. Love Mom and Dad

Wytonia Kimber

"In all thy ways acknowledge him and he will direct your path." Congratulations and best wishes for a bright future. Our love will always follow you. Love Mom, Dad, and Kevin.

Angela King

You've been my best friend in getting through life's tumbles. Keep the faith! I'm so proud you're mine. Love. Mom

GOLDEN DRAGON RESTAURANT

Authentic Chinese Restaurant

Monday — Friday ... Daily luncheon special Saturday and Sunday ... Luncheon buffet
12:00 noon to 2:30 p.m.

Visit our Chinese gift and craft shop

Banquet room facilities

All ABC permits

723-1526

REYNOLDA MANOR SHOPPING CENTER
WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA

BUSINESS HOURS

| | |
|--------------------|----------------------|
| MONDAY - | CLOSED |
| TUESDAY - THURSDAY | 11:30 AM - 9:00 PM |
| FRIDAY | 11:30 AM - 9:30 PM |
| SATURDAY | 12:00 Noon - 9:30 PM |
| SUNDAY | 12:00 Noon - 9:00 PM |

Take out orders available

Service Inc. Since 1970
Old Hwy 52 STANLEYVILLE, NC
SONNY CREWS 377-2076

Philip Lawton

Congratulations to a very special son. Philip, we love you and are very proud of you. May God bless you in your future. Good luck at NC State! Love, Mama and Daddy

(919) 377-9246

HAIR PERFORMANCE

Family Hair Care

5952-G University Parkway
Beside Harris Teeter and Crown Drug
Winston-Salem, NC 27105

OWNERS

Former Vikings
Karen Davis and Lisa Shutt

Maria Hall, Pam Grigg, Kim Stanley

Derek Long

Congratulations Derek! You are special! May you always put your faith in the Lord and let Him guide you through the future. We love you Mom, Dad, Meg, and Emily.

Senior Congratulations

BOSS IMPRINTED SPORTSWEAR

4235 Pinebrook Plaza
744-7655

"We specialize in custom printing!"

Sondra Long

Congratulations to a very special daughter on her graduation. We are so very proud of you! Love, Dad and Mom.

Senior Congratulations

Damon Lyons

Our favorite #10 soccer player!
Good luck and best wishes in everything you do. May God bless you and keep you in his heart always.
Love Mom, Dad, Derek, Daren, Karen, Dan, and Roya

Senior Congratulations

Samantha Merritt

We're so proud of you and all of your hard work. May all of your hopes and dreams come true. Love, Mom, Dad, and Teresa.

Senior Congratulations

Community

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS!

North Point

Reynolda Road

Kathy Mickey

Your smile warmth and love for others make you a daughter of whom we're proud. Our love will be with you throughout life. Congratulations and best wishes. God bless you, Mom and Dad.

Senior Congratulations

Mechelle Mitchell

From the time you were born, you've always been special. Here's wishing you the best in whatever you endeavor. God bless you. Maxine

Senior Congratulations

Mark Moore

Yesterday you were a little boy playing in the sand. Today you are a fine young man with dreams for the future. Congratulations to our special graduate, we are very proud of you! Love, Mom and Dad.

Senior Congratulations

Teresa Moore

Congratulations on your graduation. Best wishes and good luck in the future. We're very proud of you. We love you. Mom and Dad.

Senior Congratulations

LUTC Graduate

Allstate®

FRED WHITE Agent

4431-90 N. Cherry Street, Winston-Salem, NC 27105
Bus. 919 744-5622 • Res. 919 922-4019

Forsyth Printing Company
(919) 924-4129

Our Many Services Include:
•Precision shaping •Coloring & Highlighting •Perms & Body Waves •Manicures •Waxing

Old Town Beauty Salon

5550 Reynolds Rd.
924-1540

Tanning Capsule Available for Your Convenience!

Quality Printing And Typesetting

Ricky Jones

3712 Reynolda Road
Winston-Salem, N.C. 27106

Maybe Harvard? Greg Cockerham and Chris Cooke roam around during college night at the Career Center, in search of the perfect college

Michelle Moorefield

You have always done your best in everything you've undertaken. But to me you have been the best daughter, and the best friend a father could have. Best wishes in the future. I love you, Dad.

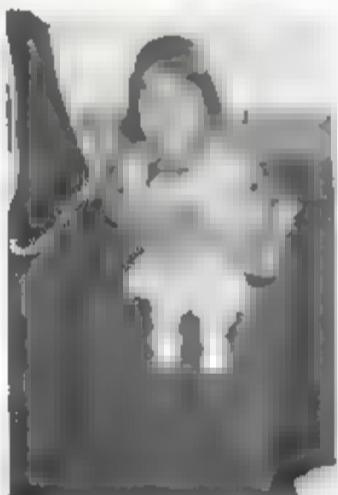

Senior Congratulations

Beth Mueller

Congratulations daughter. We love you and wish you all the happiness that life can bring. Mom, Dad, Lori

Senior Congratulations

Amy Norman

Words cannot express the joy and happiness you have brought to our lives since you were born. We are extremely proud and blessed to have you as our daughter and are confident that you will continue to do well in life as you embark on your career dreams. Mom and Dad

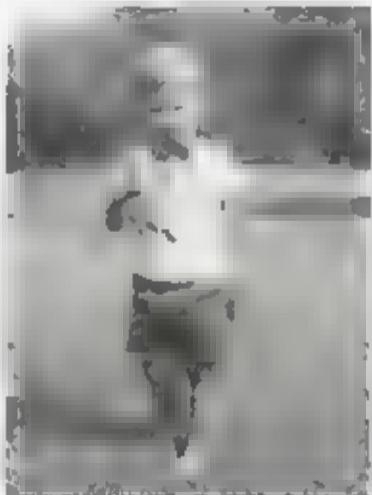

Senior Congratulations

OLD TOWN AUTO PARTS & ACCESSORIES

Regular Parts
High Performance Parts
Foreign Car Parts

3603 Reynolda Road
Winston-Salem, NC 27106

924-9141

Billy Oakes

You have been the rainbow in our lives holding the promise of daily treasure and future treasures. Constantly seek to find your treasure in life. Love. Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

STOKES

TIRE & AUTOMOTIVE

S. MAIN ST - KING, N.C. 27021

MON-FRI 7:30 A.M.-6:00 P.M.
SAT. OPEN 7:30 - 1:00

983-4352
T. BEROTH, JR.

Katie Sharpe

Congratulations to our "Baby." The world is at your fingertips. Work hard, love hard, and pray hard, and there isn't anything you can't achieve. We love you! Mom, Dad, Krt, Jeannie and Tim

Senior Congratulations

Steve Shore

God's greatest treasure, life's greatest joy, is to view life through the eyes of a boy. Steve, you're the greatest son parents could ever have. May your zest for life, ambition and trust in God carry you far. We love you, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Amy Shouse

We love you Amy, and are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. May God guard and keep you safe each day, for all the pride of life for us is centered Amy, in you. Love, Mom and Daddy

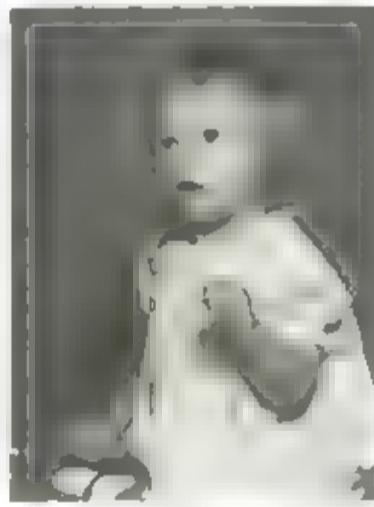

Senior Congratulations

Amy Simpson

Amy, we are proud of you and wish you much happiness in the years to come. We love you a lot! Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Christina Smith

How time flies when you're watching your "Angel" grow. Your tears, our hurt, your joys, our smiles, your accomplishments, our pride, your life, our love. Forever Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Susan Snody

Congratulations to a great daughter. As you go beyond high school, we wish you much happiness and success. We love you and are proud of you for being the "Sweet" person you are. May God bless you. Love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Nikki Spates

Nikki, You have always been the best you can be. Continue to turn your dreams into realities. Best wishes for a great future! Love, Spates

Senior Congratulations

Dana Steelman

Congratulations Dana upon your educational achievement. As you go beyond high school, continue to be your own person. We are very proud, and we love you! Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Do You Have One Of These Problems?

Arbitrating Quarrels Between Friends

Parent Or Peer Pressure

Tutoring Needed

Feeling Left Out And Uninvolved In School

Disappointment In Athletics Or School

Considering Dropping Out Of School

Problems With Drugs Or Alcohol

Contact Us!

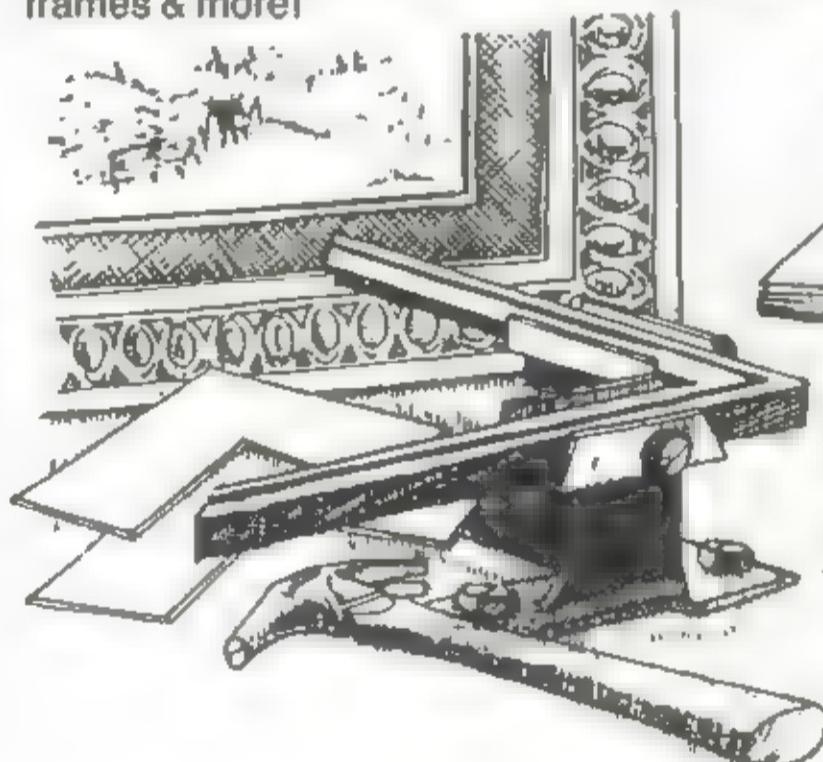

NORTH FORSYTH PEER COUNSELORS

Everything your art desires.

Koenig Art Emporium —
The Place to Shop for...

Artist & Drafting Supplies

Carrying this area's most extensive selection of quality artist's materials, drafting supplies, frames & more!

Custom Picture Framing Art Books, Posters & Prints

Visit our new store in the Hanes Mall, Winston-Salem

KOENIG ART
EMPORIUM®
Artist Supplies • Custom Framing

BILL KNOT SHELL

#1

4196 Patterson Avenue
Winston-Salem, NC 27105
Phone 767-2272

Richard Furches, Proprietor

TAYLOR RENTAL.

SERVING HOME, BUSINESS AND CONTRACTOR NEEDS

Air Compressors • Paving Breakers • Trenchers
Compactors • Generators • Space Heaters
Pressure Washers • Sandblasting Equipment
Contractor Pumps • Cement Tools • Painting Equipment
Power Tools • Plumbing Tools • Scaffolding

725-2613

100 Main Street (Across from Main Street Mall) SPRINGDALE

E. Taylor Rental

Tonya Styers

We've watched you grow from an infant to what you are today — a very special daughter and young lady. Thanks for all that hard work these past years. May good fortune and happiness follow you in the future. Love. Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Keoni Teta

Keoni, words are hardly enough to say how pleased we are with your efforts and how we love you so totally. Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Steve Stowe

Congratulations to son. May you find new adventures to conquer in life. Love. Mom and Dad

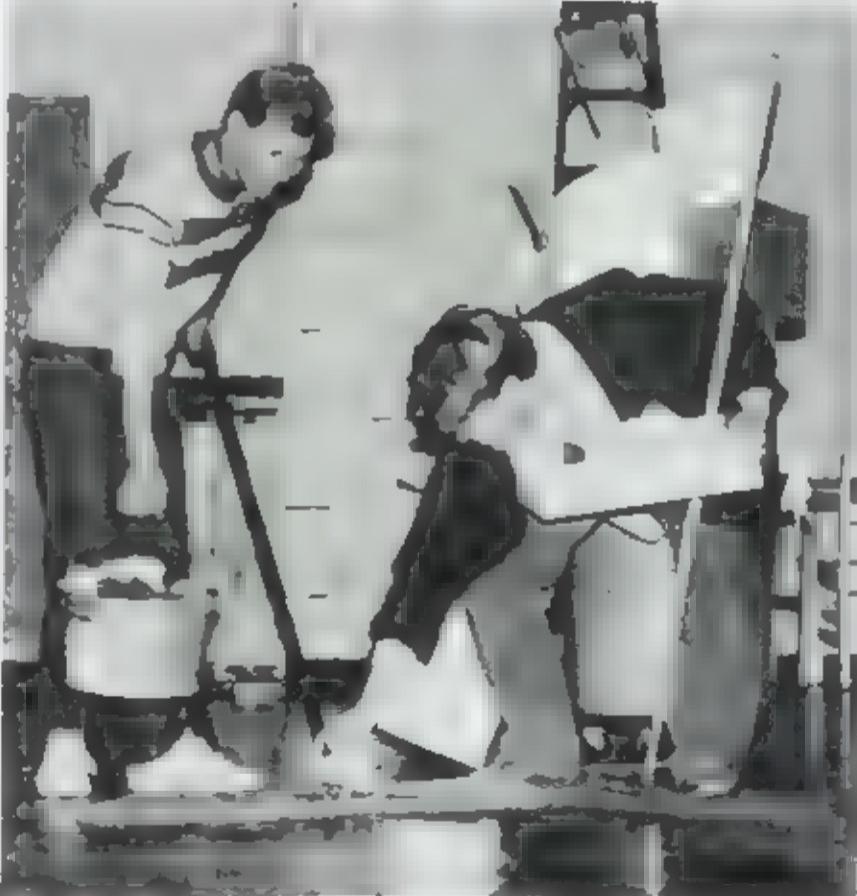

Senior Congratulations

Darian Street

Congratulations to our very special daughter. You are a joy and a real pleasure. We wish you much success and happiness in the future. Love. Mom, Dad and Stephanie

Senior Congratulations

Missed a piece? Joining forces, Oliver Helsabeck and Jeffrey Griffin do a little clean up work to get ready for Kathryn Crosby's visit

Brian Thompson

We know the energy, enthusiasm and determination you have in your work. You're the one we love. Mom, Dad and All.

Senior Congratulations

Malcolm Thompson

Trust in God, your name is my strength. Now son let Jesus be your strength on you. A spirit far above mortal man like the eagle.

Senior Congratulations

Chris Trout

Never lose a sense of humor or lost at a make believe camp. Dad is very important and remember our love is ours always.

Senior Congratulations

Lessa Tucker

Congratulations Lessa! You've never been a girl to explore new territory. May God bless you in all your endeavors. In that specia place we love you. Your parents

Senior Congratulations

COZART'S FLOWER & LOLLIPOP SHOPPE

"Send the Sweetest Gift in Town!"

Flowers for All Occasions

Balloons and Fruit Baskets

723-4254

4310-G ENTERPRISE

Wire Service

Mastercard & Visa

Food for thought. Teresa Van Dyken takes a short recess from her intense studies in order to chat for a while with her peer, Wendy Doty, as she begins to take her lunch in the cafeteria.

Sing our heart out. The Spanish Singing Group sings and plays a traditional Spanish tune together in harmony to entertain the faculty at one of their regular weekly staff meetings.

Allen Tyndall

A delight as a baby, a joy as an Eagle
From playschool to computers, from crib to stage, growing in knowledge of building our pride in our young man. Love, Mom
and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Jodi Valenic

You have made us very proud of you
Best of luck always. Love always, Mom
Dad and Kristen

Senior Congratulations

Verrina Vance

You're come along way baby - verrina - you have always been a very special daughter in my life and our family. Whatever you attempt to do always do your best. God bless you Love Mom

Senior Congratulations

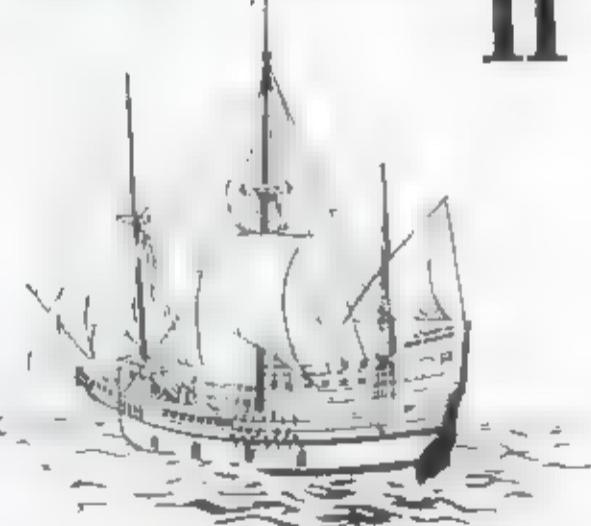

Angie Vernon

Congratulations! These past eighteen years have gone by too fast. We are very proud to have you as our daughter.
Remember we will always love you and will be here for you. Love Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

The Mayflower II

Seafood RESTAURANT
A New Discovery in Seafood Enjoyment

MAYFLOWER II

Village Square Shopping Center
Rural Hall, North Carolina
969-2130

Margaret Wages

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father " James 1:17 We're thankful to the Father for giving you to us Love, Mama and Daddy

Senior Congratulations

Sebrina Wagoner

Congratulations to a special daughter You are very special to us and we are so proud of you We wish you happiness and success in the future Love, Dad, Mom, and Tony

Senior Congratulations

MAYBERRY RESTAURANT

3587 N. Patterson Ave.

Winston-Salem, NC 27105

(919) 767-1870

Krista Wall

We are very proud of what you have achieved We love you! We hope all your dreams come true! Mom and [redacted]

Senior Congratulations

Look at the girls! Andy Watts, Greg Pate, and Michael Nitin look over some reading to help them decide on their future plans

A group of mad scientists Mrs. Sitrian Elcock, Mrs. Nancy Oakley, Billy Petree, and Heather Biggs attempt to finish a scientific lab

Sondra Watts

Our beautiful little princess, we are very proud of you We wish everyone knew you as we do, a sensitive and caring person. Our love will always be with you Love, Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

Angie Welch

We always felt there was a special reason for you being here. May God guide you in his way. Congratulations, all our love. Love, Mom and Dad.

Senior Congratulations

Angel White

When God gave you to us, he gave us an angel. You are still our angel. May God bless and keep you throughout your endeavors. Love Mom and Dad.

Senior Congratulations

El Reno HAIR UNLIMITED

SEBASTIAN

REDKEN

Precision Hair Cutting — Styling — Perms — Creative Hair Color — Waxing — Facials — Cosmetics — Manicures — Sculptured Nails

North Point Blvd. at University Plaza

724-7988

724-3579

William Sheets — Owner

Now you can capture for yourself
the

DEEP, DARK, SAVAGE-LOOKING

everyone's raving about!

SUN PAINTER

GOOD YEAR

Forsyth Tire Center Inc.

3851 N. Patterson Ave.

724-1924

Raymond C. Street

Representative: Auto — Home — Life — Business — Group

4680 Brownsboro Road, Winston-Salem, NC 27106
Phone: (919) 722-9152 Res: (919) 969-6025

Julie White

You are the light of our lives. Your special love has been a blessing and joy. May happiness and success be always yours. We love you. Mom and Dad.

Senior Congratulations

Starice Wilkins

You've come a long way, baby. We are all proud of you. Keep reaching for the stars. Keep your head up, and your dreams will all come true. God will take care of you. Your Mother and Troy.

Senior Congratulations

Marcia Williamson

Congratulations, Marcia! Thank the Lord for this day because you've done an excellent job. Keep striving for happiness and success. Love, Mom

Senior Congratulations

Billy Wilson

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him and he will direct thy paths." We all are so proud of you. Congratulations! With much love, Mom, Charles, Maryann, and Bobie Jo

Senior Congratulations

Marcus Wilson

Marcus, we love you and wish you the best of luck in everything you strive to do. Remember your belief in God Ronald, Tilda DeShaun, and Mona

Senior Congratulations

Kathy Wray

So gentle and caring with the animals you love, you give of yourself to them and to us. We're glad you're our daughter and we hope that you find and travel your own special road. Mom and Dad

Senior Congratulations

PATRONS

Amos and Rachel Rideout

Bell Brothers Restaurant

Creative Fashions, Inc.

Mr. & Mrs. Jerry Franklin

Mr. & Mrs. Hugh T. Holder

Junior's Super Service

Paul Myer's

Merle Norman Cosmetics

Old Town Veterinary PDQ One Hour Photo

Sherwin-Williams

Sound Track Music

Teresa Woodcock

Doch

Bogue Shore Photography

'In December'

9:00 AM - 1:00 PM

CLASS OF '89

Book your Senior session before September 30, 1988 and receive '89 wallets - FREE!

Call TODAY FOR DETAILS!

| | | | | | | | | | |
|------------------------|------------------------------------|----------------------|--|--------------------|-----------------------------|----------------------|---|----------------------|-------------------|
| All Ties | 57 48 | Ganey, Dawn | 72, 81, 92, 170, 180 181, 197, 207, 212, 217, 231, 261 290 | Hartman, David | 107 | Hoddington, Jo Ellen | 109, 119, 196, 197, 201, 219, 225, 226, 227, 231 | | |
| Jum Brett | 78 | Glen, Cheryl | 119, 263, 276 | Hartook, Jeffrey | 147 | Hodgins, Jennifer | 109, 199, 211 | | |
| John Weary | 46, 207 | Glen, Russell | 106, 234 | Hatcher, Ezra | 148, 276 | Hudson, Amy | 82, 169, 193, 194, 217 | | |
| Christine | 41, 150 | Glen, Terrell | 127, 234, 276 | Hatcher, Mark | 148, 266 | Hudspeth, Julia | 24, 64, 148, 206, 219, 242, 271 | | |
| Wade, Thos | 4, 221 | Glover, Derrick | 139, 256 | Hatcher, Sonya | 147 | Hughes, 48 | 48 | | |
| A, 60, 230 | 2, 21, 220 | Glover, Michelle | 106, 225, 23, | Hausler, Stacie | 58, 128, 196, 231, 266 | Hughes, 49 | 49, 73, 124, 231 | | |
| Johnnie, Jr. | 8, 200, 24, 196 | Glover, Stephen | 47, 139 | Hausler Argentina | , 148, 210, 231 276, 287 | Hughes, Argus | 8, 24 | | |
| John M. Miles | 14, 234, 261 | Gowels, Miss Cindy | 161 | Hausler, Carla | 139, 179, 207, 209 276 | Hughes, H. | 140, 142 | | |
| 2, 20 | | Goforth, Jason | 14, 127, 20 | Hausler, Cassandra | 139, 201, 207 276 | Hughes, M. | 49, 263 | | |
| John R. Johnson | 46, 23, 27 | Goris, Christ | 119 | Hausler, Derek | 32, 47, 128, 262 | Hughes, M. | 8, 22 | | |
| John W. Johnson | 146 | Goins, Stacie | 106 | Hausler, Jamie | 128 | Hull, Amy | 8, 22 | | |
| John, 200 | 2, 220 | Graves, Corral | 294 | Hausler, Mark | 148 | Hull, Amy | 148 | | |
| John, Dennis | 278 | Golden Dragon | 293 | Hausler, Shandra | 82 | Hunt, Charlie | 129, 241, 263, 276, 277 | | |
| John, overall | 46, 276 | Golden, Nicholas | 127 | Hausler, Sherri | 128, 231, 253, 276 | Hunt, Dennis | 256 | | |
| John, Sherry | 27 | Goldsmith, Steven | 45, 127 | Hausler, Wahena | 148, 153, 257, 276 | Hunt, Eric | 148, 26, | | |
| John, Sherry | 2, 23 | Goldstein, Rachel | 106, 107, 196, 217, 23, 250, 270, 271 | Hawkins, Trade | 107, 115, 182, 197 211 | Hunt, John | 140 | | |
| John, Brian | 46, 2, 256, 261 | Goff, 274, 275 | Gordon, Kendra | 146 | Hawks, Juila | 82, 250 | Hunt, Kim | 140 | |
| John, 256 | | Goodman, Chantia | 119, 205 | Gordon, Larry | 106 | Hayden, Meissa | 148 | | |
| John, Mr. Bank | 286 | Gondolin, Mr. Robert | 87, 162, 163 214, 219 | Gordon, Pete | 106, 205 | Hayden, Tracy | 106, 315 | Hunt, Kristy | 140 |
| John, 59 | | Gordon, Robert | 119 | Gore, Andre | 23, 41, 225 | Hayes, April | 159 | Hunt, Kristy | 140 |
| John, 2, 1 | | Graham, Martin | 146, 26, | Graham, Martin | 146, 26, | Hayes, Jennifer | 128 | Hunt, Kristy | 140 |
| John, Brian | 46, 2, 256, 261 | Grapio, Maria | 106 | Graffis, Matthew | 127 | Hayworth, Susan | 205, 211, 219, 229 | Hock, Sherry | 205 |
| John, 256 | | Graham, Adrienne | 119 | Graham, Adrienne | 119 | Hector, Elizabeth | 148 | Hodson, 48 | 48 |
| John, 147, 231 | | Graham, Lakisha | 146, 231 | Graham, Michael | 29, 31, 127 | Hektor, Ing | 82 | Hodson, Down | 83, 203, 209, 211 |
| John, Jonathan | 262 | Graham, Rajah | 127, 262, 263 | Graham, Rajah | 127, 262, 263 | Helsabeck, Oliver | 82, 196, 197, 206, 207, 212, 217, 219, 221, 226, 227, 250, 291, 303 | Hodson, Elizab | 22, 108, 271 |
| John, Veronica | 127, 250, 276 | Graham, Tiffany | 127 | Grainger, April | 108, 119 | Helsabeck, William | 82, 203 | Hutchins, Mrs. Leola | 162 |
| John, Football | 45, 236, 237 | Grant, Lawrence | 147 | Hendrie, Michelle | 148, 231 | Henyman, Alison | 148 | Hymen, Cleo | 150 |
| John, M. | 44, 2, 23 | Gravely, Robert | 81, 215 | Hendrie, Scarlet | 149 | Innes, Paula | 12, 39, 109, 250 | Hyman, 48 | 48 |
| John, Thomas | 2 | Gray, Allen | 99 | Henley, Christy | 108, 205, 211, 225 | Ingle, George | 109 | Hyman, Alison | 148 |
| John, Kelley | 126 | Gray, Richard | 47, 139, 231, 262 | Henley, Dorothy | 108, 205, 211, 225 | Ingram, Anthony | 83, 183, 254 | Hyman, Cleo | 150 |
| John, Chad | 127, 231, 265, 266 | Gray, Vernon | 139 | Hendrie, Tina | 14, 139 | Ingram, Anna Patti | 291 | Indreski, Gregory | 14, 20, 24 |
| John, 147, 231 | | Green, Mr. Danny | 250 | Hendrie, Tina | 14, 139 | Ingram, Debra | 128, 256, 266 | Hunter, John | 36, 128, 211 |
| John, Jonathan | 262 | Green, Melissa | 127, 164, 261 | Hendrie, Tina | 14, 139 | Ingram, Stacy | 145, 149, 150 | Hunter, John | 36, 128, 211 |
| John, Veronica | 127, 250, 276 | Greene, Karen | 147 | Henson, Hubert | 148, 261 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Huntington, 48 | 48 |
| John, 256 | | Greene, Kimberly | 147 | Henson, Hubert | 148, 261 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Huntington, Down | 83, 203, 209, 211 |
| John, 46, 256 | | Greer, Robbie | 107, 205 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Hutchins, Mrs. Leola | 162 |
| John, Dell | 79 | Gregory, Rick | 81, 205, 231 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Hymen, Cleo | 150 |
| John, Amber | 146, 153, 201, 207 | Gregory, Rodney | 107, 225, 262 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Michael | 79, 205 | Grimm, Mrs. Barbara | 162 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Brian | 127 | Grimm, Mrs. Barbara | 162 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Bridgett | 106, 205, 207, 266 | Grimm, Mrs. Barbara | 162 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Paris | 43, 79 | Grimm, Mrs. Barbara | 162 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Jamie | 70, 247, 245, 227 | Grimm, Mrs. Barbara | 162 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, 49 | | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, 256 | | Groves, Mike | 264 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Coleen | 127, 200, 225, 227 231, 251 | Groves, Coleen | 127, 200, 225, 227 231, 251 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Honor Society | 197 | Grossman, Miss Mary | 62, 21, 214 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Singing Group | 213 | Grossman, Miss Mary | 62, 21, 214 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Emory | 106, 205 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Kimberly | 106, 205 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Terry | 146 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Michael | 18, 146, 231, 237 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Robbie | 136 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Drew | 46, 23 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, 256 | | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Faith, 3, 99 | | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| John, Scott | 48 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Fulton, Justice | 146 | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Purches, Miss Maria | 16, | Grossman, Tomara | 42, 17 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Galloway, Regina | 39, 119, 266 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Galloway, Terapse | 127, 250 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Galloway, Troy | 44, 80, 215, 217 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Galyean, Anna | 80, 88, 175, 180, 201, 242, 243 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gannett, Carol | 46 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gannett, Carol | 46 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Garners Club | 215 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gannett, Whitney | 106, 219, 250, 284 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Garnett, Lt Col Robert | 161 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Garnett, Kimberly | 127, 253 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Garnett, Kimberly | 146 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Garrison, Candice | 146, 149, 207 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Garrison, Stacey | 106, 207 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gaylor, Virginia | 127, 225, 227 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentle, Lisa | 7, 127 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentry, Bryan | 146, 221 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentry, Bryan | 146, 221 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentry, Derrick | 119 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentry, Geratha | 161, 163, 199 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentry, Jeff | 106 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentry, Michael | 127, 231 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Gentry, Sandra | Hi | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| George, Tony | 145, 146 | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | 2 | Ingrum, John | 278 | Indreski, 48 | 48 |
| Georgette, Tina | Hi | Groves, John | 147, 262, 266 | Hensel, 48 | | | | | |

Cedric Archie 1970-1988

On January 20
1988 the death of Cedric Archie
shocked the entire student body. Cedric was deeply loved and respected and students will continue to remember Cedric Archie and the impression he made on every one whose lives he touched.

| | |
|------------------------------|---|
| Travolta | 156 207 210 263 |
| Travis Rick | 15 |
| Travis Steve | 1 4 |
| Travis Amy | 4 205 |
| Travis Chaycey | 56 231 253 |
| Travis Jason | 114, 119 |
| Travis Jeff | 93 |
| Travis Joel | 45 4 21 225 227 |
| Travis Michael | 14 264 265 266 |
| Travis Kenneth | 34 |
| Travis Susanna | 156 |
| Travis Tessa | 55 207 210 23 |
| Travis Christopher | 50 |
| Travis Wayne | 93 25 |
| Travers Mandy | 4 |
| Travis Jay | 93 21 |
| Travis Alison | 150 202 263 |
| Travis Chad | 156 |
| Travis Chantelle | 145 |
| Travisborough Nancy | 44 156 225 |
| Travis John | 32 43 93 198 209 |
| Travis Eric | 54 114 234 262 276 |
| Travis Derek | 14 225 274 275 |
| Travis Eric | 156 |
| Travis Keith | 114, 205 |
| Travis Robin | 135 179 |
| Travis Susan | 135 207 225 |
| Travis 263 275 | 14 21 266 |
| Travis Matthew | 14 21 266 |
| Travis Paul | 11 121 227 235 |
| Travis Christopher | 150 200 214 |
| Travis 227 231 | 23 227 231 |
| Travis Jarrod | 16 163 154 15 |
| Travis Eric | 275 |
| Travis Eric | 139 256 267 |
| Travis Mrs Francis | 165 215 222 |
| Travis Kimberly | 156 23 |
| Travis Mrs Marilyn | 65 |
| Travis Vick | 14 256 |
| Travis Paul | 156 |
| Travis Council | 80 |
| Travis Tracy | 10 41 156 253 |
| Travis David | 37 |
| Travis Lori | 135 207 23 |
| Travis Katherine | 13 48 93 100 |
| Travisin Shell | 290 |
| Travers Donna | 139 |
| Travers Thomas | 19 |
| Travis Rita | 135 |
| Travis Sam | 195 23 |
| Travis Samantha | 35 274 |
| Travis Sarah | 15 236 |
| Travis Deard | 9 206 |
| Travis in Set | 14 |
| Travis Fury | 15 |
| Travis Mike | 45 21 |
| Travis Antonio | 156 236 |
| Travis Cassandra | 91 9 205 |
| Travis Kellie | 8 4 207 |
| Travis Stephanie | 136 |
| Travis Waddell | 114, 145, 213 |
| Traviswood Flower Shop, Inc | 289 |
| Traviswood Reynolds Florist | 289 |
| Travis Nell | 264 |
| Travis Jennifer | 88 93, 81 196, 197 211 229 23 |
| Travis Reginald | 54 236 |
| Travis Steven | 164 15 17 21, 211 214 215 264 265 300 |
| Travis Thomas | 94 |
| Travis Amy | 8, 94, 192, 193, 196, 217 229 231 252 253, 300 |
| Travis Duane | 156 |
| Travis Eddie | 33, 14, 236, 262 |
| Travis 263 | 257 266 |
| Travis Jeanne | 56, 159 211 231 |
| Travis Richard | 129, 136, 231, 241 |
| Travis 262 | 263 |
| Leopards Jennifer | 54, 114, 253 |
| Travis Oren | 64 254 26 |
| Travis Michelle | 94 |
| Travis Tamara | 94 |
| Travis Sherry | 136 249 |
| Travis Jennifer | 36 |
| Travis Adriana | 270 |
| Travis Barbara | 24 14 258, 268, 269 |
| Travis Michelle | 145 253 |
| Travisim Chad | 115, 191 207 211 |
| Travis 214 | 228, 229 230, 231 |
| Travisim Chaitra | 13 36 |
| Travisim Alexandra | 36 |
| Travisim Monique | 156 |
| Travisim Tasha | 83 136 276 |
| Travisim Chad | 16, 115, 116, 178 |
| Travisim 211 231 264 265 266 | 196, 202 211, 212, 217 219 221 |
| Travisim Kristen | 156 |
| Travisim Suzanne | 136 |
| Travisim Amy | 24 58, 94 174, 196, 197 202 211, 212, 217 219 221 |
| Travisim 229 231 242 300 | 229 225 229 23 242 300 |
| Travisim Rhonda | 136 209 253 |
| Travisim Mr. Virgil | 65 256 276 |
| Travisim Mr. Roosevelt | 156 |
| Travisim Chris | 16, 73 254 |
| Travisim Stephanie | 42 141 156 231 |
| Travisim Jennifer | 36 207 234 |
| Travisim Jeremy | 36 |
| Travisim Club | 225 |
| Travisim April | 94 255 |
| Travisim Dana | 94 209 |
| Travisim Jimmie | 156 236 |
| Travisim Smith | 289 |
| Travisim Mr. Kenneth | 23, 163, 203 |
| Travisim Benjamin | 19 |
| Travisim Brian | 17 |
| Travisim Carter | 205 |
| Travisim Daniel | 205 |
| Travisim David | 156 |
| Travisim Dwayne | 94 |
| Travisim Eason | 156 |
| Travisim Estee | 17 209 230 |
| Travisim 25 | 25 |
| Travisim 26 | 26 |
| Travisim 27 | 27 |
| Travisim 28 | 28 |
| Travisim 29 | 29 |
| Travisim 30 | 30 |
| Travisim 31 | 31 |
| Travisim 32 | 32 |
| Travisim 33 | 33 |
| Travisim 34 | 34 |
| Travisim 35 | 35 |
| Travisim 36 | 36 |
| Travisim 37 | 37 |
| Travisim 38 | 38 |
| Travisim 39 | 39 |
| Travisim 40 | 40 |
| Travisim 41 | 41 |
| Travisim 42 | 42 |
| Travisim 43 | 43 |
| Travisim 44 | 44 |
| Travisim 45 | 45 |
| Travisim 46 | 46 |
| Travisim 47 | 47 |
| Travisim 48 | 48 |
| Travisim 49 | 49 |
| Travisim 50 | 50 |
| Travisim 51 | 51 |
| Travisim 52 | 52 |
| Travisim 53 | 53 |
| Travisim 54 | 54 |
| Travisim 55 | 55 |
| Travisim 56 | 56 |
| Travisim 57 | 57 |
| Travisim 58 | 58 |
| Travisim 59 | 59 |
| Travisim 60 | 60 |
| Travisim 61 | 61 |
| Travisim 62 | 62 |
| Travisim 63 | 63 |
| Travisim 64 | 64 |
| Travisim 65 | 65 |
| Travisim 66 | 66 |
| Travisim 67 | 67 |
| Travisim 68 | 68 |
| Travisim 69 | 69 |
| Travisim 70 | 70 |
| Travisim 71 | 71 |
| Travisim 72 | 72 |
| Travisim 73 | 73 |
| Travisim 74 | 74 |
| Travisim 75 | 75 |
| Travisim 76 | 76 |
| Travisim 77 | 77 |
| Travisim 78 | 78 |
| Travisim 79 | 79 |
| Travisim 80 | 80 |
| Travisim 81 | 81 |
| Travisim 82 | 82 |
| Travisim 83 | 83 |
| Travisim 84 | 84 |
| Travisim 85 | 85 |
| Travisim 86 | 86 |
| Travisim 87 | 87 |
| Travisim 88 | 88 |
| Travisim 89 | 89 |
| Travisim 90 | 90 |
| Travisim 91 | 91 |
| Travisim 92 | 92 |
| Travisim 93 | 93 |
| Travisim 94 | 94 |
| Travisim 95 | 95 |
| Travisim 96 | 96 |
| Travisim 97 | 97 |
| Travisim 98 | 98 |
| Travisim 99 | 99 |
| Travisim 100 | 100 |
| Travisim 101 | 101 |
| Travisim 102 | 102 |
| Travisim 103 | 103 |
| Travisim 104 | 104 |
| Travisim 105 | 105 |
| Travisim 106 | 106 |
| Travisim 107 | 107 |
| Travisim 108 | 108 |
| Travisim 109 | 109 |
| Travisim 110 | 110 |
| Travisim 111 | 111 |
| Travisim 112 | 112 |
| Travisim 113 | 113 |
| Travisim 114 | 114 |
| Travisim 115 | 115 |
| Travisim 116 | 116 |
| Travisim 117 | 117 |
| Travisim 118 | 118 |
| Travisim 119 | 119 |
| Travisim 120 | 120 |
| Travisim 121 | 121 |
| Travisim 122 | 122 |
| Travisim 123 | 123 |
| Travisim 124 | 124 |
| Travisim 125 | 125 |
| Travisim 126 | 126 |
| Travisim 127 | 127 |
| Travisim 128 | 128 |
| Travisim 129 | 129 |
| Travisim 130 | 130 |
| Travisim 131 | 131 |
| Travisim 132 | 132 |
| Travisim 133 | 133 |
| Travisim 134 | 134 |
| Travisim 135 | 135 |
| Travisim 136 | 136 |
| Travisim 137 | 137 |
| Travisim 138 | 138 |
| Travisim 139 | 139 |
| Travisim 140 | 140 |
| Travisim 141 | 141 |
| Travisim 142 | 142 |
| Travisim 143 | 143 |
| Travisim 144 | 144 |
| Travisim 145 | 145 |
| Travisim 146 | 146 |
| Travisim 147 | 147 |
| Travisim 148 | 148 |
| Travisim 149 | 149 |
| Travisim 150 | 150 |
| Travisim 151 | 151 |
| Travisim 152 | 152 |
| Travisim 153 | 153 |
| Travisim 154 | 154 |
| Travisim 155 | 155 |
| Travisim 156 | 156 |
| Travisim 157 | 157 |
| Travisim 158 | 158 |
| Travisim 159 | 159 |
| Travisim 160 | 160 |
| Travisim 161 | 161 |
| Travisim 162 | 162 |
| Travisim 163 | 163 |
| Travisim 164 | 164 |
| Travisim 165 | 165 |
| Travisim 166 | 166 |
| Travisim 167 | 167 |
| Travisim 168 | 168 |
| Travisim 169 | 169 |
| Travisim 170 | 170 |
| Travisim 171 | 171 |
| Travisim 172 | 172 |
| Travisim 173 | 173 |
| Travisim 174 | 174 |
| Travisim 175 | 175 |
| Travisim 176 | 176 |
| Travisim 177 | 177 |
| Travisim 178 | 178 |
| Travisim 179 | 179 |
| Travisim 180 | 180 |
| Travisim 181 | 181 |
| Travisim 182 | 182 |
| Travisim 183 | 183 |
| Travisim 184 | 184 |
| Travisim 185 | 185 |
| Travisim 186 | 186 |
| Travisim 187 | 187 |
| Travisim 188 | 188 |
| Travisim 189 | 189 |
| Travisim 190 | 190 |
| Travisim 191 | 191 |
| Travisim 192 | 192 |
| Travisim 193 | 193 |
| Travisim 194 | 194 |
| Travisim 195 | 195 |
| Travisim 196 | 196 |
| Travisim 197 | 197 |
| Travisim 198 | 198 |
| Travisim 199 | 199 |
| Travisim 200 | 200 |
| Travisim 201 | 201 |
| Travisim 202 | 202 |
| Travisim 203 | 203 |
| Travisim 204 | 204 |
| Travisim 205 | 205 |
| Travisim 206 | 206 |
| Travisim 207 | 207 |
| Travisim 208 | 208 |
| Travisim 209 | 209 |
| Travisim 210 | 210 |
| Travisim 211 | 211 |
| Travisim 212 | 212 |
| Travisim 213 | 213 |
| Travisim 214 | 214 |
| Travisim 215 | 215 |
| Travisim 216 | 216 |
| Travisim 217 | 217 |
| Travisim 218 | 218 |
| Travisim 219 | 219 |
| Travisim 220 | 220 |
| Travisim 221 | 221 |

Miss Jones

I think that you are very nice.
and very nice.
and very nice.
person.
I don't know what and what.

Slip sliding away David Hinton turns inquisitively to those below before taking his plunge into the water at North Forsyth Swimming Pool, for many an awaited excitement of a summer vacation.

A Year to Go...

Sum It Up

Once more, the doors of North Forsyth close at the end of the 1987-1988 school year. As the doors shut behind the students and teachers, graduating seniors are off to pursue their future as adults while the other classes are off to enjoy their summer vacation before returning in the fall.

Looking back, the school year was adorned with an assortment of emotions and activities, all making the time spent at school memorable. Many students even stayed after the required duration to participate in sports and clubs or to enjoy watching the various sporting spectacles available to them.

Joyous times accompanied the year for many, making their high school years the best possible. Events such as the Junior/Senior Prom, the USAA-DECA Fashion Show, and the annual Stunt Night all constituted an exciting, enjoyable school year.

As anything, the year also had its downfalls and hard times. Those impossible tests and the impossible dilemma of rising from the bed before even the sun decides to commence the day often made one wonder why go through all the daily calamity — what makes it all worth it?

The seniors learned quickly exactly what the past twelve years were all for — just one sheet of paper which could have much substantial effects on their future. Class Day was just one of the occurrences within the school that gave seniors special recognition. For the seniors, it was the last year before they took on adult responsibility.

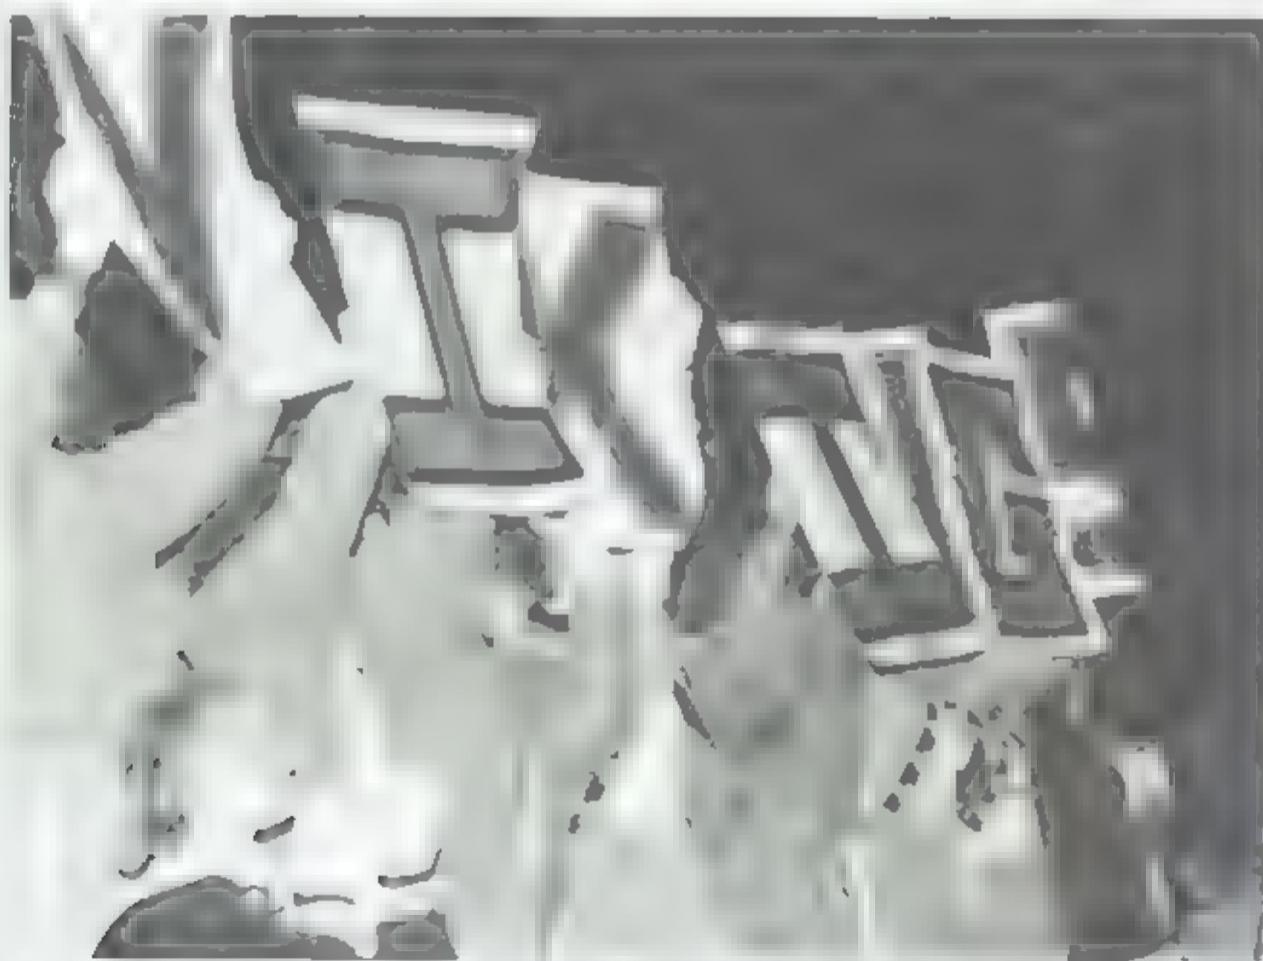

The other classes look back at the year, evaluating it and seeing what they need to do to make the next year as exciting or better than this one. They have things to look forward to and happenings to look back upon.

Ending the year is mournful for some, while it is a delightful occasion for others. Whatever the year meant, it was a year for everyone to be involved and was a stage in life that would hopefully help one in whatever the next stage is to come.

The final closing of the door Expressing his last goodbye to his buddies with a look of pleasure on his face, Tony Hayden begins his long-awaited journey home at the end of a full day of school

Spiraling out Enthusiastic members of the marching band show their vibrant spirit as they wind the streets in their floats and pep music, as well as at the football games and pep rallies

Frank a person didn't realize, know her I mean, you the best thing you have a great life

Fine things I am
- all

has now my life
Don't You Know

Back in this world
it would be you.

man

Chanti
Well I don't want to lose you. I will keep you in mind for summer.

Chante,
I'm far from but with we could've got to know each other better (you know what I mean)
As soon as we get to know each other you'll be leaving and I just wanted you to know how I feel. I will try keep in touch whenever you go Mailed this on my to you

Chanti,
it was nice to see
I hope you make it back soon of you of France & back

Kevin Wright
(this is for me)
and you too
02-02-05

I am so glad I've had the chance because you are very special to me and I liked party so and you better stay and go to your soul and have a nice summer
I love you John Pike

Kevin Wright
02-02-05
I hope you have a nice summer
I will miss you
I love you
Becky Myers

Becky Myers stuck

Charlotte

I hope I enjoyed your work & you have a nice time at least

C/O of marking since it hasn't been you & knowing you for the past you realize that you have a nice and you cheat on himself for us

Charlotte on account of the way he treats me

Charlotte

wishes me to do it like this & will not let you know what they're going to do they're waiting for the new one.

RESERVED

Chants

721-1126

Heshea (Pachu)

JOSTENS

RESERVED

Chante,

What's up sis? Not this way. Those have been four tripping wonderful fri years since I've had you as a friend.

To Chante a good girl who has come a long way since I first met you in the 9th grade. I hope that you will go forth in life as far as you want stay cool and be sweet love always

Danni - Big Brown - 48

Chante'
Girldthese have been some crazy years,
I think that everything would be even crazier

COLOPHON

Josten's Printing and Publishing Division of Clarksville, Tennessee printed 1115 copies of the 1988 Cynosure. The cover, end sheets, folio tabs, and dividers all reflect the theme, A YEAR TO CELEBRATE. The cover and end sheets were designed by Philip Lawton, Kathy Wray, and Lorrie Pate in T-285 blue, T-199 red, Tempo black, and metal foil. The script on the cover, end sheets, dividers, opening, closing, and mini-magazine is style PR 604-605 Letraset Laser.

The pages are 80 pound weight #191 gloss enamel stock. The typestyle used is Souvenir with caption copy 8 pt. and body copy 10 pt. with the exception of 12 pt. used on the dividers, opening, closing, and mini-magazine.

All headlines are 60 pt. and subheads are 30 pt. except in the Classes section they are 30 pt. and 18 pt. Student Life headlines are Jefferson while Academics are Century Book Condensed Italic. The Clubs section uses Lydian Bold, and the Sports section is Century Bold Condensed. The Classes section uses Korinna Italic while the senior screen is Korinna Bold. The junior, sophomore, and freshmen headlines and borders are Palatino.

To help celebrate the Cynosure's 25th year in existence, a mini-magazine has been added to the book. Old photographs used in the mini-magazine were taken from the 1964 Cynosure, Volume 1. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Pate, Jr. of Typography studio, Inc. reproduced the pictures, and without their help, the mini-magazine would not have been produced.

A warm thank you to Mrs. Lancaster for being so patient and kind with us, and a special thanks for the use of her materials. Also, thanks to Mrs. Leny Whitfield and Mrs. Jane Westmoreland for help in identifying those many pictures. Our deepest gratitude goes out to Mrs. Peggy Snow for helping us keep our finances straight. Also, Mrs. Susan Spry and Miss Sylvia Lawson were always there to lend us a hand when we needed it. Mr. Boyce Shore also helped us with photography. Without the aid of Mr. Tommy Hicks, when we were in the building late, we may never have gotten into our room to accomplish the work on the book. Thanks to all those who helped make the 1988 Cynosure a reality.

America
Ed

Say cheese! Andy Honeycutt, Scott Dameron, Mike Edwards, and Mike Davis, full of spirit, enthusiasm, and senioritis, clown around in the boys' gym at the close of the Homecoming pep rally.

So Chante,
I will the rest in your room field. I wish you and Dameron
D. will see what I have done Mike. Stay long & meet long & never lose.

versary tion

50 years with it's not Champs
your own in from the South, not familiar with the chance to say
"I
preserve

Year 10

